SENATOR PATTERSON DENOUNCES ATTEMPTED COERCION BY CAUCUS

Colorado Democrat Creates Sensation by Introducing Resolution.

Claims Dictation is a Violation of Rights of Senators.

Matter Arises From the Caucus on Dominican Treaty.

Washington, Feb. 5.—Mr. Patterson caused a sensation in the senate by introducing a resolution relative to the rights of senators in voting upon treaties.

Mr. Patterson's resolution recited that the action of the Democratic caucus in dictating to senators how they should vote was a plain violation of the spirit and intent of the constitution of the United States, that each senator was entitled to one vote, and any attempt to coerce him was an invasion of the rights of a state; that any senator who permits himself to be coerced, weakened and swayed by the caucus, for any reason, is not only unworthy of his high office and degrades his high office and degrades the dignity and standing of the senate.

The resolution was listened to with great interest by the senators. Mr. Lodge objected to a resolution similar to that of Senator Patterson, declaring that a treaty like the Dominican should not be made the subject of party action, but withdrew it when he heard that Mr. Patterson had prepared a resolution. This he heard from the floor of the Colorado senator, who claimed the privilege of presenting the matter. Mr. Lodge conceded the superiority of Mr. Patterson's claim.

Mr. Tammman objected to the present consideration of the Patterson resolution unless it was a question of personal privilege, which it was not, and gave notice that he would discuss the resolution tomorrow.

HILL ON WAY TO MAKE A FORTUNE

West the Field, But All Depends on the Man.

New York, Feb. 5.—James J. Hill thinks there are plenty of openings for young men of the right stamp to make fortunes in America, but he says there is no royal road to success.

"I presume," said Mr. Hill, in an interview, "that nearly every young man would like to make a fortune."

"And how is the best way to do it?"

"What? To make a fortune? Why, earn it—work for it. The man who does not work for his object will never achieve it."

"To my way of thinking, all the wealth of the world comes from four sources."

"And those four sources are what?"

"The farm, the forest, the mine and the sea. But as to the last field of opportunity, that all depends upon the man, and I am sure that good men are in greater demand than ever."

"Of course," Mr. Hill, you look upon the West, as does nearly everyone else, as the great field of endeavor for young men?"

"Naturally, being a Western man myself. There are three vital questions to be considered in the making of our West, and which every young man, whether he wishes to enter a business or agricultural life, should understand."

"And what are those three problems?"

"Irrigation, colonization and co-operation. I put irrigation first, because it is properly and correctly done, you can add 100,000 farms to the population of North Dakota alone and provide each of the new settlers with a farm of 200 acres. With rainfall under his control, the North Dakota farmer can easily produce as much from 200 acres as he can from 500 acres. One of the greatest fertilizers known to the world is water."

"The West is a magnificent country for endeavor. The self-made man has there his grand chance. Nearly all the men at the head of our big enterprises in the West arrived at their position by hard work and building society. This is the story of the West, and I imagine the same conditions exist in the East, although I am not a New Yorker. There are scores of men who have gone to the West without a dollar and who have made their way to become the most citizens, Marshall Field, whose memory we all revere, did it for one. And you did something of that kind yourself?"

"Mr. Hill indulged in another of his fluent phrases and sent his expressive eyes shooting for targets all over the room."

"Whatever I may have accomplished has been due to taking advantage of opportunities. I suppose that the secret of my success and I have never been watching the clock."

"Is the accumulation of great wealth disadvantageous to a man's manhood?"

"I have never met a man that thought so."

INCREASE PRICE OF COAL.

Chicago, Feb. 5.—Because of the possibility of a strike of the coal miners, a number of wholesalers in this city today advanced the price of soft coal 25 cents per ton.

OUTLOOK HOPEFUL

Ambassadors Believe Franco-German Issue Will Be Settled.

Private Conferences Are Constantly Going On at Algéciras.

Algéciras, Spain, Feb. 5.—The French delegation at the Moroccan conference was reinforced this morning by the arrival of Count St. Remy Tallandier, who was the French minister at Fez during the Franco-German crisis last summer. Count Tallandier came over on the French cruiser La Londe of the French mission.

Later the count had talks with Ambassador White and other delegates. His presence is considered to relate to the private discussions going on between the delegates on the main Franco-German issue. Although the conference is not meeting formally, private conferences are constantly proceeding, with the view of adjusting the conflicting views. The ambassadors say that the outlook continues hopeful, but they admit that the efforts of the disinterested powers are not yet resulting in securing an exact basis for accord. The German delegates declare that the reports that they are not in favor of a moderate policy are unwarranted and that it is they who are most desirous of conciliation. The French, however, insist that the Germans maintain an attitude lacking in preciseness.

TO ARRANGE MEETING FOR YOUNG COLORED MAN

Washington, Feb. 5.—The executive committee of the colored young people's religious congress will meet in this city on Feb. 14 to complete arrangements for the meeting of the congress here next August.

At the meeting of the congress in Atlanta, Ga., three years ago, the delegates and friends numbered about 7,000, and it is claimed that over that number will attend the coming meeting.

Bishop W. J. Gaines and Prof. I. Garland Penn, are leading the movement, while Dr. Booker T. Washington, Bishop G. W. Clinton, Rev. C. T. Walker, Dr. J. A. Sanders and other noted men are assisting with the objects of the congress will attend its meetings. The body will be in session nearly one month, and the music will be furnished by some of the most noted singers and musicians of the race.

GERMANY OPPOSED

To Placing Control of Morocco's Peace In France's Hands.

Berlin, Feb. 5.—Germany's attitude towards the proposition to place the control of the Moroccan peace in the hands of France and Spain is one of firm opposition, since the arrangement would, according to the German view, amount practically to giving France full authority over the peace which Germany hitherto has steadily resisted. The foreign office says that the delegates to the conference at Algéciras will devote the next few days while the conference is not sitting to informal exchange of views on the subject of management of peace. In an attempt to shape some acceptable plan for adjusting this vexed question.

CONGRESSMAN BUCKMAN ENTERTAINS AT DINNER.

Washington, Feb. 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Representative Buckman and wife entertained at dinner last night at the National hotel the following: Senator and Mrs. Knute Nelson, Representative McHenry and wife, Senator Clapp, Representative Hale, Representative Rucker and wife of Missouri, Representative Randall and wife of Texas, Representative Thompson and wife of Missouri, John B. Ryan, librarian of the house of representatives, and wife, and A. G. Bernard of Cass Lake.

MAN AND WOMAN KILLED BY TRAIN.

Milwaukee, Feb. 5.—A special to the Evening Wisconsin from Oregon, Wis., says: Anne and Christ Sorenson, aged 40 and 38 years respectively, were killed by a Chicago & Northwestern passenger train, at a crossing near the village. The train was an hour late, and in turning a sharp curve caught the buggy in which the Sorensons were riding. The accident here was mutilated beyond recognition.

MINERS ADJOURN.

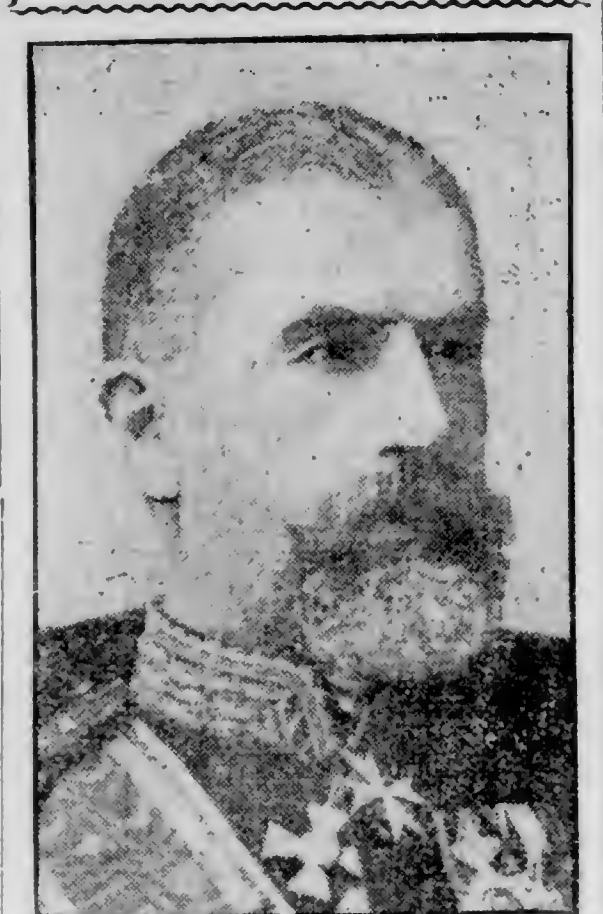

Indianapolis, Feb. 5.—The national executive board of the United Mine Workers of America adjourned today. President Mitchell refused to discuss the work of the board. Secretary Wilson said no statement would be given out at this time.

FORGERIES GROW.

Canton, Ohio, Feb. 5.—It has been discovered by the city authorities that the forgeries of the late L. W. Prior of Cleveland, in connection with the Canton waterworks extension bonds, amount to $500,000, instead of $300,000, as previously announced.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD OWNS MILLIONS OF STOCK IN ROADS WITH WHICH IT IS IN COMPETITION

ANOTHER EUROPEAN KING SERIOUSLY ILL

KING CHARLES.
Vienna, Feb. 5.—King Charles of Romania, is seriously ill. He is suffering from catarrh of the arteries of the heart and has been ordered to abstain from all work. It is not thought his condition is critical.

GERMANY IS PESSIMISTIC

Over Question of Tariff With the United States.

Berlin, Feb. 5.—Inquiries made today at the foreign office regarding the German-American tariff question elicited the information that this government is very pessimistic, even doubting that it will be possible to get a provisional arrangement from the United States which Germany could accept. Germany is anxious to avoid a tariff war and would go to great lengths in making concessions which would render a temporary arrangement possible till a treaty could be negotiated, but it is evident that the foreign office regards the suggestions hitherto made by the United States as satisfactory. It was learned at the foreign office that the German government has not yet considered Germany's course after March 1, when the new German tariff goes into effect. In the event of no arrangement having been made between the two countries, but something is expected to occur within a few days in the negotiations between the United States and Germany which will tend towards clearing up the situation.

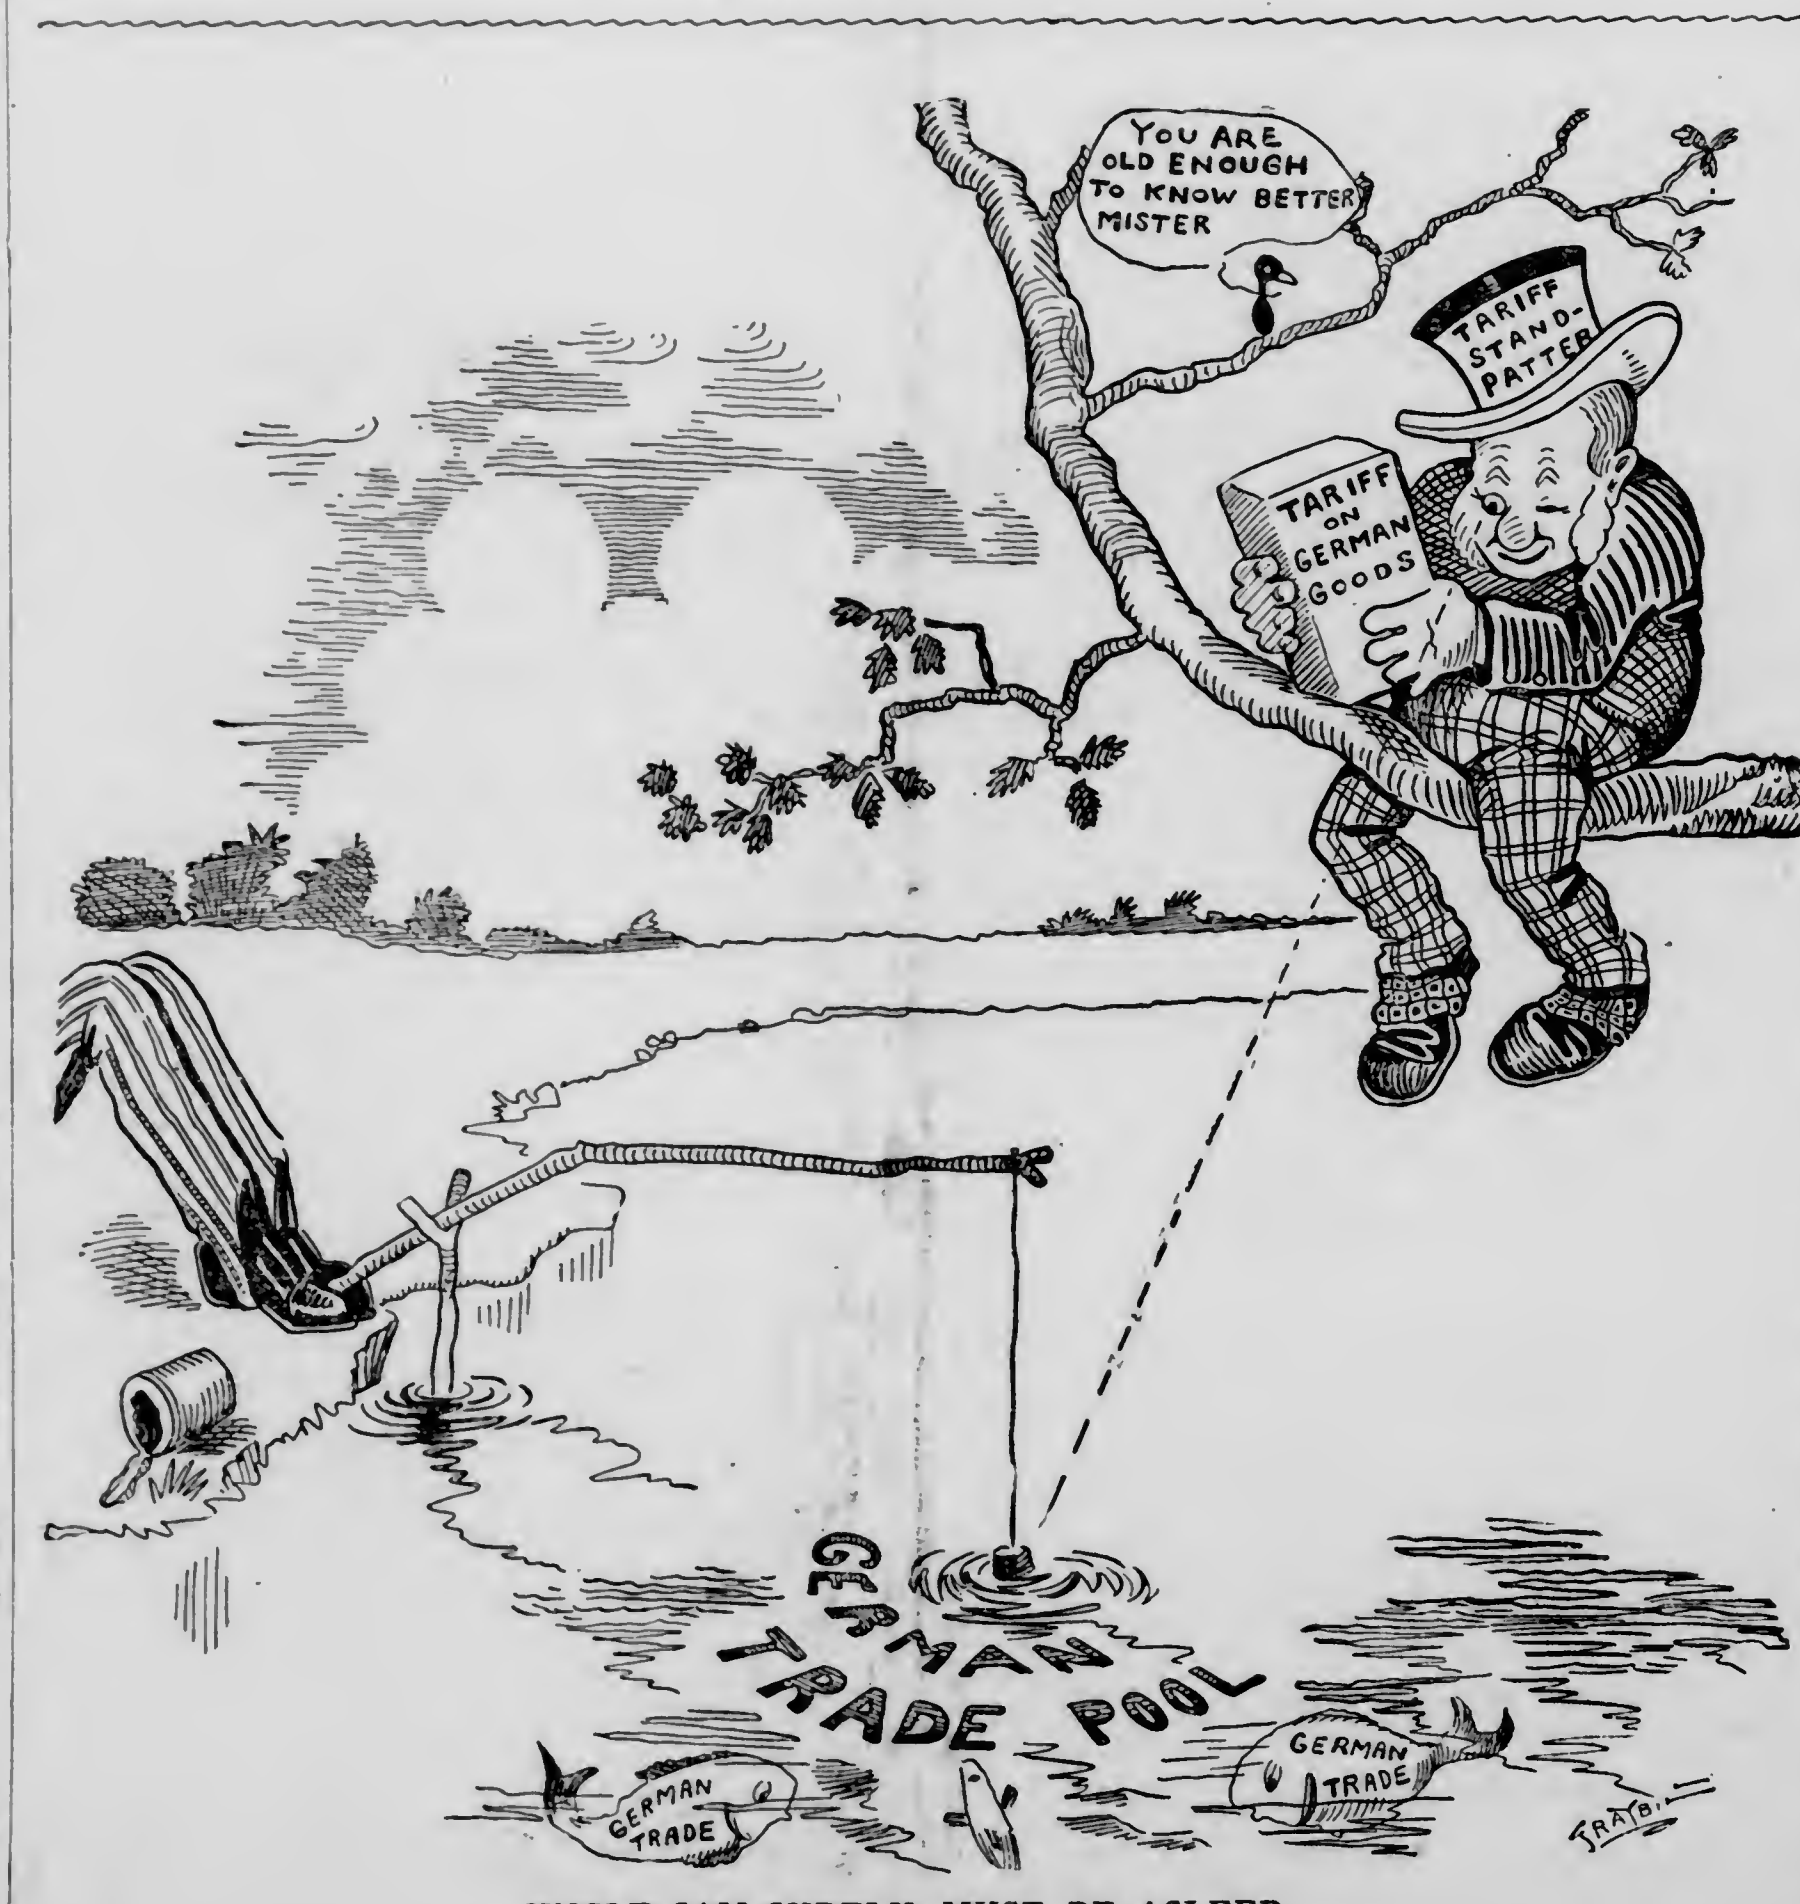

The only definite facts known to the commission believe to have bearing on the subject matter, this resolution is, these appearing in the following: The bodies of some of them have been disclosed from time to time in proceedings before the commission. From the latest of these reports, covering the year ending June 30, 1905, the following figures and other data have been compiled:

The Pennsylvania Railroad company has an authorized capital stock of $100,000,000, of which $20,515,200 has been paid up.

TWELVE KILLED BY EXPLOSION OF BOMB.

Berlin, Feb. 5.—The Lokal Anzeiger today printed a dispatch from Katowice, Prussian Silesia, announcing that a private house at Siles, across the Russian frontier, has been destroyed by the explosion of a bomb. The bodies of twelve persons can be seen in the ruins, and it is believed that many others were killed.

UNCLE SAM SURELY MUST BE ASLEEP.

Report of Interstate Commerce Commission Submitted to Congress

In Response to Resolution Looking Into Alleged Merger.

Commission Gets Its Facts From Reports of Commission.

Washington, Feb. 5.—President Roosevelt today transmitted to the house the following report submitted to him by the interstate commerce commission in response to a resolution regarding the alleged combination of the Pennsylvania Railroad company and certain other roads named therein in violation of the anti-trust law:

"Interstate commerce commission, Washington, Feb. 2, 1906. The President:—The interstate commerce commission has the honor to submit the following in response to your request of Jan. 25, enclosing a resolution adopted that day by the house of representatives, which reads as follows:

Resolved, that the president of the United States be, and he is hereby requested if not incompatible with the public interests, to report to the house of representatives for its information all the facts within the knowledge of the interstate commerce commission which shows or tends to show that there exists at this time, or heretofore, within the last twelve months has existed a combination or arrangement between the Pennsylvania Railroad company, the Norfolk & Western Railway company, the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad company, the Philadelphia & Reading Railroad company, the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway company, or any two or more of said railroad companies, in violation of the act passed July 3, 1890, and entitled 'An act to protect trade and commerce against unlawful restraints and monopolies,' or acts amendatory thereof.

The only definite facts known to the commission believe to have bearing on the subject matter, this resolution is, these appearing in the following: The bodies of some of them have been disclosed from time to time in proceedings before the commission. From the latest of these reports, covering the year ending June 30, 1905, the following figures and other data have been compiled:

The Pennsylvania Railroad company has an authorized capital stock of $100,000,000, of which $20,515,200 has been paid up.

TROUBLE EXPECTED

San Francisco, Feb. 5.—Army officers who arrived here on the transport Logan yesterday reported that the prospect of trouble in China is the chief topic of discussion of army circles in Manila. The Thirteenth Infantry and two squadrons of the Eighth cavalry have been ordered to prepare themselves for field service. The destination of these troops remains a headquarter's secret, but the only reasonable explanation of the order is that they are to be held in readiness for a China expedition at the first warning of an outbreak.

Those who came on the Logan asked first for news from China as they said that the most of the information on the subject which was current in the Philippines came by the way of Washington.

The officers of the troops under field orders have made preparations to leave on twenty-four hours notice and their expectation is that they will be sent to Peking.

RETIRE AFTER A LONG PASTORATE

REV. W. S. RAINSFORD.
New York, Feb. 5.—The Rev. Dr. W. S. Rainsford, for twenty-two years rector of St. George's Protestant Episcopal church in this city, has resigned the rectorship owing to ill health, and the Rev. Hugh Birkhead, the assistant rector, has been elected by the vestry to succeed him.

The resignation of Dr. Rainsford was in the form of a letter to J. Pierpont Morgan, senior warden of the church, from Carlo, Egypt, dated Jan. 7, last. Dr. Rainsford wrote that while his health was better than it was a year ago, he had definitely concluded that he had not the strength to continue in the rectorship.

Sensational reports have been circulated with reference to the count's conduct, and the name of a prominent society leader of Paris, a woman of very high standing, has been mentioned in connection with the affair. But the greatest reticence has been maintained by all the parties concerned relative to the progress of the negotiations looking to a conciliation, and even this morning a favorable result was expected, especially as the count had returned to her residence. It now appears that the efforts of those interested in bringing about a settlement of the differences between the countess and the count, with an appeal to the courts, have been unavailing. The count is said to be in the southeast of France.

OUR TRADE WITH THE ITALIANS

Almost Equally Divided Between Imports and Exports in 1905.

Washington, Feb. 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Trade between the United States and Italy is of unusual interest in view of the fact that Italy has contributed more than 500,000 citizens to our population since 1890. A statement just prepared by the department of commerce and labor, through its bureau of statistics, shows that the commerce between Italy and the United States in the fiscal year 1905 aggregated $7,500,000, almost equally divided between imports and exports. As a market for American products Italy outranks Belgium, Cuba, Australasia or Argentina, and exceeds by over 100 per cent the market offered by the entire continent of Africa. In the matter of imports Italy ranks ahead of Belgium, Netherlands or Switzerland, in Europe; China or India, in Asia, and the combined imports from Australasia and the Philippine Islands, and supplies over three times as much as the entire continent of Africa. Exports from the United States to Italy in the last fiscal year were valued at $8,740,000, compared with $3,475,741 to Belgium, $3,380,601 to Cuba, $26,353,311 to Australasia, and $18,540,603 to Africa. Four imports from Italy in the same year were valued at $38,625,579, against $34,226,140 from India, $27,884,515 from China, $25,882,455 from Belgium, $21,718,748 from Netherlands and $11,342,622 from Africa.

In our trade with Italy exports exceeded imports during the year by about $100,000, and our total exportations to that country being $38,740,000, and our imports therefrom $38,625,579. It is only within the last decade that our exports to Italy have averaged more than our imports have received from that country. In the decade ending with 1875 imports from Italy aggregated $67,500,000 in value, while exports thereto were but $62,000,000; in the decade ending with 1885, imports from Italy were valued at $106,500,000 and exports thereto $94,200,000; in the decade ending with 1895 imports from Italy exceeded by $64,000,000 the value of exports to that country, the former being $202,000,000 and the latter $138,000,000. While in the decade just ended exports to Italy exceeded by over $20,000,000 the value of our imports from that country, the aggregate value of the exports being for the ten years ending with June, 1905, $327,500,000, and that of the imports $307,500,000. Thus, in thirty years our trade with Italy has aggregated considerably more than $1,000,000,000, of which $38,625,000,000 represented imports and $339,000,000 exports.

PRESBYTERIANS TO MEET.

Pittsburg, Feb. 5.—A national convention of the laymen of the United Presbyterian denomination will be held in this city for three days, beginning Feb. 13, to exchange ideas on Christian work, and offer suggestions for advancing the church work throughout the country.

ENTIRE MIDDLE WEST IS IN THE GRASP OF AN INTENSE COLD WAVE

ASKS FOR A DIVORCE

Countess de Castellane Enters Formal Plea in French Court.

Efforts of Judge to Arrange Conciliation Unsuccessful.

Paris, Feb. 5.—Countess Boni de Castellane, formerly Anna Gould, entered a plea for divorce today. Representatives of the countess and the court appeared before a judge who, according to the French law, endeavored to arrange a conciliation before allowing a definite suit to proceed. It is said that the judge's efforts were not successful, and that the suit will proceed but, owing to the secrecy in divorce proceedings here, it is difficult to confirm this report.

Rumors have been current for a long time that the countess had decided that any further continuation of her relations with her husband was impossible and her removal from the Castellane residence to a hotel in the center of Paris gave support to the belief that she had finally decided to apply for a divorce.

Sensational reports have been circulated with reference to the count's conduct, and the name of a prominent society leader of Paris, a woman of very high standing, has been mentioned in connection with the affair. But the greatest reticence has been maintained by all the parties concerned relative to the progress of the negotiations looking to a conciliation, and even this morning a favorable result was expected, especially as the count had returned to her residence. It now appears that the efforts of those interested in bringing about a settlement of the differences between the countess and the count, with an appeal to the courts, have been unavailing. The count is said to be in the southeast of France.

Duluth Has Low Temperature at Twenty-Two Below Zero.

This was the coldest morning Duluth has had this winter. At 7 o'clock the thermometer registered 22 deg. below zero, and that was the lowest point attained.

The Lake Superior region and Minnesota was the center of the cold wave, in the Far Northwest the temperatures are rising, but throughout Minnesota they ranged from 20 to 25 deg. below.

The zero weather extended down into Kansas, although at Chicago it was 12 deg. above this morning. That city is getting its cold wave today, however.

It will not be so cold tonight, although the temperature will be below zero. Tomorrow it will be warmer.

The wind last night did not get higher in velocity than 20-miles an hour, but Saturday night it reached 32-miles.

St. Paul, Feb. 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—The coldest weather of the winter settled upon St. Paul last night, and today the street thermometers registered from 10 to 16 deg. below zero. The official record is 16 below. The prospects are, according to Observer Williams, that the cold will moderate tonight.

Milwaukee, Feb. 5.—Wisconsin is experiencing the coldest weather of the winter today, according to the records of the weather bureau. In Milwaukee the thermometer registered 14-30 deg. below zero. Government records give marks of 10 below at Green Bay and La Crosse and 5 below at Oshkosh. Continued cold is predicted for tonight, with a slight rise tomorrow.

La Crosse, Wis., Feb. 5.—Today was the coldest of the winter, being 15 below zero, a fall of 40 deg. in two days.

St. Joseph, Mo., Feb. 5.—The cold weather of the last two days has settled in the rivers and lakes near here, five inches thick and the first ice of the winter was laid today. Armies of men are employed by the packers in an effort to lay in a supply before the ice vanishes.

Kansas City, Feb. 5.—The cold wave which struck this part of the west last night is moving toward the Gulf, according to reports received today at the local weather bureau. The coldest point in this section today was at Springfield, Mo., where it was 2 deg. below zero. Zero weather prevailed in Northern Missouri and through Kansas. Other temperatures reported follow: Oklahoma City, 6 above; Muskogee, 1, 7 above; Fort Smith, Ark., 10 above; Amarillo, Tex., 8 above; Abilene and Fort Worth, Tex., 14 above zero. Moderating weather is predicted for the next twelve hours.

Cleveland, Feb. 5.—Snow has been falling throughout Northern Ohio for more than twenty-four hours, with the result that traffic on many of the steam and electric roads was seriously delayed today. From six to eight inches of snow on the level have fallen along the lake shore. The accompanying high wind has caused much drifting.

According to the weather bureau reports, the temperature will again fall to near the zero mark tonight.

St. Louis, Feb. 5.—The blizzard of yesterday gave place to a clear, cold day today. The temperature registered 6 above. About four inches of snow covers the ground.

Des Moines, Iowa, Feb. 5.—The cold wave in Iowa reached the maximum at Des Moines City where the mercury dropped to 12 deg. below zero. Des Moines reports 5 deg. below early today, with a gradual rise in temperature. A high wind accompanied the cold wave in Iowa, causing considerable suffering to stock.

Columbus, Ohio, Feb. 5.—The thermometer today registered 7 deg. above zero, with a strong breeze blowing. Reports from over Central Ohio show that stock is suffering from the unexpected severe weather and snow.

Appleton, Wis., Feb. 5.—Last night was the coldest of the winter. The temperature was 15 below zero. Lack of wind averted suffering by stock.

Omaha, Feb. 5.—The coldest weather of the winter in Omaha prevailed at 8 o'clock this morning, when the mercury stood at 4 below zero.

Janesville, Wis., Feb. 5.—The thermometer here ranged from 2 to 10 deg. below zero today, according to location.

ANOTHER VICTIM OF "JACK THE SLASHER."

Washington, Feb. 5.—Mrs. W. M. Barton, wife of a local physician, was the victim of a "Jack the Slasher" while walking through a department store here Saturday afternoon.

The man followed Mrs. Barton for some time before slashing her black velvet dress. He inflicted a clean, even cut about two feet long, the blade of the weapon, which was evidently a long, sharp one, extending almost to the flesh.

Every effort will be made to apprehend the assailant, as former experience with a slasher in this city was not only costly, but a large number of women were terrorized.

PRESBYTERIANS TO MEET.

DEPENDS ON ELECTION

Whether Mayor Will Carry Out Policy Regarding Street Railway.

Has Secured Needed Improvements and Promises of Others.

Regardless of party feeling, there is one point which should be kept in mind by the voters in tomorrow's election. During his administration, Mayor Cullum has adopted a well-defined plan of action in dealing with the Duluth street railway. He has secured from it extensions on Grand avenue west. He has secured the large cars on the Humber Park line and the change in schedule which allows them to run to the end of the Woodland track. He has secured the betterment of the Lakeside and West Duluth service, and has promised of many other improvements which will eventually place the Duluth company on an equality with the Twin City company, where big cars are in use on all the lines. The company has given its pledge that there will be improvements both in service and equipment in the near future, and it is with Mayor Cullum to compel the company to carry out the pledges which he has made.

Early through his influence, the voters of the city of Duluth, through the Duluth city council, have secured the company to carry out the pledges which he has made. The city council, which came a few days later, was due to the mayor's letter or not, it at least showed his interest in the matter, and his wish to secure for the city a wage that would ensure it fair living for them and good service for the citizens of the road.

Whether or not the carrying out of the policy adopted by the mayor in regard to street railway matters will be left in his hands or in the hands of other political parties, depends on the action of the voters tomorrow. The mayor, through a fearless policy, has secured more concessions from the street railway than any other city official for years past, and whether or not he succeeds in fully carrying out his policy and the plans he has commenced, depends on the decision of the voters.

This argument is being openly used by Mayor Cullum's friends to aid him in his campaign, and it is one that appeals to the voters of all classes, who want to see the street railway company compelled to live up to the terms of its franchise with the city, and give the citizens the service which they are entitled.

GARFIELD KEPT HIS PROMISES

Moody Says He Never Gave Department of Justice Information.

Chicago, Feb. 5.—Attorney General William H. Moody was an interested observer at the opening today of the trial of the immunity plea advanced by the packers. He evidenced great interest in the case, frequently whispering suggestions to District Attorney Morrison who is conducting the case for the government.

C. M. McFarlane, office manager of the Fairbanks Canning company, who was on the stand when court adjourned on Friday morning, resumed his evidence this morning. It related entirely to the number and character of the books which he had shown to the agents of the government who made the investigation under the direction of Commissioner Garfield.

The witness identified a number of papers which he declared were the requisitions issued by Commissioner Garfield and his agents for the production of certain books. The attorneys several times argued over the admissibility, the genuineness of the documents, and in consequence the examination of the witness was slow and tedious.

Attorney General Moody said in reply to questions: "I notice that the attorneys for the packers have produced evidence to the effect that Commissioner Garfield said that he would not give to the department of justice the information he secured from the packers. If he ever said that he certainly kept his word, for the department of justice never received any information from him. Neither did we receive information from the president nor did any of the subordinate officers of the department of corporations."

VIRGINIA MEN TO VISIT WEST

Have Secured Options on Fruit Lands in Utah.

Several prominent business and professional men of Virginia, including Judge John M. Martin, who was in Duluth to file some legal papers today, expect to leave within the next few days for the new city of Green River, situated in the Grand Valley, Utah, where they will look over the fruit lands of that district with a view of making a permanent investment.

Green River is said to be a prospective county seat of a new county of the same name and some good things are being predicted of the town. It was planned by the Virginia men, who will make the trip, are mentioned John Martin, Tom McDonald, Charles F. Pigott, C. E. Ahlstrand, John Paul, I. Roman, J. Shandling, O. L. Pederson and Ben Krombe.

Messrs. Martin and McDonald who were on a recent Western trip are said to have obtained options on a large acreage of choice lands in the valley at a low price, the price of which is now claimed to be up to as high as $100 per acre. The valley is reported to be one of the best fruit growing sections in the West. It has a recently installed irrigation system.

QUIT THEIR OPERATIONS

Pickands, Mather & Company Abandon Cuyuna Work for Time.

Pickands, Mather & Co. have practically pulled up stakes for the present on the Cuyuna range, near Brainerd. The Herd and Intimate Mining concern was about to make such a move when the manager, C. H. Mather, confided it upon his return from a trip on the ranges.

The company has removed its pumps from the shaft on the Silver Olson place, about eight miles east of Brainerd, but drills are still at work on another of Cuyuna range claims. This work will not be discontinued as yet.

Pickands, Mather & Co. have not abandoned their claims on the Cuyuna range altogether. Work on them will be resumed eventually. Mr. Mather is aggressive for the statement that the reason for quitting at this time is that the company has no particular interest in the Cuyuna kind of ore at this time.

Mr. Mather also denied the rumor that his concern is about to develop some new property in the vicinity of Iron Mountain lake, which is near Ely. He admitted that a representative of the company had visited the locality and looked over some mining lands there, but declared that it was not the intention of Pickands, Mather & Co. to do anything there at present.

Mr. Mather's announcement that work on the Cuyuna range will practically cease, so far as his firm is concerned, is something of a surprise for people in Brainerd and at other places near the new ore fields. They were under the impression that activity there was to begin in earnest instead of ceasing. They looked upon the removal of the pumps in the Silver Olson shaft as a good omen instead of an ill one, though just why seems hard to explain.

If you want to make the gas and water department a benefit to all the people, vote "yes" on the lavender ballot.

NOMINATIONS BY PRESIDENT.
Washington, Feb. 5.—The president today sent the following nominations to the senate: To be placed on the retired list with the rank of Brigadier General—Col. Henry Ray, Fourth Infantry. Register of the treasury—William T. Vernon, Kansas. Postmaster—Visconsin—Andrew N. Chilton, Hugh McInnes, Edgartown; Allan Boggs, Hudson; Joseph J. Schultze, Kewton; George Graham, Tomah.

NEW REGISTER OF THE DULUTH LAND OFFICE

J. C. HERMAN ENGEL.

The man who has been appointed register of the Duluth land office to succeed William E. Cullin, is one of the best known Republicans in the lower part of the Eighth congressional district. He is J. C. Herman Engel of Anoka. Mr. Engel is admittedly a power in Anoka county and his appointment will remove from that field one with whom all others had to figure.

All politicians are said to be natives of either Ohio or Indiana and it so happens that Mr. Engel is a Hoosier by birth. He was born in Indiana in 1861 and with his parents removed to Anoka in 1873 where he received his education. From 1879 to 1888 he was in the grocery business, part of the time as clerk and most of the time as proprietor. In 1888 and 1889 he studied law in the offices of Hammons & Hammons and was then admitted to the bar in 1890. Since January, 1890, he has been engaged in the practice of law in Anoka; that year was appointed court commissioner, and next year Gov. Merriam appointed him judge of probate in which office he served three terms, retiring in 1901. He has been a member of the Anoka board of education since 1897, was for three years its treasurer and has been its president since September, 1902. He was married to Miss Maud Thompson of Minneapolis in 1888 and they have two children.

The four central wards of the city all provide good, interesting scraps, but in each of them the Democratic candidate appears to have a little the best of it.

A BIG MAJORITY
Is What Frank Jordan's Friends Predict for Him.

"Frank Jordan will make a good alderman," is the expression heard most frequently among the taxpayers of the Third ward. Mr. Jordan has lived in Duluth for the past nineteen years, and is known as a careful, conservative and level headed business man. It is predicted that he will be elected by a larger majority than that ever won by any other candidate in the Third ward.

It is the great mass of independent voters who are going to count in this campaign," said one of the mayor's quiet voters, of whom you seldom hear, who will decide tomorrow's election. The day has passed when a small circle of politicians can manipulate a municipal election, and every year the voters are becoming more independent, and examine more closely into a man's record. The mayor has made a record which no man need be ashamed of, and I believe that you will simply be astounded at his majority when the returns come in tomorrow night. I don't claim to be much of a prophet, but I am going to be very badly disappointed if the mayor doesn't get at least 700 to 800 majority, and I wouldn't be in the least surprised to see it run much heavier."

Everything points to a very heavy vote tomorrow. The registration is the largest ever turned out for a municipal election, and the interest is running high. There is no reason why the vote tomorrow should not be close up to the total registration, and between 7,000 and 8,000 votes should be polled.

Unprejudiced views of the aldermanic fights indicate that there should be a Democratic council after the returns have been counted tomorrow night.

There are five Democratic holdovers in the council, and but three Republicans. Alderman Wilson and Alderman Haven will be elected without opposition, giving five Democrats and five Republicans. Whether the council is Democratic or Republican depends on the outcome of the six contests. An even division of the contests would give a council evenly divided, but the chances appear to be that at least four of the Democrats will win out.

The four who appear to have a little better than even chance of winning out are Alderman McGowan in the Fifth; Frank Jordan in the Third; Charles Mork in the Sixth; and George Van Buren in the Fourth.

In the other two wards the contests appear to be very equal. In the Eighth ward the Democrats claim that it is "Cullum and Eklund" and the Republicans are about willing to admit the first part of the prediction, but claim that Foubister will be elected alderman. Foubister is a young man, and has conducted a very clean and aggressive campaign, but Mr. Eklund is one Advance Showing of Dressy Gowns and Shirt Waist Suits.

The latest conceptions of Dame Fashion now open for your inspection.

Soft finished silks, nuns' veiling and voile in delicate shades of old rose, light blue, Alice blue, red, reseda and emerald green are the leading fabrics for lingerie dresses for the coming season. They are made with handsome yokes, laces and embroidery joined together; full baby waist effects and high silk girdle. Skirts are circular or shirred in Dutch style.

Also extremely swell gowns in black and white checks, with black ribbon pleatings, circular skirt and full baby waist with lingerie yoke and collar. Prices run from $25.00 to $55.00.

Ladies' Tailor-Made Suits.

Just received—a number of attractive two-piece suits made of fancy black and white worsted in the Pony Coat or 19-in. Box Coat styles, with velvet collar and cuffs; circular skirt, trimmed with bias band of the same material.

Also the new Tourist effects of fancy mixtures in 45-inch length coats with new circular skirts. This is the leading style for utility suits.

Then we have very swell dressy suits of chiffon broadcloth—a material of extremely fine light weight—just the correct weight for graceful effects—made with new circular gored skirt. Colors—old rose, reseda green, gray and light blue. Prices run from $29.50 to $65.00.

Arrivals of New Skirts.

Every express adds to our already extensive line of spring styles. Colors are of wide range. Gray, beyond question, is the shade for spring. Fancy checks are also good. Blue, reseda green and black are especially good for walking skirts, which—by the way—are worn a trifle shorter than heretofore. The dressy skirt has a demi-train. A predominating feature in the 1906 models is the draped circular gored effects with circular bands applied in fancy designs.

We present a splendid showing which will give you pleasure to examine. Prices from $7 to $29.50.

SUES ICE MAN FOR DAMAGES

Virginia Business Man Claims Stock Was Damaged $1,000.

An affidavit for garnishment on the First National Bank of Virginia was filed in district court this morning by C. E. Pigott of that city, who has instituted a damage action for $1,000 against Patrick A. Coffey, another well-known Virginia resident.

Mr. Pigott recently purchased the retail meat business of T. W. McAuley & Co. of this city. He had a lease on a store building at Virginia that runs out the middle of March next. He claims that P. A. Coffey took possession of the building and stored ice in it, the ice melting during the recent warm weather and the water, so the complaint alleges, running over Pigott's stock.

Represented by John Martin of Virginia and Marshall & Greene.

FRIENDS ARE CONFIDENT

Of the Re-election Tomorrow of James A. Waugh.

The faithful representation in the council during the past two years of James A. Waugh, candidate for re-election in the Third ward, is a pretty sure guarantee that he will be "re-elected" tomorrow. The best indication of his fitness for the office, and a tribute of which his friends are proud, is the fact that during the present campaign no word of criticism has been uttered against his official record. Mr. Waugh has conducted a clean campaign, relying solely on his past record, which has met with the general approval of the taxpayers he represents. Give honor where honor is due, and cast your vote tomorrow for James A. Waugh.

MILL NOW STANDS ON MISSION SITE

Beacon Light of the Great Northwest Gone Forever.

Menominee, Mich., Feb. 5.—On the spot where now stands one of the busiest sawmills of the Menominee river was once located the old Roman Catholic mission, which in the early days of the Northwest was the beacon light of civilization among the Indians of the region until the coming of white traders led to its sudden and utter destruction.

PHYSICIANS CAUSE ARREST.

Medical Society Gets After Former Sioux City Cobbler.

Sioux City, Iowa, Feb. 5.—After going from Sioux City little more than an ordinary cobbler, Matthew Hilgert made himself rich in New York city by peddling as peculiar a profession as may be found in the world only to land in jail at this late day of his success. Hilgert's business was the making of shoes that would enable the crippled and the deformed to walk as ordinary men and women.

that the Sioux City man had been arrested by order of the New York County Medical society, which claimed he was practicing medicine without a license. The charge is that he used plaster parts and drugs in making the soles of the shoes. Hilgert says he has a magic ointment, but the physicians say he is practicing medicine and the courts must once more pass on Hilgert's profession.

LAUNCHING THIS MONTH.

Feb. 24 Will See Hawgood Ship Take Water at Superior Yards.

The work of shipbuilding at the yards of the Superior Shipbuilding company in Superior is being rushed to the fullest extent. Between men engaged on shipbuilding and those engaged on repairing about 150 men are at work in the yards. The first launching of the year will take place at the yards on Feb. 24, at which time a steamer 30 feet long over all, being built for the Harwood of Cleveland, will be dropped into the slip. Soon afterwards will be launched a 25-foot ship being built for J. C. Oakes of Detroit.

The Band Concert.

At the concert of the Third Regiment band held yesterday, Miss Jane Everington, who was the soloist of the day, made one of the best hits so far made in the series. Bright Minnesota Boys May Try For Places For Cadets.

Washington, Feb. 5.—Members of the Minnesota delegation have been notified by the civil-service commission that there are openings in the revenue cutter service for bright boys. Examinations for a cadetship in that service are to be held at St. Paul, Mankato and Duluth on Feb. 26, 27 and 28.

MAY BE COMPROMISE

In Regard to Opening Part of Forest Reserve.

Washington, Feb. 5.—Representative C. A. Buckman is perfecting a bill to amend the forestry provisions of the Morris act of 1902, whereby 200,000 acres, embraced with the "black lines," was opened to settlement. Mr. Buckman's bill is directly antagonistic to the Tawney measure, which would preserve the Minnesota delegation that there was a compromise between friends of each bill, including the bureau of forestry and Northern Minnesota.

Buckman and Steenerson, and probably Senator Nelson, who will have a conference with Secretary of the Interior Hitchcock, relative to the pending Tawney and Buckman bills. Bede is very confident that the result will be satisfactory adjustment.

Capt. Reid Pushing Stranded Barge to Deep Water.

Capt. James Reid of Sarnia who is at work with a wrecking crew on the stranded barge Manila is in the city and says that the Manila is about fifty feet nearer deep water than when he was down here last. The sea kicked up yesterday by the wind retarded progress for the day. Capt. Reid has found the work on the Manila at Campment Island a good deal a tougher proposition than was at first supposed. She was drawing about eleven feet of water where she lay on the island and in moving her she has had to be lifted over places where there was not more than eight and a half feet.

GIVE PLAY TO AD JEWS

Local Jewish Talent in Production for Charity at Bijou.

Mayor Cullum and Dr. Mendel Silber Deliver Short Addresses.

To raise funds to aid the oppressed Jews in Russia, a play built around the Spanish Inquisition was presented at the Bijou theater last evening by local Jewish talent and before an audience that filled the auditorium of the pretty vaudeville house.

The amateurs gave a very creditable performance and a neat sum was raised for charity. Mayor Cullum gave a short address, declaring the Jew to be a most creditable citizen and praised those who were instrumental in the entertainment which was given for so laudable a purpose.

Dr. Mendel Silber also delivered an address. He spoke to some length upon the significance of the entertainment and the need of money to help persecuted members of the Jewish race who were unfortunate enough to be still in the land of the czar, but at the same time fortunate enough to be still in the land of the living.

He then went into the story of the inquisition for some extent, preparing his hearers for the tragedy which they were about to see.

For the old inquisition there was some excuse for the new one there is none," said Dr. Silber. "It is not to be wondered at that men, in the darkness of the middle ages should descend to the brutality and prejudices of beasts. The religion of the land was its law, not to be transgressed. But in this new time, in this age of enlightenment, there can be no excuse."

The management of the Bijou theater donated the use of that playhouse for the occasion. Following is the cast: Little Gabriel, Miss Sarah Kassner; Felix, Mrs. S. Kerner; Rulon, S. Kassner; Isabella, (Rulon's wife), Miss Eva Casimir; Gabriel and Adman, (their children), S. H. Kassner and Harry Kerner; Zuckwina, (Adman's daughter), Selma Casimir; Arina, (Gabriel's daughter), Ester Kerner; Mendus, a Monk Inquisitor, James Kerner.

BURN TO DEATH NEAR SUPERIOR

One Man Perishes in Shanty, Another in Freight Car.

Two accidental deaths through fires have been recorded in Douglas county, Wis., within the last few days.

Saturday morning the charred body of a man supposed to be Napoleon Burnett, a camp foreman for the Mackey Lumber company of Stillwater, Minn., was found in the smoldering ruins of a hut four miles northeast of Gordon, Wis. Burnett had been missing for a week, the being seen of him was when he started for Gordon to get some supplies. It is believed that he lost his way and traveled about in the woods until tired and worn out; that he found the shack and built a fire, the shelter burning down.

STOMACH ON THE BRAIN.

What If a Man Gain the Whole World, and Lose His Appetite?

The man with a well-behaved stomach never thinks about it. He eats what he likes and what he needs. He knows he will enjoy it, because he knows he has a stomach that will easily digest it. All things look good to him; he will sit close to the table, and with a merry twinkle in his eye and a world-peace expression, he will "start" on the delicious meal before him.

But the man with the bad, brash, gurgly stomach is the man who is always thinking about it. He knows just what he most likes, and seldom likes what he eats. His stomach worries him before he has a meal and in moving her she has had to be lifted over places where there was not more than eight and a half feet.

The barge is now in a fair way to be skidded into deep water very soon. She will have to be jacked up about two inches, and then she will be able to be launched but it is expected that this can be done without a great deal of difficulty.

As soon as work on the Manila is completed, wrecking of the stranded steamer Mataafa will begin.

while he was asleep. Nothing remained to identify the remains but some brass buttons that were on the clothing.

Burnett was 45 years of age and a man of alleged steady and industrious habits. He is supposed to have a brother residing in Duluth.

The other fatality occurred in the Omaha railroad yards at Irasca, early Sunday morning, when the remains of a man, supposed to be George Fish, were discovered burned to a crisp in a freight car. Every vestige of clothing was destroyed, and the body was burned beyond all recognition.

The only clue the authorities have is that Fish was seen in the locality of the yards shortly before the fire, and that he had made the statement that he intended to beat his way to the railroad to Ashland. Fish was formerly employed as a stevedore. His people are supposed to reside on a farm, near Rockford, Ill.

It is believed that after Fish entered the car he threw either a lighted match or a lighted cigar in the straw covering the floor. The doors of the car were closed when the fire department reached the yards.

BANK CLERKS TO ORGANIZE

Head of the Lakes Men to Join American Institute.

Duluth and Superior are to have a chapter of the American Institute of Bank Clerks, which is rapidly gaining in membership all the time and which was organized under the auspices of the American Bankers' association.

Thirty-five Head of the Lakes bank clerks were present at an organization meeting held Saturday evening at the Commercial club. The principal address of the evening was given by G. H. Richards of the Farmers' and Merchants' bank of Minneapolis. He explained the benefits to be derived from membership in the organization and of the growth that had been made by the institute since its organization.

G. H. Snyder of the City National bank was chairman of the meeting and appointed the following committee on permanent organization: G. H. McCarthy, First National bank; D. J. Mahoney, American Exchange bank; Joseph E. Horak, Duluth Savings bank; Louis Stead, First National bank; Superior; W. J. Bennett, American Exchange bank, Superior. Mr. Snyder is also a member of the committee.

The committee will get together soon and arrange for the next meeting, when a permanent organization will be formed and officers elected. Bank clerks are eligible to associate membership in the institute and officers of the local banks will probably be invited to join.

A sort of social session followed the business meeting Saturday evening. Claude Hare sang a very pleasing solo.

WOULD BE MAYOR.

Victor Linley of Superior Announces His Candidacy for Office.

Victor Linley, a prominent attorney of Superior, Wis., has announced in a public letter to the voters of that city his candidacy for the Republican nomination for mayor.

Mr. Linley says that if nominated he would appoint the latest men who can find on the school board; that he will not pay any political debts through appointment to office, and will advocate municipal ownership of a gas plant and a reclamation by the city of all power privileges, also the entering into of a contract with the Great Northern Power company. Mr. Linley advocates strict and mark improvements at the greatest possible saving to the city, urges that no man or clique of men shall dictate the policy of the administration and points to his record on the board of supervisors of Douglas county.

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

LARGEST ON THE LAKES

Western Transit Company's Boats to be Delivered in 1907.

They Will Surpass New Pittsburg Steamship Company's Craft.

Contracts for three steel freighters, to cost $1,500,000, and be larger than any of the vessels that have been ordered up to date for the lake trade, have been secured by the American Shipbuilding company. They will be delivered in 1907.

The new boats were ordered by the Western Transit company of Tonawanda, which Charles A. Weston is president. L. S. De Graf, vice president and W. N. Mills, treasurer and general manager. The officials of the company are stockholders in the Tonawanda Iron & Steel company and are otherwise interested in the iron trade. The steamers will be the largest ones on the lakes and will have sixty feet beam. They will be 900 feet long and 32 feet deep. Each will have a main power of 10,000 horse power and will be built for the Pittsburg Steamship company.

The new craft will be up to date in every way and will be equipped with all the latest appliances for loading and unloading cargoes. They will have steel hulls and will be able to carry 13,000 gross tons. According to the contract the vessels will be completed and ready to go into commission April 1, 1907. The officials of the shipbuilding company have not yet decided just where they will be built. The new boats will be owned by practically the same people as the old ones. It looks now as if the next two years would be record breaking ones from a shipbuilding point of view.

TWO WOMEN ROBBED BY ALLEGED AGENTS.

Chicago, Feb. 5.—Two women who had represented themselves to be theatrical agents, bound and gagged and then robbed Miss Grace Miles, a college student of Bloomington, yesterday, according to the woman's report to the police. A second victim, Miss Anna McNamara, of Kenosha, Wis., also made a complaint against the men. The alleged swindlers ten days ago rented a room in a north side boarding house, giving their names as Edward Roberts and Frank Richmond.

SCROFULA AN AWFUL INHERITANCE

While it is true that Scrofula may be acquired under certain conditions, it is usually inherited. Parents who are related by the ties of blood, or who have a consumptive tendency, or family blood taint of any character, are sure to transmit it to their children in the form of Scrofula. Swollen glands, brittle bones, poor digestion, weak eyes, Catarrh, emaciated bodies and general weak constitutions are the principal ways in which the disease is manifested. The blood has been diseased from birth, and being in this condition cannot properly nourish the body and Scrofula is the result. St. Louis County's Valuation Increased Over $1,000,000.

Total Wealth Above Liabilities is Figured at $93,533,180.59.

St. Louis county was just $1,142,967.42 better off Jan. 1, 1906, than it was the same day in 1905. The financial statement of County Auditor O. Halden, which is now nearly ready for publication, shows that the county of St. Louis is worth over its liabilities exactly $93,533,180.59 as compared with $92,390,153.17 one year ago.

For a county with so much wealth at its disposal, St. Louis county has a comparatively small liability. The total amount being only $67,922.58, of which $66,429 represents the county's bonded indebtedness. The total liabilities for 1905 were about $5,000 more than in 1904. The total valuation of St. Louis county in 1905, real and personal, was $93,235,587, as compared with $92,192,156 in 1904. Of the 1905 valuation the assessed valuation of taxable real property was $82,384,242 as compared with $81,213 in 1904 and the assessed valuation of taxable personal property was $10,851,345 as compared with $9,779,936 in 1904. These figures show that the county's increased wealth in the past year was derived from the increase in the assessed valuation of its real property.

The following statement gives a comprehensive view of St. Louis county's assets and liabilities for the year 1905:

Assessed valuation of taxable real property	$82,384,242.00	Assessed valuation of taxable personal property	$10,851,345.00	County taxes for 1905 (now due)	$32,826.06	County taxes for 1904 to 1905 and prior years, still outstanding	$5,333.27	Total taxes now due	$38,162.33	Penalty and interest on taxes (estimated)	$10,000.00	County taxes in treasury (unapportioned)	$31,501.31	County four farm property	2,395.53	County four city house property	50,000.00	Total assets	$91,100,903.17	Total bonded indebtedness	$66,429.00	Interest on bonded indebtedness	12,471.50	Other bond coupons outstanding	70.00	Insurance fund (carriage)	636.53	Total liabilities	$87,992.58	Assets over liabilities	$3,108,350.59

TO TRY TO SAVE PHILADELPHIANS

Torrey and Alexander Begin Revival Services in City.

Philadelphia, Feb. 5.—After a four years' evangelistic campaign, which took them through Australia, India, England, Ireland, Scotland, Wales and Canada, the Rev. James M. Torrey and Charles M. Alexander, the evangelists, yesterday began in this city an elaborate advertised three months' mission which is expected to eclipse any similar movement ever undertaken here. Two large meetings were held in the afternoon and the other last night. So great was the interest that several thousand persons were unable to gain admittance to the big building. The second regiment armory has a seating capacity of 5,500, but before the hour set for the opening of the afternoon meetings, the door had to be closed. There were no formalities in beginning the services. Mr. Alexander opened the meeting by having the choir of 400 voices sing hymns, after which Mr. Torrey delivered a sermon, taking his text from Proverbs xi, 30, "He that winneth souls is wise." Before the meeting closed ten persons in the audience arose and professed religion. Afternoon and evening meetings will be held daily except Saturdays. A choir of about 3,000 voices has been provided for the present. Besides the singers, about 400 clergymen and others have volunteered to do personal work among the people or act as ushers. During the period of the revival noon day meetings will be conducted for the benefit of business men and meetings will also be held in large industrial establishments. Mr. Torrey will be among the speakers at the mid-day services. The committee in charge of the revival has adopted modern advertising methods to arouse religious interest. Hand bills and small cards have been distributed by thousands, and on each side and fence, side by side with theatrical advertisements, large posters bearing a picture of the cross and appropriate Bible verses may be seen. The religious awakening is expected to cost close to $50,000, which sum is being collected through general contributions of the citizens of the city.

WATCHMAN ON PILE DRIVER MURDERED.

New York, Feb. 5.—Dead about two hours, his skull crushed in by an axe, John Arthur, a Canadian, employed as a night watchman on a pile driver, was found yesterday in the cabin house of the craft in the Hudson river off West One Hundred and Thirtieth street.

A new pier is being constructed at this point. The cabin was in great disorder. An empty beer can, two bottles partly filled with whiskey, and many cigars and cigarettes were found, indicating that the watchman had entertained some one on board. The murder was committed. Two boys who rowed out to the pile driver discovered the corpse.

Beer With Meals

It is reliably computed that practically one-half of all the beer consumed in the world today is taken with meals. Whether it be with the laborer's cold lunch, the bon-vivant's repast or the "home spread," observing ones must concede to good beer, the place it has won as the nation's health beverage.

BLATZ WIENER BEER

To be health inspiring, appetizing, nourishing—the beer must be good. Blatz Wiener beer possesses every element of beer quality. Its very fragrance and "body" suggests at once the honesty of its ingredients. The vitality of the malt and the aromatic properties of the hops are manifest in every glass. The Blatz method of preparing the malt and original style of brewing accomplish certain results peculiar to Blatz Beers—this is the secret of Blatz character.

Wiener as a Table Beverage

The hop bitters act as an appetizer and digestant—and the malt is nourishing and "foody." The result is eminently satisfying. Nature knows the value of Blatz Wiener as a dietetic. Intelligence fosters Nature's demands. As a culinary adjunct Blatz Wiener is the beverage par excellence. It gives you that well fed feeling. Order a case sent home.

THE GROWING COMMERCE

Between This Country and Republics to South of Us.

Railroad Rate Legislation by the Present Congress Certain.

FROM THE HERALD WASHINGTON BUREAU.

Washington, Feb. 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—While a widespread interest is manifested everywhere in the growth of the commercial relations between the United States and the Oriental empires, very little has been heard or seen recently in reference to the growing commerce between this country and the republics to the south of us, Mexico in particular. Yet within the past few years millions of American capital have been invested in mining, forestry, agriculture and manufactures in the sister republic. The railroads are beginning to recognize the opportunities for business which a satisfactory line of communication between the United States and Mexico City, which has already demonstrated that the time is ripe for better facilities for communication.

William E. Hoyt, Eastern passenger agent of one of the Western railroads, was here last week and he tells an interesting story which demonstrates the readiness of the people of this country to seize any opportunity to reach the south of us more quickly and comfortably. "On Jan. 16," said Mr. Hoyt, "a special solid vestibule train was started out of St. Louis over the Iron Mountain and Mexican National railroads. It is scheduled to reach the City of Mexico in fifty-nine hours from the time it leaves St. Louis—which is equivalent to four days from New York. The train is a solid vestibule car line with diner, smoker and all modern traveling conveniences. Its capacity is 106 passengers and it is present run to St. Louis twice each week. The demand for space has been so great that every berth is engaged three weeks ahead and from present indications a daily service will be necessary within a short time. This on indicators said Mr. Hoyt, "that the American people are anxious to establish a closer relation with Mexico and I think so are entering upon an era of commercial and social reciprocity which will bind the two republics together in a mutual and mutual advantages of both peoples."

Senator T. C. Platt is physically one of the fraillest men in the senate. And yet the senator from New York need take no back seat when it comes to the growth of commerce between the United States and the south of us. He is a more industrious man in the upper house of congress today than he. As chairman of the joint committee on printing, he has worked hard and continually with his colleagues in bringing about a reform of the methods prevailing in the government printing office. He has attended nearly all the hearings and is as well posted as to the conditions prevailing and the best methods for curtailing expenses in the great print shop as any member of congress. But it is not only in the committee on printing that Senator Platt is an important factor. He is a member of the important committees on finance, naval affairs and inter-oceanic canals, and no member of either body is more regular in his attendance than he. In fact, among his colleagues the senator is regarded as one of the most persistent attendants upon committee meetings in the senate today. Senator Platt is no sprinter. He walks with difficulty, but he is as clear in the head today as he ever was and from all appearances will continue to be a potent factor in the affairs of the senate for the remainder of his term.

The railroad rate bill will be passed during the present session of the fifty-ninth congress. Every indication points to that end. It is true that there is disagreement in the interstate and foreign commerce committee of the senate, which has under consideration all bills relating to railroad rate regulation, but it is anticipated that out of that committee will emerge a bill which the democrats signed with the Republicans in the house, and between the Hepburn measure, which will pass the house on Tuesday, and the bill which the senate committee will report, there will be little difference. President Roosevelt recognizes the rights of railroads, he also recognizes the rights of individuals.

Confiscation of property is prohibited by the constitution. Redress for attempted confiscation lies with the courts and the bill which is now under discussion in the house of representatives, comprehending that clause of the constitution which relates to interstate commerce, has adroitly avoided any suggestion as to the constitutionality by clothing the interstate commerce commission with power to fix a reasonable rate.

President Roosevelt has presented a number of very definite issues to congress in the messages he has sent to the legislative body of the government since assuming the office of president. Statehood for Oklahoma, Indian Territory, Arizona and New Mexico has been very close to him. Since the visit of Secretary Taft and a delegation from the senate and house to the Philippines a reduction in imports from the Philippines has impressed him to the extent of writing a strong message to congress urging a reduction in the Philippine tariff. Two of these measures have passed the house and are now pending in the senate. The third proposition, which is really first in the president's mind, will pass the house on Tuesday, without material amendment and will go to the senate with an almost unanimous vote. And this is the proposition on which the heads of the standards, the regulation of railroad rates.

The railroad rate bill will be long in passing the senate. There are many reasons in that body and there are many constitutional lawyers, but the way things are moving now it looks as if both the Philippine tariff bill and the statehood bill might be modified and accepted by the administration in order that a railroad rate bill along the lines recommended in the last message of the president to congress may become law. To the end every power of the administration has been directed.

center of a group of ambassadors and white garbed Moors. Throngs of Spanish women in picturesque costumes lent a touch of quaintness to the animated scene. The American and British delegates did not attend. Three celebrated bull fighters furnished the sport, and the bulls were from the famous herd of Don Moreno Santa Maria of Seville. The first animal brought into the ring, a huge black Andalusian beast, killed two horses before the matador, Lagartijo, hit into the animal, which fell dead. Thunders cheered this and the band played a Spanish fandango. The second bull was ceremoniously dedicated to the duke of Almodovar by Matador Morente, which is custom of the country. It proved to be an ugly fighter and gored the blind horse of a plicador. This bull also was shown as they drooped before the following animals, which were stung to madness by the darts which their gay streamers stuck into them. The foreigners present witnessed the scene with mingled admiration of the matadors' audacity, and horror at its cruelty.

BULL FIGHT FOR AMBASSADORS

Delegates to Moroccan Conference Entertained by Spanish Sport.

Algeciras, Spain, Feb. 5.—A brilliant though bloody spectacle of bull fight. In honor of the conference on Moroccan reforms, was the event of yesterday. Crowds came from all parts of Andalusia to the vast stone amphitheater, where the building is, and more than 6,000 persons saw the fight. A box, gaily decorated with the Spanish colors, accommodated the ambassadors and officials of many countries.

Most of the delegates to the conference were represented, and many of the envoys were accompanied by their wives and daughters. The duke of Almodovar, the Spanish minister, who is president of the conference, accompanied by the duchess, was the

TWENTY-THIRD YEAR.

LAST EDITION.

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 6, 1906. (ON TRAINS, FIVE CENTS, TWO CENTS.)

CONGRESSMAN HEBPBURN.
Whose Railroad Rate Bill Is Now Under Discussion.

COLD WAVE IN THE EAST

Thirty-Five to Forty Below in Northern New York.

Causes Hardship, Following Unusually Warm Weather.

Rome, N. Y., Feb. 6.—Northern New York was today swept by a cold wave, which involved greater hardship because of the unusual warmth of the winter thus far. Today was by far the coldest of the winter. One of the coldest points was at Camden, where 46 deg. below was recorded. It was 32 below in this city, 33 at Northville, 32 at Johnston, 18 at Amsterdam, and 20 in the vicinity of Schenectady.

Saratoga, Feb. 6.—Thirty degrees below zero was the temperature here at sunrise today, which is the coldest day of this winter.

Syracuse, N. Y., Feb. 6.—The temperature reached 20 deg. below zero in this city today. On the shore of Onondaga lake, nearby, it was 25 below.

Baltimore, N. Y., Feb. 6.—The temperature dropped to 26 deg. below zero here today.

St. Paul, Feb. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Street thermometers registered 10 deg. below zero today, 6 deg. warmer than yesterday. The air was so full of frost early this morning that the sun was partly obscured. Otherwise the weather is clear.

La Crosse, Wis., Feb. 6.—The cold weather of yesterday was intensified today, the thermometer falling to 18 deg. below zero. The extreme weather is interfering with the running of the trains, and all are from one to three hours late today.

Boston, Feb. 6.—A cold wave, driven by a high wind, sent a shiver over New England today. The coldest point was at Northfield, Vt., where the thermometer registered 22 deg. below zero. In this city and on the coast generally it averaged 10 to 14 deg. below zero.

New York, Feb. 6.—Today was the coldest of the present winter in New York city, the mercury touching 5 below zero. This was 1 deg. colder than the previous low record for the winter.

Plattsburgh, N. Y., Feb. 6.—Temperature of 41 below zero was reported today from Lake Placid, in the Adirondack mountains. At Upper Chateaufort, where the thermometer was 20 below, and at Lake Placid 22 below and at Saranac lake 25 below.

Pittsburg, Feb. 6.—With the government thermometer registering 2 degs. below zero and as low as 10 degs. being recorded in different parts of the city and vicinity. Pittsburg today experienced the coldest weather of the winter since the thermometer was set up. A gas shortage in several sections of the city caused much suffering.

KINDNESS SAVED HER.

Maid the Widow Nursed One of a Bunch of Thieves.

Brussels, Feb. 6.—A wealthy widow living in Brussels recently engaged a young French maid to help her. The girl fell ill and was carefully nursed by her mistress. On her recovery she insisted on leaving the house at once. Presumably for her reasons, the maid confessed that she was a member of a gang of thieves who preyed on widows and unsuspecting women. Her duty to her benefactress was to explore the house and inform them of the easiest mode of entrance and all of the rooms in which valuables were stored. In return for her mistress' kindness she promised not to tell the thieves that the house contained anything of value. The widow, however, worried over the matter so much that her friends advised her to sell her property and take up her residence in a boarding house. In this way the story leaked out.

THIRTY-SIX BODIES FROM THE VALENCIA.

Victoria, Feb. 6.—Thirty-six bodies of the Valencia victims have been recovered, including twelve brought in yesterday—nine and three women. Of the former four have been identified as O. W. Ingelhorne of Ferndale, Wash.; Gus Erickson of San Jose, H. M. Peters of Los Angeles, and Peter Glume of Brownville, Wash. Two others are thought to be the remains of J. B. Montgomery, quartermaster,

PROMINENT MINISTER OF PEORIA ENDS LIFE WITH DEADLY POISON

Illinois Clergyman Takes Cyanide of Potassium and Retires.

President of Two Banks and Manager of Yates Campaign.

Serious Stories Concerning His Morals Were in Circulation.

Peoria, Ill., Feb. 6.—Rev. George H. Simmons, pastor of the First Baptist church, president of the Interstate Savings bank and the People's Savings bank and recently appointed manager of the Yates senatorial campaign in Peoria county, was found dead in bed this morning. He has been the object of investigation at the hands of the state's attorney, the two banks and his congregation on the charges and it is presumed to be a case of suicide.

The body was found by his wife when she called him to breakfast. He had remained down town until a late hour last night, disposing of some business matters. A letter found beside him showed his death to have been precipitated. He said that this was his last night on earth and wanted to leave a message of undying love to his wife. "Also no blame must attach to ex-Governor Yates nor his associates. He simply gave me an opportunity which his opponents and my enemies have prevented my using."

The last line, "That time falls me should I attempt to write personal messages," indicates he was dying as he brought this letter to a close.

Three physicians, who were hastily summoned, are of the opinion his death was caused by cyanide of potassium. Coroner Baker took charge of the remains. The Peoples' Savings bank, of which Simmons was president, in the workmen's quarters of the city, did not open its doors this morning. Cashier Look said that it would remain closed until some further action was determined on. There was a run on the bank yesterday, and by 10 o'clock this morning a large crowd surrounded the building, clamoring for their money.

The Interstate Savings bank, of which Simmons was president, yesterday, when his resignation was accepted and E. C. Heidrich elected in his stead. Early this morning the bank building was crowded with a large crowd demanding their money. Cashier Ancker said they would be able to stand the drain.

Simmons came to the first Baptist church five years ago from Terre Haute, Ind., and had been remarkably successful in securing national publicity two years ago by advocating a dramatization of the life of Christ. He became local manager of the large campaign of former Governor Yates a week ago, and shortly after serious stories affecting his morals were circulated. States Attorney Sholes undertook an investigation yesterday and secured some sensational confessions from boys and girls in the city. Simmons was 40 years old and leaves a widow. He held terms in Texas, Jackson, Tenn., Louisville, Ky., before coming here.

NINE NEGROES DIE BY FIRE

Were the Victims of a Burning House at Baltimore.

Baltimore, Feb. 6.—Nine persons all negroes, were burned to death early today in a fire which destroyed a frame house at Curtis bay. Only one inmate escaped.

She managed to reach a window and jumped from the second story. For a few minutes after striking the ground she was unconscious and on recovering she made her way to neighboring houses and gave the alarm. When neighbors arrived the house was a pile of blazing and smoking debris and nothing but the charred bones of the victims were left. The fire was caused by a child who arose to stir the fire in the chimney place and accidentally scattered coals on the floor.

COLOMBIA AGAIN MAKES DEMAND ON UNITED STATES

Washington, Feb. 6.—Columbia has again renewed her demand for recompense from the United States, because of the separation of Panama. This last application was submitted to Secretary Root recently by Senor Diego Mendoza. It is said to be in general terms similar to the presentation originally made by Gen. Reyes, the present executive head of Colombia, when he was in Washington last year, as a special commissioner and minister from Colombia.

While this last presentation is in the nature of a claim against the United States government, the amount of the damages sustained by the parent state on account of Panama's secession is not set down. Secretary Root has the last note under consideration, but it is believed that nothing has occurred to change the position originally taken by the state department in this matter, namely that the United States was in no way responsible for the separation of Panama.

ANSWER IS AN INSULT

Congressman Gillespie So Characterizes the Commission's Report.

Will Introduce Resolution Asking Investigation of Combine.

Washington, Feb. 6.—Mr. Gillespie (Tex.), author of the resolution regarding the alleged Pennsylvania railroad combination, answered yesterday by the president, declared on the floor of the house today that the answer was an insult; that with the great machinery at hand, a complete investigation of actual conditions should have been made. He said such an investigation would show among other things that there had been an allotment to each coal carrying road of a certain territory to prevent competition in markets by means of rate adjustments, agreements and combinations.

LAWSON WOULD ASSIST IOWANS

Holds Conference With Governor Cummins Regarding Insurance.

Des Moines, Feb. 6.—Thomas W. Lawson of Boston arrived in Des Moines at 8:45 a. m. today, for a conference with Governor Cummins in regard to the insurance investigation in Iowa. E. S. Monnett, former attorney general of Ohio; N. B. Broward, governor of Florida; Fremont Older, managing editor of the San Francisco Bulletin, and several Boston newspaper men, accompanied him. Governor Cummins met the party at the Rock Island depot and drove to the Chamberlain.

STABS HIS CHILD WIFE.

Iowa Man Attempts Murder and Suicide After Quarrel.

Dubuque, Iowa, Feb. 6.—Calvin Markham of Cascade stabbed his wife in the back with a butcher knife and then cut his throat. Both will recover. A quarrel over the action of his wife's brother was the cause of the trouble. The wife is 16 years old and the husband 21 years. They were married last October.

George Boyd, aged 64 years and separated from his wife, hanged himself while in a fit of despondency.

Washington, Feb. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—The following patents have been issued: Jules J. Durage of Duluth, draft forcing mechanism; Alexander A. Forbes of Duluth, machine for molding building blocks; John H. Hanson and J. J. Petrosburg of Atkin, vehicle.

FRIGHTFUL ACCIDENT ON NORTHERN PACIFIC JUST OUTSIDE HELENA

Runaway Freight Crashes Into Passenger With Fearful Velocity.

Five Persons Lose Lives and Several More Are Injured.

GEN. LINEVITCH,
Intrepid Russian, Who Is to Be Retired From Command.

WILL SUPPLANT GEN. LINEVITCH

Gen. Grodekoff to Command Russian Forces in the East.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 6.—Reports which have been in circulation for several days to the effect that Gen. Grodekoff, who was governor of the Amur territory during the Boxer uprising and who became noted for his ruthless measures in restoring order in the Amur region and in Manchuria, will be appointed viceroy of the Far East, with command of land and sea forces, are semi-authoritatively confirmed. Gen. Grodekoff who is 62 years old and a member of the council of the empire, left St. Petersburg last week for Harbin. Gen. Linevitch, the commander of the Manchurian armies, will probably retire. His name has been mentioned in connection with the viceroyalty of the Caucasus.

The Novoe Vremya today continued its revelations in regard to the importations of arms into Finland. The paper declared it had evidence that the radical organization in Finland was preparing for open war in support of the next outbreak of the Russian revolutionists. Not only were well armed infantry forces being drilled, but horses were being trained for cavalry and artillery service and shells for field artillery were being imported.

The statements of the Novoe Vremya are undoubtedly correct so far as the radical organization in Finland is concerned. The Nationalists and even the Social Democrats organization disclaim any connection or even sympathy with violent measures.

The appointment of Gen. Langhoff, former commander of the Semolovsky regiment, to be state secretary of Finland, the connecting link between the emperor and the grand duchy, is satisfactory to the Finlanders. Gen. Langhoff though a native Finn has been a lifetime in the Russian service and has no administrative qualities.

Exposed to full view, with blazing shingles all about him, and he had a mass of red hot coals was the body of an unknown man. It was slowly consumed, until all that was left was the skull and outstretched arms. There are supposed to have been eight passengers on the train, of which number two are still unaccounted for.

St. Paul, Feb. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—The following statement was given to the Associated Press by General Manager Horn of the Northern Pacific today: At Helena, thirteen miles west of Helena, train No. 58, conductor Goode, Engineer Love, and Helper Engineer Tenth, taking water, train ran away, while the engines were detached, running about ten miles, where it struck No. 16, the stub train running from Garrison to Helena.

The killed are: C. L. BRICKELL, conductor No. 16, JESSUP, messenger. ROBINSON, bridge foreman. Two passengers, names unknown. Injured: Brown, fireman, concussion. Ernest Rossman, passenger, collar bone broken. A. C. Lightall, head cut. George Young, slightly injured. Both coaches of train No. 16 were burned. Most of the freight cars of No. 58 were derailed. The track is damaged for 300 feet.

JILTED GIRL IS DEAD OF A BROKEN HEART.

Pittsburg, Feb. 6.—"Died of a broken heart," is the unusual verdict filed in the records of the coroner's office opposite the name of Mary Klenze, 17 years old, who died at the home of her cousin, George Jakubsek, Saturday night.

Three months ago both parents and two brothers of the girl died in Austria. Mary then came to this country to earn her living and secure employment. Here she became acquainted with a fellow countryman and they became engaged. Two weeks ago the man took out a marriage license.

Last week, however, the man changed his mind and told the girl he would not wed. Mary then went to her cousin's house. From that time until her death she was inconsolable. She said that the death of her relatives and the faithlessness of her lover had broken her heart, and she told the truth.

Helena, Mont., Feb. 6.—The most disastrous railroad wreck that has taken place in the vicinity of Helena for many years occurred last night, shortly before midnight, two and a half miles west of Helena. A runaway Northern Pacific freight train crashed into a passenger train on the same line, wrecked it completely, set fire to it, and up to 3 o'clock this morning, was still burning. Four persons whose identity is assured were known to be dead, with a probability that two more, whose names it is impossible to learn, may have been burned in the wreck. The known dead:

J. A. JESSUP, express messenger. CHARLES BRICKLE, conductor passenger train. FOSTER SENEAL, merchant of Edlinton.

Brakeman Edward Brown was seriously injured, but an examination shows not fatally.

None of the passengers who escaped with their lives were seriously injured. The passenger train passed through Austin, about eight miles west of Helena, on time. Following it was a long freight train, made up of box and flat cars, loaded with lumber and shingles.

At Austin the engine was uncoupled from the freight to take water, and the train was left standing on the track. There is a steep grade east of Austin, and by some means the freight train got started down the hill.

The passenger train, when it arrived at the Montana Central crossing, stopped, where the engineer heard a sound behind him that warned him of danger. He started his train, but it had gone but a few feet when the freight crashed into the rear car. There were but two cars in the train, and they were smashed and thrown into the ditch. The engine became uncoupled, but did not leave the track, and Engineer Pelly managed to keep ahead of the freight. The freight went probably 500 feet, when it went off the track. In a few minutes the crash of the collision was heard by persons living in the vicinity, who immediately started to the wreck. It was not permitted to make a report, as the crash of the collision was heard by persons living in the vicinity, who immediately started to the wreck. TAFT WAS SO ANGRY

That He All But Cursed Wallace When He Resigned.

Would Not Accept Benefit of Engineer's Year's Work.

Wallace Gives Senate Committee Some Sensational Facts.

Washington, Feb. 6.—John F. Wallace, former chief engineer of the Isthmian canal, was again before the senate committee on inter-oceanic canals today. Yesterday he was diverted from a description of conditions on the Isthmus, which he made today. He gave a minute account of the conditions he found there, and the difficulties he encountered in getting material and supplies, and the delays that occurred in filling requisitions.

While he was calling to have the orders expedited, he said, he received word from Admiral W. S. Benson that the cablegram cost money. It was a delicate hint, he said, that he had better not use the cables so much.

Mr. Wallace said to the committee that he did a year's work, and that his successors had no benefit of his analysis or recommendations. "Because," he said, "the secretary of war told me he did not want to have a report of a year's work on the Isthmus as a directing engineer. He was so angry in his treatment that he did all but curse me."

"The work I did," said Mr. Wallace, "extended over several years. I was working under a definite program which I intended to put in writing in my annual report, and would have done so if I had been permitted to make a report. I experimented with the French excavators so as to tell whether it was more economical to use or destroy these machines, which cost probably $8,000 each. I experimented with the work that had been done."

Telling of his experiments, Mr. Wallace said he had not estimated that because excavating could be done in the rainy season in May. It was important to determine whether the higher cost of excavating was due to the heavy rainfall, the reduction of time to an eight-hour day, or the use of the French excavators, said Mr. Wallace.

Thinking he said that he understood that the cost had gone up a great deal better for the work. The organization was demoralized, he said, for the reason that the men had seen their chief disgraced and knew that a successor was to be appointed who would not be in sympathy with the work that had been done.

It was brought out that Mr. Wallace's successor had not the benefit of his analysis of the year's work and his recommendations.

"Why did they not have it?" asked Mr. Taft.

"Because the secretary of war told me he did not want it and had no use for me except on the Isthmus as a directing engineer," said Mr. Wallace.

"To give me that," he was angry," asked Senator Morgan.

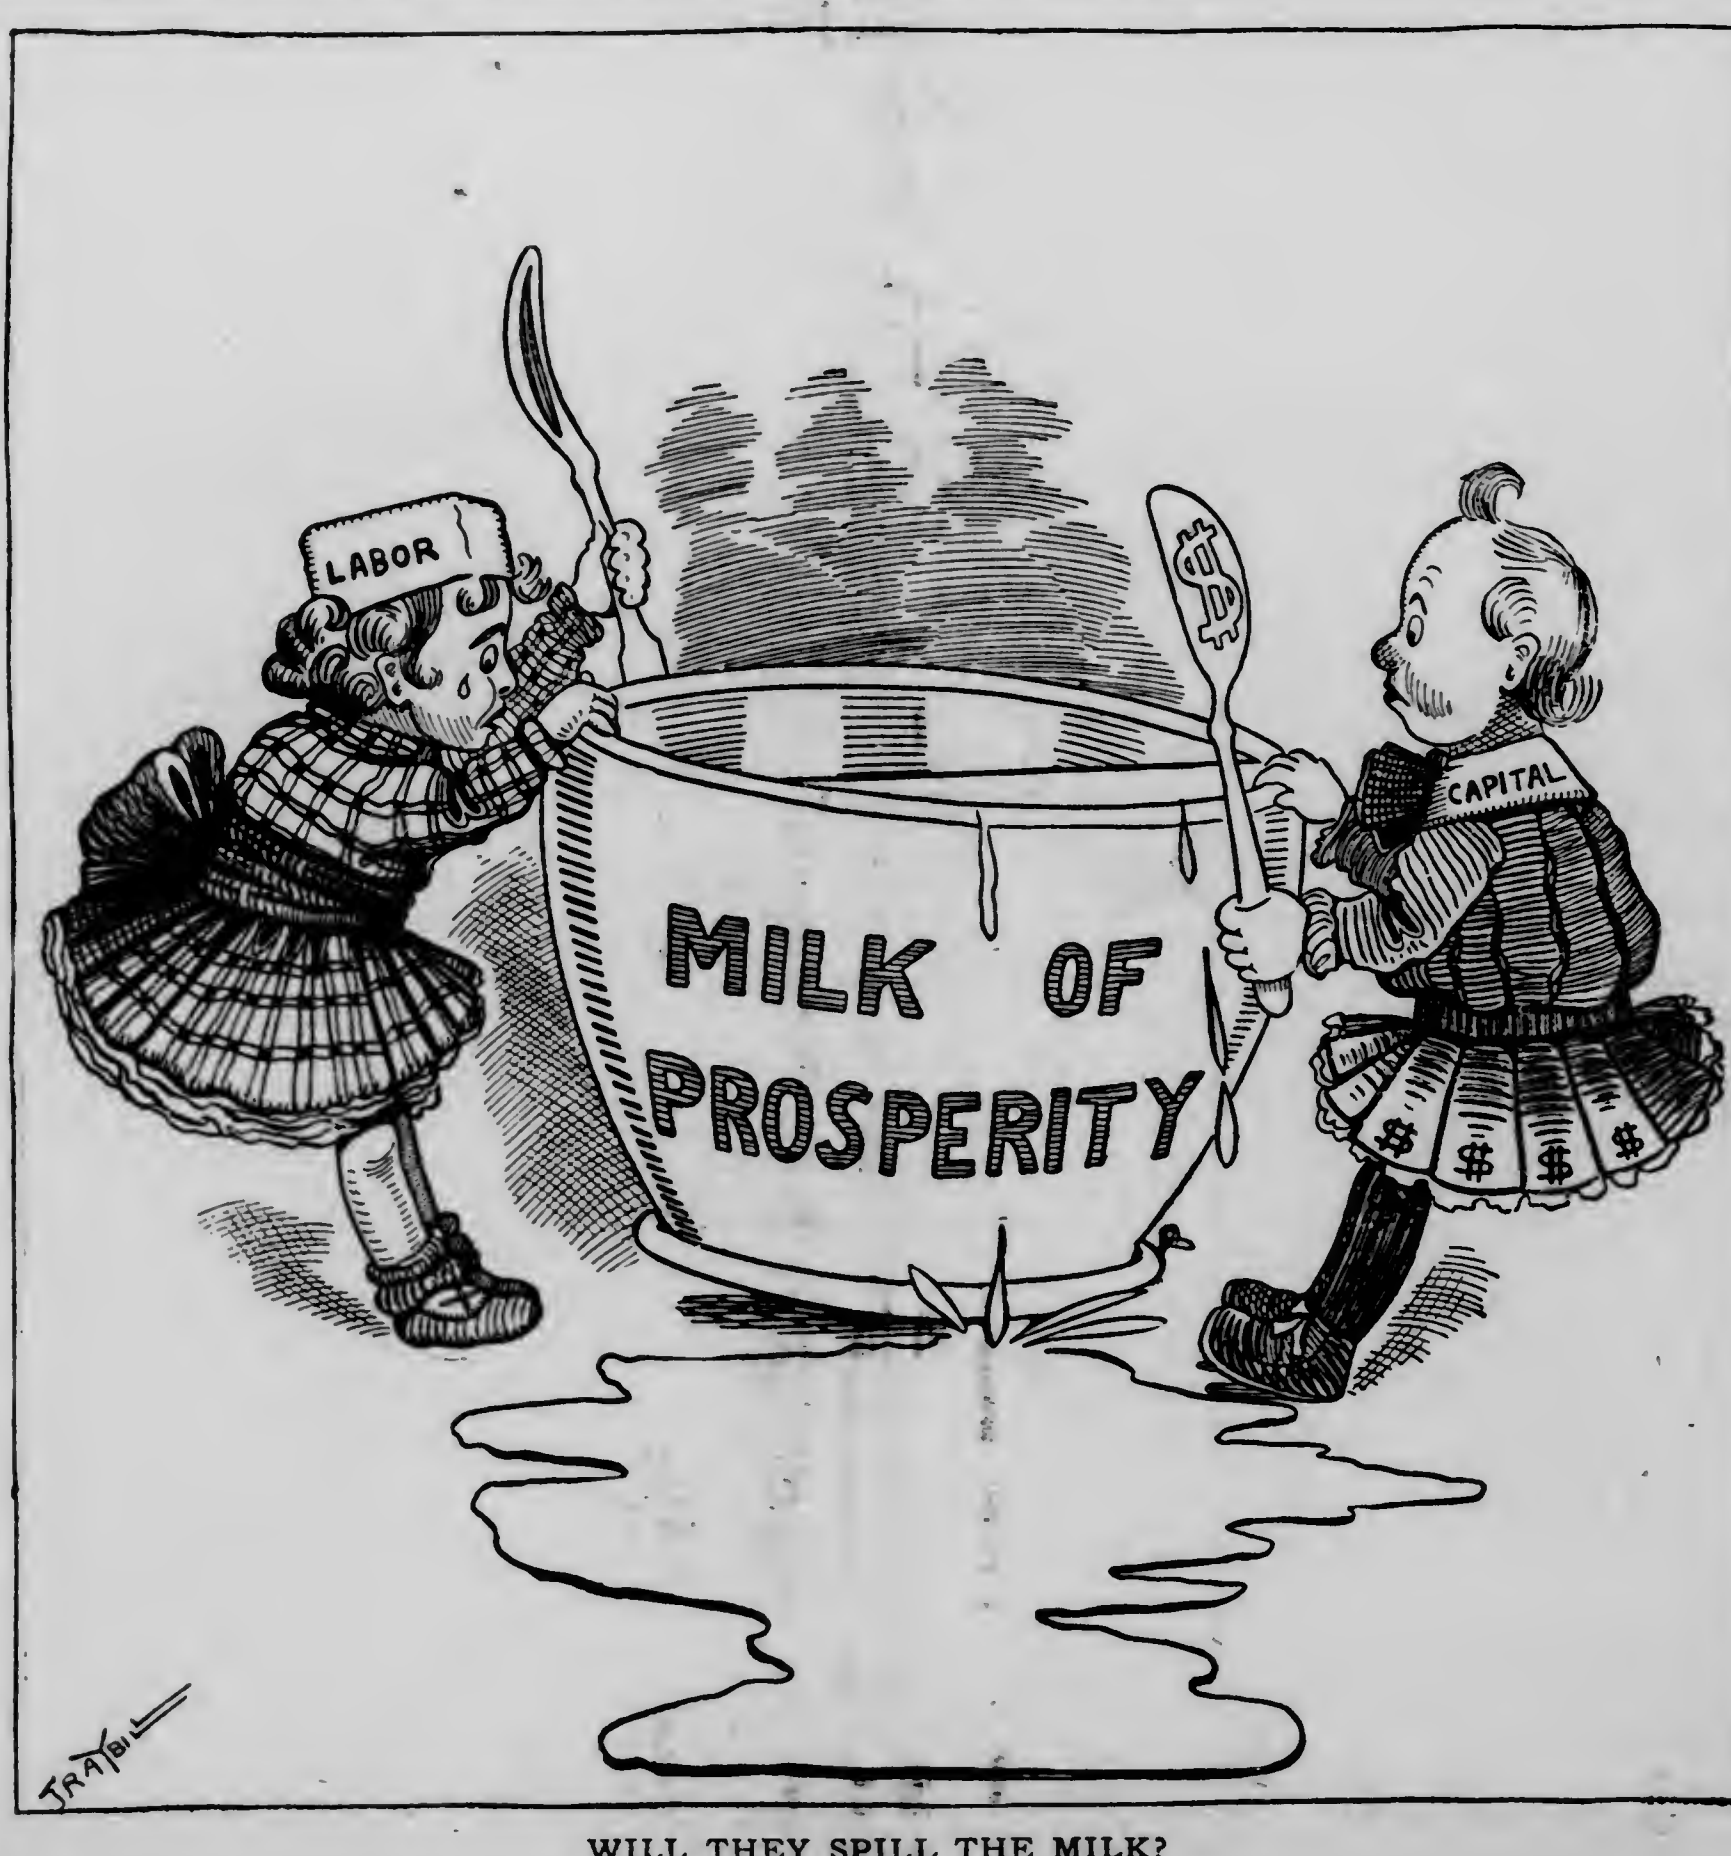

"Yes, sir, so angry that in his treatment he all but cursed me," said Mr. Wallace.

At this point a recess was taken.

CORONER TO INVESTIGATE

The Death of Minneapolis Woman; Husband is Under Arrest.

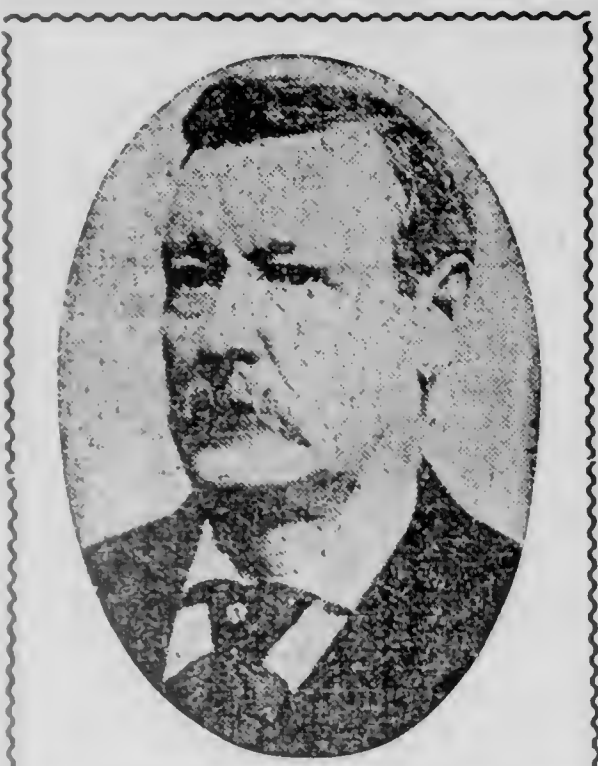

Minneapolis, Feb. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Frank Bernot of 89 Thirteenth avenue northeast, is under arrest, pending the outcome of the coroner's inquest on the death of Mrs. Bernot, who it is alleged, died last night as the result of the man's violence. The couple quarreled late yesterday afternoon and a woman living in the flat below them said she heard a noise as of a body falling to the floor. When the woman went to the Bernot flat to inquire into the cause of the disturbance she saw Mrs. Bernot lying face downward on the floor. Bernot ordered the neighbor to return to her own rooms. Later he came to her and begged for help, but Mrs. Bernot refused. One of the Bernot children, a girl of 3 years of age told the police that her father had struck her mother. Bernot denies that he struck his wife. A postmortem held last night revealed the fact that the woman was a sufferer from heart trouble and the attending physicians decided that she came to her death from natural causes.

COLD WAVE IN THE EAST

Thirty-Five to Forty Below in Northern New York.

Causes Hardship, Following Unusually Warm Weather.

Rome, N. Y., Feb. 6.—Northern New York was today swept by a cold wave, which involved greater hardship because of the unusual warmth of the winter thus far. Today was by far the coldest of the winter. One of the coldest points was at Camden, where 40 deg. below was recorded. It was 32 below in this city, 35 at Northville, 26 at Johnstown, 19 at Amsterdam, and 29 in the vicinity of Schenectady.

Saratoga, Feb. 6.—Thirty degrees below zero was the temperature here at sunrise today, which is the coldest day of this winter.

Syracuse, N. Y., Feb. 6.—The temperature reached 20 deg. below zero in this city today. The air was very dry, and the sun was partly obscured. Otherwise the weather is clear.

Baltimore, N. Y., Feb. 6.—The temperature dropped to 26 deg. below zero here today.

St. Paul, Feb. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Street thermometers registered 10 deg. below zero today, 6 deg. warmer than yesterday. The air was so full of frost early this morning that the sun was partly obscured. Otherwise the weather is clear.

La Crosse, Wis., Feb. 6.—The cold weather of yesterday continued today, the thermometer falling to 18 deg. below zero. The extreme weather is interfering with the running of trains, and all are from one to three hours late today.

Boston, Feb. 6.—A cold wave, driven by a high wind, sent a shiver over New England today. The coldest point was at Northfield, Vt., where the thermometer registered 22 deg. below zero. In this city and on the coast generally it averaged 2 to 4 deg. below zero.

New York, Feb. 6.—Today was the coldest of the present winter in New York city, the mercury touching 5 above zero. This was 1 deg. colder than the previous low record for the winter.

Plattsburgh, N. Y., Feb. 6.—Temperature of 10 below zero was reported today from Lake Lake in the Adirondack mountains. At Upper Chateaufort lake the temperature was 30 below, at Lake Placid 22 below and at Saranac lake 28 below.

Pittsburg, Feb. 6.—With the government thermometer registering 2 degs. below zero and as low as 10 degs. being recorded in different parts of the city and vicinity, Pittsburg today experienced the coldest weather of the winter. Last night the wind was howling and the engines were detached, running about ten miles, where it struck No. 16, the stub train running from Garrison to Helena.

KINDNESS SAVED HER.

Maid the Widow Nursed One of a Batch of Thieves.

Brussels, Feb. 6.—A wealthy widow living in Brussels recently engaged a young French maid at high wages. The girl fell ill and was carefully nursed by her mistress. On her recovery she insisted on leaving the house at once. Pressed for her reasons, the maid confessed that she was a member of a gang of thieves who preyed on widows and unsuspecting women. Her duty to her benefactress was to explore the house and inform them of the easiest mode of entrance and all of the rooms in which valuables were stored.

In return for her mistress' kindness she promised not to reveal the thieves that the house contained anything of value. The widow, however, worried over the matter so much that her friends advised her to sell her property and take up her residence in a boarding house. In this way the story leaked out.

THIRTY-SIX BODIES FROM THE VALENCIA.

Victoria, Feb. 6.—Thirty-six bodies of the Valencia victims have been recovered, including twelve brought in yesterday—nine men and three women. Of the former four have been identified as O. W. Ingham, of Fernside, Wash.; Gus Erickson, of San Jose, H. M. Peters, of Los Angeles, and Peter Glume, of Brownsville, Wash. Two others are thought to be the remains of J. B. Montgomery, quartermaster,

PROMINENT MINISTER OF PEORIA ENDS LIFE WITH DEADLY POISON

Illinois Clergyman Takes Cyanide of Potassium and Retires.

President of Two Banks and Manager of Yates Campaign.

Serious Stories Concerning His Morals Were in Circulation.

Peoria, Ill., Feb. 6.—Rev. George H. Simmons, pastor of the First Baptist church, president of the Interstate Savings bank and the People's Savings bank and recently appointed manager of the Yates senatorial campaign in Peoria county, was found dead in bed this morning. He has been the object of investigation at the hands of the state's attorney, the two banks and his congregation on the ground charges and it is presumed to be a case of suicide.

The body was found by his wife when she called him to breakfast. He had remained down town until a late hour last night, disposing of some business matters. A letter found beside him showed his death to have been preceded. He said that this was his last night on earth and wanted to leave a message of undying love to all in part, it said: "Also to blame must attach to ex-Governor Yates and his associates. He simply gave me an opportunity which his opponents and my enemies have prevented my using."

The last line, "That time fails me," would I attempt to write personal messages," indicates he was dying as he brought this letter to a close.

Three physicians, who were hastily summoned, are of the opinion his death was caused by cyanide of potassium. Coroner Baker took charge of the remains.

The Peoples' Savings bank, of which Simmons was president, in the workman's quarters of the city did not open its doors this morning. Cashier Look said that it would remain closed until some further action was determined on. There was a run on the bank yesterday, and by 10 o'clock this morning a large crowd surrounded the building, clamoring for their money.

The Interstate Savings bank, of which he was president up to yesterday, when his resignation was accepted and E. C. Heidrich elected in his stead, was the object of run on its doors this morning. Early this morning the bank building was crowded with depositors demanding their money. Cashier Ancker said they would be able to stand the drain.

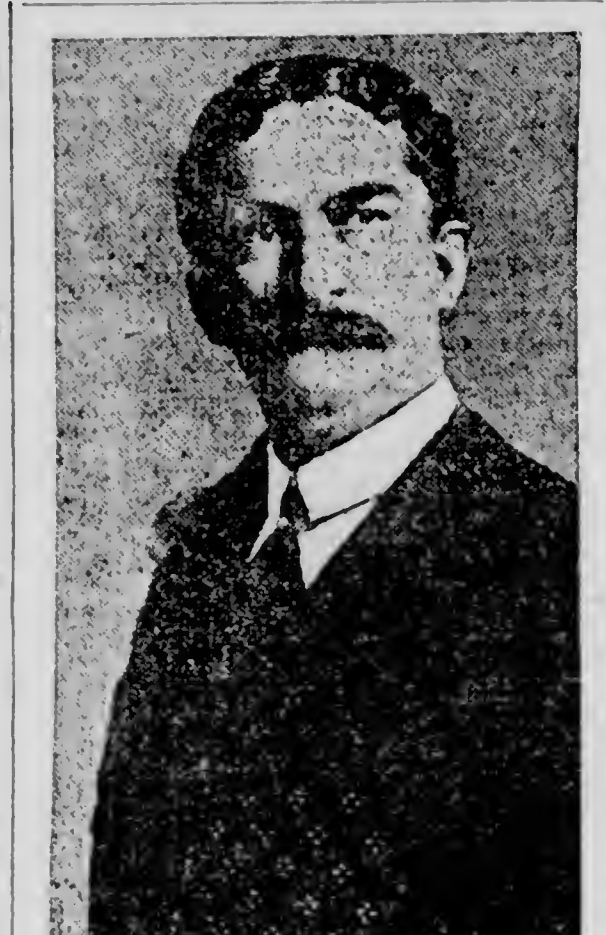

Dr. Simmons came to the First Baptist church five years ago from Terre Haute, Ind., and had been remarkably successful. He secured a national publicity two years ago by advocating a dramatization of the life of Christ. He became local manager of the sensational campaign of former Governor Yates a week ago, and shortly after serious stories affecting his moral character were published.

Shades undertook an investigation yesterday and secured some sensational confessions from boys of his congregation. Dr. Simmons was 40 years old and leaves a widow. He held terms in Jackson, Tenn., and Louisville, Ky., before coming here.

COLOMBIA AGAIN MAKES DEMAND ON UNITED STATES

Washington, Feb. 6.—Colombia has again renewed her demand for recompense from the United States, because of the separation of Panama. This last application was submitted to Secretary Root recently by Senor Diego Mendoza. It is said to be in general terms similar to the presentment originally made by Gen. Reyes, the present executive head of Colombia, when he was in Washington last year, as special commissioner and minister from Colombia.

While this last presentment is in the nature of a claim against the United States government, the amount of the damages sustained by the present state on account of Panama's cession is not set down. Secretary Root has the last note undelivered, but it is believed that nothing has occurred to change the position originally taken by the state department in this matter, namely that the United States was in no way responsible for the separation of Panama.

Iowa Man Attempts Murder and Suicide After Quarrel.

Dubuque, Iowa, Feb. 6.—Calvin Markham of Cascade stabbed his wife in the back with a butcher knife and then cut his throat. Both will recover. A quarrel over the action of his wife's brother was the cause of the trouble. The wife is 16 years old and the husband 21 years. They were married last October.

George Boyd, aged 64 years and separated from his wife, hanged himself while in a fit of despondency.

MINNESOTA INVENTORS.

Washington, Feb. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—The following patents have been issued: Jules J. Durage of Duluth, draft forcing mechanism; Alexander A. Forbes of Duluth, machine for molding building blocks; John H. Hanson and J. J. Petrosburg of Alitkin, vehicle.

ANSWER IS AN INSULT

Congressman Gillespie So Characterizes the Commission's Report.

Will Introduce Resolution Asking Investigation of Combine.

Washington, Feb. 6.—Mr. Gillespie (Tex.) author of the resolution regarding the alleged Pennsylvania railroad combination, answered yesterday by the president, declared on the floor of the house today that the answer was an insult; that with the great machinery at hand, a complete investigation of actual conditions should have been made. He said such an investigation would show among other things that there had been an allotment to each coal carrying road of a certain territory to prevent competition in markets by means of rate adjustments, agreements and combinations.

Mr. Gillespie has prepared a resolution requesting the president to direct the interstate commerce commission to make an immediate investigation of all the charges he makes.

BODY OF MISSING CASHIER FOUND

Remains of Sturley Armstrong of Pittsburg Discovered in Virginia.

Pittsburg, Feb. 6.—The decomposed body of a man with a bullet hole through his head, which was found yesterday in a thicket on the outskirts of Roanoke, Va., is believed to be that of Sturley C. Armstrong, the cashier of the Washington National bank, who mysteriously disappeared from this city on Jan. 2. The identification was made possible early today, when the number 263, 241, attached to a bunch of keys, which were found on the body, was identified as the number of the accident insurance policy carried by the missing cashier.

Mr. Armstrong was well known in banking circles in this city. His accounts were found to be correct. Mrs. Armstrong, the cashier's wife, declared that it was her belief that her husband's mind had become deranged from overwork and anxiety.

TO SEGREGATE THE SEXES. Chicago, Feb. 6.—Segregation of the sexes is to be tried as an experiment in the Chicago public schools. Action favoring such test was taken last night by the school management committee of the board of education when it voted to introduce segregation in the mid-winter entering class of the Englewood high school. The plan is to divide the class into three parts, one division of boys, one division of girls, and one of boys and girls, and conduct the experiment by comparing the results in the three divisions.

Gen. Grodekoff to Command Russian Forces in the East.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 6.—Reports which have been in circulation for several days to the effect that Gen. Grodekoff, who was governor of the Amur territory during the Boxer uprising and who became noted for his ruthless measures in restoring order in the Amur region and in Manchuria, will be appointed viceroy of the Far East, with command of land and sea forces, are semi-authoritatively confirmed. Gen. Grodekoff who is 62 years old and a member of the council of the empire, left St. Petersburg last week for Harbin. Gen. Linevitch, the commander of the Manchurian armies, will probably retire. His name has been mentioned in connection with the viceroyalty of the Caucasus.

The Nove Vremya today continued its revelations in regard to the importations of arms into Finland. The paper declared it had evidence that the radical organization in Finland was preparing for open war in support of the next outbreak of the Russian revolutionists. Not only were well armed infantry forces being drilled, but horses were being trained for cavalry and artillery service and shells for field artillery were being imported.

The statements of the Nove Vremya are undoubtedly correct so far as the Finnish extremists are concerned but the Nationalists and even the Social Democrats organization disclaim any connection or even sympathy with violent measures.

The appointment of Gen. Langhoff, former commander of the Semolovsky regiment, to be state secretary of Finland, the connecting link between the emperor and the grand duchy, is satisfactory to the Finlanders. Gen. Langhoff though a native Finn has been a lifetime in the Russian service and has no administrative qualities.

Exposed to full view, with blazing shingles all about him, and his neck a mass of red hot coals, was the body of an unknown man. It was slowly consumed, until all that was left was the skull and outstretched arms. There are supposed to have been eight passengers on the train, of which number two are still unaccounted for.

St. Paul, Feb. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—The following statement was given to the Associated Press by General Manager Horn of the Northern Pacific today:

At Helena, thirteen miles west of Helena, train No. 58, conductor Goode, Engineer Love, with Helper Engineer Tenill, taking water, train ran away, while the engines were detached, running about ten miles, where it struck No. 16, the stub train running from Garrison to Helena.

The killed are: C. L. BRICKELL, conductor No. 16, JESSIE P. messenger. Two passengers, names unknown. Injured: Brown, fireman, concussion. Ernest Rossman, passenger, collar bone broken. A. C. Lightall, head cut. George Young, slightly injured. Both coaches of train No. 16 were burned. Most of the freight cars, No. 58 were derailed. The track is damaged for 300 feet.

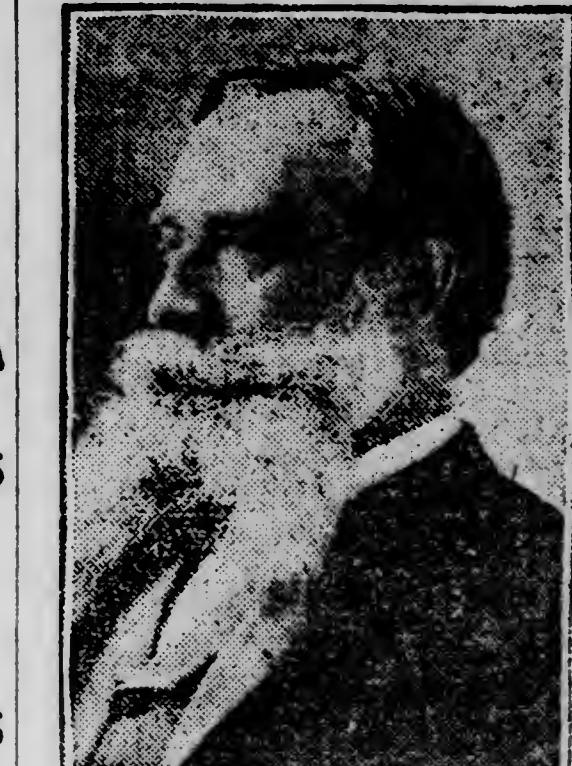

All the employees were old in the service of the Rocky Mountain division and thoroughly familiar with all sorts of conditions of the Helena mountain.

JILTED GIRL IS DEAD OF A BROKEN HEART.

Pittsburg, Feb. 6.—"Died of a broken heart," is the unusual verdict filed in the records of the coroner's office opposite the name of Mary Klense, 17 years old, who died of the same of her cousin, George Jakubosk, Saturday night.

Three months ago both parents and two brothers of the girl died in Austria. Mary then came to this country to earn her living and secured employment. Here she became acquainted with a fellow countryman and they became engaged. Two weeks ago the man took out a marriage license.

Last week, however, the man changed his mind and told the girl he would not wed. Mary then went to her cousin's house. From that time until her death she wept continually. She said that the death of her relatives and the faithlessness of her lover had broken her heart, and she told the truth.

CHICAGO HAS A DARK DAY

Smoke and Clouds Make it Almost Impossible to See.

Chicago, Feb. 6.—From early morning until afternoon a dense cloud of smoke and clouds hung over this city, making it one of the darkest days ever experienced here. All of the stores are lighted as though it were night and the street cars run with lamps lit. At times it was not possible to see more than one square in any direction. On the board of trade for the first time in many years there was no announcement of the price of cash wheat at the closing of the session. Dealers pronounced it impossible to determine the character of samples because of the darkness. The weather bureau declared that the darkness was purely local and said it would continue in all probability throughout the day.

WISCONSIN FIRM IN HANDS OF RECEIVER.

Marquette, Wis., Feb. 6.—The Marquette Iron Works manufacturing company of Chicago Heights, Ill., went into the hands of a receiver this week. Insufficient capital is said to be the cause. There is an indebtedness of over $100,000, but the assets, it is said, more than equal it. The concern moved from Marquette, to Chicago Heights about eighteen months ago. It is reported here that the concern will be reorganized and move to Menominee, Mich.

GERMANY CONTINUES TO RESIST FRENCH DESIRES.

Algerias, Feb. 6.—The discussion going on between the German and French delegates to the conference here, to settle the dispute between the two countries, is said to be a deadlock. The conference is expected to continue for some time.

HIS OWN ANCESTOR.

An amusing incident occurred during the campaign of Robert Palmer, Jr., for governor of Massachusetts, a few years ago, says the Boston Herald. A rally was held in his honor in one of the Boston wards, but the local presiding officer became badly "rattled," and introduced him as follows: "Ladies and Gentlemen—I mean gentlemen, as I don't see any ladies present—it gives me great pleasure to introduce myself—I mean our candidate for governor—the Hon. Robert 'Treat' Palmer, Jr.—the ancestor of a man who signed the Declaration of Independence." There was tremendous cheering and laughter, and Mr. Palmer, perceiving the joke and smiling quietly, proceeded to deliver a vigorous speech for one so ancient.

VOTING FAIRLY HEAVY THROUGHOUT THE CITY

Cullum's Friends Very Confident of a Comfortable Majority.

Windom, Van Burgess and McEwen Looked Upon as Safe.

Voting is fairly heavy in all parts of the city today, and the total vote at today's election is likely to be the largest ever polled at a municipal election in the history of the city. The vote is especially heavy in the First ward. At noon, more than half of the votes in the third precinct of the First ward had been polled, and the voting had been equally heavy in the fourth precinct, which is about the same size. At Hunter's Park 50 votes out of 105 had been polled at 11 o'clock and at Lakeside 82 out of 180 at the same hour. In Onocota, which is the fourth precinct of the Seventh ward, 40 votes out of 154 had been polled at 11 o'clock and at 3:30 a. m. 31 votes out of 272 had been polled in the first precinct of the Eighth ward. At 1:30 o'clock this afternoon, 30 out of 104 voters had cast their ballots in the third precinct of the Sixth ward. At the same hour, the following results were received from the Seventh ward: First precinct, 87 out of 275; second precinct, 222 out of 325; third precinct, 240 out of 349; fifth precinct 59 out of 200.

Practically no change has taken place in the majority situation since yesterday. Major Cullum's friends express the same confidence that they did a week or a month ago, and they predict that he will roll up a big plurality over his opponent. "You hear more Trevelion talk in the down town part of the city, than do anywhere else," said a well known politician this morning. "Trevelion's stronghold is right in the Fourth ward and that corner of the city along Superior street. But when you get up on the hill, and out in the East end and through the Fifth and Sixth wards, you get into Cullum's strongholds, and I believe that he will pile up a big vote there. I can see no reason why Cullum should not at least hold the majority he gets in the First ward. He should carry the Third ward by a large majority as Trevelion is likely to get in the Fourth. Doe will also carry the Second and Fifth and Sixth wards. The Seventh and Eighth look like about a stand off, and I don't believe either man will get more than fifty votes to the good in the Eighth at least. "This is a very queer fight, and a hard one to size up, but Cullum should get at least 600 majority. It would not surprise me to see it run much heavier, perhaps as high as 1,200."

Judge Windom's friends are equally as confident as those of Mayor Cullum, and they are working to make his majority larger than that secured by the majority candidate. His friends are being freely offered that Windom will carry every ward in the city, and there are not many takers among the Trevelion forces. Windom's supporters predict a majority of from 500 to 1,500.

Even the Trevelion workers in the Fourth ward are admitting today that George Van Burgess, the Democratic candidate in the Fourth ward, is apparently safe. During the last twenty-four hours he has been running away from his opponents, and his election is now claimed to be practically a certainty. Walker is more or less discredited from the fact that many believe he entered the field solely for the purpose of cutting into Van Burgess' vote on the Point.

It also looks safe for Alderman McEwen in the Fifth, and "Bills" friends claim that MacKercher practically "laid down" three days ago. The Sixth is expected to go for Mark, although Skoglund has been showing some signs of strength during the last few days.

The hottest fights are expected in the Third and Eighth wards. In the Third ward both Jordan and Waugh are claiming the victory. "I am going to win by just eighty-three votes," said Alderman Waugh, jokingly, this morning. "I claim the ward by 100, so that it is apparently a stand-off. Conditions are about the same in the Eighth, where both sides are claiming the victory, and both are apparently equally in earnest about their claims."

The Second ward is the only other one in which there is a contest, and it is expected that it will be a close one. But Jensen, his opponent, showed some strength in localities where it was least expected today, and he may spring a surprise on the Republicans.

The polls will close at 7 o'clock this evening, and by 9 o'clock the unofficial returns should begin to come in. The election returns are not likely to be received at the city clerk's office before 10 o'clock, and it will be long after midnight before the last of them are in. A large blackboard has been erected in the city council chamber, and the returns are being posted there as rapidly as they come in. They will also be announced at the different theaters.

WITNESS IS ANGRY

Says Attorney Dare Not Call Him a Liar Out of Doors.

Attorney General Moody Admits Authenticity of President's Letter.

Chicago, Feb. 6.—Attorney General Moody was today called upon by the packers to admit the authenticity of a letter written to him by President Roosevelt, in which it is plainly intimated that the packers were working together in the "black and white" scheme to produce the original of the document. The attorney general declared that he would not admit the authenticity of the letter, subject to verification by J. A. Kratz, his private secretary. The letter, as produced by the packers, was a copy of the original document, as it appeared in a published account of the proceedings of the United States senate. The attorney general read the letter and then rose to his feet.

"If it please the court," he said, "I feel it my duty, upon reading this letter, to say in regard to this sentence that contains, 'With my permission, the department of justice and the department of commerce and labor,' it is not correct. The lawyers for the packers arose at the words of the attorney general, several of them addressing the court excitedly. 'I would like to finish,' said the attorney general. 'I understand that the attorney general merely assented to the authenticity of the document,' said Judge Humphrey.

Attorney Miller for the packers, who made the request of the attorney general to admit the authenticity of the document, did not introduce it in evidence, but had it marked for identification. The cross-examination of C. M. Macfarlane was then resumed by District Attorney Morrison. The questioning was directed toward the subsidiary companies which, it is claimed through government, were the media through which the control of prices on all by-products was effected. Mr. Macfarlane said he had been present at meetings of the directors of the Openheimer company as a representative of one of the casing men of the Fairbanks Canning company.

"Did that man represent the Morris case?" "I don't know. I have been there for twenty years, but I don't know anything about the Morris case," said the witness declared that the government agents examined the books of the Fairbanks Canning company and the Aceta Trading company, but said he knew little about the operations of the subsidiary companies.

At the conclusion of the cross examination the attorneys for the packers attempted to prove the authenticity of the books by Mr. Macfarlane, but met objections from the district attorney. Mr. Macfarlane then offered personal explanation without being asked by the attorney. "I state positively," he said, "that everything given the government was true, and as far as the statements of Mr. Morris about me, I don't know anything about it. 'Don't argue here, sir,' said District Attorney Morrison. 'Don't get excited.' 'I do get excited about these things,' Mr. Morrison replied. Mr. Macfarlane said he would say to you that you could not make the statement that I do not tell the truth, out of doors. 'I notice that when a man is found to be wrong, he generally gets excited,' said the district attorney. 'Proceed with the lawsuit,' said the court, sharply.

The case was then excused and Darius N. Knight, chief clerk of the Fairbanks Canning company, was called to the stand to testify. His testimony was similar to that of the preceding witness. Mr. Macfarlane then took the stand when a recess was taken.

SOME NARROW ESCAPES.

One Man Hung Over a Precipice for Seven Hours.

Surely one of the most terrible experiences which ever befell man is that which befell Hon. Gerald Fitzgerald while on Monte Rosa in attempting to descend to Macugnana, says Pearson's Weekly. He had left the Margherita hut, and was tied between two Swiss guides named Albert, father and son. On the way down they were passing along a dangerous path, and the whole of Gerald and the younger guide fell over the rope held, however, and young Albert succeeded in dragging himself up over the face of the rock. After he had saved himself he returned to the Margherita hut, from exhausted by the strain of hours hanging between life and death.

It was the old guide who succeeded in supporting Mr. Fitzgerald the whole of the time. Old Albert stood motionless for seven hours with his legs exhausted by the vast strain being put upon him. Eight guides and two physicians conveyed Mr. Fitzgerald to the Margherita hut.

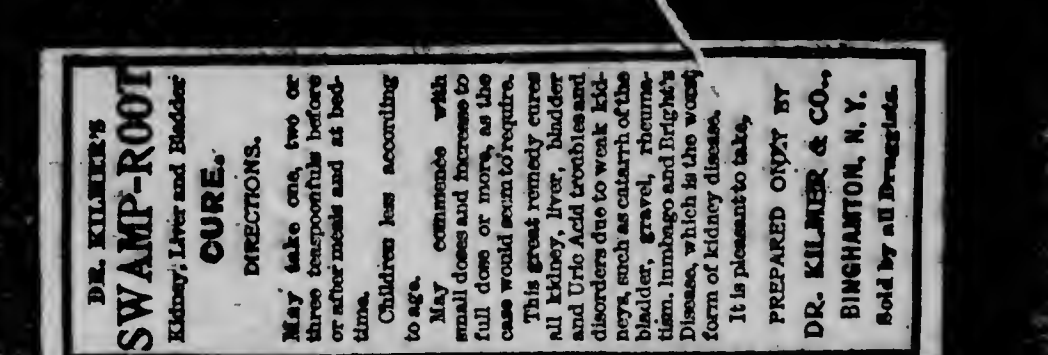

It is needless to say that all the inhabitants warmly cheered old Albert as he came down the mountain. A tourist named Gregor has been on the edge of a precipice a much longer time than this, but still he was not suspended in mid-air. For instance, he was found on a narrow ledge of rock on the Emir, where he had been six days. Of course, he had been the whole of the time there without food or drink, and if he had moved his feet he would have fallen down the side of a precipice 600 feet deep. It is surprising how long life may be maintained in the midst of cold. For instance, in Westmoreland, a sheep has been discovered which was buried on Dent, and was found after it had been in the crevice and thawed out, when it was able to walk a mile and a half home.

There has been built recently a great factory chimney in connection with Lowfield Mill, Bedford, near Rochester. One day three workmen, named Walter Dempsey, Joseph Evans and Samuel Barkeley, were engaged in winding up some of the material for the top, when it became entangled in the scaffolding and would move neither up nor down. Thus it was that the men were effectively imprisoned in their aerial position at the top of the chimney.

Eventually the Rochester steeplejack, Joseph Smith, was summoned to the scene and he devised a method of escape. Acting upon his advice, one of the men tore his shirt into strings and tied the pieces together to form a rope. One end of this shirt rope was let down and to it was tied a good stout rope, which was hauled to the top of the chimney and made secure. After this a saddle was fastened to the end of the rope and it was hoisted up, and eventually the men were lowered safely to the ground after four hours' imprisonment.

The other day an errand boy, with a medicine box on his arm, jumped over the back axle of a cab at Teigen mouth. The result was that the wheel of the conveyance dragged his box into the street and the boy after it. The boy's head was on the outside of the wheel, and his legs inside, and in this position he was dragged a distance of 100 yards. At every turn of the wheel he revolved, and yet at the end of this remarkable ride he was not hurt.

Some little time ago the Keighley police were called to a case of a man, there they found that the man had the upper part of his body protruding through the glass panel of SUPERSTITIOUS.

Ohio River Men Are Believers in Many Hoodoo Theories.

While several rivermen and others were seated in the office of the Pittsburg (Cincinnati) Packet line, the other day, the superstitious of rivermen came up, says the Pittsburg Gazette. In the party were several who were acquainted with the legends of the river, and it devolved upon Capt. Henderson and Capt. Pennington to relate some of the happenings of the river days.

One of the most surprising things brought up was the fact that a long general run of steamboat men object to having a boat with a name starting with the letter M or an M on the hull. It is claimed that a boat starting with either one of these letters has been wrecked or burned. The Molly Burt, Olive Neville, Mark Irwin, and a host of others, have been lost, and the Molly Burt and the Olive Neville, and the Missouri and the Ohio sank. All of these boats were owned by local men, and ran on the Ohio and Mississippi.

The case of the Mark Irwin was carried out another "hoodoo" of the rivermen. It is believed that when the rats were leaving her in droves, the boat was abandoned. On a summer afternoon in 1887 the Molly Irwin tied up at the wharf, and the superstitious people on board at once predicted that something was going to happen. In fact, the boat was abandoned. A remarkable escape from death is that of a girl who was admitted to the St. Bartholomew's hospital, in Rochester, N. Y., last week. The patient was the daughter of a local police officer, and by some accident she had a needle thrust right into her heart.

The remarkable operation was performed at the hospital, as a result of which, after a considerable amount of suffering on the girl's part, the needle was successfully removed from the heart.

At the thirty-first congress of the German Chirurgical association, held at Berlin, a very remarkable patient was introduced to the congress. This was a young man who, attempting suicide, shot himself with a small caliber bullet, but the wound had healed up very rapidly. The X-ray rays were turned upon the man's heart, and the bullet was discovered in the left ventricle, bouncing about with each beat. The man was, for all the world, as though his heart were a rattle. After some time the bullet gradually became encased, and now it moves rhythmically with the heart, without causing the slightest inconvenience to the patient.

Equally remarkable was the temporary escape from death of a domestic servant, named Ellen Kiesby. Some years ago she was accidentally shot near Northampton, and the bullet lodged in her head, but could not be located. Recently the girl said she thought the bullet had moved its position, later in the day she died. An inquest was held at Weedon, and it

SESSION IS QUIET ONE

Council Transacts But Little Business at Preliminary Meeting.

Annual Reports of Several City Departments Placed on File.

Annual reports of the various city officers constituted the main business brought before the council at the regular meeting last evening and the session lasted but little over half an hour. The annual reports of the city attorney, the sealers of weights and measures, the park board and the water and light department were filed. The report of the city attorney showed that not a single verdict had been secured against the city in personal injury cases, although a number of such cases had been brought. All of those which were based upon good grounds were settled out of court, and those which were pushed into court by the plaintiffs were successfully defended.

The city attorney further reported that settlements had been made of a number of back assessments and taxes, which placed considerable live property on the books again. A detailed report of the cases tried by the assistant city attorney during the year followed.

The report of the park board showed that twenty-two acres of property had been added to Chester park during that year, giving the city the possession of the land on the street in question from Fifth street to the boulevard. The board recommended that the land between Fourth and Fifth street be also acquired.

During the year the boulevard had been extended from Thirty-ninth avenue west to sixty-third avenue west. The total expenses of the board were $14,452.63, divided as follows: Land, $2,784; improvements, $2,500; maintenance, $1,155.15; nursery stock, $1,400.00; general expenses, $2,109.33; office expenses, $428.59.

Sealers of weights and measures, also presented their report for the year. During the year they tested 441 back of each, all of which were found correct and true. Out of 720 scales inspected, 720 were found correct, and out of 414 measures tested, all were found correct.

The Duluth Boat club and other property owners on Park Point presented a petition for the vacation of the street between lots 180 and 182. The section of the street in question runs from St. Louis avenue to the bay, ending in the water. The boat club now owns the property on each side of the street, and the intention is to construct a building on the north side of the street, the present building being located on the south side of the street. The club wishes to connect the two buildings, using the street right-of-way, which at this point lies under water.

The petition was referred.

Some discussion was caused by the report of the board of water and light commissioners. The aldermen took exception to such criticism, expressed in the report, and the clerk was instructed to read aloud all that part of the report which referred to the council.

WATER AND LIGHT BOARD FILES ANNUAL REPORT

Tells People of Duluth What Their Plants Have Done.

Protests Against Council's Action on Extensions and Bond Issues.

The annual report of the water and light board of the conduct of the department over which it exercises supervision was presented last evening. It goes exhaustively into the year's business and enumerates the various things that have been done and the plans the department has under way.

One of the most interesting things in the report is a protest against the practice of the council in voting for extensions before the department has given them its approval, and of increasing bond issues that have been recommended.

The board's report in opening refers to the fact that some disastrous breaks were sustained during the year, chief among them being the explosion at the gas holder. The necessity for large improvements is also dwelt upon, among these being a new gas holder of larger dimensions and an addition to the pumping capacity at Lakewood. The construction of a 10,000,000-gallon reservoir at West Duluth is in progress, and will cost $50,000. Extensions of mains that are in progress are also referred to.

With reference to the bond issue being voted on today, the report says: "The board earnestly hopes that the city will vote the issue of bonds which is being submitted for approval at the coming election, because it is only by this approval and sale of the bonds that improvements and extensions, which are so necessary to the city, can be carried out. The board affirms its determination to make no extensions that are not backed by adequate guarantees as required by the rules of the department, and then only as rapidly as the interests of the city and economy of operations will permit."

"In this connection the board feels that it must protest against a growing practice which we believe is detrimental to the interests of the city, and which has a tendency to hamper the board in the impartial and wise administration of its affairs, particularly with regard to extensions. As we read the charter, it contemplates that the initiative in making extensions and the consequent issue of bonds shall be taken by this department. Our protest is: First, against the council's voting, in advance of our submission, of extensions of the necessary income, and before the extensions are submitted by this department; and second, against the council's increasing the amount of bond issues as requested by this department to be submitted to the people for their approval.

The board realizes that it is its duty to administer the affairs of the department for the best interests of the city as a whole, and it cannot fairly keep pace with the growing requirements of the different sections of the city, when accompanied by such a practice. They have been formally presented to the board for action, but in the opinion of the board, the people in the different sections of the city are of their own volition bringing their petitions to the board for action as rapidly as it is possible or advisable for it to act in the interests of the city as a whole, to provide for them.

"The board's desire to have improvements follow in natural course, and that requests for the approval of bonds shall be based upon a manifest and previously expressed desire of the citizens, as practically shown by formal petitions presented to the board for its consideration and approval. It is shown in the present situation. On every large improvement there is a considerable improvement in the interest of the city, and the department and paid from the time when any income can be derived therefrom. For instance: Of the bond issue voted last year, practically no income has yet been derived largely because the supply of early enough in the season to enable contractors to complete their contracts, namely those at Park Point and Duluth Heights, during that season. This year the necessary expenditures for additional pumping facilities and increased holding capacity, our expenditures from which no direct income is derivable, and the interest on these investments must be met from the earnings of the department. If, in addition to these burdens there is to be the loss this year of interest on the $100,000 bond issue, the result will be that there will be a very large interest charge against the department on account of extensions, from which no immediate income will be derived. In the opinion of the board, it will not have been fortunate if these two large extensions could have been postponed for another year, but in view of the fact that the citizens of Lakewood have shown their desire to be furnished with gas by guaranteeing the percentage of income required by the rule of the department, we will press to completion the installation of that system immediately the necessary funds are provided and the perfected petition is filed with the department.

"Regarding the hillside system, no petition has been received by the board, and very little indication on the part of the hillside people themselves has been manifested. The board of their ability to furnish the guarantee, or their desire to have the system extended to them, is in the opinion of the board, will not be completed and presented to the department, let contracts and secure the necessary materials to complete the work during the season, the result being that this large extension must either go over or extend over into another year. Therefore, notwithstanding the approval of the bonds by the citizens, this board asks the council that bonds shall be sold only in such amount and at such times as can be used economically in carrying out in the most practical way the work of the department.

"The board wishes to reiterate its belief that in the interests of the city, there should be an amendment to the charter by which a special sinking fund can be created to which may be deposited surplus earnings of the department, which shall be used only in redemption of the water and light bonds; that investments of these earnings shall be made by the established sinking fund board of the city government; and that this fund shall have the benefit of its own earnings.

"The board feels also that it is not just that the interest on the daily balances of the funds of this department shall accrue to the benefit of the general fund of the city, as now, but that the contrary, should be placed to the credit of this department in order that the department may be enabled to make a just and true financial statement covering not only its entire expenses, but also the entire earnings.

"The board believes that all employees of the department are working faithfully in the interests of the city, and that the steady increase in the use of water and gas and the great saving that has been made to the citizens under municipal ownership and the increasing annual surplus abundantly justify the policy of the city in maintaining and operating these public utilities.

Manager Case's report to the board shows that while prosperous for the department in the matter of earnings, the year has been a disastrous one in the matter of annual and expensive accidents, which have aggregated more than $10,000, all of which was chargeable to the operating expenses of the plant.

The accidents consisted of breaking of the 36-inch force main in Second street; the separation of the angle joint on East First street; the destruction by forest fire of the frost box at Thirtieth avenue east; the tearing away of the 8-inch rider connection with the 42-inch force main on Grand avenue near Sixty-second avenue east; and the partial destruction of the gas holder on Garfield avenue by explosion and fire.

The total charges for operation and maintenance during the year were $244,225.24, of which amount $140,559.12 was charged to the water plant and $103,666.12 to the gas plant. The actual expenses of the water department were $49,484.42, and the department was left with an interest to the amount of $109,651.70.

The remainder of the interest, amounting to $22,875.42, was charged against the gas plant, the actual expenses for operation and maintenance of which were $72,533.09.

Against this total of $244,225.24 for expenses, placed the gross earnings of $271,105.28, leaving a surplus for the year of $26,879.04, which represents the net earnings of the plant for the twelve months. The gross earnings were divided as follows: water plant, $175,345.87; gas plant, $95,759.41.

The total amount of water pumped during the year was 1,772,480 gallons, which was pumped against a head of 245 feet. The cost per million gallons of pumping the water was $3.45.

The total receipts from all sources, of the department for the year were $422,225.24, of which $244,225.24 was from the sale of bonds and the accrued interest.

The aggregate expenditures for the year amounted to $250,870.74, of which amount $115,102.25 is credited to construction. The construction account in the water plant was $18,000 and in the gas plant, $36,754.24. The total expenditures for the water plant were $25,250.27 and for the gas plant, $32,032, making the total of $57,282.51.

The total net earnings of the plants to date, since the time of purchase, are, as shown by Manager Case's "accumulated earnings" account, $1,066,570.81. The report includes a statement of the profit and loss of the plant since it was purchased by the city in 1886, and by Mr. Manager Case shows that the citizens are richer to the extent of $42,085.29 for having purchased the plant, in the profit and loss account, reduction in gas rates over what would have been charged by the private company, $12,881.25, and other savings in the water rates on the same basis is $291,802.45. Other savings in the reductions in rates and other rates amount to $20,280.43. Added to these sums is the item of $121,181.25 which represents the accumulations or net earnings of the plants, and the sum of $338,500 paid in interest for the subsidiary water system construction, and which represents just so much purer and more wholesome water. The grand total is $1,138,842.24.

Against this total is charged the money received from the tax levy made to keep down water rates, the taxes rendered void by the purchase of the private plant, and the possible water rates from the West Duluth company at $2,000 per acre, and in an amount of $298,557.94 and leaving a balance on the right side of the ledger of $342,085.29. The historical table shows the amount of gas sold in each year since 1885 is very interesting, and shows that the increase in the consumption of gas since the plant was purchased. The following is the table:

1886	22,000.00
1887	25,000.00
1888	28,000.00

THE LAXATIVE OF KNOWN QUALITY

There are two classes of remedies; those of known quality and which are permanently beneficial in effect, acting gently, in harmony with nature, when nature needs assistance; and another class, composed of preparations of unknown, uncertain and inferior character, acting temporarily, but injuriously, as a result of forcing the natural functions unnecessarily. One of the most exceptional of the remedies of known quality and excellence is the ever pleasant Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., which represents the active principles of plants, known to act most beneficially, in a pleasant syrup, in which the wholesome California blue figs are used to contribute their rich, yet delicate, fruity flavor. It is the remedy of all remedies to sweeten and refresh and cleanse the system gently and naturally, and to assist one in overcoming constipation and the many ills resulting therefrom. Its active principles and quality are known to physicians generally, and the remedy has therefore met with their approval, as well as with the favor of many millions of well informed persons who know of their own personal knowledge and from actual experience that it is a most excellent laxative remedy. We do not claim that it will cure all manner of ills, but recommend it for what it really represents, a laxative remedy of known quality and excellence, containing nothing of an objectionable or injurious character.

There are two classes of purchasers; those who are informed as to the quality of what they buy and the reasons for the excellence of articles of exceptional merit, and who do not lack courage to go elsewhere when a dealer offers an imitation of any well known article; but, unfortunately, there are some people who do not know, and who allow themselves to be imposed upon. They cannot expect its beneficial effects if they do not get the genuine remedy.

To the credit of the druggists of the United States be it said that nearly all of them value their reputation for professional integrity and the good will of their customers too highly to offer imitations of the WIFE BEATERS WHIPPED.

Oregon's New Law for Bad Husbands Said to Work Well.

Portland, Or., Feb. 6.—The whipping post law enacted by the Oregon legislature accomplished its purpose. Wife beating, they say, has almost been stamped out in Oregon.

The law went into effect on May 15 last. Twenty lashes is the maximum penalty that can be imposed. It is optional with the court whether convicted wife beaters shall be sentenced to the whipping post or confined in jail.

There have been only three infractions of the penalty since the law was enacted. A month after the law went into effect a Portland water was arrested for beating his wife. He was sentenced to receive twenty lashes.

He was taken to the Multnomah county jail, the upper part of his body was bared and his hands were handcuffed together and tied to the top of a cell door. Then the jailer struck him twenty times. The whip used was a short cowhide stock, with four buckskin thongs. This made every lash really four blows on the body.

The whipping, the first of its kind in the West, attracted wide attention, and it made troublesome husbands fearful. The man whipped left Portland as soon as he was at liberty.

An employee of the Southern Pacific car shops in Portland was sentenced in August to receive ten lashes. His wife sued for divorce, while he was in jail awaiting trial, but after he had received the whipping and was at liberty he effected a reconciliation, and the wife withdrew her complaint. The wife beater was discharged from his employment, and being unable to get other work, left the city.

The only other man to be whipped was a former postmaster of Baker City, Or., and the penalty was imposed in Baker county. He received twenty lashes.

An attempt was made under the terms of the law to whip a man who had assaulted his divorced wife, but as the woman was not his wife, the courts held that the penalty could not be in-

The Company OF the People, BY the People, FOR the People

of its plans and of faith in its management may be fairly claimed in the number of Metropolitan policies in force. It is not only greater than that of any other company in America, but greater than that of all the other regular companies combined, less one. It exceeds, in fact, the COMBINED POPULATION of 24 of the States and Territories out of the 52 forming the American Union, viz: Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Rhode Island, Connecticut, Delaware, District of Columbia, Florida, Oregon, Colorado, Arizona, Alaska, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, Wyoming, Utah, North Dakota, New Mexico, Indian Territory, Oklahoma, South Dakota, Washington, Hawaii, and as to CITIES, it exceeds the combined population of Greater New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Boston, St. Louis, Cleveland, Cincinnati and Milwaukee.	The Company's policy claims paid in 1905 averaged in number one for each minute and a quarter of each business day of 8 hours, and in amount $105.83 a minute the year through. The value and timeliness of these payments may be gleaned from the fact that of the claims paid during the year, 4,325 were under policies less than 3 months old, 8,391 were on policies which had run under 6 months and 15,145 were within the first year of insurance. THE DAILY AVERAGE OF THE COMPANY'S BUSINESS DURING 1905 WAS: 395 per day in Number of Claims Paid. 6,972 per day in Number of Policies Issued. $1,502,484.00 per day in New Insurance written. $123,788.29 per day in Payments to Policy-holders and Addition to Reserve. $77,275.94 per day in Increase of Assets.	$37,755,428.59 Paid Policy-holders since the organization of the Company, plus the amount invested and now on hand for their security— $318,264,084.12	Income in 1905 $61,531,588.49 Gain over 1904 5,545,831.58 Surplus in 1905 16,181,578.96 Gain over 1904 1,346,358.97 Increase in Assets during 1905 23,569,162.05 Gain in Insurance in force 126,085,438.00 The total number of Policies in force Dec. 31, 1905, was 8,596,705 The total amt. of outstanding insurance Dec. 31, 1905, was $1,509,769,000 Number of persons in the service of the Company, over 15,000 THE TWO DEPARTMENTS In the Ordinary Department policies are issued for from $1,000 to $1,000,000 on individual lives, premiums payable annually, semi-annually, or quarterly. In its Industrial Department (which is family insurance) policies are issued on all the insurable members of the household with premiums payable weekly.
The Metropolitan gained in insurance in force on which premiums are still being paid MORE THAN ANY OTHER COMPANY IN THE WORLD. The Metropolitan wrote more business in the Industrial Department in 1905 than ever before in any one year. The Metropolitan wrote more business in the Ordinary Department in 1905 than ever before in any one year. The Metropolitan wrote more business in 1905 than any other Company in the world. And this for the 12th consecutive year. The Metropolitan has more premium paying business in force in the United States than any other company. The Metropolitan has in force one-third of all the legal reserve policies in force in the United States. Its Industrial policies in force equal in number all the Industrial policies of all the other companies in the United States. THE RATIO OF EXPENSE TO PREMIUM INCOME IN 1905 WAS THE LOWEST IN THE COMPANY'S HISTORY.		This Company issues no TONTINE or other forms of deferred dividend policies, in which the amount to be paid to the insured must long be a matter of ESTIMATE at the inception of the contract, and of DISAPPOINTMENT at its maturity. Its policies are plain business contracts which tell their whole story on their face; leave nothing to the imagination; borrow nothing from hope; require definite conditions; and make definite promises in dollars and cents. Is not the fact that, notwithstanding the agitation in life insurance, the Metropolitan wrote more insurance in its Ordinary Department in 1905 than it ever wrote in any preceding year, proof that GUARANTEED BENEFITS for a fixed premium are what people want? In its Industrial Department policies no obligation to pay dividends is either expressed or implied, the premiums being at stock rates, without the "loading" designed for dividends; nevertheless the Company for years past, as a pure act of grace, has returned a part of its surplus, annually, to the holders of its policies. The total amount so paid, including the amount set aside for 1906, is

NO INTEREST IN POLITICS

The Average Russian Moujik Does Not Care to Vote.

Radicals Say Lull is the Calm Before the Storm.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 6.—It begins to appear as though the policy of the czar is to tire out the revolutionists. This policy can perhaps better be understood if it is remembered that it is the policy which is sometimes adopted by big manufacturers and mill owners the world over when it comes to dealing with strikers and rioters.
"There are only three days between the best of us and anarchy," wrote a great German philosopher in referring to the fact that a man's stomach after remaining foodless seventy-two hours might induce even high class citizens to smash plate glass windows for the purpose of attracting attention, bringing about an arrest and securing something to eat. "And three days of anarchy are enough to make any man turn conservative again," remarked a Russian philosopher writer the other day, referring to the fact that revolutions fill no empty stomachs, and that about all the average man cares for after all is home and freese, a few holidays thrown in, a chance to live and work and enjoy the sunlight without any reference to the fate of a nation as decided by camps and courts. The excitement of war and a rough, rude form of military discipline may hold even peasants in line for a time, but there are few men willing to suffer serious inconveniences over a long continued period of time for mere abstract principles.

The Russian character is such that the average peasant would not vote. It is given the opportunity of doing so. That the average Russian neither understands nor cares for political rights is demonstrated by the fact that in Moscow fewer than 10 per cent, and in the provinces not more than 2 per cent of the qualified voters even take the trouble to register.

In Russia, as in England—the United States, in fact the whole wide, wide world—money talks, and the peasants who have hungry mouths of their own to feed, as well as wives and children to look after, are little surrendering to the influences of those who have wealth. This may not be right, but it is Russian. And perhaps it is hardly fair to say that this disposition to bow down to and surrender to the power of gold is a trait that M. Witte, the prime minister, has just procured a loan of several hundred millions of dollars in Germany, and the additional fact that M. Kokotoff, the ex-minister of finance, has succeeded in obtaining an additional loan of a hundred millions in Paris, and that these loans are to be used in public improvements and in strengthening the hands of the government. That the sight of the gold will strengthen the hands of the government there is no doubt.

In answer to the question, "What, then, becomes of the French revolution parallel?" there is one reply. "Russia is not France, and things have changed since the eighteenth century—even in Russia." It may be true that there are many ways in which conditions here may be said to parallel the conditions of France a century and a quarter ago. But on the other hand the power of modern finance, the railroads, the machine guns—all of these things go to show that if Russia is to progress at all it must be by evolution—not by revolution. The Russian railroads alone must in themselves always prove powerful factors for the maintenance of peace and order.

So it happened that the most acute forms of disorder which have prevailed for months are gradually wearing themselves away or being worn away by the eternal forces of civilization as represented by the czar, the church, the power of money, modern inventions, etc. Other factors are the exhaustion of the revolutionaries, the reaction amongst the remainder of the population which has been caused by the excesses of the radicals, and the exertions of the troops, the great mass of whom, in spite of all said and done, have manifestly remained loyal. The troops are slowly, but surely, suppressing the disturbances in the Donetz basin, which at one time threatened to assume serious proportions, and they are gradually opening up communications, even in the Caspian regions. The suppression of the armed insurrection in Moscow and the utter failure of the last political strikes in St. Petersburg and Warsaw seem to have brought about a lull—a lull which the radicals themselves assert is only the lull before another storm.

Now this lull may be long or short. It may be that the storm is over. Russian revolutionists appear as uncertain as the weather in other countries. It is doubtful whether the shrewdest students of Russian affairs can give a guess as to what the future will bring forth that is worth the white paper it is written on.

But if the czar, after the defeat of the army, should decide to turn to the East, decided that disorders and disturbances were inevitable and that it was better to bend rather than to break when the storm put in an appearance who shall say that in this respect he has not been well advised? The "Little Father" appears to have fathomed human nature enough to understand that sooner or later the hungry people must return to their senses. It has been the history of the world that riots and revolutions—like French riots like the commune—all things come to an end. And it is possible that the czar figures that the peasantry and even their most bloodthirsty anarchist leaders will be willing to work all the harder in the future in order to make up for their revolutionary holiday and the time lost by reason of their economic debacle.

This is not to say that the czar is right or wrong in his estimate of the characteristics of the Russian peasant. It is merely to indicate the situation as it appears to disinterested spectators here in Russia.

On the other hand, he warned that rash would be the man who, knowing conditions as they are, would expect that these events indicate any permanent success for the government or any permanent progress toward the restoration of order. The whole empire is certainly seething with discontent and it is impossible to say in what quarter or in what shape it may not again break out. Even the troops, which have remained true on this occasion, might at some critical moment in the future be all the readier to listen to the arguments which the revolutionaries incessantly hand out to them. In the Baltic provinces it must be admitted by all that the Russian army has still to carry out something resembling a work of reconquest. In Poland, too, which has been comparatively tranquil for a brief period of time, though the Warsaw strike is said to be fading away, there are reports of disturbances and of the destruction of railway property and public property by the Socialists. Evidently there is still plenty of inflammable material in all sections of the Russian empire, and there are numbers of desperate men and women who are doing their best to set it on fire. Whether the resolute action on which the government seems to have embarked will succeed is problematical.

Maj. Scott Would Not Return to Leech Lake Agency.

Cass Lake, Minn., Feb. 6.—(Special to The Herald).—Maj. George L. Scott of the Tenth cavalry, retired, was a visitor in Cass Lake a few days ago, being the guest of his daughter, Mrs. G. E. Marshall. Maj. Scott was, until about two months ago, acting Indian agent at Onigum, the Leech Lake agency, having, at his own request, been placed on the retired list of the army, under the 20-year active service provision. After being placed on the retired list, the question of his being retained as acting Indian agent, came up, his term as agent having expired on Jan. 1, 1906. Commissioner Leupp took the position that the Indian department could not afford to give the major the additional pay as acting agent, although he expressed a desire that Scott would remain. A special agent, Mr. McNichols, was placed in charge of the affairs at the agency, but no one has as yet been appointed to succeed Maj. Scott. In fact, it was intimated that the department would recommend his reappointment.

While Maj. Scott was here, he stated emphatically that he would, under no conditions, accept a reappointment; that he quit the agency with his skirts clean, that everything was open and above board and subject to inspection to anyone. It is known that the major was opposed from the day he first took hold of the affairs at the agency, but despite that fact, he made a good agent.

He broke up the band of Pillager Indians who participated in the Bear Island fight, and by his determined stand has made of them one of the most friendly and peaceable tribes of all the Chippewas. In his dealings with the various lumber companies he always insisted on the letter of the law being observed, and got the most possible for his wards out of the lumbering operations. His rugged character was never questioned by anyone acquainted with the major and his official acts, and he was not susceptible to the graft which has at times crept into the Indian service. There are several aspirants for the position of agent, among them being C. A. Rider of Little Falls; Wylie Tindolph of Thief River Falls, and it has been rumored that Simon Michelet, who is agent at White Earth, may be given charge of this agency also. In the meantime Mr. McNichols is in charge and the department has not intimated its policy in the matter of appointment of a successor to Maj. Scott.

SWISS IDEA OF A JOKE.

Many Cartloads of Articles That He Did Not Order.

Geneva, Feb. 6.—Prof. Chodat of the Geneva university, has been the victim of an elaborate practical joke of a student who had a grudge against him.
Cart after cart appeared at the gates of the university laden with goods ordered in the professor's name, the assortment including corsets, cigars, visiting cards, sponges, hams, a watch, 1000 cakes and an automobile.
For twenty-four hours the telephone of the unfortunate professor was kept ringing by tradespeople who asked at what hour his child's christening feast—a luncheon for 500 persons—was to be served. The professor finally sought the protection of the police, and the student was placed under arrest.

WANTS TO USE PRESERVATIVES

German Importer Says Sausage Does Not Keep Without Them.

Washington, Feb. 6.—An inquiry recently came to the department of agriculture from an importer of Frankfurter sausages asking if there was any objection to the use of salicylic or boric acid or any preservative to keep the meat, if that fact be plainly stated on the label. The German manufacturer, because of objection by the department of agriculture, had discontinued using any preservative and the importer said that the sausages do not keep very well without it.

In a decision published by authority of Secretary Wilson the attitude of the department of agriculture is stated substantially as follows:
"The addition of any preservative of any kind to a food product may be objected to, first, when the added body is not mentioned on the label; second, the added substance itself may be deemed injurious to health; third, the added substance may be forbidden by the laws of the country in which the foods are made or from which they are exported.

"Both boric and salicylic acids are prohibited by the German laws. Boric acid has been declared by this department to be injurious to health. It does not appear that there is any convincing reason for the use of any preservatives in sausage except the usual condimental ingredients—salt, vinegar, spices and wood smoke.
"Until the results of experiments conducted in the bureau of chemistry are declared, small quantities of boric acid and benzoates, salicylic acid and salicylates, sulphurous acid and sulphites and copper sulphate are permitted in food products when plainly declared upon the label and when not forbidden by the laws of the countries where the foods are produced or from which they are exported."

CHIEF DECLINES TO RESIGN.

St. Louis, Feb. 6.—The resignation of Chief of Police Kieley was requested yesterday afternoon by the board of police commissioners, but he refused to accede to the request. Chief Kieley said that he demanded a trial. Pending this the police board suspended the chief and directed Night Chief Gallaghy to act in Kieley's place and Lieut. Wilson to serve as acting night chief.
The reasons for demanding Kieley's resignation are not made public. He has been connected with the police department for thirty years.

A MUSICAL CLUB FORMS

Youthful Musicians to Take Up Systematic Study of Masters.

Groundless Mad Dog Scare in Flat Building

Other News.

The Junior music pupils of A. E. Anderson met last Saturday afternoon at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Webster, 214 Eighteenth and a Half avenue west, and organized a musical club to be known as "The Robert Schumann club." The following charter members were present: Ernest Webster, Ethel Wallin, Florence Evans, Lillie Webster, Anna West, Irma Lillie, Elmer Wahl, Helen Schell, Emory Schell, Carl Elgstrom, Alice Lundberg, Myrtle Olson, Anna Olson, Maude Johnson, Florence Svenson, Tilde Hanson, Fritz Noren, Alder Anderson.

Officers were chosen as follows: President, Ernest Webster; secretary, Alice Lundberg.

The purpose of the club is to make a study of the composers and their works; to develop the pupils' power of self-control, and stimulate his eagerness to advance. At each meeting a number will be played by a more advanced pupil. George Johnson, of the fifth grade, played Saint-Saens' "First Mazurka," and a sketch was given of the composer's boyhood. The club motto is "What is worth doing at all, is worth doing well." The following program was given:

Piano—Tempo Etude..... Anna Webster.
Mandolin—A. Major sharp Scases. b. Mexican Mazurka..... Anna Olson.
Organ—A. "On Yonder Rocks"..... Ernest Webster.
Guitar—A. Harmonic Gallop..... b. Harmonic March..... Carl Elgstrom.
Piano—"A Little Tale"..... Alice Lundberg.
Piano Duet—"Sweet Clover Waltz"..... Alice Lundberg and Myrtle Olson.
Guitar—"Nonpareil"..... Florence Evans.

DONAHUE IMPROVING.

West End Switchman Gets More Than His Share.

Word has been received from the Northern Pacific hospital at Brainerd that James P. Donahue of Duluth, who is down there nursing a broken arm, is getting along fairly well. Mr. Donahue was injured when he was struck by a train while he was working on the tracks. He broke the same arm twice within two months.

The first time was on the night of Nov. 28, when the Matafua was wrecked on the tracks. He was remembered that this night the railroad was donating a lot of headlights for service at the beach. Donahue was a switchman, and was going down with the train that was taking the headlights down. He ran ahead of the train and when it came to a stop, he was struck by the engine of the train. He broke his arm and was taken to the hospital.

On Jan. 21, the night before he was to go to work, he was struck by a train while he was working on the tracks. He broke his arm and was taken to the hospital.

MAD DOG SCARE.

Sensation Caused in United States Block Proves Groundless.

A few days ago a number of women who live in the United States block had a mad dog scare which created more of a sensation than any scandal they had been discussing for weeks. A number of them went down to the laundry to do some of the family laundry and while getting ready for a lively time they were startled by the appearance of a dog which was barking and making strange noises.

An exhibition of sprinting upstairs took place which would have captured the money were it a competitive case of team work. The block was topsy-turvy for a time, for other occupants thought there must be a fire or something serious because of the screaming that took place. After they had settled down it was found that the dog which the women thought had been under the tubs in the laundry had been under the tubs in the laundry and had been making strange noises.

UNION SERVICES

Will be Resumed for This Week Because of Success.

Union revival services will be held again this week, beginning tonight in the Scandinavian churches of the West end. These services have been going on for three weeks. Originally one week of them was intended, but they have been so successful in point of attendance and conversions that it is resolved to continue for this week at least, and possibly longer.

The meeting tonight will be in the Norwegian-Danish M. E. church, at Twenty-first avenue west and First street; tomorrow night a meeting will be held at the First Swedish M. E. church, corner of the Twentieth avenue west and Third street; Thursday night, at the Swedish Mission church, corner of Twenty-first avenue west and Second street, and Friday evening, at the Salvation Army hall, corner of Seventeenth avenue west and Superior street.

PLIGHTS TROTH AND MUCH MORE

Bridegroom Contracts to Wash Dishes and Darn His Socks.

Orangedall, Cape Breton, Feb. 6.—Harry McFarlane, a well-to-do young man of this village, has married Bertha MacGregor, a pretty young woman, after signing a contract in which he agrees:

To wash the supper dishes every day except on Sunday.

To darn his own socks.

To visit his mother-in-law at least three times a year.

To give up smoking.

To drink tea instead of coffee.

To attend church meetings regularly.

To wear whiskers (if he can raise them).

To kiss his wife before and after every meal, except on Sunday.

To be a good husband and father.

McFarlane is boss of the family, she is in no sense one of the so-called "new" women. She says frankly that she will not tolerate a man who marries any available man in this province, she concluded to lay down a few laws for the man whom she accepted.

She does not like to wash dishes and thinks one-third of the labor should go to the man. She is not at all fond of tea. She is not at all fond of coffee. She is not at all fond of smoking. She is not at all fond of drinking tea instead of coffee. She is not at all fond of attending church meetings regularly. She is not at all fond of wearing whiskers (if he can raise them). She is not at all fond of kissing his wife before and after every meal, except on Sunday. She is not at all fond of being a good husband and father.

HAWKINS AT CAPITAL

Conferring With the Minnesota Senators and Representatives.

Washington, Feb. 6.—Former State Senator E. B. Hawkins of Duluth has been in Washington, conferring with the Minnesota delegation. His presence here is something in the nature of a political mission. Mr. Hawkins is a candidate for the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor, and was looking up his chances from a Congressman here.

There has been talk here of Congressman Bede as a gubernatorial candidate, but Bede declined the point of view that he will have nothing to do with the governorship. Mr. Hawkins left for Florida last night, confident that he will have the solid support of the Sixth district.

FIRE IN PHILADELPHIA.

Philadelphia, Feb. 6.—The five story building occupied by Glaxo, Hall & Co., 100 North Second street, was practically destroyed by fire today. The loss is estimated at $75,000.

The Day You Begin Taking Ozomulsion, That Day Your Cure Begins.

Ozomulsion

The Cod Liver Oil Emulsion "Par Excellence."

Consumption being a germ disease, a treatment that will destroy the germs and restore such waste as has resulted from their presence will certainly and surely effect a cure.

Neither Medicine nor Food alone, but in combination they will. For we must feed the blood through the lungs. It is upon this principle that the wonderful combination of Medicine and Food known as the

Ozomulsion Cure

Is Based for the Prevention as well as Cure of Consumption, Pneumonia, Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, Grip and all Pulmonary Diseases.

Ozomulsion embodies the healing powers of Medicine, combined with the rebuilding and rejuvenating powers of Food.

It suspends or destroys the germs; increases the red corpuscles of the blood; restores the vitality, invigorates and strengthens the whole body.

There are two sizes—$2.00 and 10c. Bottles. The Formula is printed in 7 languages on each.

DANCE WAS A HUMMER

Annual Ball of Police Association a Very Smooth Affair.

Beautiful and Effective Costumes Worn by Distinguished Dancers.

Before the task of describing the annual ball of the Duluth Police Relief association, the pen falters; the ink dries up; the pen squeaks and stops dead.

To such writers as Sir Walter Scott, the famous bard of chivalry and beauty, it should be left to describe the annual gathering of the police. The ordinary "write up" of a newspaper is hopelessly inadequate and it is like a flashlight picture of a streak of lightning.

John H. Flanagan and his twelve merry men were hidden behind a big bank of evergreens at the end of the hall, and screened in this manner from the many fair dancers on the floor beneath. They managed to attend to their business and discourse dance music that was strictly up to grade.

The decorations were on a lavish scale. The city must have been swept clean of black and white, and the gloomy old armory building presented a gay and festive scene.

Between 5,000 and 10,000 people were not there. The rest of the population of the city dropped in for a few minutes, and it looked as if most of them stayed to dance. The floor had the appearance of a Lakeside car during rush hours, and dancing was a serious business. One cautioned about the hall, colliding and backing up, bowing and apologizing, rubbing elbows and counting the head as a smash up. Just everyone was good natured, and the crowd only seemed to add a zest to the dancing.

Among the dancers was Chief Troyer. The chief wore a beautifully new suit of black, with a white shirt, white collar and cuffs. The effect was quite piquant.

Capt. F. A. Resche wore a plain, but effective suit of black, with a white shirt, white collar and cuffs. The effect was quite piquant.

Detective Norman Terry had a gorgeous frock coat, but looked like an imported dancer, coming either from Paris or Baxter street, New York. He had a delicious concoction of what was called a "dancer's" look.

Lieut. Arthur Briggs, who made his debut last evening, wore a simple but dashing suit of black, with a white shirt, white collar and cuffs. The effect was quite piquant.

Sergeant Glenn was plainly, even severely, attired in plain black, trimmed with buttons about the top of the trousers.

His Honor Mayor Cullum crept in between dances, and when next located was discovered on the floor, dancing. His program was filled to the last extra. He was beautifully and effectively attired in a dashing suit of black, with a white shirt, white collar and cuffs. The effect was quite piquant.

His vest was beautiful and wonderful in design, and when he danced, his hair combed.

Here Judge Windom showed his startling originality. His hair, or the place where it should be, was not combed. The judge also affected the simple style of dress that was so much in vogue last evening. He wore a plain black tie and a pair of shoes.

Assistant City Attorney Tom McKenney was almost estranged from his home by the time he got to the ball. He spent most of his time in the cozy corners, and danced out only a few of the dances.

Other Bob Smollett's svelte and graceful figure was attired simply in a beautiful suit of black broadcloth.

Detective Donald Irvine had on a beautiful pair of shoe laces that he has worn to previous dances. Tied in simple bow knots, they added a dainty touch to his costume.

Sergeant Tony Fliskett wore crepe de chene trimmed with mouseline de sole on a background of pongee silk. He was quite chic.

But the mere filling of space with inadequate descriptions of the costumes would be a poor idea of the dancing. But there is little use in describing it anyway, for everybody that amounts to very much was there to see for himself.

SHE HAS BECOME A FULL CITIZEN

Miss Cynthia Roche Gives Up Title to Become American.

Newport, R. I., Feb. 6.—Friends of Miss Cynthia Roche have learned that she has renounced her position as an American girl. Having been born in England and being a daughter of J. Burke Roche, not only has this been renounced, but she has abandoned all claims to the title of "The Honorable."

Moreover, in order that she should become an American girl in every sense of the term, she has taken out papers of citizenship in New York.

Miss Roche was the daughter of J. Burke Roche, who was divorced from her husband some years ago. Five years ago J. Burke Roche visited this country, and through counsel made an effort to obtain the custody of his children.

He especially desired to gain possession of Miss Roche, who, having lived in this country for many years, had renounced his family title, which would have been hers.

Miss Roche, whose engagement to

CURED TO STAY

It dissolves the Stricture completely and removes every obstruction from the urinary passage, always all inflammation, stops every discharge, reduces the prostate gland when enlarged, cleanses and heals the bladder, and restores the organs and restores health and soundness to every part of the body affected by the disease.

Contagious Blood Poison.

My special form of treatment for specific or contagious blood poison is practically the result of my life work, and is endorsed by the best physicians of this and foreign countries.

It contains no dangerous drugs or injurious medicine of any kind. It goes to the very bottom of the disease and forces out every particle of impurity.

Soon every sign and symptom disappear completely and forever.

The blood, the tissue, the flesh, the bones and the whole system are cleansed, purified and restored to perfect health and the patient is bright and anew for the duties and pleasures of life.

Nerve-Sexual Debility.

My cure for weak men does not stimulate temporarily, but restores permanently.

It soon drives away all those distressing symptoms which constantly remind one of his former folly.

It stops every drain of vigor and builds up the muscular and nervous system, purifies and enriches the blood, cleanses and heals the bladder and kidneys, and invigorates the liver, revives the spirits, brightens the intellect, and, above and beyond all, restores the wasted power of manhood.

Reflex Diseases.

Many ailments are reflex, originating from other diseases.

For instance, many weakness sometimes comes from Varicocele, Stricture, hemorrhoidal blood and bone diseases often result from blood poison taint in the system or physical or mental decline frequently follow loss of manhood.

In treating diseases of any kind I always cure the effect as well as the cause.

Varicocele.

Under my treatment, which includes no cutting or pain, this loathsome disease rapidly disappears.

Pain disappears almost instantly. The pools of stagnant blood are driven from the dilated veins and all soreness and swelling quickly subside.

Every indication of Varicocele soon vanishes, and in its stead comes the pride, the power and the pleasure of perfect health and restored manhood.

Stricture.

My cure for Stricture is safe, painless, and bloodless, and therefore, free from surgery in any form. It is the only cure that should ever be used, and the only one recommended by the legions of men who have been restored by it.

We charge nothing for private counsel, and give to each patient a LEGAL CONTRACT for our promises. Is it not worth your while to investigate a cure that has made life anew to multitudes of men?

If you cannot call at our office, write your symptoms fully. Our home treatment by correspondence is always successful.

ASK FOR RELIEF.

Squatters Want the Government to Allow Land Filings.

Washington, Feb. 6.—The Commercial club of International Falls, Minn., has petitioned the Minnesota delegation to come to the aid of settlers who have squatted on lands in the northern part of Itasca county. The squatters have been on the lands for the past three seasons, but a poor idea of the interior department, the lands have not yet been opened for filing. The petition sets forth that, owing to lack of drainage, settlers cannot get in and out of their homes this year, owing to the wet season.

A Habit to Be Encouraged.

The man who has acquired the habit of keeping on hand a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy saves himself a great amount of uneasiness and anxiety. Coughs, colds and croup, to which children are susceptible, are quickly cured by its use. MAYOR CULLUM'S ADMINISTRATION IS EMPHATICALLY ENDORSED BY HIS RE-ELECTION BY LARGE MAJORITY

Gets 877 More Votes Than His Opponent, Trevillion.

Judge Windom Leads the Victors With Majority of 1931.

Democrats Elect Four Aldermen, Securing Control of Council.

Party lines were entirely swept away in yesterday's election, and the voters of the city, by the choice on the ballots, expressed themselves for clean government, an honest administration, and "the best man," regardless of the political prejudices.

As was predicted by all of Mayor Cullum's friends, he was returned by a heavy plurality, carrying every ward in the city but the Fourth.

Judge Windom buried his opponent under an avalanche, and piled up a plurality of nearly 2,000, carrying all but three precincts and every ward.

Four of the Democratic candidates for aldermen won out, Staples and Fendler being the only two successful Republicans, where there were contests.

The majority contest resulted in no surprises, except to Trevillion's friends. Mayor Cullum showed increased strength in the western half of the city, and ran like a scared deer in the eastern end.

His own precinct gave him a majority of 180 votes, and he carried his own ward by 419. In the second ward he added 194 votes to his plurality. In the third ward he secured more than enough of a majority to offset Trevil-lion's advantage in the Fourth, and throughout the four western wards he added to his total by small amounts. The Fifth gave Cullum 128 votes to the good. The sixth gave him 58, the seventh 33, and the eighth 11.

Two years ago Mayor Cullum lost both the Seventh and Eighth wards by small margins, but he swung enough votes this year to just change the outcome. Trevillion claimed the Eighth yesterday by 194 votes, but Cullum's campaign managers stated that neither side would get it by more than fifty votes.

The Seventh ward is one of the strongest Republican wards in the city, and Cullum lost it last time to Hugo, but it gave him a majority of thirty-three this year.

Even in the Fourth ward Mayor Cullum showed his strength. He carried the ward by a large margin, and split the fourth about equally. The result was no surprise, as Trevillion got his big vote.

The Third and Fifth wards, as expected, returned good majorities for Cullum, the Third giving him 145, and the Fifth 128.

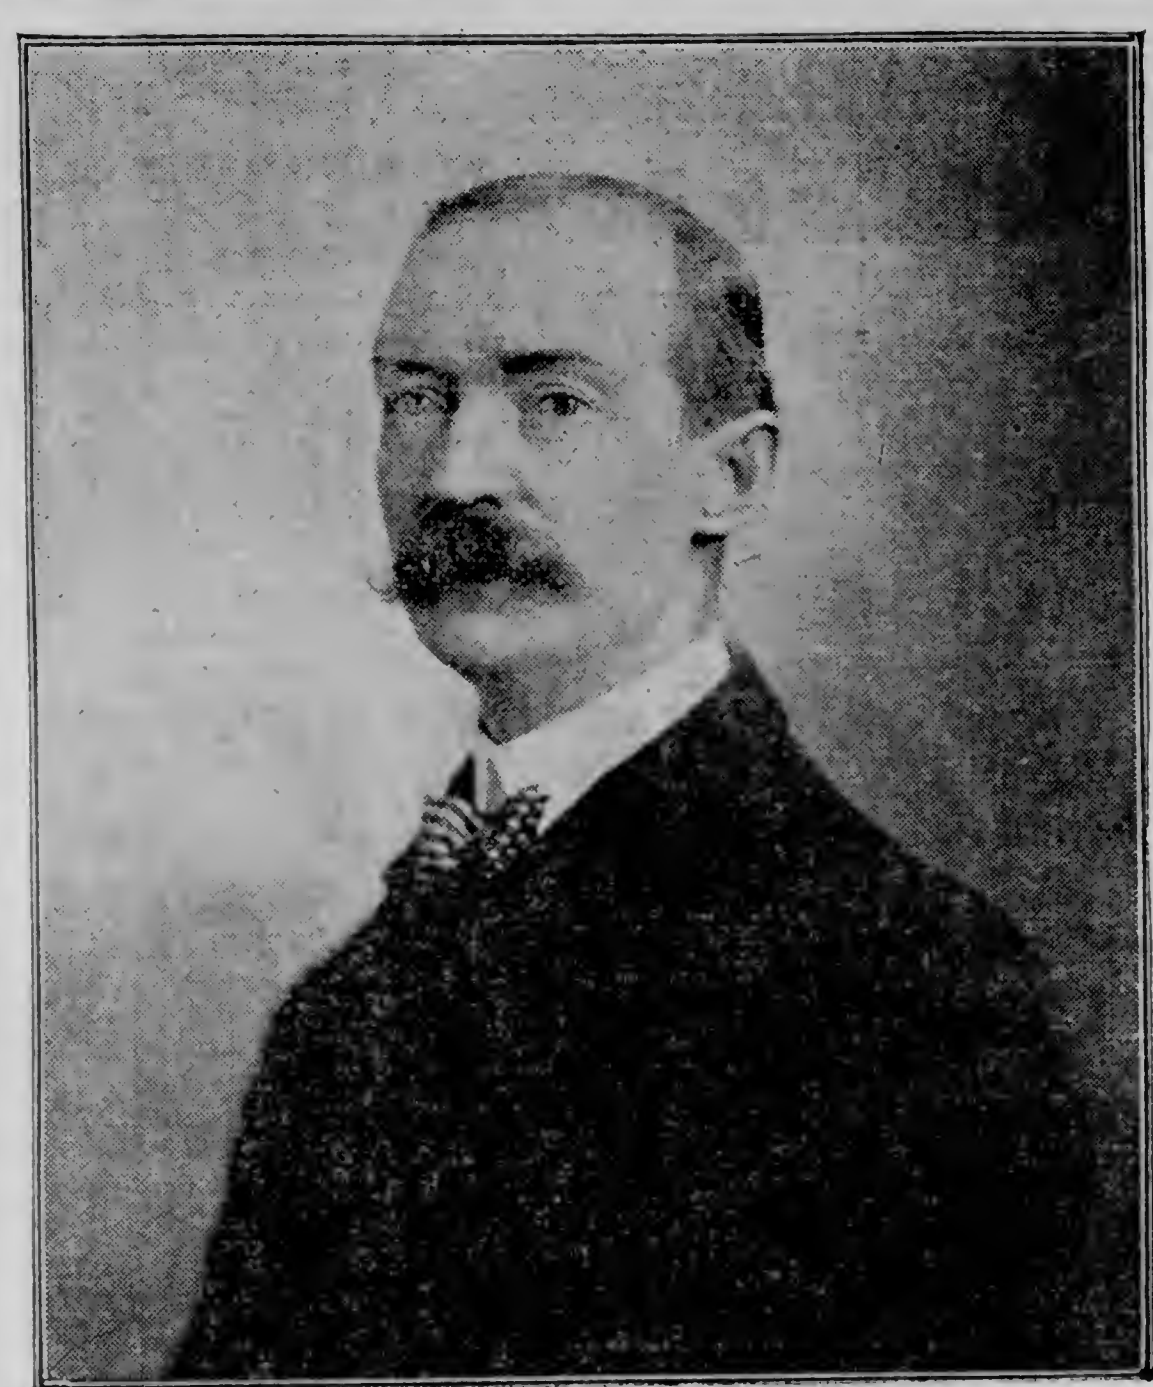

The First and Second wards, however, were what turned the trick. Trevillion was counting on having to make up in the western end of the city what he lost in these two wards, and when he failed to do it, or even hold his own in the western end, the First and Second ward vote loomed up large on the horizon. Cullum carried every precinct in the First and Second wards.

The judgeship resulted in a veritable landslide for Windom. Brigham succeeded in carrying but three precincts out of the forty-three, winning out in the second of the Fourth by 6; the fifth of the Fifth by 6; and the sixth of the Sixth by 1 vote. Windom ran ahead of Cullum, having nearly the solid Republican vote and a large share of the Democratic. He secured almost two votes to Brigham's one, and easily carried every ward in the city. The result was no surprise, although the plurality was somewhat.

TESTIMONY IS DIRECT A Former Solicitor of "Fads and Fancies" Gives Evidence.

Col. Mann Approved Ward Letter and Witness Had It.

New York, Feb. 7.—The examination of Col. W. D. Mann, on a charge of perjury, preferred by Robert J. Collier, publisher of Collier's Weekly, was continued today. Moses Ellis Wooster, who was an agent for "Fads and Fancies," and who testified yesterday, was cross-examined today by Col. Mann's counsel. The witness said that after Col. Mann had written "O K" and his initials on the letter of Count Taigny, which forms the basis of the perjury charge, he (Wooster) took the letter again and showed it to the clerk, and that he afterward put it in a box at his home. Later, he said he gave it to a law firm, which is at present acting as counsel for Robert J. Collier, and about a month after giving them the letter, went into their employment.

MUCH CONCERN FELT IN BERLIN Over the Outcome of the Moroccan Conference at Algiers.

Berlin, Feb. 7.—While government circles maintain an outwardly hopeful attitude regarding the conference at Algiers, the indications are that much concern is felt about the outcome. Even a failure to reach an agreement on the police question is regarded as probable. This inference is drawn from the fact that the impaired press had begun discussing the probable results of a failure to reach an agreement. These papers assert that a failure would not involve the danger so far as Germany is concerned, but would never go to war on account of Morocco. These papers interpreted the intentions of the Paris government. The result of a failure to reach an agreement would continue to be regarded as a failure under the arrangement of 1881. But more critical observers point out that the controversy of the origin of the dispute, its future would involve serious damage to German prestige.

The Hamburg Nachrichten says a failure of the conference would intensify the friction between Germany and France and compromise German's position.

GRAVES ARE DECORATED.
London, Feb. 7.—The graves of Charles Dickens and Sir Henry Irving in Westminster abbey were most lavishly decorated with flowers today, in commemoration of their birthdays, though Irving's anniversary really falls on Feb. 5. MILLIONS OF INFANTS ARE SACRIFICED BY USE OF DRUGS AND BAD MILK

Startling Statement of Prof. Wiley of Chemistry Bureau.

Butter is Painted and Foods Are Turned Into Poisons.

Professor Hesitates Almost to Eat Any Modern Preparations.

Washington, Feb. 7.—That more than a million infants had been sacrificed to the various concoctions known as soothing syrups and pain killers and twice that number killed by impure milk, was the declaration made last night by Prof. H. W. Wiley, chief of the chemistry bureau of the department of agriculture.

"We do not know anything about the milk we have left at our homes, or the conditions under which it is produced," he added.

"There are a thousand and one possibilities which might have combined to make what nature intended for a food, the most veridical poison that chemistry can produce."

"I have found that the foods we daily consume are so fraught with germ life of a harmful nature that I am almost afraid to go to the table. The butter is painted, there is little other to be found anywhere. Canned goods are kept for years and sold for the genuine article. I speak particularly of condensed milk. If we know nothing of the fresh milk we get, surely our knowledge is more limited to the product that is put in cans. The Lord intended us to resort to cans only to hide us over one season until green fruits could be had again, but the canneries don't know this. There is no law requiring them to stamp the date upon their goods; if they did, it would kill the sale."

PUGILIST CHARGED WITH MANSLAUGHTER.

San Francisco, Feb. 7.—As the result of the autopsy performed upon the body of Alex. D. Davis, the boy who was killed in an unlicensed prize fight at the Colma club's pavilion at Colma on Monday night by "Chief" Johnson, a charge of manslaughter has been placed against Johnson and his whereabouts are being sought by the sheriff of San Mateo county and by the local police.

Owing to the difficulty in securing witnesses, the inquest has been postponed until Friday afternoon.

BRICKMAKERS MEET.
Philadelphia, Feb. 7.—The twentieth annual convention of the National Brick Manufacturers' association convened in this city today. The annual reports of President I. H. Blair of Cincinnati and Treasurer John W. Silbey of Birmingham, Ala., were read at today's session. The convention will be in session until Friday.

FAD OF THE PRESIDENT

Opposed by Admiral Sands, Commandant
of Naval Academy.

Would Have Japs' Jiu
Jitsu Abolished From Annapolis.

Washington, Feb. 7.—Jiu Jitsu, the Japanese style of wrestling, will be abolished from the naval academy, if Rear Admiral Sands, who commands it, is permitted to have his way.

The testimony of Admiral Sands before the house committee on naval affairs has just been made public and shows he thinks but little of the style of wrestling popularized by the president's attitude toward it.

Admiral Sands said the instruction in boxing has nothing to do with any predisposition to fighting at the academy and that hereafter there will be no list fights at Annapolis.

Answering Chairman Foss, Admiral Sands said he found the institution in a lax state as the building operations left the midshipmen often without a commissioned officer to look out for them.

Admiral Sands said the midshipmen evidently misunderstood the pledge they gave to the former superintendent not to indulge in hazing. It was the cadets' understanding that they took an oath not to engage in physical hazing. The midshipmen also alleged that they were led to believe that a pledge given to the former superintendent did not hold after Admiral Sands took charge.

MAYOR OF ALTON Runs for Congress on Anti-Race Suicide Platform.

Alton, Ill., Feb. 7.—"More American babies" is the motto of Mayor Edmund Beall of Alton, who has announced his candidacy for congress, and his emblem, instead of the eagle of his party, is the stork. When asked what he would do in congress, he said:

"I am not there yet, but I have already decided to introduce a bill to make men who refuse to accept the responsibilities of parenthood leave the country. They have no place here and they ought to know it."

"The race suicide idea is more important than it may seem. It is a good subject for jest, but it is also serious. We want more babies of good American stock. The only way we can have Americans is to grow them—we can't import them."

FARMER KILLED BY THRAIN.
Hawley, Minn., Feb. 7.—A young farmer named Harrington Carlson, living near Harrington, Clay county, was struck by a freight train while crossing the tracks with his sleigh. He died in two hours. The accident occurred Saturday while a fierce blizzard was raging, making it impossible for the driver to see or hear the approaching train.

MORMON POLYGAMY IS AGAIN AIRED BEFORE COMMITTEE OF SENATE

Hearings in the Case of Reed Smoot Begin
Again.

Witness Tells of Continued Illegal Marriages
Among Mormons.

Prof. Wolfe Says He Has Taken Oath Twelve Times.

Washington, Feb. 7.—Hearings in the case of Senator Reed Smoot were resumed today before the committee on privileges and elections. The investigation of the protests against the Utah senator retaining his seat, continued through two sessions of congress and today marked the beginning of meetings which the committee is likely to hold intermittently throughout the present session.

The first witness was Prof. Walter M. Wolfe, former teacher of geology in Brigham Young college at Logan, Utah, and an apostle of the church. John G. Carlisle of New York conducted the prosecution and A. S. Worthington of this city defended the senator.

Prof. Wolfe testified that he had been a Mormon until Jan. 1, this year, when his connection was severed through failure to comply with demands for tithes. He was asked to tell what he knew of the alleged plural marriage of Prof. Benjamin Cluff and Florence Reynolds, both teachers at Provo. This case occupied a prominent place in the former hearings. In detailing what he knew of their relations, he told of a Mormon expedition to Mexico. Prof. Wolfe said he had been informed at that time by Cluff that he was married to Florence Reynolds and that they lived together on that trip.

Prof. Smith, he said, referred to Florence as "Sister Cluff."

"Twelve times," answered Prof. Wolfe, when asked how many times he had been through the endowment house or temple, he explained, as the endowment house was torn down many years ago.

"Did you take any obligations or oaths when you went through?" asked Mr. Carlisle.

"Every time," he replied. Asked to detail them, he said there had been obligations of chastity, sacrifice and vengeance. "What do you mean by vengeance?" asked Mr. Carlisle. "Do you mean there was a promise or pledge given to avenge something?"

The witness then said that this oath had been taken. You and each of you do covenant and pray, and never cease to pray. God to avenge the blood of the prophet of this nation.

The oath he said was taken standing and at the conclusion each one taking it was required to bow their heads and say "I do."

After giving many other details of the ceremony, such as the manner of anointing, he was asked concerning a trial held by the board of Brigham Young academy as to the reasons for the absence of Cluff from the Mormon college expedition. The witness said Apostle Reed Smoot was among those in attendance and that he had heard testimony given by the witness himself. That the reason for Cluff's absence was because he was living apart with a plural wife. Another plural marriage was spoken of by the witness. This was between Oveva Jorgensen, a student at Brigham Young college and "Brother" Okey, with whom the girl became enamored according to a confession she is alleged to have made to Prof. Wolfe. He said the girl came to his house and asked him to excuse for an absence from school that she had gone to Juarez, Mexico, and had been married in polygamy. This had been with the consent of Stake President George A. Smith. The girl came back to the school and graduated in the class of 1906, said the witness.

On further examination conducted by Chairman Burrows, Prof. Wolfe said that in Southern Utah and New Mexico polygamy is talked with some freedom. He quoted Apostle John Henry Smith as having said concerning the manifesto:

"It is a trick to beat the devil at his own game." He quoted John Wilson of Logan, a prominent Mormon as saying:

"The manifesto enables the church to exclude men who cannot or do not have more than one wife and gives to worthy men an opportunity to take plural wives." Both of these statements, the witness said, were made in his church.

"To the best of my knowledge," said Prof. Wolfe, "polygamous cohabitation has increased very materially since Utah was admitted as a state."

Prof. Wolfe said he believed the "seed treason" was of vengeance. In answer to questions by Chairman Burrows, he described the interior of the temple, among the pictures was one of Senator Smoot.

Senator Dillingham asked a number of questions to bring out the relations of the witness to the prosecutors of the case. The witness said he did not know the oath when he took it, when he came here.

FIRST CONVICTION

Of Saloon Keeper at Topeka, for Violating Prohibition Law.

Topeka, Kas., Feb. 7.—The first conviction in Topeka of keepers of "joints" or illicit saloons, as a result of the campaign started by Governor Hoch to enforce the prohibition law in the larger cities of the state, was secured last night when Charles MacGregor was found guilty of keeping a "nuisance." It had been impossible, heretofore to secure convictions.

FIRE BAG AND BAGGAGE.

Cadets Dismissed and Ordered Off the Government Reservation.

Annapolis, Feb. 7.—Midshipmen Richard Laurens de Saussure of Charleston, S. C., and George H. Melvin of Geneseo, Ill., recently convicted of hazing, were formally dismissed from the naval academy today and given until 6 o'clock this evening to get themselves and their belongings off the government reservation.

86th Year.

SUFFRAGE FOR WOMEN

National Association Begins Its Thirty-Eighth Annual Session.

Susan B. Anthony, Aged
86, to Take Prominent Part.

Baltimore, Feb. 7.—The thirty-eighth annual convention of the Woman's Suffrage association began here today and will continue until including Feb. 12. The meeting is one of the most numerous attended gatherings ever held by the woman suffragists in this country, nearly all the prominent leaders of the cause being present. Preceding the assembling of the convention there was a meeting of the executive committee and a council of state presidents, which was presided over by Harriet Upton of Ohio, which was also attended by the officers of the national association and the chairmen of various committees.

The convention promises to be one of the most notable gatherings in the history of that organization. The first day's work of the convention will be chiefly devoted to recommendations from the business committee, and to a consideration to the plan of work. In the morning of the second day the convention will be called to order by the president, Mrs. Anna Howard Shaw, an address of welcome will be delivered by Mrs. Emma Madsen, college president of the Maryland Woman's Suffrage association and the response will be by Miss Kate M. Gordon of New Orleans. At the evening session Miss Susan B. Anthony will preside and the program will include a prayer by the Rev. John B. Van Meter, president of the Baltimore Woman's college. Addresses of welcome by Governor Warfield, Mayor Timanus and Collector of the Port William F. Stone, a response by Miss Anthony, and singing by a chorus of 200 voices.

A "tribute of gratitude" will be paid to Miss Susan B. Anthony and other woman suffragists, for "what has been accomplished for the higher education of women." In the afternoon, E. Woolley, president of Mount Holyoke college; Lucy M. Salmon, professor of history, Vassar college; Mary E. Jordan, Smith college; Mary Calkins, Wellesley college; Eva Perry Moore, president of the Association of Collegiate Alumnae; Maud A. Park, A.B., of Radcliffe college, and M. Carey Thomas, president of Bryn Mawr college.

At the Sunday session, Mrs. Maud Ballington Booth will deliver an address.

An adjourned meeting of the convention will be held in Washington, D. C., Feb. 15.—There will be a congressional hearing in the morning and the eighty-sixth birthday of Miss Susan B. Anthony will be celebrated at the Church of Our Father in that city.

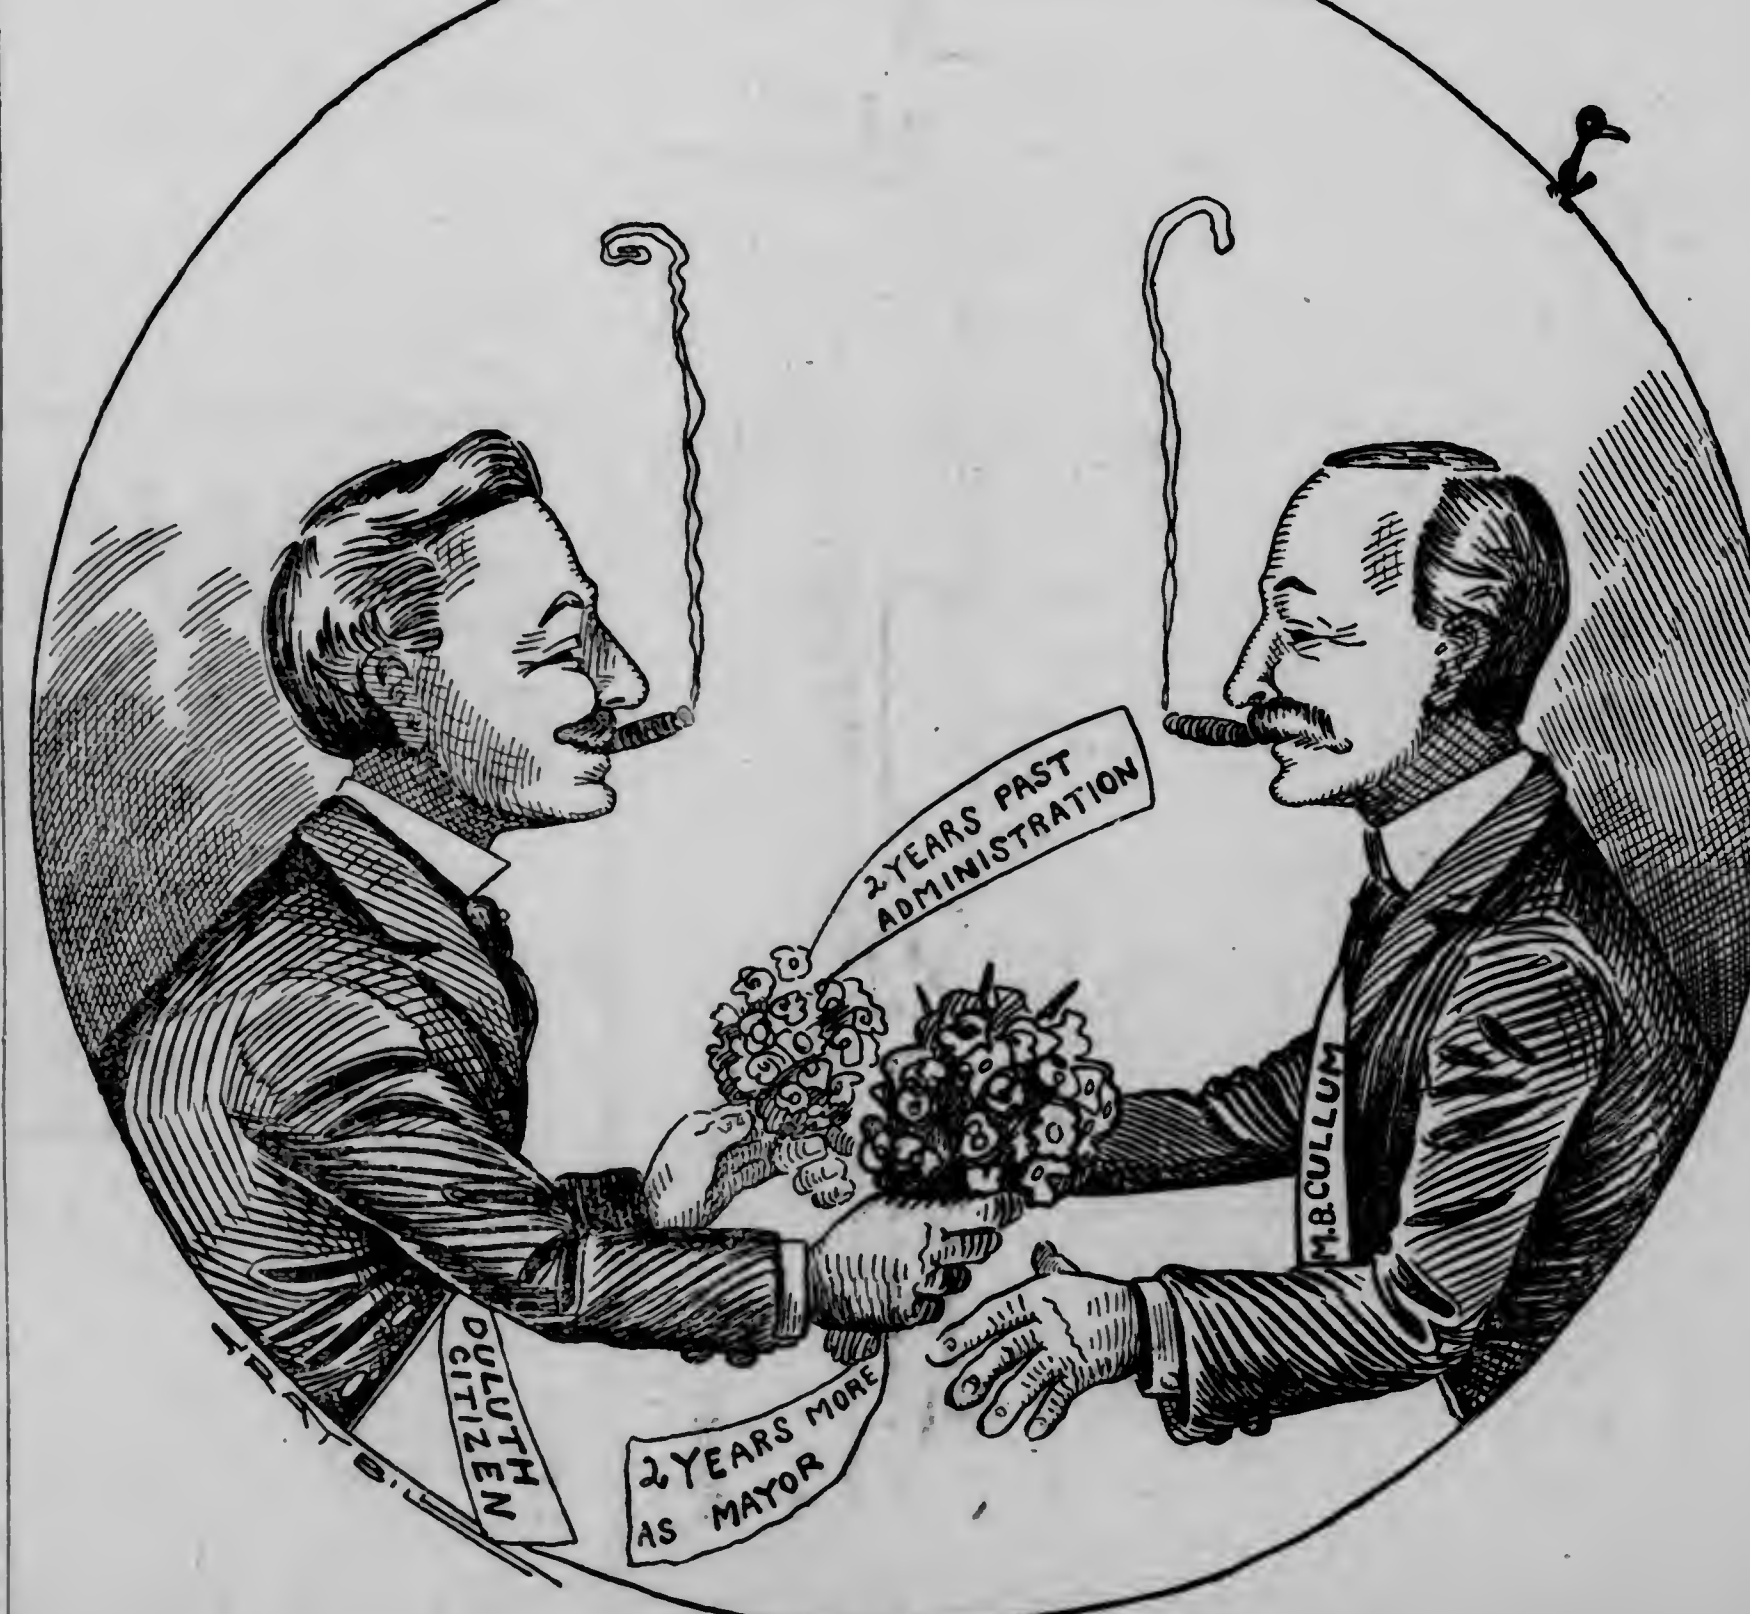

MEDALS ORDERED FOR RUSSIAN SOLDIERS.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 7.—Medals for all those who participated in the war with Japan have been ordered according to an imperial rescript published in the Russian Invalid today. Those who defended Fort Arthur are singled out for special distinction. They will be given a silver medal and a bronze medal. Those who were bestowed on those who were engaged in battles on land or sea.

The soldiers who were not under fire will receive dark bronze medals.

Gossip is busy with changes at the admiralty. The Slovo, which usually well informed on naval matters, says Admiral Birlier, the minister of marine, has been succeeded by Admiral Bakhin, and that Admiral Choupkin and Bakhin have been chosen for the post of viceminister of marine, recently created.

REMOVER CAUSES SUICIDE.
Janesville, Wis., Feb. 7.—Constant brooding over the fact that he caused the smallpox epidemic here two months ago, which resulted in 26 cases, caused Arthur Francis to commit suicide here Monday night by drinking laudanum. Francis was a crazy horse trader, and on arriving here two months ago brought the smallpox into town.

Cullum carried every precinct in the First and Second wards.

The judgeship resulted in a veritable landslide for Windom. Brigham succeeded in carrying but three precincts out of the forty-three, winning out in the second of the Fourth by 6; the fifth of the Fifth by 6; and the sixth of the Sixth by 1 vote. Windom ran ahead of Cullum, having nearly the solid Republican vote, and a large share of the Democratic. He secured almost two votes to Brigham's one, and easily carried the city.

The result was no surprise, although the plurality was somewhat (Continued on page 2, second column.)

NEW CORPORATION.
Augusta, Me., Feb. 7.—The Clyde Steamship company filed its certificate of incorporation today with the secretary of state. The authorized capital stock is $14,000,000, all common stock, with a par value of $100 a share.

PIONEER DEAD.
Mountain Lake, Minn., Feb. 7.—William Goertzen, aged 82 years, lies dead at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. Jansen, of this village. Mr. Goertzen and family emigrated from Russia to this place in the early seventies.

GRAVES ARE DECORATED.
London, Feb. 7.—The graves of Charles Dickens and Sir Henry Irving in Westminster abbey were most lavishly decorated with flowers today, in commemoration of their birthdays, though Irving's anniversary really falls on Feb. 3. Many persons visited both tombs, and the numerous Dickens societies throughout the United Kingdom celebrated the day.

MILLIONS OF INFANTS ARE SACRIFICED BY USE OF DRUGS AND BAD MILK

Startling Statement of Prof. Wiley of Chemistry Bureau.

Butter is Painted and Foods Are Turned Into Poisons.

Professor Hesitates Almost to Eat Any Modern Preparations.

Washington, Feb. 7.—That more than a million infants had been sacrificed to the various concoctions known as soothing syrups and pain killers and twice that number killed by impure milk, was the declaration made last night by Prof. H. W. Wiley, chief of the chemistry bureau of the department of agriculture.

"We do not know anything about the milk we have left at our homes, or the conditions under which it is produced," he added.

"There are a thousand and one possibilities which might have combined to make what nature intended for a food, the most veritable poison that chemistry can produce."

"I have found that the foods we daily consume are so fraught with germ life of a harmful nature that I am almost afraid to go to the table. The butter is painted, there is little other to be found anywhere. Canned goods are kept for years and sold for the genuine article. I speak particularly of condensed milk. If we know nothing of the fresh milk we get, surely our knowledge is more limited to the product that is put in cans. The Lord intended us to resort to cans only to tide us over one season until green fruits could be had again, but the canneries don't know this. There is no law requiring them to stamp the date upon their goods; if they did, it would kill the sale."

PUGILIST CHARGED WITH MANSLAUGHTER.

San Francisco, Feb. 7.—As the result of the autopsy performed upon the body of Alex. Devin, the boy who was killed in an unlicensed prize fight at the Colma club's pavilion at Colma on Monday night by "Chief" Johnson, a charge of manslaughter has been placed against Johnson and his whereabouts are being sought by the sheriff of San Mateo county and by the local police.

Due to the difficulty in securing witnesses, the inquest has been postponed until Friday afternoon.

BRICKMAKERS MEET.
Philadelphia, Feb. 7.—The twentieth annual convention of the National Brick Manufacturers' association convened in this city today. The annual reports of President I. H. Blair of Cincinnati and Treasurer John W. Sibley of Birmingham, Ala., were read at today's session. The convention will be in session until Friday.

"I received no passports," he said, "and no written orders from Venezuelan government authorities directing me to leave. It was because the police prevented me from re-landing at La Guaira that I left the country."

FAD OF THE PRESIDENT

Opposed by Admiral
Sands, Commandant
of Naval Academy.

Would Have Japs' Jiu
Jitsu Abolished From Annapolis.

Washington, Feb. 7.—Jiu Jitsu, the Japanese style of wrestling, will be abolished from the naval academy, if Rear Admiral Sands, the commandant, is permitted to have his way.

The testimony of Admiral Sands before the house committee on naval affairs has just been made public and shows he thinks but little of the style of wrestling popularized by the president's attitude toward it.

Admiral Sands said the instruction in Jiu Jitsu has nothing to do with any predisposition to fighting at the academy and that hereafter there will be no Jiu Jitsu at Annapolis.

Answering Chairman Foss, Admiral Sands said he found the institution in a lax state as the building operations left the midshipmen often without a commissioned officer to look out for them.

Admiral Sands said the midshipmen evidently misunderstood the pledge they gave to the former superintendent not to indulge in hazing. It was the cadets' understanding that they took an oath not to engage in physical hazing. The midshipmen also allege that they were led to believe that a pledge given to the former superintendent did not hold after Admiral Sands took charge.

MAYOR OF ALTON Runs for Congress on Anti-Race Suicide Platform.

Alton, Ill., Feb. 7.—"More American babies" is the motto of Mayor Edmund Deal of Alton, who has announced his candidacy for congress, and his emblem, instead of the eagle of his party, is a stark. When asked what he would do in congress, he said:

"I am not there yet, but I have already decided to introduce a bill to make men who refuse to accept the responsibilities of parenthood leave the country. They have no place here and they ought to know it."

"The race suicide idea is more important than it may seem. It is a good subject for jest, but it is also serious. We want more babies of good American stock. The only way we can have Americans is to grow them—we can't import them."

FARMER KILLED BY TRAIN.
Hawley, Minn., Feb. 7.—A young farmer named Harrington Carlson, living near Hitterdal, Clay county, was struck by a freight train while crossing the track with his sleds. He died in two hours. The accident occurred Saturday while a fierce blizzard was raging, making it impossible for the driver to see or hear the approaching train.

MORMON POLYGAMY IS AGAIN AIRED BEFORE COMMITTEE OF SENATE

Hearings in the Case of Reed Smoot Begin
Again.

Witness Tells of Continued Illegal Marriages
Among Mormons.

Prof. Wolfe Says He Has Taken Oath Twelve Times.

Washington, Feb. 7.—Hearings in the case of Senator Reed Smoot were resumed today before the committee on privileges and elections. The investigation of the protests against the Utah senator retaining his seat, continued through two sessions of congress and today marked the beginning of hearings which the committee is likely to hold intermittently throughout the present session. The first witness was Prof. Walter M. Wolfe, former teacher of geology in Brigham Young college at Logan, Utah, and an apostate of the church. John G. Carlisle of New York conducted the prosecution and A. S. Worthington of this city defended the senator.

Prof. Wolfe testified that he had been a Mormon for a number of years, when his connection was severed through failure to comply with demands for tithes. He was asked to tell what he knew of the alleged plural marriage of Prof. Benjamin Cluff and Florence Reynolds, both teachers at Provo. This case occupied a prominent place in the former hearings. In detailing what he knew of their relations, he told of a Mormon expedition to Mexico, Prof. Wolfe said he had been informed at that time by Cluff that he was married to Florence Reynolds and that they lived together on that trip. Prof. Smith, he said, referred to Florence as "Sister Cluff."

"Twelve times," answered Prof. Wolfe, when asked how many times he had been through the endowment house, or temple, he explained, as the endowment house was torn down many years ago. "Did you take any oaths or oaths when you went through?" asked Mr. Carlisle.

"Every time," he replied. Asked to detail them, he said there had been oaths of chastity, sacrifice and vengeance. "What do you mean by 'vengeance'?" asked Mr. Carlisle. "Do you mean there was a promise of pledge given to avenge something?"

The witness then said that this oath had been taken. "You and each of you do covenant and pray, and never cease to pray. God to avenge the blood of the prophets of this nation."

The oath he said was taken standing at the conclusion of each taking. "What do you mean by 'never cease to pray'?" asked Mr. Carlisle. "Do you mean there was a promise of pledge given to avenge something?"

After giving many other details of the ceremony, such as the manner of anointing, he was asked concerning a trial held by the board of Brigham Young academy as to the reasons for the absence of Cluff from the Meri expedition. The witness said Apostle Reed Smoot was among those in attendance and had been asked to give testimony given by the witness himself. That the reason for Cluff's absence was because he was living apart with a plural wife. Another plural marriage was spoken of by the witness. This was between Ovea Jorgenson, a student at Brigham Young college, and "Brother" Okey, with whom the girl became enamored according to a confession she is alleged to have made to Prof. Wolfe. He said the girl came to his house after Cluff's absence for an absence from school that she had gone to Juarez, Mexico, and had been married by the Mormon high priest. "It is a trick to beat the devil at his own game," he quoted John Wilson of Logan, a prominent Mormon as saying. "The manifesto enables the church to exclude men who ought not to have more than one wife and gives to worthy men an opportunity to take plural wives." Both of these statements, the witness said, were made in his church.

"To the best of my knowledge," said Prof. Wolfe, "polygamous cohabitation has increased very materially since the manifesto was admitted as a statute."

Prof. Wolfe said he believed the "seed of treason" was sown in the of vengeance. In answer to questions by Chairman Burrows, Prof. Wolfe said that in Southern Utah and New Mexico polygamy is talked with some frequency. He quoted Apostle John Henry Smith as having said concerning the manifesto:

MISS SUSAN B. ANTHONY.
Great Woman Suffragist Now in Her
86th Year.

SUFFRAGE FOR WOMEN

National Association Begins Its Thirty-Eighth Annual Session.

Susan B. Anthony, Aged
86, to Take Prominent Part.

Baltimore, Feb. 7.—The thirty-eighth annual convention of the Woman's Suffrage association began here today and will continue until and including Feb. 13. The meeting is one of the most numerous attended gatherings ever held by the woman suffragists in this country, nearly all the prominent leaders of the cause being present. Preceding the assembling of the convention there was a meeting of the executive committee and a council of state presidents, which was presided over by Harriet Upton of Ohio, which was also attended by the officers of the national association and the chairmen of various committees.

The convention promises to be one of the most notable gatherings in the history of that organization. The first day's work of the convention will be chiefly devoted to recommendations from the business committee, and to a consideration to the plan of work. In the morning of the second day the convention will call to order by the president, Rev. Anna Howard Shaw, an address of welcome will be delivered by Mrs. Emma M. Woodworth, president of the Maryland Woman's Suffrage association and the response will be by Miss Kate Van Hook of New Orleans. At the evening session Miss Susan B. Anthony will preside and the program will include a prayer by the Rev. John B. Van Meter, president of the Baltimore Woman's college. Addresses of welcome by Governor Warfield, Mayor Timanus and Collector of the Port William F. Stone, a response by Miss Anthony, and singing by a chorus of 200 voices.

A "tribute of gratitude" will be paid to Miss Susan B. Anthony and other woman suffragists, for "what has been accomplished for the higher education of women," in an address by Mary W. Woolley, president of Mount Holyoke college; Lucy M. Salmon, professor of history, Vassar college; Mary A. Jordan, Smith college; Mary W. Calkins, Wellesley college; Eva Perry Moore, president of the Association of Collegiate Alumnae; Maud A. Park, A.B., of Radcliffe college, and M. Carey Thomas, president of Bryn Mawr college.

At the Sunday session, Mrs. Maud Ballington Booth will deliver an address. An adjourned meeting of the convention will be held in Washington, D. C., Feb. 15.—There will be a congressional hearing in the morning and the eighty-sixth birthday of Miss Susan B. Anthony will be celebrated at the Church of Our Father in that city.

MEDALS ORDERED FOR RUSSIAN SOLDIERS.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 7.—Medals for all those who participated in the war with Japan have been ordered according to an imperial rescript published in the Russian Herald today. These medals will be bestowed on those who were engaged in battles on land or sea.

The soldiers who were not under fire will receive dark bronze medals. Those who were under fire will receive light bronze medals. The medals will be given to the soldiers who were engaged in battles on land or sea.

MYSTERY UNSOLVED.

Systematic Search for Edward J. Morgan
Is a Failure.

Oshkosh, Wis., Feb. 7.—Relatives of Edward J. Morgan, past counselor of the United Commercial Travelers, who disappeared Dec. 20, at Manitowoc, have given him up for dead.

The police departments of Oshkosh, Manitowoc, Milwaukee and Chicago have engaged in the search and the United Commercial Travelers, the Knights of Pythias and the railroads have exhausted every means and have failed utterly to find any trace of Mr.
Morgan, after the date mentioned. Then he left the Williams house at Manitowoc with the express intention of taking a train home. The train went without him, and his grip, which was left behind, has been sent home.

No interchange of information slips have been turned in since that date, and Mr. Morgan's bank account at this city is untouched. The theory is that he fell into the river at Manitowoc and was drowned.

Mr. Morgan was a lumber salesman and was a brother of T. R. Morgan of the Morgan Lumber company of this city, who was shot and killed by a discharged workman several years ago.

SMITH GIVES $6,000.

Minneapolis Lumberman Sends Funds to Reduce College Debts.

St. Peter, Minn., Feb. 7.—Attorney Henry N. Benson, treasurer of the board of directors of Gustavus Adolphus college, has received a check for $6,000 from C. A. Smith, the millionaire lumberman of Minneapolis, to be used on the debt incurred by building the new auditorium. When the structure was first projected, Mr. Smith offered to pay one-fifth of the entire cost; to subscribe $1 for every $4 that could be raised from other sources. The building required an expenditure of $30,000, and the Minneapolis man has now paid $1,000 of his $6,000 endowment.

DISEASED KIDNEYS

ney Disease. Trial Bottle Will Be Sent ABSOLUTELY FREE to Any Reader of The Duluth Herald.

TEST YOUR KIDNEYS. Put some morning urine in a glass or bottle, let it stand for twenty-four hours. If then it is milky or cloudy or contains a reddish brick-dust sediment, or if particles or germs float about in it, your kidneys are diseased. If, after you have made this test, you have any doubt in your mind as to the development of the disease in your system, send us a sample of your urine, and our doctors will analyze it and send you a report with advice free.

WARNER'S SAFE CURE is used for all forms of kidney, liver, bladder and blood diseases; uric acid poison, rheumatism, diabetes, gout, etc. It cures resisting and painful passage of urine, frequent desire to urinate, painful periods, bearing down and so-called "tomale weakness."

SUFFERED MISERY FROM KIDNEYS

Mrs. Win. Erickson, 86 Liberty street, Schuettstadt, S. D., adds her testimony to the thousands of testimonials received from sufferers who have been cured by WARNER'S SAFE CURE and WARNER'S PILLS. She writes: "My health began to fail. I grew steadily weaker with kidney trouble. I became discouraged and was about to give up the struggle when I commenced to take WARNER'S SAFE CURE. In ten days I was a well woman, and my recovery is solely due to WARNER'S."

WARNER'S SAFE CURE is purely vegetable and contains no harmful drugs. It does not constitute. It is now put up in two regular sizes and is sold by all druggists, or direct, at 50 CENTS and $1.00 A BOTTLE.
Refuse substitutes. They contain harmful drugs, and do the patient more harm than good.

TRIAL BOTTLE FREE. To convince every sufferer from diseases of the kid-

EPIDEMIC OF TYPHOID

Will be Discussed at Meeting of County Medical Society.

Lumbering and Mining Companies Will be Asked to Help.

A threatened epidemic of typhoid fever on the range and in Duluth, will be discussed at an open meeting of the St. Louis County Medical association, which will be held at the Commercial club tomorrow evening, and an effort will be made to decide upon a systematic plan of stopping the spread of the disease, through the spread of information about the proper method of handling it.

During the last few weeks there have been a large number of cases of typhoid fever reported from the range towns, especially in the district near Hibbing, and also in Duluth. Most of the latter, however, have been brought in from outside towns, and but very few have originated here.

At the regular meeting of the society tomorrow night, the officials of the railroad companies, and of the lumbering and mining companies interested in the locality where the disease threatens to become epidemic, will be invited to attend.

The physicians will endeavor to learn from them the probable cause of the disease, and in return will attempt to outline some plan of putting a stop to its spread, and of coping with the cases already reported.

The disease has apparently sprung from the lumbering and mining camps on the range, and the doctors will endeavor to learn the cause of it.

Drs. Bracken, Hill and Westbrook of the state board of health will be present at the meeting, and the Duluth health commissioner will also be invited to attend. Both the state board of health and the Duluth health commissioner will co-operate with the mining and lumbering companies to eliminate the cause of the spread of the disease.

FIREMEN'S TOURNAMENT.

Plans Discussed by the Cass Lake Fire Department.

Cass Lake, Minn., Feb. 7.—(Special to The Herald).—A regular meeting of the fire department was held in the council chamber Tuesday evening. Resolutions of condolence were adopted and the recent death of Mrs. Leeman, wife of Charles Leeman, chief of the department, was discussed. The tournament to be held here, at the appointment of E. S. Homan, editor of the Pine Tree Blade, as promoter of the tournament, was discussed. The tournament will be held at Rapid on Thursday, Feb. 15. No selection has yet been made for captain of the tournament running team, but a leader will probably be chosen at the next regular meeting, the 12th inst.

Mr. Oscar Hansen, coupler for Cass Lake's champion team of 1904, is held here, but the department has an excellent pipeman in William Mochlinson, who is in the grand Rapid department in 1905-06.

Congressman Buckman has recommended the appointment of E. S. Homan, editor of the Pine Tree Blade, as promoter at Pine River, in Cass county.

The next term of district court for Cass county will be held at Walker, beginning on April 16.

RELIGIOUS CONDITIONS

In the Philippines Discussed by Secretary of War Taft.

Washington, Feb. 7.—Religious conditions in the Philippines islands were discussed by Secretary of War Taft last night at the opening session of the Joseph Priestly conference at All Souls church.

The evening was devoted to the subject "Religion and the Modern Mind."
Robert S. Woodward, president of the Carnegie Institution, declared that in comparison with the works of Joseph Priestly the deeds of Napoleon were insignificant.

Secretary Taft referred to his connection with the Unitarian church and he stated that the disappearance of religious intolerance, which was manifest in the time of Joseph Priestly, was due in a great measure to the liberal stand-taken by the Unitarians.

"It has been 300 years since the Roman Catholics established themselves in the Philippine islands," said Mr. Taft, "and the work of their friars for the cause of civilization is to be praised. But the exercise of their political as well as their religious power in the islands created a strong prejudice against the members of the order, and at the beginning of the insurrection led about sixty of them were killed, while nearly 300 were imprisoned."

These unfortunate friars were the owners of much property, and it was a question with the United States government as to whether peace should be established with their reinstatement, or whether they should be displaced, and their lands purchased by the government.

The secretary said he was selected as a messenger to Rome, the matter was contested by the religious peace resists on the islands, Catholics and Protestants uniting in many of the ceremonies of the country.

"I give this as a demonstration of the improvement of the present conditions over those of Joseph Priestly's time," said Mr. Taft, and we as Unitarians may feel that the world is coming our way."

An address also was delivered by Edward Everett Hale, chaplain of the United States senate.

PROSPERITY FOR DULUTH

If Policy of Cigarmakers' Union is Carried Out.

The Cigarmakers' union of Duluth stands for the upbuilding of our home factories. We believe that it is to our best interest to give preference to home products, whenever possible. In return, we contend that it is the duty of every smoker to buy only home-made cigars.

It costs the individual smoker not a penny more to purchase a home-made cigar. There are just as good cigars manufactured in this city as there are in any city in the United States. We defy contradiction to this statement.

There are about fifteen manufacturers in our city. If the product of one does not meet with your approval, give the next a trial; but do not condemn all of our home-made goods just because the product of one particular manufacturer does not suit your taste.

Beware of counterfeit home-made cigars. They are disease-bearing.
Why? Because the conditions under which they are made are such that they contain germs, which when they are eaten, sleep and make cigars all in the same room, does not warrant a clean and healthy cigar.

How can you guard against tenementhouse cigars? Simply by refusing any cigars taken from a box that does not bear the union label. This label is an absolute guarantee against tenement-house cigars, as we do not allow the union label to be placed on cigars who operate tenement-house factories.

In conclusion, we again appeal to the smoker, that henceforth (if you have not already adopted such policy), to buy none but home-made union label cigars, for it means prosperity for the cigar industry of Duluth and the people in general. In short, become a booster for Duluth.

RESPECTFULLY,

CIGARMAKERS' UNION.

GERMAN COMMENTS

On Moroccan Situation Arouse Considerable Interest in France.

Paris, Feb. 7.—The tone of the German comments relative to the question of the control of the police of Morocco is arousing considerable attention in ministerial circles where it is remarked that the suggestion that the sultan be permitted to organize the police under the control of the powers, is doomed failure beforehand. France will not relax her determination to retain paramount control of Morocco. She has not consented to any arrangement whereby this position could possibly suffer. Diplomatic circles are, however, being futile until Germany's definite proposals are made known to the delegates at Algiers. France is satisfied to await this, reserving arguments in favor of her view until a tangible proposal calls forth her reply.

Why Many People Suffer

From Constipation

A Sure and Safe Relief

Constipation is most often caused by a torpid liver or failure of the stomach and bowels to perform their proper functions. The condition is commonly due at first to irregular habits of living and improper food, and if properly treated can be readily relieved. It is often aggravated, however, by the use of purgative and cathartic drugs, which purge and perhaps give temporary relief, but are so drastic in effect as to disturb the regular lining of the stomach and bowels, leaving a condition where the tendency to constipation is avoided, and the bowels gently and thoroughly opened by the famous Laxative Water—HUNYARD'S.

ICE RECORD OF HARBOR

Conditions Are About the Same as a Year Ago.

Statistics for February Give Promise of Lake Ice.

The temperature at the Head of the Lakes and the ice formation in the local harbor and on the lake for the first week in February correspond very closely to the conditions that existed just a year ago. During the first week in February, 1905, it was very cold at the Head of the Lakes, with the temperature varying from zero to 25 degs. below the cipher. The temperature conditions for the past week have been similar.

The ice formation on the lake a year ago today, according to the records kept by H. W. Richardson, local weather forecaster, show that there were scattering fields of thin ice, while the harbor ice was 16 inches thick, Feb. 7, 1905, as compared with 21-inch ice today.

The average thickness of the harbor ice Feb. 7, for the past eight years, has been 21.3 inches so that the frozen covering of that body of water may be figured as three inches below the average at this time.

The ice conditions on the lake at the present time may be figured as about the same as they have been on the same date for the past five years with the exception of 1904, when the conditions were somewhat unusual.

During the first week in February, 1904, there were 33 inches of ice on the lake, while there was a 3-mile field of 5-inch ice on the lake Jan. 1, that year.

By the last of January the field extended out 60 miles with an average thickness of 17 inches. By Feb. 7, 1904, there were about 50 miles of ice averaging from 13 to 24 inches in thickness, and Feb. 18, that year the field extended out 150 miles, with an average thickness of 24 inches. It may have extended even further, but enough makes plain what the ice conditions are today, when the ice is authenticated records show. In the first part of February, 1902, there was about five miles of 4-inch ice on the lake.

How can you guard against tenementhouse cigars? Simply by refusing any cigars taken from a box that does not bear the union label. This label is an absolute guarantee against tenement-house cigars, as we do not allow the union label to be placed on cigars who operate tenement-house factories.

In conclusion, we again appeal to the smoker, that henceforth (if you have not already adopted such policy), to buy none but home-made union label cigars, for it means prosperity for the cigar industry of Duluth and the people in general. In short, become a booster for Duluth.

RESPECTFULLY,

CIGARMAKERS' UNION.

GERMAN COMMENTS

On Moroccan Situation Arouse Considerable Interest in France.

Paris, Feb. 7.—The tone of the German comments relative to the question of the control of the police of Morocco is arousing considerable attention in ministerial circles where it is remarked that the suggestion that the sultan be permitted to organize the police under the control of the powers, is doomed failure beforehand. France will not relax her determination to retain paramount control of Morocco. She has not consented to any arrangement whereby this position could possibly suffer. Diplomatic circles are, however, being futile until Germany's definite proposals are made known to the delegates at Algiers. France is satisfied to await this, reserving arguments in favor of her view until a tangible proposal calls forth her reply.

Houghton.—A building at the Good

Two girls and a man asleep on the Menominee.—That there is consid-strated last week at Menominee when several spurious half dollars made their appearance, with some good

THE ORIGINATOR OF

the Credit System

It Is Better to Have CREDIT Than to Have Cash

If you make a practice of paying cash for everything you buy, you are always more or less limited in your selection and are oftentimes compelled to take qualities that your good judgment rebels against. If your credit is good you can buy wisely and can satisfy your tastes. How many people would own their own homes if they had waited to collect enough money to pay cash for them? Almost anybody buying a home makes a first payment on it and lives in it while paying the balance. We are glad to have you come here and buy your family clothing and home furnishings on the same principle—use them and enjoy them while you are paying for them. That it is not expensive to do this is shown by our prices, which are as low as any you will find anywhere, and we mark them all in plain figures, so as to make comparison easy. There are no unpleasant formalities about opening an account here and you are not asked to sign notes or give security. No collector will ever call on you except at your express wish, and the terms will be arranged to suit you.

CANDIDATES GIVE VIEWS

Cullum and Trevillion
Both Express Thanks to Their Friends.

Trevillion Makes Humorous
Comment on the Vagaries of Politics.

"Yes," confessed Mayor Cullum, when asked this morning concerning the fit of his hat, "I will admit that my head is a trifle swollen today, and naturally I am not at all down-hearted about the outcome of yesterday's election."

"The press has been very kind to me during my campaign, and I owe much to the influence of the newspapers in getting out the registration, and in supporting me as they have done."

"To the splendid men who supported me regardless of party and to the young men who stand for fair play, I am most grateful. The result, means only this: that the intelligent class of voters realize the necessity of ignoring party lines in municipal affairs. This is being done all over this broad land and Duluth is no farther behind in this than in other things."

"I love all my friends and forgive all my enemies, and now I hope that all concerned will settle down to work and make the next two years the most prosperous the city has ever seen."

Alderman Thomas Trevillion, the defeated candidate, was seen seated on a cracker barrel in his grocery store on lower Lake avenue. He looked as pleased and happy as if he had been elected. "So you know," he said, smiling, "I had seventy-five men up there at headquarters, each of whom I had in my pocket ready to deliver to me. I can't see how, with 750 votes, I could lose the election. Some of those fellows must have counted wrong. I had the Holbrook vote, the Swedish vote, the labor vote, the German vote, the French vote, the colored vote, the Italian vote, the Norwegian vote, the Greek vote, the English vote, the solid Republican vote, about half the Democratic vote, the Fourth ward vote, the Fifth ward vote and the saloon vote, all delivered to me in packages on silver platters, and yet I lost by nearly 900. Doesn't it beat the dickens, though?"

"But, seriously, though, I want to thank all the fellows that supported me. Perhaps the time will come when I can do the same for them, and then I hope to be able to get even. I had a lot of good friends that stood by me like trumps, in an uphill fight, and I am more grateful to them than I can tell you."

"Considering the handicap we had, I think we made a pretty good fight of it. A man in power has a great big handicap. He has a lot of workers who are interested in the outcome, and they get right out and hustle. You can't have men to work for you who are worth a quarter as much as the men whose jobs depend on the result. I don't blame the other fellows, you understand. We would do the same if conditions were reversed, but it is worth 50 votes to be in power."

"On top of this was the open opposition of both newspapers, but I will say that The Herald treated me fairly, if it was openly opposed to me."

"I have no kick coming on the way the mayor landed his campaign. He fought it squarely, and there was no slinging of mud by him."

"I am going to settle down to business now for the next year and sell groceries."

A man who once had rough, horny hands made them soft and smooth with Witch Hazel Salve, but he used the genuine that bearing the name "E. C. De Witt & Co., Chicago. Sold by all druggists."

RAILROADS ROAD FILES MORTGAGE

Duluth, Rainy Lake & Winnipeg is Bonded
for $2,000,000.

The report in The Herald two days ago to the effect that the Duluth, Rainy Lake & Winnipeg road had sold bonds to procure money with which to defray the expense of building an extension of the line, is shown to have been correct by the filing yesterday of a mortgage for $2,000,000 in favor of the Illinois Trust & Savings bank of Chicago as security for the bond issue. W. H. Cook, president of the railway company, admitted the truth of the report this morning.

It is expected that within a week or ten days, bids will be called for the extension of the Duluth, Rainy Lake & Winnipeg from Ashawa to Beaudette, Minn., where it will connect with the Canadian Northern. Beaudette is on the Rainy river, which forms the boundary between Minnesota and Canada. The extension will be 100 miles in length, and will be completed before the end of the year. This will give a direct line from Duluth to Winnipeg, whether the road extends to Duluth or not, for there are already three railroads connecting Duluth with Virginia, the starting point of the Rainy Lake road.

The mortgage was executed Jan. 1, 1906, and will expire Jan. 1, 1916. It provides for the payment of 5 percent per annum, payable semi-annually. The mortgage is attested by W. H. Cook, president, and David O. Anderson, secretary, of the railroad company, and by J. C. Mitchell, president of the trust company.

WEST DULUTH

EXPLAINING THE RESULT

Eighth Ward Babel of Tongues Telling How It Happened.

Strong Personal Work by Foubister is Important Factor.

West Duluth today is occupied in telling how it happened. In the Eighth ward, with its close vote, there is a lot of chance for explanation. J. E. Foubister, the Republican candidate for alderman, won out by a majority of 67 over John A. Eklund, the Democrat, and at the same time Mayor Cullum carried the ward by 11 votes. Various explanations are offered, and possibly a combination of a few of them would form the real solution.

It is claimed by some that the younger element in the ward is tired of the rule of the older element—the "old war horses," as they are called. Another factor in the aldermanic fight is that Foubister made the hardest kind of a personal campaign. He started to work for the primaries, and as soon as he was nominated, worked every day and all of the time seeing voters in preparation for the election. On the other hand, Mr. Eklund did not work very hard for the election, trusting mostly to his friends.

It is claimed that had it not been for the strong work Foubister did the majority for Mayor Cullum would have been much larger than it was.

He was 17 when he enlisted three years ago last October and his training has developed him into a mature looking man. He declares that the navy is a good training for a young man and says that it has been of inestimable benefit to him. He was stationed at various points and saw a good deal of the world during his three years of service. He is now working in his father's box factory.

FINAL CLEARANCE

LADIES' SUITS, WAISTS and SKIRTS

Thursday's events are worth the close attention of every economical woman.

LADIES' $18.50 AND $35.00 COATS FOR $6.75 —Full or three-quarter length coats—made in the latest style of gray, brown, tan or mixed materials. The rapid advance of the season makes our determination stronger to get rid of them—hence these reductions.

SILK OR WOOL SHIRT WAIST SUITS AT $6.75—Only fifteen remaining of the different lines. In order to effect a speedy clearance they are all placed in one lot for tomorrow at the remarkably low price of $6.75—former selling price from $11.50 to $29.50.

$9.75 FUR BOAS FOR $4.00—21 inch and 42 inch Fur Boas, made of fine quality marten, sable fox, opossum and river mink go on sale tomorrow at $4.00.

$8.75 AND $14.50 LADIES' SKIRTS AT $3.75
—About twenty left—in blue, black and brown cheviot or brown mixtures; also black Sicilian and black silk skirts that originally sold for $8.75 and $14.50. Our determination to make room for spring goods has lowered the price to $3.75.

A SELECTION OF ELEVEN SUITS, QUALITIES FORMERLY SOLD FOR $22.50 TO $30.00, FOR $5.00. They are made of tan covert cloth, black and white checks, navy and black cheviot and brown and gray mixture. For a speedy clearance they are reduced to $5.00.

LADIES' WAISTS—A line of white, light blue, gray and green wool waists, trimmed with lace and embroidery; original prices $6.75 to $9.75—sell for $3.75.
WHITE LAWN WAISTS—embroidery trimmed and all-over embroidery fronts; formerly sold from $1.50 to $2.50—for $1.50.

PANTON & WHITE COMPANY

THE BIG GLASS BLOCK STORE

WHERE QUALITY IS PARAMOUNT

Shoe department—prices that will "move things" Thursday.

You'll be glad to take advantage of these encouragingly little prices now—when leather prices are beginning to go up. Then, too, our shoe department offers some superior advantages to customers. It's secluded, furnished for comfort, and there are efficient salesmen to properly fit you.

$1.98 Either "St. Regis" or "Du Barry" $3.00 shoes for women—kid, box calf or patent kid—light or heavy, lace or button. Stamped $3.00 on every shoe.

98c Misses' and children's leggings—felt, velvet, kersey and corduroy—all colors, all sizes. How often have you paid $1.25 to $2.00 for the same values?

59c Cold-weather shoes for children—kid, flannel lined, felt with leather soles; felt tops and soles—considered good values at 75c to 85c.

We're sole agents here for "Queen Quality" shoes. 10,000 pairs made daily. Most worn shoe in the world.

(Second floor—rear of elevator.)

Bright times ahead for those who buy silks.

It's a foregone conclusion that this is to be the greatest "silk season" in recent years—more popularly worn—and all kinds of it, too—i. e., not confined to any particular weave or color. A few prices on some of the leaders are:

75c for neat little stripes in the new "Jasper" shade for spring—a color which promises to succeed many of the staple shades.

$1.00 Pin-head check suitings, two-tone checks and broken checks in the leading gray shades. These are rich and lustrous and extra heavy at the price.

$1.00 A silk that will shed water—but be sure the name, "Shed-water" is woven in the selvage. All colors.

85c and $1.00 "Bond" silks are insured silks—satisfaction guaranteed with every purchase.

(West aisle—main floor.)

Don't fail to remember your friends with a valentine.

A look at our window will give you a fair idea of the variety of novel conceptions designed to carry St. Valentine's greetings. It is hardly a week till you'll need them. A visit now will give you the advantage of selecting from a full assortment.

Red hearts, tally cards, paper napkins, comic and novel valentines—1c and up. 15c to $8.50.

(Bargain Counter—Main floor.)

Finishing up the hat sale!

There are only 17 left of the "more-than-a-hundred" lot of last Saturday—pretty certain evidence of some extraordinary values, isn't it? As is so often the case, some of the best ones are those left. Now, we'll put the balance of them on sale Thursday—in three lots—and depending upon how fast they won't last long—you'd better be one of the first. Here are the three re-adjusted prices:

48c FOR $4.50 HATS—An insignificant price for these stylishly trimmed hats; there are but six in the lot, but every one is a good and desirable hat of this season's style. Some of them sold for $4.50.

$1.25 FOR $7.00 HATS—Just 5 of them in this lot—the small, "taking" shapes in this season's best styles—trimmed with wings, breasts, ornaments, etc., and such as we've been selling for up to $7. No $8 ones.

$2.25 FOR $10.00 HATS—This lot includes all we have left of our pattern and semi-pattern hats—New York and Chicago styles. No need to say more of them, except they're the kind we've heretofore considered good values at up to $10.00.

NOTE: We'd like to emphasize the importance of being early; such values may not last an hour; don't care to have you disappointed, either.

(Sale in the Millinery Parlors on the second floor.)

Walking Skirts—Paris models for the spring season.

Yes, we have them—full-gored and circular styles—black, gray, green and navy blue chiffon panamas and voiles and the many swell little fancy mixtures—the price can be made to suit, too—$6.50 to $16.50.

$13.50 A SPECIAL—Beautiful Paris walking skirt in the finest black voile, thirteen gores, and richly trimmed—having sixteen taffeta bands. Buy a waist with the saving under some others' price—$13.50.

(Second floor.)

New long spring coats—coming daily.

An attractive assortment now on display, and more on the way—be here by the time you are. Rich new plaids, 46-inch lengths, with velvet inlaid collars, cuffs and pocket trimmings—loose, graceful and "distinguished" looking. Some who've seen them say they're the prettiest they've ever seen.

$22.50 A specially fine one—a swell little English mixture, with a thread of green in the weave—velvet trimmed—and with that "catchy" appearance that makes women say "Isn't that stunning?" It is—and a surprising price.

(Second floor.)

Special in embroidery insertion—a worth-while item

Could sell them regularly—but we'd rather let them go faster by giving them a "cut-price push"—and that we'll do Thursday.

They are embroidery insertions from which the edges have been sold; various widths, and too many different designs to mention.

No reduction in quality, mind you—the values are as high grade as ever—the only decline is in the prices. Here they are:

7c for that part of them which formerly sold for 10c a yard.

10c for the pieces which were formerly marked and selling at 15c and 18c the yard.

15c Some of these were 40c a yard, and none of them were marked less than 20c.

(Embroidery counter—west center aisle.)

Want pretty dress goods? Here are a few ideas concerning the best fabrics we can find—no others are good enough for us—or our customers. These are continually being supplemented by new arrivals.

50c Water-proof plaid suitings—come and see them, anyway.

50c Black and white, and blue and white checked suitings will be much worn.

89c Plaid voiles, 46 inches wide, imported from France—rich mixtures with a pleasing blend of blue, brown and green.

75c 45-inch broken check suitings—one of the leaders.

$1.00 A new weave—"Vigoureaux"—from France—46 inches—gray, blue and brown mixes.

(West aisle—main floor.)

PANTON & WHITE COMPANY

THE BIG GLASS BLOCK STORE

WHERE QUALITY IS PARAMOUNT

New "Val." laces—35,000 yards of them—just in.

The first shipment for spring—so you may be sure they're bright, fresh and NEW.

These are one and two widths insertions—with edges to match—fresh from the looms of Germany and France—the latest designs, the most practical meshes, and embracing rose patterns, crescents, clover leaf, rings, dots, squares and dozens of others.

We are confident that this is an exceptionally interesting announcement to Duluth women—BECAUSE there's not another store in this section which gives you either of these two advantages:

FIRST: Variety and extent—35,000 yards, and only two grades—more coming later.

SECOND: This little price—because we do get big quantities—your advantage.

3c a yard Let our lace window Val. talk to you for a few minutes. 5c laces. (Lace counter—west center aisle)

Newest of white shirtwaists—really worth more than the prices we're asking—for a reason: We took the balance of a spring stock off a maker's hands, at a spot cash price, and got them cheap by so doing. No reason why we shouldn't give them to you correspondingly little priced, such as—98c Box-pleated and embroidered waists of white linen—usually $1.50.

$1.25 Waists with box-pleated panel and French cluster tucked fronts—new style cuffs.

$1.49 Linen-finished waists with silk embroidered panel fronts—the $2.25 sort.

$1.98 Real linen fronts in these, daintily silk embroidered—worth nearly double in the ordinary way.

$2.98 Genuine Irish linen with high-grade, hand-embroidered fronts; French tucked yokes.

(Waist Department—second floor.)

Furniture bought here now is a profitable investment.

HERE—because our cash plan, low prices save you from 10 to 30 per cent on the purchase when you make it. Don't take our word—prove it for yourself.

NOW—because the usual low prices are still further reduced this month. February is the money-saving time in furniture buying.

(Entire fourth floor.)

SPORTS

WILL SPEND LARGE SUM

Boat Club Planning to Add Largely to Its Equipment.

New Launch House and Branch Boat House at Pavilion.

The Duluth Boat Club is planning to expend about $10,000 in improvements to its property and additions to its equipment during the coming season, and the outlay should make the club one of the most attractive social and sporting organizations in the Northwest.

The club at the present time owns property valued at about $25,000, much of which there is an outstanding indebtedness of only $4,000, which is steadily being cut down. The club has 250 sustaining members and thirty-nine life members. The latter purchased their life memberships at a time when the club was in its infancy and owned practically nothing in the way of property. It is planned to make the club in about 100 new sustaining members and issue new life memberships not to exceed sixty in number. The life memberships will be sold for $200 apiece, and will be offered first to the present sustaining members.

The money raised in this way will be devoted to extensions and additions to the club property for this year.

One of the principal improvements contemplated, is the erection of a branch club house at O-at-ka beach, for the convenience of the members. With the branch boat house members can take the car to Park Point, picnic there and paddle home in the evening, getting a canoe from the branch house, and leaving it at the main boat house, or they can reverse the program.

The branch boat house will also be a convenient shelter in case of rough weather. Another improvement planned for this year is the erection of a launch house. The club has acquired additional dock frontage of 140 feet, giving it a total frontage of 260 feet. It is the intention to lay out a comprehensive plan, so that the club will in time have an enclosed harbor for pleasure craft. As a beginning on this, the launch house will be erected this spring. In connection with it will be a cafe, fitted up in an attractive manner, and additional accommodations for the lady visitors to the club.

Completion of this launch house should nearly double the size of the present building, and there will be in addition the branch house at O-at-ka beach. The club is planning to add largely to its fleet of canoes and pleasure craft, and will also purchase a club launch which will be used for transporting boats from the main boat house to the branch. The launch will also be rented out to members for picnics and other outings.

A competent man will be engaged to look after the private launches of members, and launch stalls will be rented at a reasonable figure.

Last year the club added a large amount of new racing equipment, and nothing more in this line is needed this year, with the possible exception of one or two working boats.

Portage Lake Wins. Defeats Calumet at Hockey Contest in Easy Fashion.

Houghton, Mich., Feb. 7.—The Portage Lake Hockey team last night defeated the Calumet team, scoring eight goals against two by the visitors, one of which was handed them by a charitable umpire. The first half ended three to one, the locals having little difficulty in finding the Calumet net. After running up five more goals the locals started to give an exhibition of burlesque hockey and the way they played was heart-breaking to Calumet supporters. Calumet managed to score one goal, little effort being made by them to stop the shot.

The game was remarkably free from dirty playing, but few penalties being inflicted. Calumet went in the game with Joe Lauer, a Hancock boy, and a member of the junior hockey team, playing at point. He demonstrated his cleverness in the game by holding his Taylor, recently signed by Portage Lake, played a whirlwind game as rover, in which he was ably seconded by Bruce Stuart.

Elliott, who refereed, gave poor satisfaction, having a habit of calling off sides without any occasion. There was enough of this as it was and the crowd did not take it good naturally to so many delays in the game.

Goals were scored by Hall (2), Lake,

Taylor, Hall (3), Taylor, For Calumet Strike and Scott. The first goal was disputed by the Lakes, resulting in the goal umpire being removed.

BONSPIEL OPENS.

Greatest Ever Held at Winnipeg—150 Rinks Present.

Winnipeg, Man., Feb. 7.—The eighteenth annual bonspiel of Manitoba curling clubs opened at 8 o'clock yesterday morning in all four curling rinks. Over 150 rinks are in attendance, including a number from the states. All draws up to 7 o'clock last night were in the Dingwall event, many good games being witnessed.

In the 8 o'clock draw, Myron's Duluth rink, skippered by W. D. Dunlop, defeated K. Plumb of Minneapolis, Manitoba, score 12 to 8. The Canadian skipper scored on eight ends, but only while the representative of the Duluth club, while scoring only two four's and a three.

Smith, also of Duluth, was drawn to curl Thompson of Boisvauin, but won his game by default. Eagle of Dauphin, Man., also won his game by default, Edwards of Drayton not putting in an appearance.

Mr. McDonnell was naturally somewhat chafed over his success in securing the contract, as contractors from all over the country were seeking the jobs, and this was the Duluth man's first attempt at securing one of this magnitude. He declared that he was in doubt for a time as to whether to go into the race or not and finally tossed a coin to determine whether he would go after the contract or return home. The fact that he went after and secured the contract showed which side of the coin was uppermost.

SCHOOL DAYS AGAIN.

Pittsburg Company's Captains Get Nautical Instruction.

The Pittsburg Steamship company has established schools at Cleveland, Connecticut and Marine City under the supervision of Capt. J. M. Fields. These schools are for the instruction of masters of the company's vessels in lake navigation generally and with special reference to the working of the compass, its error and correction. Knowledge of the latter is claimed to be especially needed on the north shore of Lake Superior, where at times the needle gets confused. The rooms used for the schools are fitted with everything necessary and it is said that the school will be followed by instruction in correcting courses from true to magnetic, and vice versa. Instruction will be given in the use of azimuth tables as well as a thorough knowledge of Fields' compass corrector by the sun, moon and stars. Instruction will be given in deviation by a distant object and deviation by reciprocal bearings. General instruction in chart work will also be given.

The school will remain open until navigation begins and instruction is free. Capt. Fields is assisted in Cleveland by P. J. Becker, Capt. John Lowe, S. C. Allen, J. La Frenchie and John Noble; at Connecticut by Capt. A. R. Robinson and C. J. Grant, and at Marine City by Capt. Hugh E. Ryan, T. J. Cullen, Myers Chamberlain, F. Hoffman and John Burns.

LOOKED FOR ITS SHADOW

Raccoon is Caught in the Act on Second Day of February.

C. C. Boyd Proves Strange Story by Producing Animal's Skin.

C. C. Boyd, a timber cruiser in the employ of the Boston & Duluth Farm Land Co., says he knows for a certainty that raccoons come out of their holes on Feb. 2 and look for their shadows, and to prove that he has good foundation for the belief, he has on display in the land company's office a skin from a recently-killed raccoon, which, he asserts, he shot Feb. 2, while the animal was in the act of looking at his shadow.

He further expresses the belief that bears and woodchucks follow out the same practice, although until the present year he never placed any faith in such stories. Seeing is believing, however, and Mr. Boyd saw. There is no doubting the fact that the raccoon really was killed within the last few days, judging by the appearance of the hide.

"On the second day of February," said Mr. Boyd, "I was sitting on a log in township 50-21, southwest corner of St. Louis county, eating my dinner. I was on the side of a hill, which faced north. On the lowland, about 150 feet distant, some large ash and elm trees were standing, and I noticed that one of them had quite a hole in the side of it, about forty feet from the ground. While looking in that direction I saw the animal crawl out of the hole. It backed to the ground and started toward me. Forty feet distant it emerged from a thicket of balsam into a spot of bright sunshine, which would probably measure about twenty feet square.

"I didn't realize what it was about until it cast a speculative eye in the direction of the sun two or three times, afterward looking on the north or shadow side, where its shadow was sharply defined on the white snow. This it repeated several times, assuming different positions, and then turned and walked back towards its home in the tree trunk, repeatedly looking at the sun and then at the shadow. As soon as it reached the shelter of the balsam, where it could no longer see the sun, it started on the run for the tree. I made a quick start and headed it off, forcing it to climb a tree where there was no chance for it to retreat into a hole. I shot and wounded it, but not sufficiently to cause its death. Before I could get in another shot it looked pitifully at the sun again, and then at its shadow below. The second shot brought the animal to the ground, and I found that I had bagged a specimen of the raccoon family. I firmly believe that woodchucks, raccoons and bears come out of their holes Feb. 2 to look for their shadows, for I cannot doubt the evidence of my own eyes."

LADIES WILL BE INVITED

Members of Palestine Lodge Decide Not to Dine Alone.

"It is not well for man to eat alone" is the motto adopted by the members of Palestine lodge, A. F. and M., and this year the ladies will be invited to attend the annual reunion and banquet of the lodge, which will be held on Feb. 21, in the banquet hall of the new Masonic temple, at 5:45 p. m.

Proceeding the banquet there will be a reception, and during the course of the evening there will be an attractive program of speeches and music. Each member is entitled to bring one lady with him, and the banquet table will be graced with the presence of the fair sex for the first time in the history of the annual reunions of the local lodge.

ALLEGED INFRINGEMENT

On Log Loader Basis of Suit in Federal Court.

The Clyde Iron works of Duluth began an action in equity in United States court today against the National Iron company, N. A. Ford, H. A. Armstrong and Michael Schmalz, the basis of the suit being alleged infringement on patents of the McGuffey log loader. It is claimed that the defendants are manufacturing a log loader which infringes directly on the McGuffey log loader, manufactured and marketed by the Clyde Iron works, without any material improvements which would warrant such independent action.

The Clyde works asks the court to grant an injunction, prohibiting the defendants from manufacturing or selling the log loader in question, and asks a dissolution of the profits on the log loader alleged manufactured and sold.

RUN OVER BY HEARSE

Aged Lady Knocked Down While Trying to Save Grandchild.

Both Pass Under the Hoofs of Four Horses Unhurt.

While trying to save her little grandchild from being trampled under the hoofs of the four horses drawing the hearse from the Board of Trade livery, Mrs. Anderson, mother of Mrs. C. J. Stewart, almost miraculously escaped a similar fate, about 2 o'clock this afternoon at the corner of Third avenue west and First street.

Mrs. Anderson and the little girl, Laura Stewart, were coming down Third avenue west, on their way to Mr. Stewart's undertaking rooms, on West First street.

The little girl started to run across the street, but her grandmother, seeing the hearse approaching, called to her to stop. The child did not hear her call, and did not notice the hearse approaching until the horses were almost on her. Her grandmother frantic with fear lest the child should be trampled to death, rushed with wonderful agility for a woman of her years, and seized the little girl. A moment later she was struck by the front team of horses and rolled over on the ground. In some unaccountable manner all four horses stepped over both her and the child, and they passed between the wheels of the hearse without being touched by them.

The accident was witnessed by scores of people who happened to be passing at the time, and they rushed to Mrs. Anderson's assistance. She and the child were both taken into the undertaking rooms but a few steps distant, and after they had recovered from the shock and fright, were found to be but little injured. The child escaped without a scratch, but was sobbing with fright. Her grandmother sustained a strained ankle and a bruised arm, but neither is thought to be serious. The ankle was very painful, but Mrs. Anderson soon recovered from the effects of the fall, and was able to sit up in a chair. She exonerated the driver of the hearse, saying it was an accident.

COMES LONG WAY TO GET DIVORCE

Mrs. Ludvigsen Claims Husband Deserted Her in Norway.

Following a deserting husband to this country all the way from Bergen, Norway, Mrs. Bertha Ludvigsen has petitioned for a decree of divorce from Ludvig Ludvigsen, her husband, a Norwegian seaman. The complaint states that Ludvigsen is 32 and his wife 24 years of age. They were married in Norway in June, 1890, and have two children, Mrs. Ludvigsen claiming her husband has become addicted to the use of intoxicants to such an extent that he lost his position, began to frequent bad company and abuse his family. She alleges that in 1903 he deserted her, and has since that time been living in this country for more than a year past. L. Grettum is her attorney.

FOR BEATING CRIPPLED WIFE

David Johnson Brought Before Judge Windom in Municipal Court.

Charged with beating his wife, who was being treated for rheumatism, in a Turkish bath establishment, David Johnson was arraigned in the municipal court this morning before Judge Windom.

Johnson's wife has been afflicted with inflammatory rheumatism, and yesterday she was taking treatment for it in a Superior street bath parlor. She was so badly crippled with the disease that she was unable to move without assistance, but Johnson is claimed to have entered the establishment in an intoxicated condition and to have beaten his wife about the head and face with his fist.

He was arrested on a charge of drunkenness, by an officer who was summoned by the proprietor, and pleaded not guilty this morning. The case was set over until this afternoon, until the nurse could be brought to tell her story of the incident.

A BRIDGE OVER ST. LOUIS RIVER

Provided for in Bill Introduced in Congress by Bede.

Washington, Feb. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Representative Bede today introduced a bill to authorize the Wisconsin and New Duluth Bridge company to construct a bridge over the St. Louis river between the states of Wisconsin and Minnesota. The precise location of the proposed new bridge is left to the discretion of the secretary of war, but must be within the limits of Section 2, Township 48, north of range 15, west of fourth principal meridian, Minnesota, and of Sections 1 and 2, Township 48, north of range 15, west of the fourth principal meridian, Wisconsin. This bridge shall be constructed to provide for the passage of cars, locomotives and trains of railway companies, and the proposed new bridge is to have a pivot draw bridge to facilitate the passage of shipping.

This bill is the same as one passed a few years ago granting the right to build a bridge at the same location but which lapsed before the people interested could get around to building it. It is not in the interest of any railroad and is designed to be not alone a railroad bridge as the dispatch would indicate but a general utility bridge for wagons and foot passengers.

Only one bid was opened for furnishing steel tables and chairs for the register deeds vault, in accordance with the action of the board of public works meeting. This bid, that of the Art Metal Construction Company of Jamestown, N. Y., and St. Louis, Mo., was accepted by the board buying two steel tables with tops 30 by 36 inches, and two steel chairs, for $105.

The application of the Brown and Joseph Grove to sell liquor at Brown's saloon, located on the corner of the St. Louis river, was turned down by the board of public works meeting. This action was taken by reason of protests by people who are in the habit of visiting the saloon for locally on fishing excursions.

A petition having been presented by Frank Lindstrom and twenty-seven other residents of the city of Duluth, to have school district, to comprise township 55-15, and section 34, range 15, north of range 15, west of the fourth principal meridian, Minnesota, and of Sections 1 and 2, Township 48, north of range 15, west of the fourth principal meridian, Wisconsin, be divided into two school districts.

Road hearings will be held for April 6 on petitions for new highways in townships 61 and 62-12, in 57-12 and in 56 and 57-12, and in 58-12, and in 59 and 60-12, and in 61 and 62-12, and in 63 and PRIVATE CAR LINES.

Bill to Abolish Them is Introduced by Congressman Bode.

Washington, Feb. 7.—Representative J. Adam Bode has offered in the house of representatives a bill to abolish the private car system. This bill is one which is favored by fruit growers and is endorsed by E. M. Ferguson of Duluth, president of the Western Fruit Growers' Association.

The main feature of the bill provides that it shall be unlawful for any railroad company engaged in the business of common carrier to contract with any person, firm or corporation, being the producer or shipper of any article or commodity, which such article or commodity is offered for shipment or transportation in ventilator cars, refrigerator cars, tank cars, or private cars of any character, whatsoever, owned or controlled, directly or indirectly, by such producers or shippers. To be a stockholder in, or director or officer of, any company owning or controlling such ventilator cars, refrigerator cars, tank cars, or private cars of whatever character shall be considered as having such an interest as is prohibited by this act. The bill will be offered as an amendment to the pending Hepburn bill.

A Healing Gospel.

The Rev. J. C. Warr, pastor of Sharon Baptist church, Belair, Ga., says of Electric Bitters: "It's a godsend to mankind. It cures me of lame back, stiff joints and complete physical collapse. I was weak. It took me an hour to walk a mile. Two bottles of Electric Bitters have made me so strong I have now walked three miles in fifteen minutes and feel like walking three more. It's made me eat more, sleep better, remedy for weakness and all stomach, liver and kidney complaints. Send under guarantee at all drug stores. Price 60c."

IS INJURED INTERNALLY.

A. T. Carney, Injured on Rainy Lake Road, May Not Recover.

Virginia, Minn., Feb. 7.—A. T. Carney of the Northern Lumber company is at the Lehigh hospital, having been injured on the Duluth, Rainy Lake & Winnipeg railroad. It seems that while coupling some baggage cars, Carney in some manner happened to be caught between two, and was badly crushed. The doctors say he is injured internally and it is doubtful whether he will recover. Carney is a single man, about 35 years old.

heavier than expected. Brigham was quite generally "scorched" by the Democrats, who were apparently as free in voting for a Republican judge as the Republicans were in voting for a Democratic mayor.

The council will be Democratic this year, as predicted several days ago in The Herald, with nine Democrats and seven Republicans. In four of the six contests the Democrats won out, losing only in the Second of the eight wards.

The most exciting fight was probably in the Eighth ward. Here, in spite of the fact that Cullum had a small majority, the Republican alderman was elected. This was largely owing to his personal popularity and his energetic campaign. His majority was small, being but 67.

The Sixth ward also proved to be a rather close fight, Mork being elected by 76 votes over his opponent, Charles Skoglund. The result was not unexpected, and had been freely predicted for several days past.

In the Fifth, Alderman McEwen verified the predictions of the last week, and ran far ahead of his ticket, beating his opponent out by 165 votes, the second largest majority in the city.

The four cornered fight in the Fourth ward went as predicted yesterday, Burgess winning out by 87 over Cook. Walker showed surprising strength, being but thirty-three votes behind Cook, while Knarre was a poor fourth.

The Third gave Frank Jordan a surprising majority. He was expected to carry it by from 50 to 100 votes, but he rolled up a plurality of nearly 200.

In the Second ward, Sam Staples simply played tag with Ole Jensen, the Democratic candidate, securing more than two votes to Jensen's one, and piling up a plurality of 408.

There was no doubt about the sentiment on the bond issue, and the voters left no question as to the legality of the bonds, as they not only gave them a majority of the lavender ballots, but a heavy majority of the entire vote cast at the election.

The returns last evening were bulletined in the council chamber, which was packed to its capacity until it was definitely known that Cullum was elected.

The returns came in more rapidly than usual, the judges making good time. The first official return was from the little Colville precinct, which arrived about 9:30 p. m. and the last result was from the first precinct of the Fifth ward, which was brought in at 12:40 to the city clerk's office.

Unofficial returns on the mayoralty began coming in within half an hour after the polls closed, and before 8:30 p. m. it was seen that Cullum would be elected.

LISTERS TO PROTESTSTax Committee of County Board Hears Several Parties.Board Will Make Recommendations to State Auditor.

Commissioners Patterson, Kugler, Kauppl and Sundeen of the county board tax committee held a session yesterday afternoon, at which several interested persons appeared to enter protest against taxes on property that they claim they did not possess May 1, last year.

J. J. Cullen, through his attorney, S. T. Harrison, objected to his assessment on timber and logs at lumber, alleging the amount to be far in excess of the amount he should pay. Mr. Harrison was directed to present a sworn statement from Mr. Cullen concerning the exact amount of personal property he did have. The board will consider the matter, and recommendations will be made by that body to the state auditor.

The J. McAlpine Lumber company, that was assessed for a large quantity of lumber said to be owned by it in the Scott-Graff Lumber company's yards, last May represented that it had no lumber in Duluth at that time. The lumber in the Scott-Graff yards was claimed to have been sold prior to May 1, 1905. A sworn affidavit of the facts was called for, and this will be forwarded to the state auditor with the recommendations of the board.

Similar action was taken in the case of J. W. Fee of the Zenith Cedar company, who claimed that the lumber for which he was assessed in the Scott-Graff company's yards last spring had all been sold prior to May 1.

The Scott-Graff Lumber company was represented at the hearing by Fred Farmer, who presented a statement to show the exact conditions of the lumber stock in the company's yards May 1, 1905. Mr. Farmer claimed that the statement had been made after a very careful examination of the company's books. He was directed to present the statement in the form of an affidavit, to be forwarded to the state auditor with the board's recommendations.

In the matter of the personal property tax of the Bailey Lumber company, a question has been raised as to whether St. Louis county, Minn., or Douglas county, Wis., has the right to collect taxes on logs in the bay at Superior, but in transit to Duluth, to be manufactured into lumber.

The company was assessed on the logs at Superior, and objects to a further assessment on the saw logs on this side of the bay. The county commissioners maintain that under the state law logs are assessable where they are to be manufactured into lumber. L. C. Harris, attorney for the lumber company, held that while the law was undoubtedly applicable to logs that came from another county in the same state, he had doubts whether it could be applied to logs that were in another state. It was finally decided by the tax committee that the existing conditions should be certified to the state auditor for his ruling.

The remainder of the afternoon was spent with the commissioners, including Neil McInnis, in auditing the bills and accounts to be disposed of at today's meeting of the county board.

LONGWORTH'S
SELECTIONSOf His Best Man and the Ushers at the Wedding.

Cincinnati, O., Feb. 7.—The official announcement of the men whom Hon. Nicholas Longworth has selected to hold the important positions at his wedding was received in Cincinnati yesterday. The future husband of the president's daughter has selected men who were with him in Harvard university and several relatives to take the leading masculine parts in the important social function.

His best man will be Thomas Nelson Perkins of Boston, Mass. Mr. Perkins was a classmate of Mr. Longworth at Harvard. He is the son of Edward C. Perkins of Boston, formerly of Cincinnati. The father of the best man was a classmate of Mr. Longworth at Harvard. He is a nephew of Charles Perkins, president of the C. B. and Q. railroad, who recently gave the old Perkins homestead to the people of Cincinnati for park purposes.

The ushers are to be Quincy A. Shaw of Boston, Frederick Whitworth of New York, Francis R. Bangs of Boston, Guy Norman of Boston, B. A. Wallingford of Cincinnati, Lutz Anderson of Washington, D. C., Victor Charles de Chambrun and Theodore Roosevelt, Jr.

Mr. Longworth has selected five of his old classmates at Harvard to assist at his wedding—Mr. Perkins, who is to be best man, and Messrs. Shaw, Whitworth, Bangs and Norman, who are to be ushers. Mr. Wallingford is Mr. Longworth's brother-in-law, having married his oldest sister, Mr. Anderson is Mr. Longworth's cousin and a great-grandson of the original Nicholas Longworth. Victor de Chambrun is a brother of Count de Chambrun, who married the younger Miss Longworth. Theodore Roosevelt, Jr. is the son of the president.

Eat a Cascaret whenever you suspect you need it. Carry a little 10c Emergency box constantly with you, in your Purse or Pocket.

When do you need one?

—When your Tongue is coated —When you have Heartburn, Belching, Acid Risings in Throat.
—When Pimples begin to peep out.
—When your stomach Grows and Burns.

That's the time to expect coming Constipation, Indigestion and Dyspepsia. That's the time to take a Cascaret.

One candy tablet night and morning, taken regularly for a short time, is warranted to cure the worst case of Constipation or Indigestion that walks the earth.

One tablet taken whenever you suspect you need it will insure you against 90 per cent of all other ills likely to attack you. Because 90 per cent of these ills begin in the Bowels, or exist through poor Nutrition.

Cascarets don't purge, don't weaken, don't irritate, nor upset your stomach. They don't act like "Physic" that flush out the Bowels with a waste of precious Digestive Juice needed for tomorrow's Bowel-work.

No, they act like Exercise, on the Bowels, instead.

Then carry the little ten-cent box constantly with you in your purse, and take a Cascaret whenever you suspect you need it.

One Cascaret at a time will promptly cleanse a foul Breath, or Coated Tongue.

All druggists sell them—over ten million boxes a year, for six years past.</

ARRANGES A MATCH. Longstreet of Metropolitan Fixes One for Saturday Night.

Despite the illness of Frank Jordan, who was to have met Billy Maynard in a wrestling match at the Metropolitan Saturday night, Manager Longstreet of that place of amusement has arranged, on short notice, for a match that will probably be even better than the Maynard-Jordan contest would have been. He arranged for a go between Al. Powers of Chicago and Billy Maynard of Philadelphia. It will be for the best two falls out of three for a purse of $100, with straight holds barred and pin falls to govern.

Powers is said to have defeated several Chicago wrestlers of reputation and has confidence in his ability to throw Maynard. Powers weighs about 180 pounds and Maynard's weight is about 165 pounds.

It has stood the test for 30 years.

Washington, Feb. 7.—The Venezuelan government has requested the government of the United States to take charge of its consulate in France. Secretary Root has declined to comply with the request and will give the necessary instructions to the American ambassador in Paris.

KELLY STORE TO BE IMPROVED

Big Superior Street Establishment to Make Some Changes.

The F. S. Kelly Furniture company is planning some extensive improvements in its store on Superior street, between Second and Third avenues West, which, when completed, will make this establishment one of the foremost in this part of the country in point of completeness and appointments. The alterations will be made as soon as possible and will include a handsome new front, which will be one of the finest in the city. A giant electric sign over the entrance will emblazon the name of the F. S. Kelly Furniture company upon the minds of the pedestrians on Superior street at night. Electric lights will be freely used also in the re-decoration of the store. Every one of the seven floors in this big establishment will be thoroughly overhauled and re-decorated. Wherever improvements are needed, they will be made and the members of the firm have some excellent plans for their store, which will be carried out under their personal supervision.

Commissioner Morcom Accepts. Capt. E. Morcom of Tower, chairman of the board of county commissioners, filed his acceptance to the office of courthouse commissioner, with the county auditor this morning, and took oath to perform the duties of office before one of the district judges. Commissioner Morcom is the fourth of the five men appointed to the commission to file his acceptance.

GRANT FOR MAJOR GENERAL. Washington, Feb. 7.—The president today sent to the senate the nomination of Brig.-Gen. Fred D. Grant to be major general.

LAWSON VISITS GOV. JOHNSON

Arranges a Meeting With State Executive at St. Paul.

St. Paul, Feb. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Thomas W. Lawson arrived in St. Paul at 10:30 a. m. today for a consultation with Governor Johnson, who had been out of the city, returned to his office at 1 o'clock and negotiations having in view a "pour parler" were at once begun over the telephone. It is expected that they will meet about 2 p. m. and a statement is expected as to what the conference is about.

PASTOR ARRESTED.

Chicago, Feb. 7.—Rev. Justin G. Wade, pastor of the First Congregational church of Waukegan, Ill., was arrested today by postoffice officials on the charge of sending obscene letters through the mails. When arraigned before United States Commissioner Foote, the minister said that the handwriting of the letters was similar to his, but that he could not remember writing those particular letters. He also said that insanity ran in his family. The arrest of the minister was based on two letters sent to Andrew Kehoe, a boy living in Bloomington, Ill., and invited him to come to Waukegan to visit the writer. The boy was arrested some days ago in this city while acting in a suspicious manner, and the letters which led to the arrest were found in his possession.

COUNTY SEAT WAR. Crookston, Minn., Feb. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—The second round in the Sheelin-Bagley county seat war was started yesterday at Bagley, when the term of district court opened there with Judge A. A. Spruner of Bemidji on the bench. There are at the present time two temporary injunctions pending the decision of the district court, which every citizen of Crookston county is now anxiously awaiting.

DICTATION BY CAUCUS

Strongly Opposed in a Lengthy Speech by Senator Patterson.

Denies He Has an Understanding With the President.

Washington, Feb. 7.—In anticipation of a spirited discussion of Mr. Patterson's resolution declaring against the policy of caucus dictation in disposing of treaties with foreign nations, the senate galleries were almost filled when the senate was called to order today. Many arrived before the doors were opened and they waited patiently until they could be admitted. There was expectation that Mr. Patterson would be entertaining and the interest was not diminished by the report generally circulated in the chamber that some of the Democratic leaders would reply. All were, therefore, prepared for a day of much discussion, but no one ventured the opinion that the venerable champion of the senate, Mr. Edward Everett Hale had this fact in mind when he prefaced his prayer with the scriptural quotation: "I have set watchmen upon thy walls who shall never hold their peace day or night."

Mr. Patterson did not appear until a few minutes before the expiration of the morning hour. He was very promptly recognized by the chair. He began with a few words of a personal nature, saying that there was nothing he disliked more than to inject his own personality into a public question but at times such a course was necessary. He had, he said, supposed that his former remarks on the Santo Domingo treaty would be passed over as inconsequential, but the action of the Democratic caucus of last Saturday made it evident to him that he had been directly within the sphere of that caucus. He had, he said, made up his mind previous to the caucus and as it had thrown no new light on the question, he had not been impelled to change his position.

He said he had been called a "bolter" and a "White House Democrat," and that a New York paper had gone so far as to say that there had been an understanding between himself and the president and that an understanding of patronage and the senators' re-election had been reached. In refutation of this charge he said that he had never made but one request for an official appointment by the president and in that request was refused. The last interview he had had with the president was a month ago, he said, and he had been told that the president had transcended his authority in that he had been intimating the president. In this case, also, he had failed in his mission. There had been an emphatic refusal. He had a sudden termination of the interview and he had not since met the president. He was making on economic lines he deserved support.

"I admire and commend him for his brave position," he said. Mr. Patterson said that he expected the treaty to be amended.

"I do not object to the main features of the treaty," he said, "but if it is not amended, as I think it should be, I will take the new condition into consideration, and in the end do as I think I should."

Much of this statement was brought out by questions from Mr. Morgan.

CITY BRIEFS

The Scandinavian corps of the local Salvation Army will give a concert to-morrow evening at the Commercial avenue west and Superior street. Representatives from Sweden, Norway and Denmark will take part in the program, and St. Paul Capt. Engvall of Chicago will give an address of the concert is for the benefit of the building fund.

"Resolved, that soap is the lever that moves the world" will be the subject under debate at the meeting of the Deliberative Assembly, which will be held this evening. Among the subjects on the program are "Insurance Investigation," "What's Happening in Russia," "Municipal Ownership," "Railroad Rate Legislation" and "Jerome of New York."

The closing of testimony in the Cedar Island lake case, which started on Monday in the land office, is still going on and will probably take the rest of the week.

The United States court Judge Morris is this afternoon charging the jury in the personal damage suit of Odin Endahl against the Northern Pacific road. Edward Stokes of Mesaba Station, a lawyer, has been appointed to represent the charge of sending obscene letters through the mails. When arraigned before United States Commissioner Foote, the minister said that the handwriting of the letters was similar to his, but that he could not remember writing those particular letters. He also said that insanity ran in his family. The arrest of the minister was based on two letters sent to Andrew Kehoe, a boy living in Bloomington, Ill., and invited him to come to Waukegan to visit the writer. The boy was arrested some days ago in this city while acting in a suspicious manner, and the letters which led to the arrest were found in his possession.

hitherto used as a game preserve. The Barra men for years have claimed the right to cultivate Vatersay, but have been unable to get the necessary permission from the authorities, and now they have seized the island, have apportioned it into small farms, and have distributed them among themselves. IRREGULARITIES IN POSTOFFICE Alleged in Testimony at the Force of Life Hearing.

New York, Feb. 7.—Alleged irregularities in the United States postoffice department were the subject of testimony today in the examination of the Force of Life company. The postal authorities have charged this company with conspiracy to defraud through use of the mails. Attorneys for the defense today cross-questioned John S. Cooper, who for two days has been testifying as a witness for the prosecution and who helped to gather evidence against the company. In the course of his examination today Cooper repeated a conversation which he said he had in Syracuse with E. V. Neal, the then president of the Force of Life company. Neal, the witness said, told him that the postoffice department was "crooked" and that a brother of one attorney of the government had come to him, Neal, with an offer to revise his literature.

This man, Neal told the witness, went to Gen. O'Brien, now president of the Force of Life company, and made an offer, but it was rejected. Answering questions of the counsel for the defendants, Cooper said the man who made the offer was "a brother of the attorney general." "Did you say this man was a brother of a United States postoffice attorney?" asked counsel for the defendants. "I said a brother of an attorney general," replied Cooper.

"As I remember, Neal said the man was in Chicago," said Cooper. At this point the case was adjourned until tomorrow.

PLEAD WITH THE COUNTESS

Paris, Feb. 7.—Strong efforts continue to be made in behalf of the Castellane family to bring about the abandonment of the divorce suit begun by the Countess Boni De Castellane (formerly Anna Gould) but up to the present the desired result has not been achieved. An attempt made to obtain the countess' assent to a judicial separation, without an absolute divorce, has also been unsuccessful, and probably the case will pursue the ordinary course, coming up for a hearing at no fixed date, but it is thought it will be heard in three weeks hence. According to the French law there is no further necessity for the defendant to appear unless the judge decides that his evidence is essential. The prosecution of the case relative to marriage settlements, each party resuming control of their own property, a divorced woman may not remarry within ten months.

THE CROFTERS OF BARRA ISLAND SEIZE VATERAY.

Edinburgh, Scotland, Feb. 7.—The crofters of Barra Island, Hebrides have seized the neighboring island of Vatersay and declare their intention to resist by any means necessary to dislodge them. A regular was expedition was fitted out by the invading islanders, who came with a fleet of boats and with flags flying and pipers skirling Highland battle tunes, soon effected a bloodless landing on Vatersay.

Here's an Elegant Spring Suit and It's a Bargain

Here is one of the new Spring models, which we present as an example of the Gidding way of doing things.

It is a really beautiful style, graceful in line and striking in effect, made of the handsomest light-weight chiffon Panama that the coming season can show, and trimmed in a way to please the woman who wants style and plenty of it, but who dislikes conspicuousness.

It is a jaunty Eton model in your choice of old rose, tan, Alice blue, gray, dark green, royal blue and black, with the proper three-quarter sleeve and bodice girdle.

We don't believe you can buy a suit that is its equal in material, make-up or style for less than $40.00. You certainly cannot buy one like it anywhere else for anything like our price—

BILL WOULD ABOLISH LIEUTENANT GENERAL.

Washington, Feb. 7.—Provision for the abolition of the grade of lieutenant general, the highest rank in the army, is made in the army appropriation bill, which has been ordered reported to the house from the committee on military affairs. The section is very brief, simply providing that the place shall not be filled after the retirement of the incumbent, Lieut. Gen. Bates. Another provision of the bill, if accepted by congress, will stop the practice of promoting general officers for the purpose of retiring them at a higher grade.

LEFT TWICE AT ALTAR.

Fiance of Illinois Girl Deserts Twice Within Two Days. Springfield, Ill., Feb. 7.—Twice deserted at the altar within two days, and by the same man, is the fate of Miss Ella Holdaway of this city. The recent woeer is John Watson, who is now supposed to be in Chicago.

The time first set for the ceremony was Sunday night at the bride's residence. The bride party gathered, but Watson did not appear at the appointed hour. Search was made for him, and it was found he had left his boarding house in the afternoon. Miss Holdaway learned his trunk had been taken to a railway station, went there and waited, with a policeman, until Watson appeared. The young man attempted to escape, but was stopped by a policeman.

Watson made excuses and it was agreed the wedding should take place at 3 p. m. Monday. Again he failed to appear. It was learned later that he had taken a train for Chicago.

WAUKEGAN MINISTER JUMPS IN FRONT OF A FAST MOVING TRAIN

Rev. Justin G. Wade Attempts to End His Existence.

Arrested Wednesday for Sending Obscene Matter Through Mails.

Chicago, Feb. 8.—Rev. Justin G. Wade, pastor of the First Congregational church of Waukegan, Ill., who was yesterday arrested by postoffice inspectors for sending obscene letters through the mails, attempted to commit suicide today by throwing himself in front of a train on the Chicago & Northwestern road. His injuries did not prove immediately fatal.

The train was a fast passenger from Green Bay, which had slowed down slightly preparatory to the stop at the Waukegan depot. The minister rushed upon the track, and when the engine was about twenty feet distant, threw himself flat upon his face. He was struck by the pilot of the engine and hurled many feet to one side of the track. A large crowd of people was on the depot platform waiting for the train, and the attempt at suicide was made in view of them all. Mr. Wade was at once conveyed to the hospital, where it was announced that he had a chance for recovery, although the probable outcome of his injuries could not be predicted until a more extended examination had been made.

At noon it was announced that the injuries received by Mr. Wade would probably cause his death in a short time.

THE VOLUME OF INTERNAL TRADE Last Year Was Largest in History of the Country.

Washington, Feb. 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—The aggregate volume of the internal commerce during the year 1905 was undoubtedly the largest for any corresponding twelve-month period in the history of the country, according to reports received by the department of commerce from the various bureaus of statistics. The greatly increased activities in the iron, steel, and copper industries, were particularly worthy of note, having caused iron production to increase 10 per cent, and steel production to increase 15 per cent, and copper production to increase 10 per cent. The volume of internal trade was also increased, the total value of goods and services sold in the country being $10,000,000,000, or 10 per cent more than in 1904. The volume of foreign trade was also increased, the total value of goods and services sold in the country being $10,000,000,000, or 10 per cent more than in 1904. The volume of internal trade was also increased, the total value of goods and services sold in the country being $10,000,000,000, or 10 per cent more than in 1904.

PITTSBURG HAS BAD FIRE SCARE

Alarm Sounded for Blaze in a Big Department Store.

Pittsburgh, Feb. 8.—An exciting fire scare caused today by an alarm being sounded for a supposed fire in the large department store of Kaufmann Bros., situated in the square bounded by Fifth avenue, Smithfield and Diamond streets and Cherry alley. There was no fire, however, and the alarm was turned in by a pedestrian, who said he had seen dense clouds of smoke coming from the eighth floor of the structure. The trouble was caused by the bursting of a steam pipe in the kitchen, located on the eighth floor, and the steam issuing from the windows assembled smoke. More than 1,500 persons, a majority of them girls, are employed in the building, and there was considerable excitement on the upper floors.

FAMILY OF THREE BRUTALLY MURDERED.

Dotham, Ala., Feb. 8.—Waltering in a house of their own, three persons were brutally murdered by J. M. Christians, his wife and son were discovered early yesterday at their home, near Cottonwood, Ala. The murder was committed Tuesday night and robbery is supposed to have been the motive. A reward of $1,000 for the capture of the perpetrators has already been offered.

STOVE WORKS BURNED.
Pittsburgh, Ohio, Feb. 8.—Fire this morning destroyed the Stove Works and a number of adjoining buildings and stables. The loss may reach $100,000, partly covered by insurance. Several firemen were injured by falling walls.

LOCAL GRIEVANCES MAY CAUSE STRIKE OF 12,000 PENNSYLVANIA MINERS

Large Mass Meetings Being Held to Discuss the Matter.

Men Say Operators Are Not Living Up to the Agreed Scale.

Miners at Pittsburgh Await Mitchell's Decision on Dolan.

Dubois, Pa., Feb. 8.—Large mass meetings are being held at Reynoldsville and Pottsville today to consider local grievances that have kept some of the miners idle for several weeks. The miners claim the operators are not living up to the agreed scale.

National Secretary W. B. Wilson is expected into this afternoon. No definite action will be taken until he arrives. About 12,000 miners are involved and the decision made today may result in a general strike.

Pittsburgh, Feb. 8.—Practically no business is being transacted by the Pittsburgh district miners' convention, pending receipt of President Mitchell's instructions to Vice President Lewis, in connection with the trouble between the delegates and President Dolan and Vice President Uriah Bellingham of the Pittsburgh district, whose resignations have been demanded by the delegates through resolutions and addresses during the past three days of the convention. Mr. Lewis stated to the Associated Press today that President Mitchell had again wired for additional particulars regarding the trouble, and that he would do absolutely nothing until President Mitchell's orders were received. At the morning session of the convention today the same animated discussion, caused by Dolan and Bellingham's refusal to resign, which has marked previous sessions, was in evidence. All matters relative to ousting the officers are immediately declared unconstitutional by Dolan and ruled out.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Feb. 8.—The joint committee of anthracite miners held its first annual business session at 2 o'clock today. Up to noon only one of the thirty-six members of the committee had registered. The district presidents and other officials prominent in the United Mine Workers' union were in attendance as to what the demands of the miners will be.

REAR-END COLLISION IN GEORGIA; FIVE HURT.

Forsyth, Ga., Feb. 8.—A rear-end collision between a Chicago-Florida fast train and the train which left Atlanta at 9:15 o'clock last night for Savannah occurred near this city on the Central Georgia railroad, shortly after midnight. Five passengers in the rear sleeping car of the Savannah train were injured, but none was fatally hurt. The blame for the collision has not been fixed.

WEALTH IN TOOL CHEST.

Heirs of Recluse Find $10,000 and Search for More.

Waukegan, Wis., Feb. 8.—Sixteen thousand dollars of the wealth supposed to have been accumulated by the recluse B. B. Brown, who recently died, has been found. Government bonds to the amount of $10,000 were found in an old tool chest and his house and bank books showing that $6,000 is in the vaults of a local bank. The heirs, however, are not satisfied that this is all of the fortune left by their relative, and will dig over all of the lot on which the house stands next spring. Brown lived alone, and left no will, so that it is not actually known how much wealth he died possessed.

CUMMINS WILL RUN FOR ANOTHER TERM.

Princeton, Iowa, Feb. 8.—Governor A. B. Cummins, who arrived here yesterday to address the farmers' institute, made the statement for publication that within a few days he expects to announce his candidacy for a third term nomination by the Democrats. This will relieve the position of the Cummins followers in the eleventh district, who have been handicapped in their opposition to George D. Perkins of Sioux City in his efforts to pledge the district to him before Cummins entered the field.

While the opposition to Perkins has been bitter, it had no leader. The governor's announcement is expected to rally most of his following in the district to his support and a determined struggle with the Perkins forces will result. The governor was greeted by a great crowd of farmers, who were enthusiastically in his address yesterday, spoke for the primary and the president's railroad-rate regulation program.

EARTHQUAKES IN ECUADOR.
Guayaquil, Ecuador, Feb. 8.—Slight earthquakes were felt here yesterday throughout the day, and at night a heavy shock was experienced.

HOCH WILL BE HANGED

Illinois Supreme Court Denies Rehearing of His Case.

The Modern Bluebeard Sentenced to Die on Feb. 23.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 8.—The supreme court this morning denied a rehearing in the case of Johann Hoch, sentenced to be hanged in Chicago, Feb. 23, for wife murder.

Chicago, Feb. 8.—News of the denial of his petition for a rehearing by the supreme court, was broken to Johann Hoch at the jail soon after word had been received here. Hoch was apparently unmoved, simply saying: "Oh, that is all right."

NO RESEMBLANCE, SAYS WITNESS

"O. K." On Letter Entirely Different From Mann's Handwriting.

New York, Feb. 8.—Edwin B. May, a handwriting expert, as the first witness today in the trial of Col. W. D. Mann, editor of Town Topics, on a charge of perjury. The witness was called by the prosecution. He was questioned about the characters "O. K." and "W. D. M." which is alleged, Col. Mann wrote on a letter from Count Reginald Ward, answering questions put by Martin W. Littleton, Col. Mann's counsel, as to the "O. K." the witness said:

"It has no resemblance whatever to the other pieces of handwriting admitted to be specimens of Col. Mann's handwriting."

CONFIRMED BY SENATE.

Washington, Feb. 8.—The senate yesterday confirmed the following nominations: Major Gen. John C. Bates, U. S. A., to be lieutenant general; Brig. Gen. Adolphus W. Greely, signal officer, to be major general; Col. James Allen, to be chief signal officer with rank of brigadier general, Wisconsin; A. N. Nott, Chilton; H. McInnes, Edgerston; Allan Rogers; Hudson, J. J. Schulte; Kevanue; George Graham, Tomah.

HEPBURN'S RAILROAD RATE BILL PASSES HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES BY OVERWHELMING VOTE OF 346 TO 7

SUMMARY OF THE HEPBURN RATE BILL.

The bill, according to Mr. Hepburn's statement, in closing the debate on the measure, was intended and did, so far as it could be made, comply specifically with the recommendations of President Roosevelt on the rate question. It gives the interstate commerce commission authority, when a rate has been complained of as "unreasonable" by a shipper, to investigate that rate, state whether or not it is unreasonable, and if found to be unreasonable to name a rate which is to be just and reasonable and fairly remunerative, which is to be the maximum rate to be charged.

This rate so fixed is to go into effect thirty days after it is announced by the commission, subject during that time to be set aside or suspended by the commission or by the courts. After it has gone into effect it is to remain the rate for three years. During this time, the opinion has been expressed by those who have participated in the debate that the rate may also be reviewed by the courts and if found to be in conflict either with the terms of the act or with the constitution, by being confiscatory, can be set aside by the courts.

Another important feature is the definition of the words "railroad" and "transportation" in a manner to include all auxiliary instrumentalities of the common carrier and to bring them within the control of the commission. This power to name a reasonable rate and the inclusion of the auxiliaries within the jurisdiction of the commission are said to be the new features. All other provisions are modifications of existing law. They include publicity of railroad methods which is to be aided by prescribing a system of bookkeeping and enlarging the commission to seven members and increasing salaries of members to $10,000 a year.

TOTAL ECLIPSE OF THE MOON Will be Beautiful Phenomenon If the Sky is Clear.

Washington, Feb. 8.—Naval observatory officials will take observations of the total eclipse of the moon tonight and early tomorrow morning. With a clear sky, one of the most beautiful phenomena witnessed in this part of the world is promised by the scientists. The eclipse will begin at 12:57 a. m. and end at 4:37 a. m.

The eclipse will be seen in its beginning in North and South America and Western Europe and Africa. The ending will be generally visible in North and Central America, Western South America, Northeastern Asia and Australia.

Assistant Astronomer G. A. Hill, of the naval observatory, said today that the observatory will make observations of the exact time at which some stars pass behind the moon and emerge again, by which, with a knowledge of the speed at which the moon travels, the exact diameter of the moon can be figured.

PLEET BOUND FOR LEIGHORN.
Leighorn, Feb. 8.—Rear Admiral Sigbee, commanding the United States cruiser squadron now at Nieuw, has telegraphed to the American representatives here, asking that the necessary arrangements be made for the arrival of his squadron at Leighorn in a few days.

SCITKEY JOINS UNION.
Washington, Feb. 8.—Rear Admiral W. S. Schley, U. S. N., retired, was last night mustered in as a member of Col. Theodore Roosevelt's garrison No. 74 of the Army and Navy union. Several hundred members of the union from different regiments in the city were present.

In response to questions by several members of the committee, Wolfe said that in Brigham Young college, Ogden, Jorgensen and Florence Reynolds were the only students whom he knew to have become plural wives. He thought that children of polygamous relations looked upon polygamy as a divine institution.

Of the Provo citizens whose names were read, only one, Thomas C. Channell, having been a polygamist since the manifesto. A number of the songs alleged to have been hostile to the government of the United States were put into the record and Wolfe said these songs were sung frequently.

William J. Thomas of Spanish Fork, Utah, the next witness, said he had gone through the endowment house in 1889 and had taken an oath to "avenge the blood of the prophet, Joseph Smith, upon this nation and to teach his children to do so down to the third and fourth generations." He said he was dropped from the church.

Littlefield, McCall, Weeks, Southwick, Vreeland, Sibley Voted No.

Passage of Measure Greeted by Applause by the Spectators.

Pension Bill Taken Up in Committee of the Whole.

Washington, Feb. 8.—Before voting on the railroad rate bill today, the house passed a senate bill of minor importance. The army appropriation bill was reported to the house by Mr. Hull (Iowa).

Anticipating the roll call on the rate bill there was a large attendance of members and the galleries were crowded.

After the roll call, the announcement of the passage of the bill was received with a ripple of applause. Speaker Cannon stated the vote to be 346 yeas and 7 nays. Those voting against the bill were all Republicans. They were Littlefield (Mo.), McCall and Weeks (Mass.), Perkins, Southwick and Vreeland (N. Y.), and Sibley (Pa.).

Mr. Sullivan (Mass.) voted "present" and was not paired. There were twenty-eight members paired, but these pairs were generally political ones. None of them was a member of the bill, and consequently did not indicate a position.

The pension appropriation bill was taken to the committee of the whole, with Mr. Madden (Ill.) in the chair. General debate on the bill was limited to three hours, and Mr. Gardner (Mich.) in charge of the bill, took the floor.

In presenting the pension appropriation bill to the house today, Mr. Gardner (Mich.), in charge of the measure, detailed an interesting array of information concerning pensions. Forty years after the Civil war, when the pension application is at its maximum, there are 1,000,000 pensioners, all but 25,000 of them from that war, with an annual cost of $130,000,000. In the 35,000 are represented veterans of all other wars the country ever had.

The Civil war cost $2,000,000,000. It is the largest time half as much again has been paid out for pensions, and Mr. Gardner predicted that by the end of the war will have cost the government $10,000,000,000. The pension rolls will contain 500,000 names, of which 25,000 will be from the Spanish-American war. At the present time, he says, the pension cost the government just one-fourth of all other expenses. In 1867, one year after the war, the interest on the public debt was $143,751,000 and the pension roll $2,000,000. As to amount, Mr. Gardner compared this pension roll of $130,000,000 with that of France, with an annual expenditure of $20,000,000; Germany, $12,000,000; Austria-Hungary, $10,000,000; and Great Britain, $9,000,000.

As to Spanish war veterans, he said, today there were more of them on the pension rolls than were in Shafter's corps. The necessity of enacting the president's order No. 75 into law as provided for in the bill, was explained by Mr. Gardner. This order was intended to work automatically and to make the only proof of disability, Commissioner Warner had found the only evidence in connection with his operation. By eliminating surgeons' fees, Mr. Gardner estimated that by acting the order into law, money would be saved to the government and benefit extended to the veterans. The amendment he regarded as a virtual service pension law, saying in time it would place every soldier of the Civil war on the pension roll at a maximum pension of $12 a month.

NEW CABINET OF ITALIANS
Names of Successors to the Fortis Ministry Made Public.
Rome, Feb. 8.—The new Italian cabinet succeeding the Fortis ministry, which resigned Feb. 2, is composed as follows:

Premier and minister of the interior, Baron Sidney Sonnino; minister of foreign affairs, Count Giolitti; minister of justice, Signor Saccchi; minister of the treasury, Luigi Luzzatti; minister of finance, Signor Salandra; minister of agriculture, Signor Pantano; minister of public instruction, Signor Boselli; minister of public works, Signor Carmine; minister of war, Signor Mahoni; minister of the navy, Admiral Miraballo; minister of posts and telegraphs, Alfredo Baccelli.

Although the majority of the ministers are Conservatives, the new cabinet includes Signor Pantano, who has always professed Republicanism, and Signor Saccchi, the leader of the Radicals, who now for the first time is holding a portfolio.

Count Giolitti, the new foreign minister, belongs to a noble Tuscan family. He is the great grandson of the famous Florentine historian, Francesco Guicciardini, and formerly minister of agriculture.

CONSIDERING A NEW MOVE

Modern Samaritans of State May Form a Grand Council.

Members Have Turned This Proposition Down Twice.

Local councils of the Modern Samaritans in Minnesota are considering the formation of a grand council for the state and this matter will come before Alpha council No. 1 of Duluth, and the mother lodge of them all, at a special meeting, to be held this evening. Twice before, the Samaritans have considered this move, but it was turned down each time because of the additional expense. The maintenance of the grand council would mean an annual per capita tax of from fifty cents to a dollar.

The constitution of this order, which was founded in Duluth in 1897 and the imperial council which is still located in this city, provides that the councils of any state wherein the total membership has reached the $200 mark are privileged to organize a grand council, although this move is by no means compulsory.

There have long been enough members in Minnesota to warrant the councils in taking the step, but thus far they have not deemed it prudent. It is probable, however, that the grand council will be organized this time. A favorable vote of twenty councils is all that is necessary to bring the matter about. An assessment of fifty cents a year upon each member will probably be made to maintain the grand council.

If the grand council is formed, much of the local supervision of the lodges will be in the hands of the grand officers. They will visit the different lodges and work for an increase in membership, although the imperial council will not cease its efforts along those lines.

A grand council which represents a membership of 3,000, or a major fraction thereof, is entitled to one delegate to the imperial council. The Minnesota grand council, if it is formed, will be entitled to two delegates.

The Modern Samaritans are in a very good condition, financially and otherwise. Just now, the membership has been increasing at a very satisfactory rate, and the imperial officers are much pleased with the prospects. Delegates to the imperial council are increasing the membership, and all of the local councils are in a flourishing condition.

There have long been enough members in Minnesota to warrant the councils in taking the step, but thus far they have not deemed it prudent. It is probable, however, that the grand council will be organized this time.

FIGHTS AT LONG RANGE

Sheehy Starts Action Against Duluth Official in St. Paul.

Warrant Charging Criminal Libel is Awaiting His Return.

Joseph Sheehy has been heard from again, and this after the Duluth authorities had supposed they had lost him forever. Sheehy is now sojourning in the Twin Cities, and from that point of vantage he is attempting to wreak his vengeance at long range on the local city officials. Assistant City Attorney T. J. McKee in particular, by instituting a civil action in Ramsey county district court for damages in the amount of $2,500 for alleged malicious prosecution.

Just why Sheehy started the action in Ramsey county instead of St. Louis is not clear, but it is said that McKee does not develop, but it is indicated that, inasmuch as there is a warrant out here charging Sheehy with criminal libel in connection with some matter he has said about Mr. McKee, that he probably has reasons for staying away at the present time.

Mr. McKee makes affidavit that he is defendant in a $2,500 damage suit for alleged malicious prosecution, in which Sheehy is plaintiff. The alleged malicious prosecution is said to have consisted in the prosecution of a charge of drunk and disorderly conduct against Sheehy in the municipal courts of this city. Mr. McKee now recites that he is now and has been for fourteen years past a resident of this city and that he has never been convicted of any crime.

The clerk of district court of Ramsey county has notified Clerk of Court Johnson of this county that the affidavit and demand for a change of venue from the Ramsey county court to the district court of this county is in the hands of the clerk.

Mr. McKee's prosecution of Sheehy's case was successful in municipal court. Sheehy was convicted and sentenced to a term of sixty days in the city jail, without the alternative of a fine.

Sheehy made application for a writ of habeas corpus, but this was denied. He then took an appeal to the state supreme court, and his appeal was sustained on a technicality, based on a clerical error in the records kept of the case in municipal court.

Sheehy claims that this prosecution was with malicious intent, and that he has incurred his enemy, until the matter came to be looked on in the light of a joke. Recently, however, his attitude has changed, and he has assumed a virulent form that steps will be taken to put an effective stop to any further efforts along that line.

HAPPENINGS IN THE DAKOTAS

Baden Man's Face is Burned in a Peculiar Manner.

NORTH DAKOTA.
Baden—John Mellon, Sr., was badly burned about the face and hands as the result of a peculiar accident at the home of his son. A lace curtain accidentally caught fire and Mellon was in the act of tearing it down when suddenly there was a flash as of an explosion and he was enveloped in flames. What the explosion was, or the cause of it, there was no powder in the house.

Fargo—Mayor Wall and former Mayor Johnson are again to be the opposing candidates for the mayoralty. Efforts to get either one to withdraw and make a unanimous choice have been unsuccessful. The proposition to have both withdraw and select a third candidate was not more successful because of the inability of either faction to suggest a suitable compromise candidate.

Lakota—Women of the Congregational church have received word from Andrew Carnegie that he will contribute a dollar toward the erection of a monument to the memory of the women who were active in the Congregational church here.

Grand Forks—Deputy Sheriff Frank Wynne received word from the governor of that state for the return of J. L. Boshman on charges of highway robbery and selling mortgaged property. Boshman is a prominent rancher in Oklahoma, is charged with robbing Edwin Shockley of $25 on the night of Jan. 3, a few miles from Lexington. On the other charge, Boshman is accused of selling mortgaged property to a number of persons.

The railroad rate bill was received from the house, but the senators generally were not made aware of its arrival. The bill was referred to the committee on interstate commerce.

Mr. Hale, from the committee on appropriations, reported the urgent deficiency appropriation bill and gave notice that he would tomorrow ask the senate to take up the bill.

RANGE COMPANY INCORPORATES

Mesaba Range Traction Company is Now a Corporation.

Articles of incorporation of the Mesaba Range Traction company, which has a franchise to build and operate a railway system on the streets and highways of the city of Duluth, and cities of St. Louis county, were filed with the register of deeds this morning by F. S. Hopkins of Hibbing and Porter J. Huff and E. A. Cullen of this city.

The company is capitalized at $2,000,000, divided into 500 shares, and the limit of its indebtedness is the same as its capital stock. The life of the corporation is forty years from date of filing.

The purposes of the new traction company have been mentioned several times in the past, and the public has been informed of the company's franchise. In general it proposes to build and operate railway lines on the streets and highways of the city of Duluth, and cities of St. Louis county, by any power that is deemed advisable. It will also construct telephone and telegraph lines and plants for supplying the public with gas, water or electricity.

The principal business of the company will be at Hibbing. Another corporation to file articles to build the Hector Iron company, with a capital stock of $100,000, and promoters are L. J. Smith, James W. Leach and Lee W. Farmer.

Governor of West Virginia Says They Make or Unmake Towns.

Washington, Feb. 8.—There was a larger attendance in the senate galleries today than on any previous day of the session, and the proceedings of the day by referring to a petition presented by him from the West Virginia state, which complained that the Baltimore & Ohio company had refused to permit that company to connect its tracks with those of the Baltimore & Ohio, thus, as Mr. Tillman expressed it, "bottling up the company." He said that at that time Mr. Tillman said there was a remedy under the state laws of West Virginia. He then presented a letter from Governor Dawson of West Virginia complaining of the difficulty in administering the laws. The governor added:

There may be the Pennsylvania Railroad company does not legally own a controlling part of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad company, or the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad company, or the Norfolk & Western Railway company, but I have no doubt that an investigation will show that the Pennsylvania company practically controls these three great trunk lines, whereby the products of this state, including coal, can be shipped to either the lakes or the ocean.

TO MEET NEXT AT WINONA

State Federation of Women's Clubs Select Place of Meeting.

St. Paul, Feb. 8.—(Special to the Herald.)—The State Federation of Women's Clubs will hold its annual meeting next October at Winona. The choice was made this morning by the executive board, in the course of its midwinter meeting at the Hotel Ryan. Three invitations had been received from cities eager to welcome the club women.

Having little other business of importance the executive board soon adjourned to meet in an adjoining parlor with the standing committees of the federation. They had been called for a joint session by Mrs. J. L. Washburn of Duluth, the state president. Several "lines of work" were considered.

EX-TREASURER OF WISCONSIN

Uses Pe-ru-na In His Own Family as a Catarrh Remedy.

GEO. W. HONEY, Ex-Treasurer of the State of Wisconsin, is a man of wide acquaintance and extensive experience. He has used Peruna in his own family with the most gratifying results. It gives it unqualified endorsement as an efficacious catarrh remedy.

It is just such testimony as this which has given Peruna such a high standard in the estimation of the American public.

There is no possible way to gild such frank and genuine testimony. The only way to account for such testimony is the fact that Peruna really does what is claimed for it. Because it relieves catarrh, it clears the system of a great many different chronic diseases.

Catarrh is the stronghold of lingering diseases. Once rid the system of catarrh and it is very difficult indeed for disease to linger very long.

Follow Dr. Hartman's Advice. Mr. John C. Nelson, Dayton, Tenn., geologist and mining engineer, while a Captain in the Federal Army during the Civil War, contracted a case of rheumatism.

This malady was constant and persistent, inducing the development of other ailments, which also became chronic. After taking a course of Peruna, Capt. Nelson writes:

"Having been formerly afflicted with chronic rheumatism and the adjunctive complications for many years, and after having received many general and special treatments with only temporary relief, I read your scientific treatise on catarrhal diseases.

"At my request, you presented for me a special course of the Peruna remedies, which I closely followed, and on being told that my rheumatism and complicated ailments are subdued, and I feel young again at the age of sixty-five years.

"Reason will accept your classification of catarrhal diseases as scientific and true, and the Peruna remedies as a standard treatment for them.

"I thank you heartily for your skilled and helpful advice.

Mr. James D. King, Alamo Hotel, Colorado Springs, Col., member Youngmen of America, writes:

"I had to come here on account of lung trouble and found that my recovery was slow.

"A friend suggested that I try Peruna and I did so. I began to improve very rapidly and in four weeks my lungs were all healed and my cough all gone. I feel ing, on the charge of assault, and pleaded guilty.

"How did you come to fire the gun at this woman?" asked the court.

"Well, your honor, I was intoxicated," said the witness, "and didn't know what I was doing."

"You can consider yourself very lucky in being brought before the grand jury," said the court. "This is a pretty serious charge, and you might as well have murdered that woman. What right have you got to carry a revolver around with you and shoot at a woman?"

"Chief Justice stated that the man had none to good a reputation.

"He was mixed up in a case here some time ago," said the chief, "where another negro was sent to Waupun penitentiary for shooting at a woman in a street car conductor. This man didn't do the shooting, but he was a companion of the negro who did, and from all I can learn, this man is a pretty poor character when he gets a little liquor in him."

Judge Cushing imposed the maximum sentence for third degree assault, fining the negro $100 and costs, with the alternative of ninety days in jail or hard labor.

Only the poor aim of Madison Alve, a colored man, and the fact that he was intoxicated and his hand unsteady prevented an earlier being committed last evening in one of the colored clubs on Michigan street.

Alve, in company with a colored woman named Tina Brooks, entered the club rooms, where a number of negroes were sitting about smoking and drinking. Alve was intoxicated, and he soon became involved in a quarrel with the woman. He suddenly struck at her and knocked her down.

As she lay on the floor he pulled on a revolver from his pocket and fired at her. Fortunately he was so intoxicated that his hand was unsteady and the bullet struck the wall, doing no injury beyond a slight scratch.

Before he could fire again the other occupants of the room pulled him away and disarmed him.

He was arrested and brought into court this morning before Judge Cushing.

WEAK, WEARY WOMEN

Learn the Cause of Daily Woes and End Them.

When the back aches and throbs, When housework is torture, When night brings no rest nor sleep, When urinary disorders set in, Women's lot is a weary one.

There is a way to escape these woes. Learn's Kidney Pills cure such ills. Have cured women here in Duluth.

This is one Duluth woman's testimony:

Mrs. M. McMillan, of 1228 Superior street, west, Duluth, Minn., says: "I just as heartily endorse Dean's Kidney Pills today as I did over six years ago, when I had found relief from dull pains through the loins and other symptoms of kidney trouble. My back would give out if I exerted myself in doing even the most trivial household work. I had persistent headaches, and my rest did not benefit me at night. The kidney secretions were likewise irregular. Double kidney pills helped me from the start, banished the backaches, headaches and pains and imparted strength to the different organs, and helped me in every way I have had no occasion to use any kidney medicine since that time."

For sale by all dealers. Price, 20 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

WEST DULUTH

HITCH IN DOCK PLAN

City Must Get Right of Way for Ramsey Pier.

Matter is Up to West Duluth Land Company.

The matter of the Ramsey street dock is up to the West Duluth Land company. During the excitement of the campaign and the election it was dropped for some time but it is already being taken up in West Duluth again, and the citizens want something done as soon as possible. A number have been asking about it and say that if it is allowed to drag, the first thing they will know another summer will have passed before the dock will become a reality. The original resolution to build it passed the council before the opening of navigation last year and the dock is still merely a prospect. West Duluthians want to avoid this condition for the coming season and ask that the matter be pushed.

The city has made the necessary $2,000 appropriation and the money is now available. City Attorney Foster has, however, raised a point which must be decided before the dock is built. The city owns no property, at least none with a clear title, at the foot of Ramsey street on the water front and this must be secured before anything is done. The land all along there is owned by the West Duluth Land company and as the tract of this company is a large one, it should be built out from a water outlet for the public. The matter came up a long time ago and the company seemed to have in view of the fact that the public is completely isolated so far as the water front is concerned, and will be built at the foot of Ramsey street and access be allowed to it over the company's property.

But City Attorney Foster presented the case to Alderman Barnes in a different way and Alderman Barnes coincides with his view. It is this: That after the city has gone to the expense of building a dock, access to the same may be shut off and the dock should be the company's property for coal docks or for other purposes necessitating water frontage. The city attorney insists that some sort of a long term agreement or a ceding of property for the purpose be secured from the company.

Therefore, Mr. Barnes has taken the matter up with the company and while the representatives of the latter seem favorable, nothing has been done and the matter is hanging fire. It is hoped by West Duluthians that the city will see its way clear to grant the right of access as requested. West Duluth is anxious to get a dock as many of its citizens work on the water front and make a long trip around via car line to get to and from work when the matting is down and it should be simplified by the use of a ferry.

PLANNING A CONCERT.

Swedish Mission Church is Almost Entirely Renewed Lately.

On Feb. 15, the Young People's society of the Swedish Mission church will give an entertainment at the church for the benefit of the building fund. Addresses will be given by Rev. E. A. King of the West Duluth, A. F. Freyman of Superior; there will be singing by the church choir, a solo by Mrs. J. H. Jern, a solo by Prof. A. E. Anderson and refreshments.

The church has just been extensively renovated, the work being done since the building was moved from its old location to the lots donated to it by L. P. Highmark at the corner of Green and Fifth streets, and the new building, a new steel ceiling has been put in, the walls have been plastered and painted and decorating is now going on.

Later on union revival services will be held in the churches of which an announcement will be made later.

INSTALLS OFFICERS.

Foresters Go to Proctor to be Cere-monies.

A number of members of the Women's Catholic Order of Foresters of West Duluth went to Proctor last night to attend the installing of officers of the order.

The officers installed were: Mrs. William E. Kern of West Duluth, acting as installing officer. The other West Duluth women who attended were: Mesdames M. Burns, H. Kingman, W. Broadwell, J. H. Roar, C. Schultz and H. M. Kott. After the ceremony of installation was over, Rev. Father Walsh gave an address on the work of the order and the rest of the evening was spent in listening to a good program and enjoying refreshments. The officers installed were as follows:

Chief ranger, Mrs. Royman; vice chief ranger, Mrs. Fitzgerald; recording secretary, Mrs. Ellen Keating; financial secretary, Mrs. Mitchell; sentinels, Mrs. E. Renaut and Mrs. A. G. Murray; conductors, Mrs. Austin and Mrs. O'Toole; trustees, Mesdames La Vague, Renault and Bowen.

RAILROADS

GOING INTO SOUTHWEST

Movement of Homeseekers in That Direction is Unusually Heavy.

Northwest Also Getting a Good Share of the New Settlers.

It is expected that all previous records will be broken this year in the number of people who will take advantage of the special homeseekers' rates into the Northwest territory. These rates went into effect last Tuesday, and railroad officials estimate that 25,000 persons left the first day for the Southwest through the gateways of Chicago, St. Louis and Kansas City. The movement out of Duluth was not very heavy, for people up this way appear to prefer the Northwest as a place of residence. The movement into the Northwest, according to local railroad officials, will amount to a considerable number of people. Low homeseekers' and one-way colonist rates will be in effect during February, March and April, and a good many inquiries concerning them have been received. Extensive areas of good farming lands are still left in Minnesota and throughout the country to the west of the Missouri river. The rates are a very small cost.

Of late years the Southwest has become a close rival of the Northwest for the homeseekers' business, and the movement to the south has been growing steadily. Last year the biggest day's business was done on Feb. 1, and that was on the first day the low rates were put in effect, so for the beginning of 1906, the Southwest business shows and increase of 100 per cent.

The railroads with interest in the movement to the Southwest have for several years made low rates for homeseekers, and the result has been a steady increase in the number of settlers. Some statistics have been kept, and it is found that more than 100,000 of the persons who take advantage of the low rates to settle this section of the country settle there.

NEW PIECE OF TRACK.

Southern Pacific Now Has Line Into the Colorado Desert.

San Francisco, Feb. 8.—After an expenditure of about $50,000, the Southern Pacific officials announced yesterday the final completion of a new piece of track 23 miles long in the Colorado desert, which will enable their trains to run without interference from the waters of the Colorado river, which have filled the Salton sink and raised about 30 miles of their main line. The new track leaves the present main line at the Salton sink and runs west of it, and joins the main line again at the Colorado river.

They, to make the line perfect, give her back the shells to eat.

Interchange Business With Wash.

Tired of waiting for the other Eastern roads to meet the Washburn in establishing an export rate on corn to the Atlantic seaboard from the Missouri river of 25 cents, it is said the Western roads have agreed to throw over their connections with the other Eastern roads and will make overtures to the Washburn to interchange that business with them. A meeting for the latter part of this week has been arranged between Western roads and Washburn officials, when the proposed arrangement will be made. It is expected, it is rumored that the Grand Trunk and Erie will agree to meet the Washburn rate.

Western Speed Fight Ended.

The Western roads have agreed to get together on the mail contracts, which will be awarded next spring, for South Pacific coast mail and beginning on Sunday they will cease struggling to beat each other to the coast. The fight has been bitterly waged ever since the Rock Island got the mail away from the Santa Fe last summer, and has resulted in a tightening up of schedules on the California lines. An arrangement has been entered into between the Santa Fe, lengthening the time to Los Angeles from sixty-seven to sixty-nine and a quarter hours, and the Santa Fe announces a change in leaving time beginning next Sunday.

Railroad Notes.

W. W. Walker, general freight agent of the South Shore road, who has been ill for the past few days, was at his office again today.

Official announcement has been made from the office of Vice President W. C. Brown of the New York Central line that William H. Marshall, formerly general manager, will leave the Lake Shore road to become president of the American Locomotive company.

RAILROADS

GOING INTO SOUTHWEST

Movement of Homeseekers in That Direction is Unusually Heavy.

Northwest Also Getting a Good Share of the New Settlers.

It is expected that all previous records will be broken this year in the number of people who will take advantage of the special homeseekers' rates into the Northwest territory. These rates went into effect last Tuesday, and railroad officials estimate that 25,000 persons left the first day for the Southwest through the gateways of Chicago, St. Louis and Kansas City. THE BLAKE HAT

DEMURRER SUSTAINED

In Action for an Accounting of $12,000,000 Worth of Bonds.

New York, Feb. 8.—Justice Fitzgerald, in the supreme court yesterday, sustained the demurrer raised by H. McTwombly, in the action brought by Graham F. Blaney and others against William K. Vanderbilt, Chauncey M. Depew, Twombly and several other directors of the New York & Harlem Railroad company and the New York Central & Hudson River Railroad company, for an accounting of the $12,000,000 worth of bonds of the New York & Harlem company, which the plaintiffs allege were purchased and disposed of by the defendants for considerably less than their market value.

The defendant Twombly maintained that the complaint did not disclose a sufficient cause so far as the bonds were concerned, and that it clearly appears that Twombly was not a director of the company at the time the bonds were issued, and that the complaint is defective in its issue of the bonds, the contract having been made before he was a director and the contract could only have been repudiated by the corporation or a majority of its directors, and not by the individual directors.

The complainants are given twenty days in which to file a new complaint.

Gets a Valentine.

PANTON & WHITE COMPANY
THE BIG GLASS BLOCK STORE
WHERE QUALITY IS PARAMOUNT

There's a money saving here for you.

Housekeepers' Friday!

That's what tomorrow is at the Glass Block store. We give you below a collection of everyday necessities, at figures way below our regular prices—and those regular prices a little the lowest in the city for equal standard of quality. Housewives will do well to take careful note of this and our succeeding Friday announcements—and profit by these "saving prices."

Housefurnishings.

Clothes wringers—$1.25

Our "Defender" No. 10 wringers—heavy solid hardwood frames, double wood and rubber spring construction, thumb screw adjustment, with two good quality solid rubber rollers—not less than $1.65 in hardware stores—Friday, here, for only $1.25.

Oil stoves—89c

"Defiance" 2-burner oil lamp stoves—well known to be thoroughly reliable—you'd ordinarily pay $1.50—we buy direct from the factory and can sell them Friday for 89c each.

Waffle irons—69c and 79c

A fine thing in household equipment—at 79c and 89c they're cheaper than in hardware stores—but we'll put on an additional cut on Friday—like this—size 8 for 69c; size 9 for 79c.

Iron skillets—25c, 29c and 35c

Some of you probably just in need of one—well, here they are, CHEAP. Sizes 7, 8 and 9 really cheap at 35c, 30c and 25c, respectively—Friday they'll go for as little as 25c, 29c, 35c.

Matches—40c, doz. pkgs.

"Dragon" matches—sell regularly at 5c a package of 3 boxes. It will pay to buy Friday, at this price—GOOD matches—40c for a dozen packages.

Graters—7c

"All-round" graters—3 graters in one—coarse, medium and fine—trough handle. You'd think it cheap at 10c, but Friday's price is less—only 7c each.

Chair seats—5c

Round, square, bell-shaped and oblong—all sizes—regular values up to 10c—any of them for 5c.

REMEMBER! These prices are for Friday only—a special inducement to buy housefurnishings on Friday. Comparison will show the big values there are.

Crockery Dept.

100-piece dinner set—$5.95

Here is a set of the finest grade semi-porcelain, in the new "Mt. Vernon" shape: smooth, even finish; perfectly shaped and finest glazing. We sell it regularly for $7.95—we save $2.00 by buying Friday—100 pieces $5.95.

Water goblets—$1.00 dozen

Heavy, clear glass, Colonial pattern and in the new shape—different from the former kind—been selling at $1.25—Friday's price $1.00.

Sherbets—85c dozen

Footed Colonial glass sherbets—a neat and attractive little shape—save 25c a dozen by buying them Friday—were $1.10—dozen 85c.

Japanese cups and saucers—23c

That beautiful thin Japanese china, with beautiful hand-painted Japanese figured design in red, green and blue—they came too late for the holiday trade and that's the reason you get them at this price—worth 35c each—23c.

Sugars and Creams—19c set

Real china, prettily decorated and gold stippled edges—and a shape that's better than the ordinary—been selling them for 35c—Friday they'll be but 19c a set.

Gas mantles—10c

Clover cap mantles—the best 15c mantle we've ever sold—good, clear light and durable—we'll sell 5 to a customer Friday at, only 10c each.

Lamp special—Half

Season growing late for lamps—so we'll give you choice of a lot of about 25 beautifully decorated, large globe, round burners—worth up to $6.50—Friday for Just Half Price.

would look young and, what is a great deal more important, would feel young when she has reached 60. I give you an interest in life and keeping that interest before you as the main thing in life secure other interests that you may not become mentally warped.

"The mind, I think controls the body more than the body can control the mind. So far I agree with that American sect, which you call, I believe, Christian Scientists.

"The art of acting has been the one great passion of my life. Yet, devoted to the stage from a school girl, I have nevertheless found time to study painting, sculpture, and to devote myself to literature and playwriting, while enjoying a full measure of social life.

With fads of beauty culture and all that sort of thing I have little sympathy. I still feel myself young and my friends are good enough to tell me that my appearance has been so far preserved that when I am enacting youthful roles the illusion of youth is not marred by the footlights. When it pleases God to bring me to that point where I no longer look or feel young—I shall accept my fate with a courage as strong as that with which I met the many rebuffs which befell me at the outset of my career.

I have one simple rule of diet which I have followed all my life and which I strongly recommend to every one else. But what you like to eat and how you eat it is your own business and I have no right to interfere.

I have done much work in my life and I have enjoyed many pleasures. The work took time and the pleasures took time, but I enjoyed the one not less than I enjoyed the other and my sixty-one years have passed too quickly for me to take the time to grow old in them.

"Worry, the fretting over trifles, I have never indulged in. The woman who worries is certainly destined to premature age and wrinkles. The worries that present themselves to us in the form of great calamities can be avoided by none of us, but the petty worries of life count a thousand victims to one who is destroyed by the news of some really tragic event.

"In view of the interest taken in modern fads of beauty culture and the like, I feel almost ashamed that I can not give to the thousands of women who read your great newspaper recipes for some marvelous ointment or draught which would supply the place of the fabled fountain of youth. Yet I, the tragedienne, must confess to a homely common sense and declare that I know not how youth may be preserved unless she who seeks its preservation will adapt herself to the frame of mind which I have found to be an absolute necessity in my own case.

"Your American slang is a very expressive language. When leaving in train which took me from New York to Chicago in twenty hours, I expressed a wish to shake hands with the engineer whose watchful care had brought us safely at such a tremendous speed as was made by our train. To this engineer I did express my thanks and he, very politely, although the words may not sound so polite, said: 'Forget it.'

"These words stuck in my mind. I laughed over them heartily at first, but upon reflection I find that they pretty clearly express all that I have tried to say by way of advice to those women anxious to retain the great gift of youth. The philosophy may be somewhat pagan. But I feel sure that it may be followed to advantage."

WHAT RETAIL MARKETS OFFER.

Beef pot roast, 12½ cents a lb.

Head roast, 12½ cents a lb.

Porter house steaks, 25 cents a lb.

Blood sausage, 12½ cents a lb.

Baldwin apples, 40 cents a bushel.

Silver skin apples, 40 cents a bushel.

If one of your pot roasts isn't ready, have one roasted for you tomorrow. The people that like them say they are fine, and when you hear don't cook kitchen, you'll know they are. The real thing sends one's thought discontentedly to porter house steaks and fillets of beef.

There are in the market and just a bit of one might be added. Theoretically, pot roasts are all right, but practically they make one think one doesn't care a bit.

how much of the commercialism of the age sizes hold of one if but a more aristocratic cut of beef might be provided.

If you are tired of grape fruit and California oranges for your breakfast, don't forget hard apples and cream. An especially fine shipment of Baldwin apples have been received, better than any which have reached here this winter, says one of the market men. If they take kindly and the intervening space filled with air, they will supply one of the wants of this season. Because there is nothing after than nice baked apples and nothing so liable to induce thoughts of the woes of your lot, than the aforementioned, hardy grown, in flavored, and over-cooked fruit.

TROUBLE IN RESTAURANT

Ernest Kennedy Tried to Whip Chinaman and Police Officer.

Hugh McDonald Pays for His Meal in Broken Dishes.

Ernest Kennedy's gorgeously colored optic fascinated the municipal court officials this morning.

In the center of the broad expanse of blackness which decorated the left side of Ernest's countenance, the shade was inky in its hue. As the darkness deepened, the shade became lighter. Two inches from the center it was a rich, dark brown. The dark brown faded into light brown further down on his cheek and on the outer edges were queer little blotches of tan. It looked as if Ernest had stuck his finger in the under the driver's "Where did you get it?" asked Judge Cutting, after Ernest had pleaded guilty.

"He went into a Chinese restaurant last night and ordered a dish of food. After eating it, he refused to pay, and ran out. The Chinaman followed him and tried to catch him. This man tried to kick both the Chinaman and the officer."

"It doesn't look as if he had been very successful at the job," said the judge. "Fifteen dollars and costs or twelve days."

Hugh McDonald had also been trifling with restaurant proprietors and had been in the meshes of the law.

"He entered a restaurant opposite the Union depot yesterday afternoon, and ordered a meal. When the proprietor demanded his money, Hugh playfully swept about two dollars' worth of dishes on the floor and strode out."

Tabloids: Excited proprietor dancing about on sidewalk, Hugh prostrate on the pavement, for cause of offer nonchalantly seated on Hugh's chest, twirling his club and waiting for patrol wagon.

It cost Hugh $20 to settle for the broken pieces of the state of Minnesota, to say nothing of the crockery. When the dishes, the food, the costs and the $20 interview with the judge are all taken into consideration, Hugh's meal was an expensive one.

The workhouse number on a pair of blue overalls gave John Johnson away. John was arrested for drunkenness, and as he stood up to plead guilty, Judge Tracy noticed for the first time on the top of the blue overalls he wore.

"Isn't that a book number?" asked the chief.

When the chief asked him to pay a brief visit to the Superior workhouse, "He is in jail most of the time," said the chief.

"He says he has a job now, though, and intends to go to work."

John eagerly affirmed the chief's statement.

"I'll suspend sentence this time," said Judge Cutting. "You'd better get out and go to work as soon as you can."

Simon Borrows pleaded guilty to vagrancy.

According to the police he was hanging about the Union depot looking for workmen having more money than that can conveniently handle themselves.

He was fined $50 and costs.

PURCHASES THE GOLF GROUNDS

Northland Country Club Acquires Land Adjoining Its Club House.

The members of the Northland Country Club have purchased eighty acres of land, comprising two blocks, on both sides of Superior street, at Twenty-fourth avenue east, and the organization now owns its own home in every sense of the word.

The land surrounding the club house is now the property of the organization, and all the members can do anything in the way of improvements that they choose. It is understood that more sports will be encouraged from now on, but enough with of course, be most prominent. There will be linkings of tennis and other sports in summer, and all of the which which this club will make possible during the cold months.

It is understood that the price paid for the land was $40,000. The grounds and club house now represent an outlay of something like $50,000. The membership of the club is 200.

The club will keep open house all the year around, and the skil, toboggan, snowshoe and hockey enthusiasts will keep things lively during the winter months. Among the affairs for the fall, probably the most important is a show. The first of these will probably be held next autumn.

ECZEMA SUFFERERS

and thousands of wretched people suffering from skin diseases will be interested in this

ASTOUNDING GOOD NEWS

We are pleased to announce that we have arranged with the manufacturers of the wonderful to act as distributors for this city and vicinity of this well-known preparation, and will not only sell D. D. D. at retail at our store, but will supply druggists at wholesale prices.

D. D. D. Prescription

This arrangement will enable those suffering the tortures of the damned from skin diseases to procure D. D. D. at their nearest drug store. It will bring happiness to thousands who are miserable—imagining they have a blood poisoning—when in nine cases out of ten it is purely a local parasitic manifestation on the skin which can be cleared away in a hurry. Such misery now cleared away as surely as the sun shines above. Not merely attempted—not a matter of improvement only—but a clearing of it all away absolutely—and quickly, too.

WE VOUGH FOR THIS

It has been proven to us beyond the possibility of a doubt that a new medicine quickly clears up the worst skin affections. Its work seems astonishing, amazing, almost miraculous. (It is a specific formula which, because of its discovery by Dr. D. D. D. is known as "D. D. D.") Its actual record sounds like a story of magic. But there is no room for doubt about it whatever; full proofs, indisputable in every respect, have been submitted regarding hundreds of cases—among them the case illustrated in this announcement. The case shown here (Mr. Charles Jacobs, psoriasis of many years' standing) was permanently cured. It is now nearly five years since the disease was cleared out of his skin and no taint of it has appeared since.

This is not merely a commercial matter, it is a matter of humanity to tell everybody with a skin disease about this medicine. Among the many cases proven to us of astonishingly quick and complete cures, all of which seem to have been permanent, many were photographed in such a condition that a reproduction in a newspaper would be perhaps too shocking for print. This case given here, in the case of humanity, this paper consented to print just as the patient appeared before and after treatment, though another newspaper refused to do so. Not a newspaper in Christendom but should publish every word of this information, pictures and all, if duty and not dollars were the governing rule.

WE PROVE IT.

To convince you we have arranged with the D. D. D. Co., so that any sufferer from any skin disease can get direct from the D. D. D. Co.'s laboratory a large five-ounce bottle of D. D. D. Prescription, together with 25 pages new pamphlet on skin diseases and free advice on your particular case from the world's greatest skin specialists.

MINERAL LANDS AND FRANCHISES

To Receive Particular Attention From Board of Equalization.

St. Paul, Feb. 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—At call of Governor Johnson the full state board of equalization met in the old capitol today to discuss taxation. E. T. Champlin of Blue Earth county was elected chairman; W. A. Hardenberg of Ramsey, secretary and reading clerk, and W. R. Holmes of Brown county, recording secretary.

This organization will probably last through the regular meeting next fall, when the actual work of the board will be done. In connection with the state board of equalization about forty or fifty county auditors met here also to talk taxation matters over between themselves.

The state board of equalization has divided real estate into three classes, namely city, county and mineral, indicating that besides ordinary real estate the mineral interests of the state will be touched up. A committee of seven has been appointed to examine into the three subjects and will report next fall.

Public service corporations and franchise holdings are also in a searching process. It was decided today to engage the services of an expert to go after these interests and learn all that can be ascertained about them. This man will be a lawyer besides being an accountant and, therefore, will do things as they should be done and none is expected to escape its liability.

A Habit to Be Encouraged.

The man who has acquired the habit of keeping on hand a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy saves himself a great amount of uneasiness and anxiety. Coughs, colds and croup, to which children are susceptible, are quickly cured by its use. It counteracts any tendency of a cold to result in pneumonia, and if given as soon as the first symptoms of croup appear, it will prevent the attack. This remedy cures nothing injurious, and mothers give it to little ones with a feeling of perfect security. Sold by all druggists.

CHURCH PROPERTY

Will be Taxed in Quebec If Pending Bill Goes Through.

Quebec, Feb. 8.—A measure which, if passed, will mean that property of the Catholic province in this province will be taxed, passed through the private bills committee yesterday. It is to enable the municipality of Rimouski, a small town on the lower St. Lawrence, to acquire the property of the Roman Catholic church, including the bishop's palace, the seminary and the convent. The first value of the new spring goods are arriving daily. A contest is expected against it in the legislature.

FERGUS FALLS FIRE.

Fergus Falls, Minn., Feb. 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Bismarck hotel was seriously damaged by fire yesterday, which broke out near the chimney. The fire was soon brought under control. The fire was soon brought under control.

Burglars entered the department store of Johnson Bros. & Saunders at Fergus Falls, Minn., and secured about $150 worth of jewelry and cutlery. The entrance was made with a key that would unlock one of the doors. There is no clue to the identity of the burglars.

Piles Cured

Suffering for Years, and Bed-Ridden From Piles, a Contractor of Marion, Indiana, is Cured by Pyramid Pile Cure.

Trial Package Sent Free to All Who Send Name and Address.

"I was troubled with piles for several years before I would let it be known. But at last they became so severe that I could not walk and I had to take to my bed. I tried everything and anything the doctors prescribed, and took their treatments for a long time. But nothing ever did me any good. I had seen your ad. in different newspapers, so I got a 50-cent box and began using them. From the very first I got quick relief and by the time I was cured. Now you can use this as your proof. I was cured in three days. Yours, T. A. Sutton, Stone and Cement Contractor, Marion, Ind."

Instant relief can be gotten by using the marvelous Pyramid Pile Cure. It immediately reduces all congestion and swelling, heals all sores, ulcers and irritated parts.

The moment you start to use it your suffering ends and the cure of your dread disease is in sight.

The Pyramid Pile Cure renders an operation unnecessary. Don't submit to the cruel, painful and dangerous surgery of the surgeon's knife. Besides, it is expensive and humiliating and rarely a permanent cure.

The Pyramid Pile Cure is put up in the form of "easy-to-use," specialty made, suppositories. They are soothing, painless, instant and certain.

A trial treatment will be sent to you at once by mail, in plain sealed wrapper, without a cent of expense to you. If you send your name and address to Pyramid Pile Cure Co., 1361 Pyramid Building, Marshall, Mich.

After you receive the sample, you can get a regular-size package of Pyramid Pile Cure at your druggist's for 50 cents, or if he hasn't it, send us the money and we will send it to you.

INDIAN ROMANCE HAS TRAGIC END

Death Intervenes, Where Tribal Influences Failed to Kill Love.

Chicago, Feb. 8.—Like a legend of old times is the story of George Muscoe, a full-blooded Chippewa Indian, who died yesterday at his home on the South side. One of the best educated men of his tribe, an athlete of prominence, and soon to become the husband of Mary Smith, the most beautiful girl of the Chippewas, the young man was seized by that dread disease of all civilized Indians—pneumonia.

Despite the opposition of his father, who was the last of a long line of hunters and chiefs, the boy went to Carlisle. A natural-born athlete, he entered vigorously into the college sports, and his prowess on the track and football fields is a matter of history at Carlisle.

When, when he graduated with the highest honors, he returned for a visit to his people. It was then he met the girl. He wooed her, and soon to become his wife. He was not his equal in civilization. He offered to don the blankets of his tribe, but she would have none of it. A compromise was effected by the young woman attending Carlisle.

The natural disposition of the old Indians of an educated member of their tribe soon caused Muscoe to again leave the home of his people. He progressed rapidly and soon became the chief clerk of that firm.

During all this time Mary Smith was working and studying with all the tenacity of her race to make herself worthy of her suitor. She graduated just before Christmas, and at once began preparation for the wedding. But one week ago Muscoe was taken ill.

As yet, the intended bride has not been informed of her sweetheart's death. She is at the home of her people in the north, making ready for the wedding. The body of the young Indian will be sent to Cedarville, Mich., for burial.

Carpenter Sues Temperance Society.

John Kankkangas of Eveleth has started suit in district court against Walter Lohde camp, No. 24, Finnish National Temperance Brotherhood of America, to recover $250.40 alleged to be due him for carpenter services on a lodge hall built at Eveleth last summer. Kankkangas has a lien on the building and asks the court to order a sale to satisfy his claim. Max Shapira, who also has an interest in the lodge property is one of the defendants.

FINDS BODY IN THE SNOW

John Hanson Discovers the Corpse of His Missing Partner.

Mystery Surrounds Death of Martin Brecken, Wood-Chopper.

For the purpose of ascertaining the cause of death, a postmortem examination on the body of Martin Brecken will be held this afternoon by Coroner McCuen.

Brecken's body was found yesterday afternoon, half buried in a snowdrift, in a little clump of timber, about a mile and a half east of Hunter's Park, by John Hanson, his partner.

Hanson and Brecken have been chopping wood together during the winter, and had a shack a short distance from Hunter's Park.

Brecken told his friend that he intended to come to the city to make some purchases, and Monday morning, about 9:30 o'clock, he left the shack for the purpose of examining some rabbit snares which he had set.

Hanson thought nothing of his friend's absence until Tuesday night, thinking he had gone to the city. Tuesday afternoon, when he had not returned, he came to the city in search of him, but Brecken had not been seen at the boarding house owned by Ole Halverson, on St. Croix avenue, where he was accustomed to stop while in the city.

Hanson was thoroughly alarmed by this time, and he returned to his shack and began a systematic search for his missing partner. He followed his trail in the snow, and about a quarter of a mile from the shack he discovered the body lying face upward and with the knees drawn up.

Hanson feared to touch or examine the body, in the belief that he would be violating the law, and immediately came to the city and notified the coroner and the police.

Durkin and Crawford, the undertakers, sent a wagon after the body this morning, and this afternoon the coroner will hold a postmortem examination, and an inquest, if necessary.

Brecken was unmarried and about 30 years of age. Hanson said that he had no special trouble worrying him, and that he was not of a melancholy disposition. He said he did not believe that Brecken had committed suicide. He was unable to state whether or not the dead man had any money in his possession.

The cause of death will not be known until after the postmortem examination has been held.

CO-EDS SHUT AWAY FROM BOY PUPILS

Segregation Experiment in Chicago Schools Stirs Students to Protests.

Chicago, Feb. 8.—One by one, 700 girls with long sad faces, filed out of the Englewood high school yesterday afternoon. Two hundred and fifty longer and sadder masculine faces followed them. In the schoolyard they collected in groups and 350 voices muttered complainingly:

"It's a perfect shame, we all ought to quit," murmured a soft feminine voice, approvingly.

"Why, there won't be a boy left in the school by the end of the year," laughed a pair of small, red lips.

"No a girl either," protested a pair of downy lips.

It was the first day of the experiment of segregation. The idea is not popular with the students.

The experiment of segregating the girls is being tried by Principal James E. Armstrong in the hope that it will prove his contention that boys will get more out of their school work if instructed separately. The study course in the school has been divided into three sections for the purpose of experimentation. One of the sections is composed entirely of boys, another of girls and the third mixed. At the end of the term the progress of the sections will be compared and upon the result of this comparison, possibly, depends the future of the school.

CONFESSES HE ROBBED WIDOW

Clerk's Admissions Will Cause Reopening of Ogden Estate.

New York, Feb. 8.—Francis S. Whitehouse, wife of William Fitzhugh Whitehouse, and a niece of William B. Ogden, has begun proceedings in the surrogate's court to have set aside a decree, signed on Nov. 25, 1901, by which the accounts of the executors and trustees of the Ogden estate were approved. Mrs. Whitehouse alleges her application on the admissions made by a clerk in the employ of the late Andrew H. Green, that he had forged certain deeds and mortgages and so defrauded the estate out of about $100,000.

William B. Ogden, who was the first mayor of Chicago, and also president of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway company, died in 1877, leaving a large fortune, which he tied up for the lifetime of his widow, who died in September, 1894. She and Mr. Green were the surviving executors, and the property had increased under their management until it amounted to $2,727,736. When the accounts of the executors were last passed upon, they were made up in Mr. Green's office, and when the clerk confessed, after Mr. Green's death, to his forgery, it came out that these falsifications had entered into the Ogden accounts. Green was murdered by a negro in November, 1895.

The many heirs under the will of both Mr. and Mrs. Ogden are interested in the present proceedings, and it is expected that there will be much litigation before the final accounting can be made and restitution exacted from the estates of the executors.

WALKER WANTS FOREST RESERVE

Will Aid Cass Lake to Have the Boundaries Changed.

Walker, Minn., Feb. 8.—(Special to The Herald)—Walker proposes to come to the relief of Cass Lake and the national forestry bureau, as was evidenced by an enthusiastic mass meeting held Tuesday night, called by the Commercial club, where resolutions were unanimously adopted approving a national forest reserve and suggesting that the boundaries of such reserve be changed so as to include lands on Leech Lake and adjacent to the village of Walker. While all towns in Northern Minnesota are under the policy of the forest reserve, Walker will stand alone as upholding the forestry bureau, and action has already been taken by the Commercial club to lay the matter before the Minnesota delegation in congress, members of the forestry commission, and the forestry department to establish a portion of the Leech Lake Indian reservation, and to end the Morris bill.

Later in the spring there will doubtless be a rush of small sever and grading contracts, but even aside from these the work now contemplated will make a good showing.

A PERFECT FOOD.

That Scott's Emulsion should act so quickly and satisfactorily in all cases of lost flesh and continued wasting is not surprising when its food value is understood. With pure Norwegian cod liver oil, hypophosphites of lime and soda and glycerine, there is combined in Scott's Emulsion the best elements of nourishment and strength building known to medical science. Any physician will tell you this. The use of these ingredients in the proper proportions; the employment of only the purest grade of each, and to combine them perfectly is the secret of the success of Scott's Emulsion. You will not find a more certain way to stop waste, build flesh and strength and supply nourishment than through Scott's Emulsion.

SCOTT & BOWNE, 409 Pearl St., New York.

Street Improvements already under way for this year, will make the season a busy one for the board of public works, even if no others are commenced later in the spring.

As soon as the snow leaves the ground in the spring the work on the West Superior street pavement will be taken up at the point where it was abandoned last fall, and completed.

The first new work to be undertaken will be the pavement of Second street from Sixth avenue west to Seventh avenue east. This was petitioned for in 1902 and all the preliminaries were arranged, the first assessment being filed for collection. The work was ordered stopped by the council, however, on the statement that the water-board intended to lay some new mains in the street, which would necessitate the tearing up of the pavement.

Last year the work again petitioned for and all the preliminaries were gone through. It was held up, owing to the fact that the revolving fund was tied up for bids by the time the frost is out of the ground.

The pavement of Tenth avenue east from London road to Fourth street, has been ordered and the advance assessment is under way. This will be ready for bids in the spring.

The paving of Seventh avenue east from London road to Superior street, has been petitioned for and ordered by the council.

The paving of Greyhound road, formerly Third street, from Twenty-second avenue east to Twenty-eighth avenue east, has also been petitioned for and ordered by the council.

The grading of the alley between Fourth and Fifth streets from Twenty-third avenue west, and the construction of a sewer, will be undertaken this year.

Two contracts are ready to be let for the paving of Third street from Fifty-first to Fifty-fourth avenues east and in Greyhound road from Twenty-third avenue west to Twenty-eighth avenue east, and a combined sanitary and storm sewer outlet to the lake, in Thirty-first avenue east.

A short sewer will also be constructed in the alley between First and Second streets, from Twenty-second avenue east to a point between Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth avenues east.

Last but not least is the Park Point sewer system, which has been petitioned for and ordered by the council. It is a sewer in prospect in Greyhound road from Twenty-eighth avenue east to Twenty-sixth avenue east, and a combined sanitary and storm sewer outlet to the lake, in Thirty-first avenue east.

HAWAIIANS CALL

ON THE PRESIDENT.

Washington, Feb. 8.—A delegation of Hawaiians called on President Roosevelt to discuss with him matters pertaining to the islands. The Hawaiians will press vigorously the recommendation of the president in his last annual message. The president advocated among other things, strong fortifications for the islands, the importance of which he said today could scarcely be overestimated.

NO CHANGES ARE LIKELY

Present Heads of City Departments Will Probably be Reappointed.

Democrat Likely to be Chosen as President of Council.

With one possible exception, no changes are likely to be made in the city officers as the result of Mayor Cullum's re-election.

In all of the important city offices the present incumbents will doubtless be again appointed, although the mayor has as yet made no announcement of his intentions.

The only office with regard to which anything is known, is that of chief of police. Mayor Cullum announced before his election that Chief Fryer would be retained if he were returned, and the chief will therefore continue to hold his present position for two more years at least.

Rumors of some contemplated removals are not given much credence, and all of the heads of departments will in all probability be reappointed with one possible exception.

The mayor, as yet, refuses to make any statement regarding his plans or commit himself in any way. He is being haunted by seekers after offices, and will probably take a short vacation until the fever of some of the office-seekers has abated.

Among the appointments which the mayor will have to make as soon as he commences on his new term, are those of chief of police, city attorney, city assessor, city engineer, health commissioner, private secretary, building inspector and one member of the board of public works. The term of Thomas Dillon on the board, expires this year.

The heads of these departments appoint their own assistants. The men occupying all of the above offices are likely to be reappointed, with one exception, according to the statements of a well-known politician, and close friend of the mayor's, this morning.

City Clerk H. W. Cheadle is said to be safe for another year. With nine Democratic aldermen in the council, his re-election is practically assured. He has named himself almost invaluable to the council, owing to his long term of service and his intimate knowledge of the city's affairs, and with one or two exceptions the Republican aldermen also favor his re-election.

Volie Sampson, the city sealer of weights and measures is said to have a fight on his hands.

He is claimed to have been supporting some of the defeated aldermen, and he will have strong opposition when he comes up for reappointment.

President Haven of the council is likely to be replaced by a Democrat. There are three possible candidates for the place. Aldermen Schaffer, McEwen and Tesson. They are the three senior Democratic aldermen and one of them is likely to be chosen as president.

DEATH DUE TO

HEART FAILURE

Heart disease was undoubtedly the cause of the death of Martin Brecken, the woodcutter, whose body was found near Hunter's Park yesterday afternoon.

John Crawford, of the firm of Durkan & Crawford, who brought the body to the city, stated that the man was found lying on his back in such an attitude that it was evident he had fallen backward while attempting to cut his rabbit snares. There was no sign of any struggle in the snow, and no mark upon his body to indicate violence.

The coroner had not yet examined the body at 2:30 o'clock, but his verdict in all probability will be death from heart disease of some nature.

DANIEL WAITE

IS PRESIDENT

The Jobbers' Credit association held its annual meeting at the Commercial club this noon and elected the following officers: Daniel Waite of the Blake & Waite Co., president, re-elected; J. C. Donnelly of the Twenty-Bimco Co., vice president; W. B. Cross of E. A. Patrick Co., treasurer, re-elected; James H. Nolan of the Knudsen-Ferguson Co., secretary, re-elected; and E. H. Green, assistant secretary. Plans for a banquet to be held about the middle of the present month, probably Feb. 15, were discussed. An attractive program of toasts will be arranged for the event.

BISBEE STOCKS

ARE VERY WEAK

This was another day of dullness in the stock market. North Butte was quiet, opening at $87, dropping to $86.12, and sold as high as $87. The closing price was $86 bid and $86.75 asked. Anaconda sold as high as $114.62, as low as $113.25, and closed at $114 bid and $114.50 asked. United Copper opened at $75 and closed at $74 bid and $74.50 asked.

The Bisbee stocks were very weak today; weaker than they have been for some time. Calumet & Arizona was inactive and closed at $15 asked. Calumet & Pittsburgh at $36 asked. Denn-Arizona sold at $25.50 and closed at $26 asked. Junction closed at $28 bid, Lake Superior & Duluth at $35 asked, and Pittsburgh & Duluth at $23 asked, after selling at that price.

Black Mountain sold at $12 and closed at $11.50 bid and $12 asked. Keweenaw closed at $17.50 asked, Warren at $19 bid and $19.50 asked, and Sullivan at $2 asked.

son. The bill passed the house almost unanimously. By the provisions of the bill, it will go into effect twenty days after the governor affixes his signature to the bill. It is not known whether the governor will sign it or not, but it is rumored that he will.

ALL MUST WALK AFTER SATURDAY

Elevator Will Not Run in Government Building—Funds Fail.

Those who frequent the government building will be interested to learn that after Saturday the elevator will not run and those having to go to offices on the upper floors will have to "hike" both ways.

This is made necessary by a shortage of funds in the appropriation for assistant custodians and janitors, and Joseph L. Smith, the elevator attendant, was also notified by letter that after Saturday his services will not be required, and one chair-woman will be let out on that day. For the present, at least, the positions mentioned are abolished in the government building at this point. For the same reason, the salary of the engineer of the building has been cut down $7.50 per month. It is supposed, although not stated in the letter, that each government building throughout the country will be similarly dealt with.

It is believed that it is simply a case of the appropriation running short and that congress has no other plan but additional appropriation in the emergency bill.

JAMES WOOD IN CHARGE AGAIN

Resumes Post as Superintendent of Calumet & Arizona Smelter.

James Wood, who resigned his position as superintendent of the Calumet & Arizona smelter of the Bonanza Circle group, at Douglas, Ariz., in December, has been notified to return to the place and resume charge Saturday.

Following is an account of the circumstances, taken from the Arizona Dispatch, of the issue of Sunday, Feb. 4:

James Wood, who resigned as superintendent of the Calumet & Arizona smelter, Dec. 1, on account of friction with the superintendent, resumed his former duties there yesterday afternoon. Mr. Wood went to the reduction works at 1 p. m. yesterday and took charge of the plant from Arthur Houle, who was appointed by General Manager Farnell when Mr. Wood resigned.

"The many friends of Mr. Wood will be pleased to learn that he has again in charge of the smelter of the Bonanza Circle. He will move his family to the superintendent's residence at the smelter works, the last of the week."

"Mr. Houle, who retired yesterday, has not found any fault with the smelter, but his friends say that he will not remain in the service of the Calumet & Arizona company."

THOSE WHO HAVE PASSED BEYOND

Washington, Feb. 8.—Col. G. W. Stocking, a member of the board of engineers in chief of the United States patent office, died today of cancer of the throat at his residence in the patent office in September 1905.

San Francisco, Feb. 8.—Thomas R. Kenney, a prominent lawyer of this city, died yesterday. He was born in East Providence, R. I., in 1818.

Kenosha, Wis., Feb. 8.—Judge James M. Stebbins, one of the original settlers of Southport, and a resident of this county for nearly seventy years, died at his home last night after a long illness from heart disease. He was 76 years of age. The deceased was one of the best known men in this section of the state, and he had been prominent as a Republican for more than half a century, and held many offices of trust in the county.

Salt Lake City, Feb. 8.—Merriner W. Merrill, an apostle of the Mormon church, died today at his home in Salt Lake City, Utah, aged 74 years. Apostle Merrill was one of the wealthiest men in the Mormon church, and was the richest citizen of Cache county. He had been married nine times, and at the time of his death had seven living wives, each of whom was maintained on a separate estate. He leaves forty-nine sons and daughters, 140 grandchildren and several great grandchildren.

FORMER MANAGEMENT

Of New York Life Insurance Company Condemned by Committee.

New York, Feb. 8.—The report of the special investigating committee of the New York Life Insurance company, which was appointed by the trustees to investigate the company's affairs was made today and was adopted unanimously by the trustees. It condemned the former management of the company and recommended various reforms.

LONGWORTH BILL FAVORED.
Washington, Feb. 8.—The Longworth bill appropriating $5,000,000 for the purchase of American legations and embassies in foreign capitals, was favorably reported to the house committee on foreign affairs by a sub-committee today.

THE UPPER LAKE BOATS

Prospect of Two New Companies for the North Shore.

Would Operate Steamers in Competition With Booth Line.

It is possible, even quite probable, that three steamship companies, not including the Northern Navigation company, will operate boats the coming summer between Duluth and Isle Royale and north shore points, where only one concern, A. Booth & Co., had all the north shore and island business to itself last year.

A. Booth & Co. will be in the field with it, it is expected, at least one more boat than it had in 1905, and the Isle Royale Transportation and Hotel Co., backed by Capt. W. H. Singer and associates, will run steamers along the shore to Isle Royale. In addition to these there is likely to be a third company, the organization of which may be announced any time between now and the opening of the season, which will have for its purpose the conducting of a line of steamers in the same waters.

This last company is something of a mystery, but it is known for a certainty that an attempt is being made to raise sufficient capital to get it started in good shape, and it is said that such efforts appear to have an excellent chance of meeting with success. Certain parties are now working in Chicago among the capitalists there to get the necessary capital to put to advance money to start a steamship line to run to Duluth north shore and the Isle Royale.

Women's Spring Suits!

First Glimpses at Gidding's.

First striking feature of the showing is its variety. We think that never before this early were so many of the Spring styles shown. And the next notable point is the splendid tailoring. Even the most modestly-priced suits have all the style and finish that it used to be possible to get only in expensive custom-made wear.

Much that is new in fabrics is shown. Many are imported and naturally will not be found outside of Gidding's. The styles, too, are very largely exclusive and won't be duplicated elsewhere.

There are tight-fitting Coats, medium and short Coats, the new Norfolk jacket, pony Coats and the specially popular fancy Etons. The fabrics are chiffon broadcloths in the new pastel colors, smart mannish mixtures in plaids and checks, the fashionable grays predominating.

The skirts are all the new circular models, box plaited panel fronts and Princess effects.

Prices all the way from $25 to $80. It is a display worth seeing—especially the newcomers that have just arrived.

Beautifully Tailored Skirts

The charming beauty of these new styles is attracting almost as much attention as the prices. The models have been chosen from among the most creditable new designs of the leading manufacturers.

The Skirts are of the new gored and circular effects in black, navy, gray, Alice blue and white chiffon, Panama cloth and serge, trimmed with bands of self material—$7.50, $10.00, $12.25, $15.00 to $29.50.

New Straw Millinery for the Southland

Displayed at Gidding's.

Our own delightful weather tempts us to think that March, at least, is here—many an Easter Millinery showing has been made when weather was more Wintery looking than now.

But Spring has come, in the Sunny South—Palm Beach is welcoming those who are fleeing from the Northern Winter that must come, even though long delayed.

Already we have shown the exquisite Summer Dresses and scores of new suits are now in the show-room.

Today the Hats that Paris has evolved for the Riviera are here, in replica, for Southern travelers in our own Winter paradise—and a most beautiful exhibition they present.

The straws are all fine—leghorn, chip, Tagal, horsehair, and very fine English braids which are sewn together by the milliner. The new shades of green, lilac and rose predominate. But we shall not further anticipate the enjoyment to which we invite you.

INJUNCTION IS GRANTED

Globe Elevator Company Relieved From Grain Commission's Acts.

Judge Sanborn of the federal court at Madison, Wis., has granted an injunction restraining the Wisconsin grain commission and the Great Northern and Northern Pacific railroads from interfering in any way with the operation of the Globe Elevator company at Superior. The hearing to determine whether it shall be permanent will be held March 1.

It is understood that the other elevator companies will apply for the same injunction.

ONE STRIKE IS SETTLED

Boilermakers Gain Advance in Scale of Wages as Asked.

Return to Work After Two Weeks' Idleness—Concessions Made.

The boilermakers' strike is settled and for the greater part the strikers won. The adjustment was made last night, the men getting the advance they demanded, and making a concession in the matter of night work. No conferences were held until yesterday afternoon, when the employers sent an offer to the strikers that they would pay 25 cents an hour instead of 36, as demanded. This was not accepted, and last night the meeting came, and the employers capitulated.

The men went out two weeks ago last Monday. They asked an increase of 2 1/2 cents per hour in the wage scale, that being the flat and only change asked. They work a 9-hour day and asked no change in that. The matter has hung fire for two weeks, mainly for the reason, it seems, that the employers thought the men should appoint a committee to confer with the employers, and on the other hand, the strikers thought that the employers should come to the rooms of the strikers in a body and talk the matter over there. Both have been standing on ceremony.

However, the matter has been settled by the employers granting the raise in the wage scale, which brings it up to 25 cents an hour for a 9-hour day; but the concessions made by the strikers are that for overtime the men shall receive double time on all regular work, and time and a half on all new work. Also, the employers agree that where night work is required, double time will be allowed. Both sides are glad the affair is settled, and work can be resumed.

The men went to work this morning. The shops affected were the Northwestern Steam Boiler Works, on each side of the bay, the Gable shops of Duluth and the National of Superior.

MATTER WILL BE HUSHED UP

Scandal Connected With Peoria Minister to be Suppressed.

Peoria, Ill., Feb. 8.—Funeral services for the late Dr. Simmons, whose suicide created a sensation Tuesday morning, will be held from the First Baptist church, of which the dead man was pastor, at 10 o'clock Friday morning.

The service will be preached by a minister from out of the city who has not yet been selected. A storm of protests was raised by church members when the church services were proposed.

BUTTERMILK

A Surer Way Out.

"The buttermilk fad," which its followers insisted was the cure for all the ills that human flesh is heir to, has pretty well had its day.

Buttermilk is a pleasant and healthy drink, but there are a whole lot of delectable things that it cannot do. A Nebraska woman found something much more worth while. She says:

"Three years ago my stomach was in such a frightful condition that I could scarcely bear to take any food at all. Indeed, there was one time that I went for fourteen days without a morsel of nourishment, preferring starvation to the acute agony that I suffered when I ate anything. And all this entailed upon me almost constant headaches and nervousness. My condition was truly pitiable."

"The doctor warned me that the coffee I drank was chiefly responsible for this condition, and ordered me to drink buttermilk instead. But I despised buttermilk and could not bring myself to use it."

"Then I was advised to try Postum Food Coffee. It has completely renovated and made over my whole system. The salutary effect on my stomach was simply marvelous, and that straightened out the headaches, nervousness and other troubles soon vanished. For more than a year I have not felt any distress or pain, such as I once thought would kill me."

"I can truthfully say that Postum has brought me the blessing of the perfect health I enjoy. For I gave up medicine when I began its use."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

There's reason. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pages.

posed. These, however, were quieted, and there will be no strenuous objections. Corner Baker concluded his request yesterday afternoon and the jury returned a verdict of "death from epidemic of poison, taken with suicidal intent."

A meeting of depositors of the savings bank of which Simmons was part owner, was held last night and a report read there indicated that the bank was in good condition.

The plan of the corner to go into the investigation of the charges which brought disgrace on the dead minister was abandoned under pressure of public opinion which demanded that the unsavory affair be hushed up.

LAKE CARRIERS
Opposed to Bills Before Congress Concerning Lake Traffic.

Cleveland, Feb. 8.—Harvey Goulder, chief counsel for the Lake Carriers' association, left for Washington to appear in congress in opposition to certain bills relating to lake interests which came up for a hearing today. They are all aimed directly against the lake carriers and are extremely objectionable to the crew made up of able bodied seamen, another relation to the construction of ships through regularly appointed commission, and a third to the status of freighters carrying passengers.

BRIEF TELEGRAMS.

Mrs. Mabel Coleman and Frank Stanley, who were arrested last night in New York city charged with the larceny of $20,000 worth of gold mining stocks, were released after an examination in police court. The charge was made by the woman's husband, George C. Coleman, who is said to be the president of a gold mining company in Goldfield, Nev.

Great Northern box car at Hibbing the evening of Jan. 25, have been committed to the county jail by Municipal Judge Brady of that place, to await the action of the grand jury. The men were brought to the jail yesterday afternoon. The value of the property taken is less than $50. Williams and Donovan protested their innocence, but at the preliminary hearing they were identified by a little girl who claimed to have witnessed the robbery from the window of her home near the railroad tracks.

It is said the sharpers sold over $2,000 worth of notes taken in this manner to one of the St. Bernard banks.

PERPETUAL INJUNCTION Against Great Northern Using Patented Car Loading Device.

In the suit of Philip Oberst and Victor Linley of Superior against the Great Northern railway, in which Judge Morris in United States court some time ago decided for the plaintiff, the decision has been affirmed by the United States court of appeals. This is a suit in which the plaintiffs alleged that the Great Northern road was infringing on their patents of a car loading device, and asked that a perpetual injunction be issued and damages granted.

Yesterday the perpetual injunction was issued as prayed for and A. L. Agate, master in chancery of the court, has been assigned the job of finding the damages due.

Will Ask New Trial.

C. F. Hopkins, attorney for Sofia Christenson, whose divorce action against Charles Christenson was dismissed in district court, has given notice of a motion to be argued Saturday, for an order setting aside the order of dismissal, and for a new trial. The motion will be made on the ground that the dismissal was not justified by the evidence and was contrary to law.

and thirty-seven minutes. The eclipse will be total at 12:28, and will remain so for an hour and thirty-eight minutes. This great length of total eclipse is said by Mr. Darling to be due to the fact that the shadow of the earth is three times the diameter of the moon. Under normal conditions, according to Mr. Darling's data, the moon will have been at Fairmont and started to walk home last Saturday. It is thought he lay down by the track to rest.

Lame Back.

This ailment is usually caused by rheumatism of the muscles, and may be cured by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm two or three times a day and rubbing the place vigorously at each application. If this does not afford relief, bind on a piece of flannel slightly dampened with Pain Balm, and quick relief is almost sure to follow. For sale by all druggists.

MAY WITNESS MOON'S ECLIPSE
Weather Man Predicts Favorable Atmospheric Conditions for Duluth.

If the predictions of Weather Forecaster H. W. Richardson prove correct, Duluth people will be given an opportunity of witnessing an eclipse of the moon by the earth, beginning shortly before midnight and lasting until 2:37 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Mr. Richardson stated that the light clouds which partially obscured the sun this morning would probably clear away during the afternoon, and that this evening the sky would be clear and conditions most favorable for viewing the eclipse.

J. H. Darling, assistant United States engineer, who is a student of astronomy, says that the eclipse will begin at 11:57 p. m., and will last three hours

The party then drove to the offices of a firm of attorneys at St. Bernard, where the papers were drawn up and signed. The deal closed, the agent demanded his commission. Mr. Hartjen did not like to pay out so much money, but as the purchaser only gave him $50 earnest money, but the agent was insistent. He proposed that Mr. Hartjen induce the purchasers to note for $250, the same to apply to the balance of the purchase price and it would be all right. This Mr. Hartjen did, and also turned over the $50 earnest money to complete the amount of the agent's commission.

WRONG DRINK KILLS THREE.
Father and Two Sons Take Wood Alcohol by Mistake.

Detroit, Minn., Feb. 7.—Word has been received here of the death by poison of three former citizens of Lake Park. John Jensen and his sons, John and Harold, removed last fall with several other Lake Park farmers to Northwestern Canada, where they took up claims. According to the information received here a friend called at the Jensen household one evening and during his visit invited the father and the two sons to drink with him, producing for the purpose a bottle of alcohol. Through mistake the bottle contained wood alcohol and all three who partook of it soon became deathly sick. Jensen and his two sons died and the visitor had a narrow escape from death.

CITIES ARE TO BLAME

For Failure of Tax Code at Special Legislative Session.

Maintained Big Lobbies While Country People Could Not Come.

St. Paul, Feb. 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—"It was the cities of St. Paul, Minneapolis and Duluth that defeated the tax code at the special session of the legislature in 1899," declared Attorney General Young before the state board of equalization and the meeting of county auditors yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Young's fling was in answer to a short talk by Mr. Harris of the New England Furniture company to the effect that politics and sectional feeling too often entered into the task of equalization of taxes. He held that there should be no city and no city, but one big state.

"It does not require much knowledge to see that our tax laws are anything but perfect," said Mr. Young. "They are nothing but patchwork yet, who is to blame? I was one who believed the tax code offered at the special session should be adopted. It was not perfect, yet it was as good as could be obtained under the circumstances. But who defeated it? Why the cities. They maintained big lobbies. The country people could not come."

"If the code in a modified form is presented next time, I can assure you who are demanding reform that it will pass if the cities will keep their hands out. Practice what you preach and all sections will get a square deal."

Commissioner R. T. Daly of Hennepin, contended that it was not the tax laws that resulted in inequality. It was the fault of those employed and elected to enforce the laws. He held that if the assessors and the local boards were compelled to observe their oath of office, the tax payers would come nearer a square deal than by any other method. The trouble was, he declared, that assessors and local boards took up their duties with the understanding that they were not to observe the law. Commissioner O. E. Wood of Minneapolis said he favored the local option in the levying and collection of taxes, and that there should be no interference by the state except to equalize only so far as to make the taxes uniform. He thought municipal and county taxes should be let alone.

PACIFIC LUMBER TRUST IS DEAD

Has Dominated Lumber Business on Coast for Eighteen Years.

San Francisco, Feb. 9.—The sale yesterday of the stock of the San Francisco Lumber company to the Bellingham Bay Lumber company for $250,000, following the passing out of existence, on Jan. 1, of the Pacific Pine Lumber company, marks the death of the giant combination which, for eighteen years past, has absolutely dominated the lumber business of the western coast of America.

The death of the trust will have little effect on the lumber industry. For some years it had been a trust in name only. Although nominally the business will now be conducted on a basis of competition, as a matter of fact, the different concerns will still schedule rates after consultation.

FINAL LECTURE

Given in Germany by the American Exchange Profession.

Berlin, Feb. 9.—Prof. Francis Greenwood Peabody of Harvard university delivered his last lecture in Germany today, summarizing his work here. The lecture was delivered in the largest hall of the university, the doors of which had to be closed, turning many people away. After the lecture Dr. Studt, the minister of education, expressed his hearty thanks and satisfaction of his ministry at the inauguration of the system of exchange between the professors, thereby installing an intellectual bridge between the two people, which insures cordial relations.

ROCKEFELLER ON PLANT'S YACHT AT KEY WEST, FLA.

Atlantic, Wis. Feb. 9.—The private yacht of Plant, the Standard Oil magnate, with John D. Rockefeller on board, was laid up at Key West, Fla., Feb. 4, according to Virgo Hansen, a prominent business man of Racine, who has been in the South, who sends the above information, he having sat at the table next to Mr. Rockefeller. The next stopping place of the yacht was not ascertained.

ORDERS NOT OBEYED. Victoria, B. C., Feb. 9.—At the government investigation of the Victoria disaster yesterday, Quartermaster Tappin said Capt. Johnson did not order the boats lowered to the water. His orders were to lower them to the saloon rail and lash them, but that the boats were lowered to the water and the saloon rail was not used. The boats were lowered to the water and the saloon rail was not used. The boats were lowered to the water and the saloon rail was not used.

CARRIES GOLD IN GIP. Helena, Mont., Feb. 9.—One of the value of $40,000, representing one month's "run" of the cyanide mill of the Barnes King gold mine at Kendall, Pecos county, were brought to the United States assay office here last night by Manager E. V. King, who carried the treasure in a leather satchel, a distance of 135 miles by stage and railroad. He said he never feared being held up.

SENATOR REED SMOOT.

HUNDREDS OF MORMONS

May be Called to Disprove Testimony Against Reed Smoot.

The Prosecution Rests Its Case; Defense Will Soon Proceed.

Washington, Feb. 9.—The introduction of testimony against Senator Reed Smoot of Utah was closed by the Protestants' counsel today. A. S. Worthington, who represents the senator, said he was not ready to proceed, but that he would communicate with Chairman Burrows within a few days. The character of the evidence offered this session, said Mr. Worthington, had convinced him of the desirability of calling witnesses for the defense with reference to the list of members of the Utah constitutional convention, members of the legislature and state officers, charged to have been polygamists. Mr. Worthington said that it might be necessary to call from 100 to 200 witnesses to disprove the testimony of the prosecution, unless the committee permitted the filing of affidavits. He said that Senator Smoot was anxious that the case should be closed and that there should not be one day of avoidable delay.

Washington, Feb. 9.—C. A. Smutwade of Ogden, Utah, was called for cross-examination by A. S. Worthington, counsel for Senator Smoot in the proceedings today before the committee on privileges and elections. The witness said the usual course of procedure is to lay complaints with the teachers of the ward in which the alleged offense was committed. Mr. Worthington asked Mr. Smutwade if he had any reason to believe that the members of the church were guilty of the offense. Mr. Smutwade replied that he had no reason to believe that the members of the church were guilty of the offense.

Senator Knox then inquired of the witness if the Mormon first presidency had taken up its threat to ruin him because he insisted upon continuing in the salt business. He said his company went on and made the salt. He said that the price of crude salt had fallen from $8 to $2 a ton. The witness said his company had been in the salt business for many years. ERRING PASTOR ASKS PARDON

Congregation Hears Confession of Ellis' Escapade With Woman.

Marion, Ind., Feb. 9.—Kneeling with the worshippers who crowded the Friends church at Fairmount, Elwood Ellis, formerly pastor of the First Friends church of Richmond, and clerk of the Indiana Yearly Meeting of Friends, whose escapade with a young woman of Richmond created a sensation two years ago, made an open confession that he had weakened and done that which was wrong and made a fervent prayer that he be forgiven. It was the first public confession made by Ellis, and it was effective and appealing. That the open statement of the former pastor was well received was shown by the several prayers which followed. The members of the congregation that he be given strength and receive forgiveness. Mr. Ellis, the pastor, said that he could not reach all by this one confession, but he hoped by statements from time to time and in various places that all will be able to hear his open statement.

It is said that Mr. Ellis has hopes that he may sometime be reinstated in the church but he yet there has been no application for such readmission.

MAY HAVE TROUBLE

With the Chinese, is Opinion Expressed by Secretary Taft.

Urges Appropriation for Barracks for More Soldiers at Manila.

Washington, Feb. 9.—When Secretary Taft was before the senate committee on appropriations which was considering the urgent deficiency bill, he requested an appropriation of $100,000 to be expended for additional barracks and quarters for the army at or near Manila. When asked as to the necessity for this appropriation, he stated that the situation in China was such that it might be necessary at any time to send troops there and that it would be wise to have troops near to be used for that purpose. The committee did not think it expedient to make an appropriation at this time. The report of the hearings when printed will be referred to the committee on Philippines, as it is thought by some senators that the matter is of such importance that the committee on the Philippines should take it up and consider it.

SENTIMENTAL PRESENTATION

Of Peace Question Has Done Much Harm, Says Woman Suffragist.

Baltimore, Feb. 9.—The sessions of the annual convention of the Woman's National Suffrage association were resumed today. Reports from state presidents were read showing the progress of the woman suffrage cause in various states. Mrs. Lucia Ames Mead, chairman of the department of peace and arbitration read a report in which plans are outlined for a widespread celebration in the schools, May 18, the anniversary of the opening of the Hague conference in 1888. Every state in the Union will be requested to celebrate the day and give appropriate instruction. The report concludes: "Much harm has been done by the sentimental presentation of the peace question. The key to world peace is world organization. We are always discounting their cause the most by intelligently working to abolish war. Where brute force rules, women are always discounted. Let them spend less time on palliatives and postures on the evils of the body politic and far more on prevention. One half of all our charities would be unnecessary were the world's war burdens extinguished."

SOME OF THE ENTOMBED MINERS MAY STILL LIVE.

Hinton, W. Va., Feb. 9.—It is believed possible today that some of the twenty-six miners who are entombed in the Parallel mine at Hinton, W. Va., may be still alive. Ten have been taken out, there having been thirty-six in the mine at the time the explosion occurred yesterday afternoon. There is no telegraph office near the town and information is secured by messenger over the mountains.

OFFICERS SENT EAST

Naval Men Are Punished for Petitioning Russian Ministry.

Mutiny is Still Smouldering on Vessels of the Czar.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 9.—A number of naval officers, according to a dispatch to the Slovo from Sebastopol, have been transferred to the Far East for petitioning the marine ministry for an open trial of Former Lieutenant Schmidt and for satisfaction of the service demands, which were one of the main causes of the mutiny of sailors belonging to the Black sea fleet. Schmidt commanded the cruiser Oteha-koff, the crew of which mutinied in November last at Sebastopol. The cruiser subsequently was sunk by the loyal ships. The trial of Schmidt has been postponed because it is thought to be hazardous to transfer him from the fortress of Oteha-koff near Odessa, where he is confined, to the naval headquarters at Sebastopol.

Mutiny is still smouldering on board several vessels of the Black sea fleet, notably on the battleship Catherine II where several officers have been arrested.

BUT FEW CHANGES

Will be Made in Hepburn Rate Bill by Senate Committee.

Conceded That Measure Will be Favorably Reported by Committee.

Washington, Feb. 9.—The senate committee on interstate commerce today began consideration of the Hepburn rate bill, which passed the house yesterday. This measure is now made the basis of legislation and has been taken up section by section. Today was devoted to the first section, which describes the kind of transportation to which the act shall apply. There was quite a discussion in the committee as to whether express companies and Pullman cars are included in this section, also whether under the terms of the section railroads would not be compelled to transfer freight in transit at the option of the shipper. Several amendments were suggested to meet objections raised by different senators. The committee will meet again tomorrow. It is conceded that the Hepburn bill with only few modifications will have a majority report when the committee votes next Friday.

COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE

To See Whether Congress Has Power to Control Insurance.

Washington, Feb. 9.—Acting under instructions of the house, the judiciary committee today began an investigation in order that it may report whether or not congress has the power to provide federal control of insurance. That this authority does not exist was maintained by H. W. Breckinridge of Omaha, Neb., chairman of the insurance commission of the American Bar association. At the August meeting of this association, at Narragansett Pier, Mr. Breckinridge made a motion to have his committee instructed by the association to prepare a bill providing such control. The opposite view of the question was presented to the committee by George Whitlock of Baltimore. The bar association, by a vote of 113 to 29 sent to its insurance committee for consideration a resolution declaring federal control of insurance illegal and unconstitutional under the decisions of the supreme court of the United States.

WOLF-KILLING RECORD. Hayward, Wis., Feb. 9.—Albert Nemea, a taxidermist of Cable, this county, claims the championship of the North Wisconsin wolf hunting. He has killed twenty-five of the animals. Nearly all the wolves killed were of the large gray timber variety, which are wary and exceedingly difficult to kill. Nemea has killed and captured all the animals by means of the rifle and steel trap.

PRESIDENT CIPRIANO CASTRO.

READY FOR CONFLICT

President Castro Rapidly Enlisting Men for His Army.

People Apparently Not in Sympathy With the Government.

Willemstad, Island of Curacao, Friday, Feb. 2.—A traveler, who arrived here today from Venezuela, said: "President Castro is busily engaged in enlisting throughout the republic and in other ways preparing for war. Generals in each state have been commissioned and orders have been given to call the recruits to the colors. 'Information from the best sources indicates that the people do not support President Castro. On all sides are heard expressions of a desire to revolt and overthrow the president's government as soon as the French blockade is declared. 'A well informed Venezuelan told me that the troops will desert their colors, as they have all been compelled to join the army, voluntary enlistment being unknown in Venezuela. Puerto Cabello and La Guaira are the only ports capable of making a slight defense. The former has two modern six-inch guns with the usual display of old Spanish pieces, which would be blown to pieces at the first shot. 'It is doubted whether President Castro can raise more than 15,000 men who will take the field with any show of spirit. The men are armed with Mauser rifles, but they never practice shooting. They have 20,000 rounds of ball cartridge and a few mountain guns. The Venezuelan navy consists of five small craft concentrated at La Guaira. 'Well posted persons express fear that the French citizens in Venezuela will be in great danger if war breaks out. President Castro is of a revengeful nature and the inhabitants of the country are at his mercy. 'It is reported at Caracas that the American minister, Mr. Russell, is persona non grata owing to the apparent siding of the United States with France and that he may be given his passports. Matters are nearing a climax. President Castro will compel obedience to his will. Five days ago the newspaper El Grito del Pueblo suggested that the people should not resist the French. The editor was immediately imprisoned without a show of trial and the paper was suppressed. 'The German charge indignantly contradicts the reports said to be circulated by President Castro that Germany is supporting Venezuela's policy against France. 'Gen. Alcantara, a Venezuelan educated at West Point, has been appointed to the military command of La Guaira. He has received orders to fire on any French warships the moment they are sighted."

ERRING PASTOR ASKS PARDON

Congregation Hears Confession of Ellis' Escapade With Woman.

Marion, Ind., Feb. 9.—Kneeling with the worshippers who crowded the Friends church at Fairmount, Elwood Ellis, formerly pastor of the First Friends church of Richmond, and clerk of the Indiana Yearly Meeting of Friends, whose escapade with a young woman of Richmond created a sensation two years ago, made an open confession that he had weakened and done that which was wrong and made a fervent prayer that he be forgiven. It was the first public confession made by Ellis, and it was effective and appealing. That the open statement of the former pastor was well received was shown by the several prayers which followed. The members of the congregation that he be given strength and receive forgiveness. Mr. Ellis, the pastor, said that he could not reach all by this one confession, but he hoped by statements from time to time and in various places that all will be able to hear his open statement.

It is said that Mr. Ellis has hopes that he may sometime be reinstated in the church but he yet there has been no application for such readmission.

WOMAN KILLS HUSBAND. Sioux City, Iowa, Feb. 9.—Joseph Laipine, proprietor of a resort near Madison, S. D., was shot and killed by his wife last night during a quarrel. The woman is under arrest.

CANADIAN WRECKERS

Object of Complaint by Wisconsin Firm in Same Business.

Contracts by Reid Company May Raise International Question.

Milwaukee, Feb. 9.—Complaint has been formally made to Customs Collector W. H. Devos of Milwaukee by members of the firm of The Gillen Wrecking company of Racine against the Reid Wrecking company of Sarnia, Ont., in connection with the work of that firm in raising the stranded steamers Argo and Whitney in American waters.

Collector Devos has presented the matter to the office of the United States district attorney for this district and prompt action is promised by that official. This step may raise international complications with Canada, as the action of the Reid firm is the outgrowth of years of business rivalry between the Canadian firm and various American firms in the same line of business. It is understood that the complaint has the support of nearly every wrecking firm on the Great Lakes.

The Reid Wrecking company is the one which has the contracts to raise the Mataafa, Manolia and Edenborn in this vicinity.

WOULD SUFFER NO REDUCTION

In Tariff Income by Proposed Philippine Tariff, Says Taft.

Washington, Feb. 9.—Secretary Taft resumed his discussion of Philippine tobacco before the senate committee on the Philippines today. He expressed the opinion that the United States probably would not lose any revenue by reduction in tariff income on Philippine products under the proposed Philippine tariff act, as the increase in the amount of insular products sent to this country at lower tariff rates would compensate for the decrease in duty. Discussing the provision of the bill relating to Philippine sugar now in bond in this country, Secretary Taft explained that Smith, Bell & Company, an English corporation in business in Manila, own sugar in bond upon which they must pay additional duty aggregating $400,000 if their sugar is not permitted to be taken out of bond at the reduced tariff rate proposed by the bill. The secretary said the English firms in this connection are closely linked with those of the islands and he advised the senate in bond be entered at the lower rate.

The secretary closed his statement with an argument that the limitations on the methods of production in the Philippines would ensure for years protection of the tobacco and beet sugar interests of this country. Beet sugar men will be heard on Monday and Tuesday and Mr. Taft will return on Wednesday of next week. Senator Hale gave notice that he desired to examine the secretary at that time.

TERRORISTS ARE ACTIVE

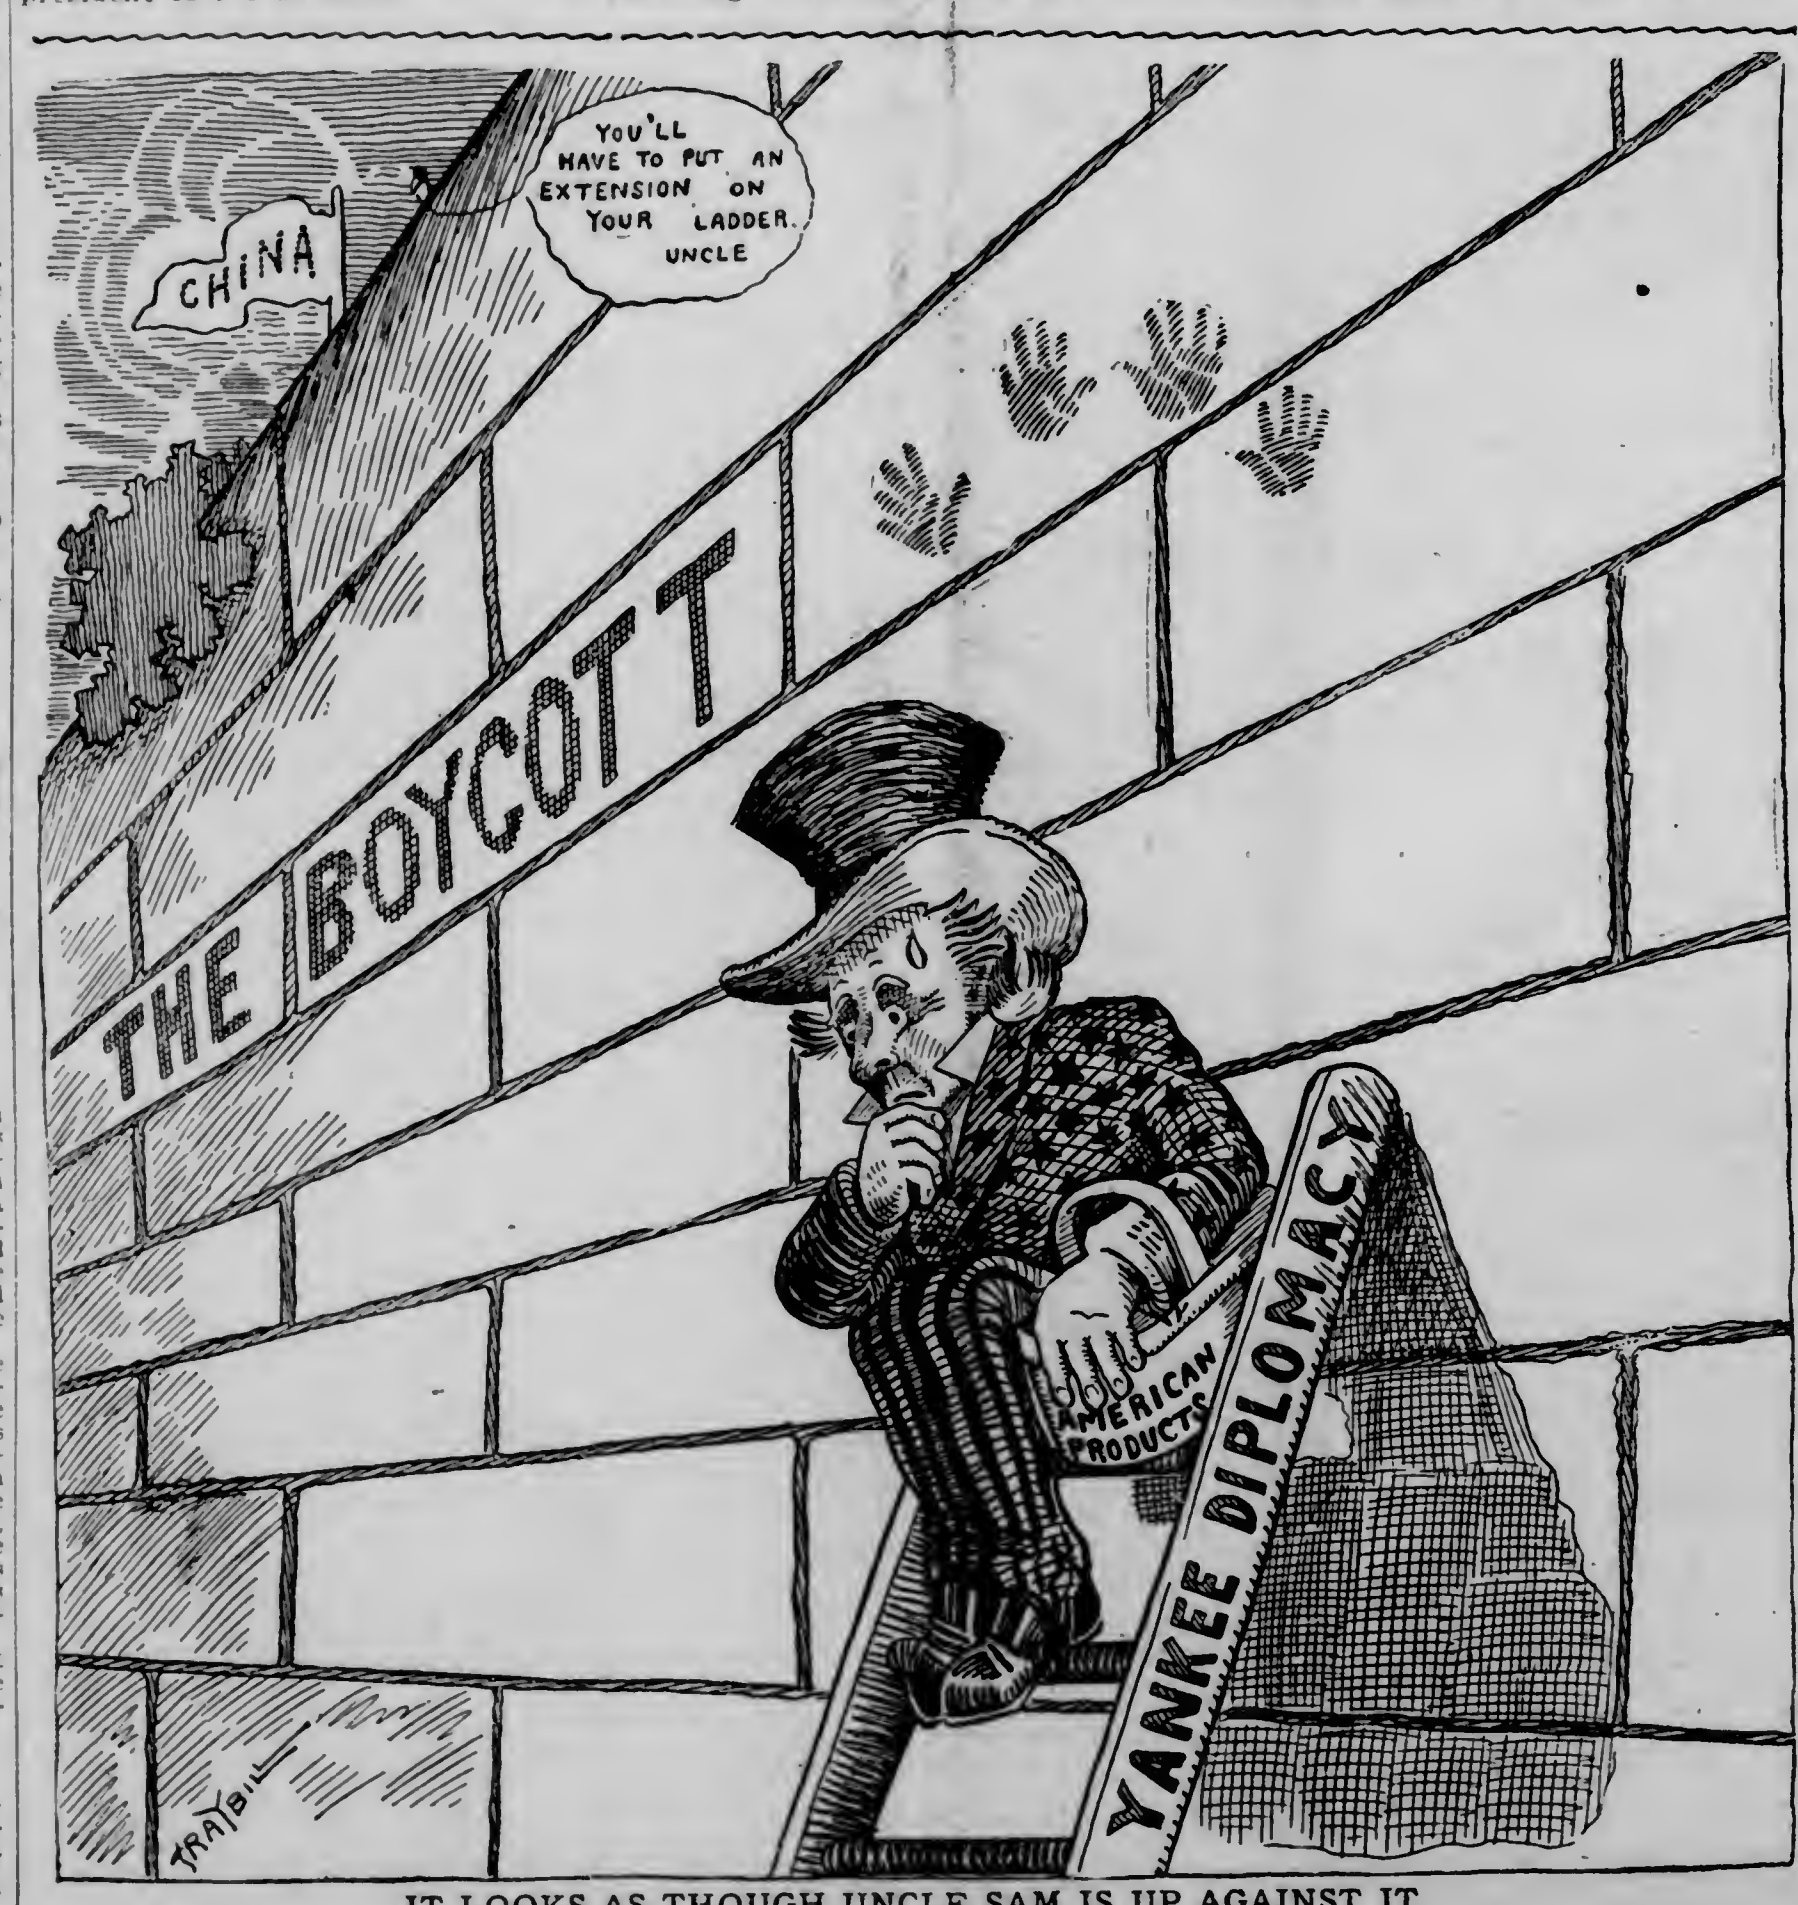

Make Two to Ten Attempts on Lives of Officials Daily.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 9.—Three employees of the Putloff works belonging to the "party of active struggle against revolution and anarchy," the so-called "black hundred," were surprised and killed yesterday by a party of revolutionary workmen. They were accused of furnishing the police with lists of revolutionary workmen and with assisting in making arrests and searches. The terrorists' campaign has been vigorously prosecuted in the provinces of late. From two to ten attempts on the lives of officials and police are reported daily.

The disclosures regarding the importation of arms into Finland have been followed by the revelation that arms in quantities have been openly imported through the custom houses at Revel and other Baltic ports and forwarded to Moscow and other places in the interior. The bureaucratic official at Revel declared, in his justification, that the law only prohibited the importation of military rifles of the Russian pattern, and said nothing about consignments of Mausers of the new being confiscated. Guards have been placed on the island of Nargen, where suspicious ships have been observed.

FIRE AT MORA. Mora, Minn., Feb. 9.—Fire was discovered Wednesday night in the rear of the Ricks & Safford military store, and within a few minutes the whole interior of the building was ablaze. The loss to stock is $400, insurance $200. The loss of the building, owned by R. W. Safford, is $400. The furniture stock of W. H. Humphrey was slightly damaged.

CITIES ARE TO BLAME

For Failure of Tax Code at Special Legislative Session.

Maintained Big Lobbies While Country People Could Not Come.

St. Paul, Feb. 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—It was the cities of St. Paul, Minneapolis and Duluth that defeated the tax code at the special session of the legislature in 1899," declared Attorney General Young before the state board of equalization and the meeting of county auditors yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Young's fling was in answer to a short talk by Mr. Haris of the New England Furniture company to the effect that politics and sectional feeling too often entered into the task of equalization of taxes. He held that it will be no country and no city, but one big state.

"It does not require much knowledge to see that our tax laws are anything but perfect," said Mr. Young. "They are nothing but patchwork, yet, who is to blame? I was one who believed the tax code offered at the special session should be adopted. It was not perfect, yet it was as good as could be obtained under the circumstances. But who defeated it? Why the cities. They maintained big lobbies. The country people could not come."

"If the code in a modified form is presented next time, I can assure those who are demanding reform that it will pass if the cities will keep their hands out. Practice what you preach and all sections will get a square deal."

Commissioner R. T. Daly of Kennebec, contended that it was not the tax laws that resulted in inequality, it was the fault of those employed and elected to enforce the laws. He held that if the assessors and the local boards were compelled to observe their oath of office, the tax payers would come nearer a square deal than by any other method. The trouble was, he declared, that assessors and local boards took up their duties with the understanding that they were not to observe the law.

Commissioner O. B. Wood of Minneapolis said he favored the local option in the levying of taxes and that there should be no interference by the state except to equalize only so far as state taxes were concerned. He thought municipal and county taxes should be let alone.

PACIFIC LUMBER TRUST IS DEAD

Has Dominated Lumber Business on Coast for Eighteen Years.

San Francisco, Feb. 9.—The sale yesterday of the stock of the San Francisco Lumber company to the Bellingham Bay Lumber company for $200,000, following the passing out of existence, on Jan. 1, of the Pacific Pine Lumber company, marks the death of the giant combination which, for eighteen years past, has absolutely dominated the lumber business of the western coast of America.

"The death of the trust will have little effect on the lumber industry. For some years it had been a trust in name only. Although nominally the business will now be conducted on a basis of competition, as a matter of fact the different concerns will schedule all rates after consultation."

FINAL LECTURE

Given in Germany by the American Exchange Professor.

Berlin, Feb. 9.—Prof. Francis Greenwood Peabody of Harvard university delivered his final lecture in Germany today, summarizing his work here. The lecture was delivered in the largest hall of the university, the doors of which had to be closed, turning away people away. After the lecture, Dr. Studt, the minister of education, expressed his hearty thanks and satisfaction of his ministry at the inauguration of the system of exchange between the professors, thereby installing an intellectual bridge between the two people, which insures cordial relations.

ROCKEFELLER ON PLANT'S YACHT AT KEY WEST, FLA.

Key West, Fla., Feb. 9.—The private yacht of Plant, the Standard Oil magnate, with John D. Rockefeller on board, was laid up at Key West, Fla., Feb. 4, according to Vilgo Hansen, a prominent business man of Key West, who is traveling in the South, who sends the above information, he having sat at the table next to Mr. Rockefeller. The next stopping place of the yacht was not ascertained.

GUINNESS NOT OBEYED. Victoria, B. C., Feb. 9.—At the government investigation of the Yukon disaster yesterday, Quartermaster Barry said Capt. Johnson did not order the men to lower them to the salmon rail and lash them, but this was not done. The stevedores would have freed through the night had they remained at the salmon rail, he thought, and would have saved many passengers.

CARRIES GOLD IN GRIP. Helena, Mont., Feb. 9.—Gold bars to the value of $100,000, representing one month's "run" of the cyanide mill of the Barren River and mine at Kendall, Fergus county, were brought to the United States assay office here last night by Manager E. C. King, who carried the treasure in a leather satchel, a distance of 125 miles by stage and on foot. He said he never feared being held up.

SENATOR REED SMOOT.

HUNDREDS OF MORMONS

May be Called to Disprove Testimony Against Reed Smoot.

The Prosecution Rests Its Case; Defense Will Soon Proceed.

Washington, Feb. 9.—The introduction of testimony against Senator Reed Smoot of Utah was closed by the Prosecution's counsel today. A. S. Worthington, who represents the senator, said he was not ready to proceed, but that he would communicate with the chairman of the committee within a few days. The character of the evidence offered this session, said Mr. Worthington, had convinced him of the desirability of calling witnesses for the defense with reference to the list of members of the Utah constitutional committee, members of the legislature and state officers, charged to have been polygamists. Mr. Worthington said that it might be necessary to call from 100 to 200 witnesses to disprove the testimony of the prosecution, unless the committee permitted the filing of affidavits. He said that Senator Smoot was anxious that the case should be closed and that there should not be one day of avoidable delay.

Washington, Feb. 9.—C. A. Smith, witness of Ogden, Utah, was called for cross-examination by A. S. Worthington, counsel for Senator Smoot in the proceedings today before the committee on privileges and elections. The witness said the usual course to settle difficulties between members of the church is to lay complaints with the teachers of the ward in which the aggrieved reside and after bishop hearing the complaint ordinarily instructs the teachers to do everything in their power to adjust the differences. Mr. Smith asked Mr. Smith to wait if he had any reason to believe his trouble with Prosper, a former associate of the church, could not have been adjusted in the same way. The witness replied that he had no knowledge of the leaders of the church convinced he that was impossible.

Senator Knox then inquired of the witness if the Mormon first presidency had followed up its threat to ruin him because he insisted upon continuing in the salt business. He said his company went on and made salt, but the price was reduced to the price of crude salt from $3 to $2 a ton. The witness said his company had been compelled to pile up its production. The effect, he said, was to injure his credit and depreciate the value of the stock of the company. In explaining the filing of the system of the Mormon church, Mr. Smith was asked if the threat of ruin by the church was well founded. He replied, "I am fearful that it is." He estimated that filing brought the church a revenue of from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000 a year, but no accounting had been made so far as he knew.

MAY HAVE TROUBLE

With the Chinese, is Opinion Expressed by Secretary Taft.

Urges Appropriation for Barracks for More Soldiers at Manila.

Washington, Feb. 9.—When Secretary Taft was before the senate committee on appropriations which was considering the urgent deficiency bill, he requested an appropriation of $100,000 to be expended for additional barracks and quarters for the army at or near Manila. When asked as to the necessity for this appropriation, he stated that the situation in China was such that it might be necessary at any time to send troops there and that it would be wise to have troops near to be used for that purpose. The committee did not think it expedient to make an appropriation at this time. The report of the hearings when printed will be referred to the committee on Philippines, as it is thought by some senators that the matter is of such importance that the committee on the Philippines should take it up and consider it.

SENTIMENTAL PRESENTATION

Of Peace Question Has Done Much Harm, Says Woman Suffragist.

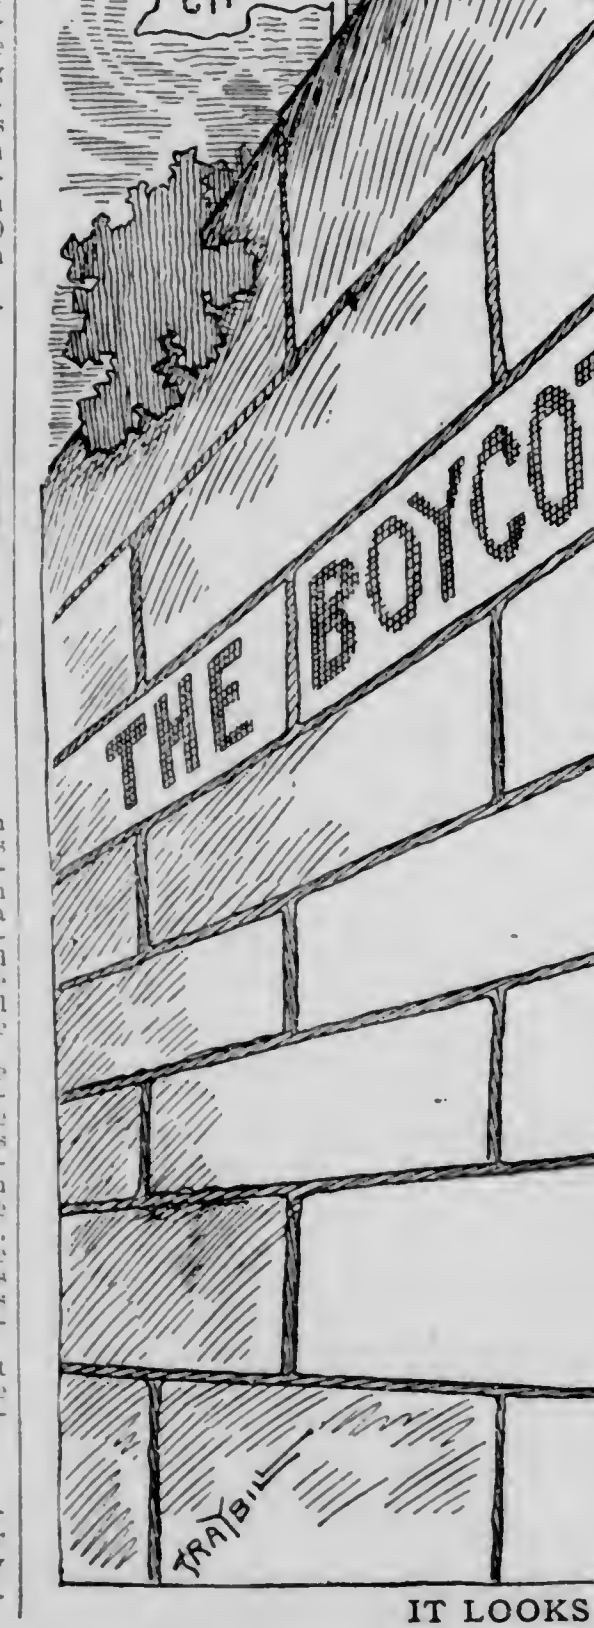

Baltimore, Feb. 9.—The sessions of the annual convention of the Woman's National Suffrage association were resumed today. Reports from state presidents were read showing the progress of the woman suffrage cause in various states. Mrs. Lucia Ames Mead, chairman of the department of peace and arbitration read a report in which plans are outlined for a widespread celebration in the schools, May 18—the anniversary of the opening of the Hague conference in 1888. Every state in the Union will be requested to celebrate the day and give appropriate instruction.

The report concludes: "Much harm has been done by the sentimental presentation of the peace question. The key to world peace is world organization. Suffragists will aid their cause the most by intelligently working to abolish war. Where brute force rules, women are always discounted. Let them spend less time on palliatives and politics on the evils of the body politic and far more on prevention. One half of all our charities would be unnecessary were the world's war burdens extinguished."

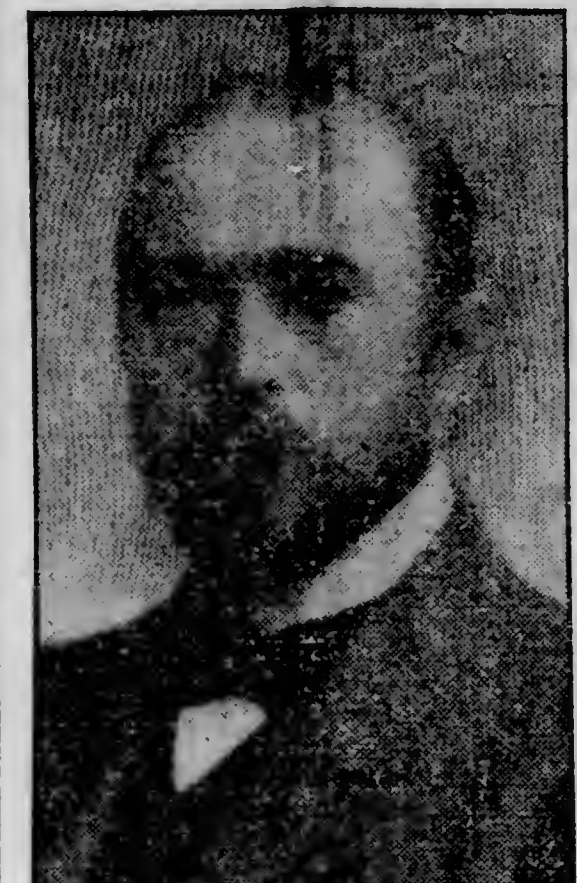

SOME OF THE ENTOMBED MINERS MAY STILL LIVE.

Hinton, W. Va., Feb. 9.—It is believed possible today that some of the twenty-six miners who are entombed in the Parallel mine near Oak Hill, may be still alive. They have been taken out, there having been thirty-six in the mine at the time the explosion occurred yesterday afternoon. There is no telegraph office near the town and information is secured by messenger over the mountains.

Patrick Dohan, president of District No. 5, United Mine Workers of America, went into court and secured a temporary injunction restraining the delegates to the district convention now in session here from interfering with his powers as president of the district.

OFFICERS SENT EAST

Naval Men Are Punished for Petitioning Russian Ministry.

Mutiny is Still Smouldering on Vessels of the Czar.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 9.—A number of naval officers, according to a dispatch to the St. Petersburg from Sebastopol, have been transferred to the Far East for petitioning the marine ministry for an open trial of Former Lieutenant Schmidt and for satisfaction of the service demands, which were one of the main causes of the mutiny of sailors belonging to the Black sea fleet. Schmidt commanded the cruiser Otkachoff, the crew of which mutinied in November last at Sebastopol. The cruiser subsequently was sunk by the loyal ships.

The trial of Schmidt has been postponed because it is thought to be hazardous to transfer him from the fortress of Otkachoff near Odessa, where he is confined, to the naval headquarters at Sebastopol. Mutiny is still smouldering on board several vessels of the Black sea fleet, notably on the battleship Catharine II where several officers have been arrested.

WOLF-KILLING RECORD. Hayward, Wis., Feb. 9.—Albert Nemea, a taxidermist of Cable, this county, claims the championship of the North Wisconsin wolf hunting. He has killed twenty-five of the animals. Nearly all the wolves killed were of the large gray variety, which are wary and exceedingly difficult to kill. Nemea has killed and captured all the animals by means of the rifle and steel trap.

STILL READING REPORT. Chicago, Feb. 9.—The reading of the report of Commissioner Gardella was resumed in the jockers' case today. There was no probability at the opening of court that the report would be finished before the final adjournment for the day.

BUT FEW CHANGES

Will be Made in Hepburn Rate Bill by Senate Committee.

Conceded That Measure Will be Favorably Reported by Committee.

Washington, Feb. 9.—The senate committee on interstate commerce today began consideration of the Hepburn rate bill, which passed the house yesterday. This measure is now made the basis of legislation and has been taken up section by section. Today was devoted to the first section, which describes the kind of transportation to which the act shall apply. There was quite a discussion in the committee as to whether express companies and Pullman cars are included in this section, also whether under the terms of the section railroads would not be compelled to transfer freight in transit at the option of the shipper. Several amendments were suggested to meet objections raised by different senators. The committee will meet again tomorrow. It is conceded that the Hepburn bill with only few modifications will have a majority report when the committee votes next Friday.

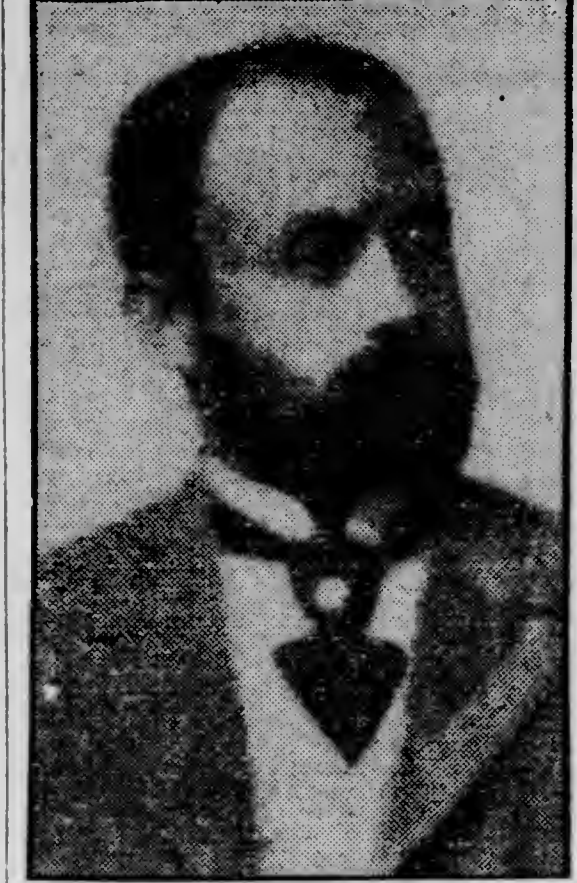

COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE

To See Whether Congress Has Power to Control Insurance.

Washington, Feb. 9.—Acting under instructions of the house, the judiciary committee today began an investigation in order that it may report whether or not congress has the power to provide federal control of insurance. That this authority does not exist was maintained by R. W. Breckinridge of Omaha, Neb., chairman of the insurance commission of the American Bar association. At the August meeting of this association, at Narragansett Pier, Mr. Breckinridge made a motion to have his committee instructed by the association to prepare a bill providing such control. The opposite view of the question was presented to the committee by George Whitlock of Baltimore. The bar association, by a vote of 113 to 29 sent to its insurance committee for consideration a resolution declaring federal control of insurance illegal and unconstitutional under the decisions of the supreme court of the United States.

WOLF-KILLING RECORD. Hayward, Wis., Feb. 9.—Albert Nemea, a taxidermist of Cable, this county, claims the championship of the North Wisconsin wolf hunting. He has killed twenty-five of the animals. PRESIDENT CIPRIANO CASTRO.

READY FOR CONFLICT

President Castro Rapidly Enlisting Men for His Army.

People Apparently Not in Sympathy With the Government.

Willemstad, Island of Curacao, Friday, Feb. 9.—A traveler, who arrived here today from Venezuela, said:

"President Castro is busily engaged in enlisting throughout the republic and in other ways preparing for war. Generals in each state have been commissioned and orders have been given to call the recruits to the colors."

"Information from the best sources indicates that the people do not support President Castro. On all sides are heard expressions of a desire to revolt and overthrow the president's government as soon as the French blockade is declared."

"A well informed Venezuelan told me that the troops will desert their colors, as they have all been compelled to join the army, voluntary enlistment being unknown in Venezuela. Puerto Cabello and La Guaira are the only ports capable of making a slight defense. The former has two modern six-inch guns with the usual display of old Spanish pieces, which would be blown to pieces at the first shot. It is doubted whether President Castro can raise more than 10,000 men who will take the field with any show of spirit. The men are armed with Mauser rifles, but they are not practiced in shooting. They have 20,000 rounds of ball cartridge and a few mountain guns. The Venezuelan army consists of five small craft concentrated at La Guaira."

"Well posted persons express fear that the French citizens in Venezuela will be in great danger if war breaks out. President Castro is of a cruel and vindictive nature and the inhabitants of the country are at his mercy."

"It is reported at Caracas that the American minister, Mr. Russell, is persona non grata owing to the apparent siding of the United States with France and that he may be given his passports. Matters are nearing a climax. President Castro will compel obedience to his will."

Five days ago the newspaper El Grito del Pueblo suggested that the people should not resist the French. The editor was immediately imprisoned without a show of trial and the paper was suppressed."

The German charge indignantly contradicts the reports said to be circulated by President Castro. Germany is supporting Venezuela's policy against France."

Gen. Aleznara, a Venezuelan educated at West Point, has been appointed to the military command of La Guaira. He has received orders to join any French warships the moment they are sighted."

IOWA WOMAN ON TRIAL FOR SHOOTING OFFICER.

Des Moines, Feb. 9.—Mrs. Zetta Eckels, the Cedar Rapids woman who is alleged to have deliberately shot down Constable Peter Martin of Marion last October without provocation, was placed on trial for her life today. Peter Martin entered the home of the accused to levy upon some furniture. Mrs. Eckels claimed to have warned him not to enter, and when he persisted she shot him. The defense claims that her house is her castle and that she had a right to protect it even to the extent of shooting the officer.

TRIAL OF BEAVERS POSTPONED A WEEK.

Washington, Feb. 9.—The trial of George W. Beavers, former State Senator George E. Green of Birmingham, N. Y., and W. D. Doremus, on indictments alleging fraud in connection with the letting of postal contracts, which was set for Monday next, has been postponed until the following Monday. This action was made necessary by reason of the fact that Attorney A. S. Worthington of counsel in the case will be unable to conclude his work before the Senate Senate investigation committee until a week hence.

BURNED TO A CRISP. Iowa City, Iowa, Feb. 9.—Lena Stuehman, the 16-year-old daughter of John Stuehman, a prominent farmer of Sharon Center, was burned to death yesterday at her home. She accidentally spilled some gasoline on her clothing while working near a stove, and her dress caught fire. Before assistance could be rendered she fell unconscious and was burned to a crisp.

WOULD GET FARM BACK

Mrs. Johnson Claims Children Have Broken Their Agreement.

John and Annie Paulson Put Up a Strong Defense.

Claiming that her son-in-law and daughter have violated the terms of their agreement, and that the contract itself was obtained through fraud, Johanna Johnson, a widow, aged 64, is seeking to have canceled the deed to the farm that she and her husband gave John and Annie Paulson in 1903. The hearing of evidence began before Judge Dill yesterday afternoon and the case is likely to be taken under advisement by this evening.

The farm in dispute comprises forty acres, pretty well under cultivation, out in Hermantown. Mrs. Johnson claims that in 1903, when she and her husband gave the farm to the Paulsons, she and her husband were in poor health and unable to attend to the farm, they asked their daughter and her husband, John and Annie Paulson, to take over the farm with the agreement that they were to care for the old folks. Johnson, the father, died the following spring and his widow continued to live in a small house built on the farm close to the original homestead.

Both John Paulson and Annie Paulson, the son-in-law and daughter, were on the stand this morning. They gave a version of the affair that was strongly supported by many of the neighbors living near the farm. Mrs. Paulson testified that she had always treated the old people in the best manner possible, and had given them everything they wanted. She claimed that the Paulsons had at times complained, not to the Paulsons, but to neighbors, that she did everything she could to do away with any cause for complaint.

OPERATORS' STATEMENT

Concerning Present Conditions and Wages of Anthracite Miners.

David Wilcox Makes Public Letter Written to John Mitchell.

New York, Feb. 9.—President David Wilcox of the Delaware & Hudson company today made public the text of the letter which he wrote to John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers of America, concerning a conference between the mine workers and the operators to discuss the wage question. Accompanying the letter, Mr. Wilcox issued a formal statement, in which he declared erroneous statements regarding the letter have been published, based upon a misconception both of its character and its contents. The text of Mr. Wilcox's letter, which is dated Feb. 3, follows:

ABORT AN ARROW

fact that practically all matters involved have already been the subject of arbitration.

"At the termination of the strike of 1902 in the anthracite region, by the submission to arbitration in which all parties joined, it was provided that all questions at issue between the respective companies should be decided by the anthracite strike commission. According to what appeared before the commission in behalf of the employees, and presented to it all such questions.

"The commission found that the average number of hours worked per day did not exceed six for the miners and eight for the other employees, and that the conditions were substantially the same. In the case of the Delaware & Hudson company, during 1902 the average number of hours worked per day by employees other than the miners was 6.58 hours, or an average of slightly over six hours per day. Any suggestion of an eight-hour day for the employees by the day does not, therefore, look like a concession, but a change of wages about 12.5 per cent above the standard fixed by the strike commission. This advance would amount approximately to eight cents per ton of coal, the entire product about $200,000 per annum. Such an increase would tend to advance the price of coal to consumers. It would also naturally lead ultimately to the miners working eight hours per day instead of much less than seven, as at present, so as to make a uniform workday for all and thus promote efficiency in production. On the other hand, if the working hours of the breakers were in fact actually reduced, the effect would be to diminish the earnings of the miners, because the breakers could not receive and handle as much coal as at present.

"The commission awarded an advance in wages of 10 per cent for the miners and 11 1/2 per cent for the other employees. Effective Nov. 1, 1902. This advance was absolute and was based upon the finding of $4.20 per ton of the prepared sizes as the minimum tide-water price prevailing. In addition, the commission awarded that the wages should still further advance 1 per cent with each rise of 5 cents in the price of the prepared sizes of coal. The minimum price of coal upon which the wages are based is higher than that prevailing before the award was made, and as that price advances the wages increase at the rate fixed by the commission. The schedule hereto attached shows the rates of wages thus fixed by the commission, which are higher than those now prevailing in the anthracite industry of Pennsylvania. The commission also disposed of its award of all matters brought before it, and among other things, decided with great vigor that the industry must remain open and all seeking employment, regardless of their affiliation or otherwise with labor organizations.

"The commission provided by its award for the organization of a conciliation board three members representing the employees and representing the employers, and for the provision of an appointment of an umpire when necessary. A claim was asserted by yourself before the committee that a contract should be made by each of the employers with the United Mine Workers of America providing (1) the wages which shall be paid and (2) the condition of employment which shall obtain, together with (3) satisfactory methods for the adjustment of grievances which may from time to time arise. The commission overruled this claim and decided that such a contract was neither necessary nor desirable. At the same time it suggested certain changes in the organization and procedure of the anthracite industry which seemed to be indispensable to the usefulness of the organization. These suggested changes have never been made.

"The commission, therefore, covered by its award all the questions at issue between the respective companies and their employees, and provided a satisfactory method for the adjustment of grievances which, in the absence of a conciliation board, might otherwise have arisen. For the latter purpose the conciliation board was organized at once, with three officials of the United Mine workers representing the employees, and three members representing the employers. It has disposed of all questions which have been submitted to it, and has a very few recent matters which are in process of adjudication. Further along the letter says: "In December last the increase in wages by reason of the award of the commission was 160 per cent for the miners and 175 per cent for the employees by the day. For the year the increase in labor was 30.72 cents per ton, or an aggregate of $7,200,000. It may be added that the total increase in cost for 1905 over 1904, before the strike, was $6.77 cents per ton, or $2,650,000, of which as just said labor received $1,720,000, while the total increase price was $4,930,000, so that the increase in the bare cost of production absorbed the entire increase in price, save $4,284,000, or about three-fourths of a cent per ton. "It is true that the award of the strike commission ceases to be absolutely controlling as to future conditions after March 31, 1906, but its decision after prolonged investigation must be regarded by any other tribunal and by all disinterested persons as conclusive in the absence of some new facts raising new questions."

COMPLETE THEIR WORK.

Building Line Commissioners Prepare Report Covering 564 City Lots.

The building line appraisers met last evening and completed their work. They prepared a report to the council covering twelve different building line easements, which involve 564 city lots.

The report assessed benefits and allowed damages to the property resulting from the establishments of a building line. In no cases did the damages exceed the benefits accruing from the line and the establishment of the line will not cost the property owners anything further than the expenses of the commissioners.

FORMATION OF COUNCIL

Election Returns Must First be Canvassed by Present Members.

New Aldermen Will Assume Office First Day of March.

It will be nearly four weeks yet before the newly elected aldermen will assume office.

Under the provisions of the city charter the aldermen shall qualify for office by taking their oaths before the city clerk, and at a special meeting, to be held on the second Tuesday in March, they will organize the body for the coming year, electing the president and vice president at that time.

They begin their term of office on the first day of March, and on the first Monday in March will assume their seats in the council chamber.

None of the aldermen are officially elected until after the election returns have been canvassed by the council. This will be done next Monday evening, and the aldermen can then be sworn in by the city clerk.

The aldermen who will retire from the council this year are as follows: Alderman A. J. Harker, from the Second ward; Alderman James A. Waugh, from the Third ward; Alderman Thomas Trevillion, from the Fourth ward; Alderman Erick Olson, from the Sixth ward; and Alderman William Chesney, from the Eighth ward.

Their places will be taken by Samuel F. Staples, Frank Jordan, George Van Burgess, Charles Mork and James Foubister.

The new council will be composed of nine Democrats and seven Republicans, as follows: First ward, two Republicans; Second ward, one Republican and one Democrat; Third ward, two Democrats; Fourth ward, one Republican and one Democrat; Fifth ward, two Democrats; Sixth ward, two Democrats; Seventh ward, one Republican and one Democrat; Eighth ward, one Republican and one Democrat.

This gives the Democrats a working majority of not enough, but not enough to carry anything by a two-thirds vote without the assistance of the Republican members.

The president, who will probably be chosen from one of the three oldest Democratic members, Aldermen Ewen, Schaffer and Tessman, will select the committees for the coming year. Each council member is president of one committee and serves on others, there being sixteen committees composed of three members each.

NATIVES OBJECT TO COLLECTION OF TAXES.

Pietmaritzburg, Natal, Feb. 8.—The collection of the poll tax from natives has led to trouble which it is feared will spread and possibly develop into an ugly native rising. Armed natives have resisted the collection of the tax and have wounded with spears an inspector of police and a trooper. Fourteen mounted police who were proceeding to the scene were attacked and six are missing. Cavalry and artillery and outlying detachments of police have been called in and are being concentrated to deal with the recalcitrant natives.

Cedar Island Lake Contest.

The W. H. Shea side of the case is still being heard in the Cedar Island land contest case being heard in the United States land office. Witnesses are being put on the stand in an attempt to prove that E. L. Rabb, who claims prior settlement to that of Shea, had abandoned his land and therefore has no right. Rabb claims to have maintained his settlement on the land and made the necessary improvements, etc. Shea, it is admitted, has made the necessary improvements.

of the man who likes to engage in this kind of work, and he seems to have all he can do. Within a short time he has packed boxes for the new county court house, public library, Livingston building and several park structures. He is now engaged in preparing data for three copper boxes that will be placed in the cornerstone of a park pavilion. The boxes and their contents weigh fifteen pounds. Mr. Stephenson has some queer ideas about what kind of stuff should go into a cornerstone box. The daily and weekly papers are always included, but there is a great variety of other things. He collects a number of trade catalogues that show what the people of this age eat and wear, how they have their houses and offices furnished, and whether they ride a horse, bicycle or an automobile. One hundred years or less hence, should a cyclone come along and life the buildings of the town from their foundations, the people of that time will have a great time in studying over the odd things that they will dig out of the foundations. Not long since the town suffered a great loss of business houses by a devastating fire. Some of the foundations of the buildings that had been built long ago yielded up some valuable historical facts that kept the town interested for weeks afterward. The residents became thoroughly enthused on the subject of cornerstone boxes and in the rebuilding of the town almost any kind of a structure had a copper box filled with historical material, stowed away in the masonry.

It takes a lot of preaching to convert some men to the value of advertising, but they always stay put.

A black and white illustration of a woman in late 19th-century attire. She wears a high-necked, long-sleeved dress with a full skirt, featuring a pattern of vertical lines and horizontal bands. Social and Musical Articles

If the man from Mars should walk along Superior street this morning he would know right away that some sort of a festival was approaching, for over every other door and before two windows streamers bearing in red letters "Valentine's" is flaunted in one's face, and if the Martians did lack a heart, or was it brains? some instinct would tell him that something was about to happen. Over one door flaming letters on a white background ask the question "Shall it be candy or flowers?" and in other windows heaps of roses, embroidery and everlastingly pink cupid follow more nearly the conventional idea of valentines.

There are always some few new things offered in valentines and it is hardly anything more attractive looking in town than the many-sized heart-shaped boxes in blue and white in one window, which might be filled with candy to supply the necessary selfish sweetness of Valentine day. Very few people know the origin of Valentine day and more don't care a bit, but hard-hearted and worldly-minded and lots of other things must be the person who is not affected and inwardly touched by the little confessions of manly sentiment told in honey-sweet but very poor verses. But who would ask that sentiment be expressed in verse with just the right number of feet? One ought to be thankful that sentiment exists at all, and if it comes slipping on an abundance of feet, who is the carping critic who would ask that the meter be scanned in that silly sing-song way that you do the second year in high school and then condemn the poetry that won't stand scrutiny?

One of the cutest valentines seen this year could be home-made and will answer for a valentine to send to most anybody, your best friend, your dearest girl friend, your mother, or anybody that wants a valentine. Six hearts, like a nest of this, each one smaller than the one before were attached so that they folded together showing the gradations in size, and the writing attached said, "If you of me should cease to think, my heart would shrink and shrink and shrink. De-lightful!"

Of course any comment on valentines is never complete without some reference to the so-called comic ones. They seem to be scarcer this year than before, for which the good taste of the American people be thanked. The person who can deliberately and with taste and forethought bring up one of those monstrous, but then everybody knows what ought to follow and let it be that. But if you will have scattered sunshine and introduced a touch of romanticism into this age of commercialism, which the folks who "have caught the vision" are always craving for.

TO MEET AT WINONA.

Executive Board Selects That Place for Federation Meeting.

Following the meeting of the executive board of the State Federation, which was held yesterday at St. Paul, an informal luncheon was enjoyed by a number of the club women. Winona was chosen as the meeting place for the annual meeting of the federation in October of this year. No invitations for the annual meeting had been received until two weeks ago, when three invitations were received within a week. Winona, Parkville and St. Paul being the cities willing to welcome the federation at its annual meeting. The luncheon was an informal and very delightful one. A program of informal toasts was given, and among the speakers was Mrs. Robert Morris Seymour of Duluth, who spoke on "Democratic Art." The other speakers and their subjects were: "The General Federation," Mrs. Lydia P. Williams of Minneapolis. "The St. Paul Biennial," Mrs. Russell R. Dorr of St. Paul. "Minnesota Day" (at the biennial), Mrs. H. S. Birch of Minneapolis. "The October Meeting of the State Federation," Mrs. C. J. Backus of St. Paul.

"The Value of Committee Work," Mrs. Margaret J. Evans of Northfield. In speaking of yesterday's meeting the chairman, Mrs. Williams, said: "The federation committee welcomed today their new president, Mrs. J. L. Washburn, Duluth, who presided at a federation gathering for the first time today. The tact, the kindly and the charming personality which has distinguished Mrs. Washburn in minor federation offices made this morning's session a delightful one for her fellow officers and a helpful one for the federation."

More Tickets.

The council committee in charge of the mid-winter luncheon, to be given Monday at the Spaulding, have decided to have fifty more tickets printed. The management of the Spaulding will be able to care for this added number of tickets, and as so many women were disappointed in getting tickets, these fifty will undoubtedly be taken up by Monday noon tomorrow.

Events of Interest.

Mrs. George D. Swift entertained at a delightful afternoon at bridge yesterday at her home, 2302 East First street. The game was played at six tables and the favors were won by Mrs. C. S. Stillman and Mrs. A. B. Volvin. Mr. and Mrs. George D. Swift will entertain at bridge this evening at their home on East First street.

Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Cole will entertain at bridge Monday evening at their home, 1701 East First street.

The Outing club of the Young Women's Christian association will leave the rooms tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock and go to Woodland to ski.

Personal Mention.

Miss Josephine Northmore has returned from Ashland where she was the soloist at a concert in that city. Miss Stella Johnson of Condon, Ont., is the guest of Mrs. J. A. Campbell of 1416 East Fourth street. Rev. Edward Pearson Pressey will be the guest of Rev. and Mrs. Harry White during his stay in the city. Mr. White returned Monday from New Jersey where he went to attend the funeral of his mother.

The Saturday Club.

At the regular meeting of the Saturday club the subject of current events in charge of Mrs. H. L. Paddock will be, "New Wealth in Coal." Mrs. A. H. Brockhurst is the leader of the following history program for the afternoon. The Patriarch Philaret. Relations with other powers of Europe. States general. Western Russia in the 17th century. ELBOW SLEEVE.

Glove Makers Predict That the Vogue Will Last.

The vogue of the elbow sleeve promises to last through the summer if the glove makers' prophecies are to be believed, for long gloves are being shown in every shade and in various fancy forms. Fashionists have no liking for the glove matching a costume unless that costume happens to be in one of the accepted glove shades, says the Philadelphia Telegraph.

White, black, pearl, all the fawn and putty and tan shades and the soft grays are the glove colors chosen by the French, and glove kids is now preferred to suede. A long, much wrinkled Saxony glove, without wrist opening, is considered very chic for day wear, and is being introduced here.

Rather heavy street gloves in tan and brown shades, reaching above the elbow, much wrinkled over the arm and made with no wrist opening, but an inset elastic under the wrist to shape the glove, to the wrist, are imported from England, and are exceedingly smart with short-sleeved tailor trunks.

Fancy gloves seldom obtain any wide favor, but the white gloves with colored lining, worn with the tops turned back over the wrist to show the lining, were liked last summer, and are to be pushed again this season. Lace is introduced into some of the new gloves, as into all toilet accessories from hose to hats, and the long white evening gloves, with very narrow lace lezards or polka dots set into the kid at the top are among the few attractive fancy gloves.

Long inset slender points of delicate dotted kid running down from the top of long white kid gloves, are rather good when the tint of the lining matches the frock with which the glove is worn, but on the whole the plain glove is in better taste.

For holding up the long gloves come glove garters, in many designs. The simplest are of elastic, fastened with buckles, and are designed for nervous girls. Prettier are straps of heavy white or black more ribbon, finished with fancy gold or jeweled buckles and slides, and there are ornate garters made of lace, shirred over ribbon, with the thickest of frilled edges and a little garland of rosette ribbon running around the wrist, the lace puffing, while a wee rosette of lace, with an embroidery sprig for center, covers the joining.

NOT THE RIGHT ONE.

What Miss Mildred Thought of the Hypothesis.

Slowly they walked along in the twilight and she.

He was no longer in the heyday of youth, says the Chicago Tribune.

Time, however, had laid light hands upon him. So had his barber, but officer and more artistically, and he was well-groomed.

She was a rare and radiant maiden, known to the regular frequenters of the city's great emporium of trade as the girl at the ribbon counter.

"Miss Mildred," he said, with a sort of premonitory cough, "let us suppose a case."

"A case of what kind, Mr. Mawer?" she asked. "Notions? Or remonances?"

"Let us not talk shop, Miss Mildred. If 'case' suggests business I will vary the phrase. Let us consider a hypothesis."

"A what?"

"A hypothesis. A hypothesis is a supposition, an assumption, a postulate, a working basis, or an idea taken for granted, for the purpose of laying a foundation for establishing a proposition, or demonstrating a fact. Get the idea?"

"Oh, yes; anybody can understand that. Is there any more of it?"

"There is. Some day, my dear girl, you expect to marry somebody."

"Is that the hypothesis?"

"No; that is one of the eternal verities. Every pretty girl expects to marry somebody. Here is the hypothesis. Suppose some man, slightly past the blooming period of youth, but well preserved, in full possession of health, strength and all his intellectual faculties—"

"A hypothesis is a man, is it?"

"He's a necessary part of this one. Suppose some such man as I am describing, not at all ill-looking, and possessed of a reasonable share of this world's goods, should fall wildly, desperately in love with you, Miss Mildred—"

"And offer you his hand and heart—do you think you could love him?"

"Not if he looked anything like you, Mr. Mawer."

"They walked along a block or two in silence. Then Mr. Mawer spoke again. 'Feels a little as if it were going to snow, doesn't it, Miss Mildred?' he said."

These Victor Talking Machines

The reproductions of these marvelous machines are so exquisitely perfect—the more of them you hear, the more you want to hear. These entertainers are simply fascinating.

It is seldom we in Duluth have an opportunity of hearing such artists as Melba, Galski, Campanari, and Caruso—yet with a VICTOR TALKING MACHINE these and many other world famed artists will entertain you in your own home.

The voice of Tamagni, that greatest of all tenor singers, who died last September, has been preserved to us through the VICTOR records—with a VICTOR you can still have the soul stirring songs of this great artist right in your own home.

Surely, what better, more enjoyable, highly educative entertainer could one wish for? Then by all-means have one in your own home—you'll enjoy it more and more each succeeding day—and wish you'd had it years before.

WHAT RETAIL MARKETS OFFER.

Crown of lamb, 25 cents a lb. Spanish tenderloin, 25 cents a lb. White rabbits, from around here, 15 cents each.

Strawberries, 60 cents a quart.

Sweet potatoes, 5 cents a lb.

Rhubarb, 15 cents a lb.

A crown of lamb would be lovely for your Sunday dinner.

The butcher takes a few sides of lamb and manipulates them so that the meat is all inside and the ribs are around the outside, for all the world, like the spokes of a crown. It looks perfectly swell and would probably taste mighty good, with a bit of mint sauce. Spanish tenderloin is just everyday pork tenderloin fixed fancifully. Little dabs of the tenderest portion of the pig is taken and surrounded by a thin wrapping of clean white suet. They are placed in a pan and baked and the fatness around the outside is just enough to cook the lean inside to the most ideal degree of deliciousness. Rabbits are in the market and be sure you don't call them tan for the market man says they're gray. You will have to compromise on the "dark" and "light" ones to distinguish those that are shot around here and those that come from the Southern part of the state.

Tomatoes and head lettuce are luxuries indeed. They are very scarce and few tomatoes will be in the market tomorrow and little or no head lettuce. It is not to be had. Strawberries are in, though, and so is rhubarb and in this fruit and herb must satisfy the longings for the something "different."

A FORFEITED FEE

Pair coming on, or a hospital donation wanted?"

The rich man stood in the middle of his study, one hand holding his eye-glasses, in an attitude of expectancy, and the other waving the young clergyman to a seat.

"Nothing of the kind today, Mr. Clapnel," the minister said, as he took the seat.

"Some family in narrow straits, then, I suppose. I realize that men of your profession have to play the highhouse pretty often for subsistence, and I understand that you are a very busy man."

The minister smiled and took advantage of the pause.

"I came to ask you for a new church," he thrust into the vacant vacuum.

The rich man dropped into his revolving chair with the suddenness of a discovery in gravitation.

"You did, did you? Well, I don't know about that," he said, quizzically. "We need a church and a rectory."

The minister continued, without visible discomfiture. "There will be no trouble about getting a rectory if I can manage to secure the church building."

"Married?" the rich man inquired, swinging about.

"No," was the laconic answer. "Want to be?" Mr. Clapnel asked, curiously, as if he had searched years for such an anomaly.

"I could have a rectory, and if I had a rectory I could—"

"Yes, yes, I understand," Mr. Clapnel broke in, "but I'm afraid I can't afford you a church. Yet—hold on a minute, he added, as he took up a letter which he had apparently written that morning.

"See here," he continued, as he glanced over it, read this. Here is a way in which you might get what you want."

PREDETERMINING SEX.

English Woman Who Claims to Have Accomplished It.

New York, Feb. 8.—In the mail that Magistrate Wahl received in the Yorkville court yesterday was a letter from England, including a circular that made the magistrate stare. The circular said it was the easiest thing in the world to gratify the wish of parents who desired to have sons instead of daughters.

Mrs. S. J. Pratt was the one who sent the circular to his honor. She gives her address as No. 51 Burness road, Fallowfield, Manchester, Eng.

Mrs. Pratt said in her letter that the only way to secure a son was to let a man know there is no food in the world for children, she wrote.

Mrs. Pratt claims to be the first and only exponent of the law which governs the determination of the sexes, according to the circular. She has received permission to give the names and addresses of several women who will conform from their own experience the undying results of compliance with her instructions.

"Up to the present," she writes, "I have not had a failure. Mrs. Pratt did not tell how she could accomplish the proportion of the sexes. She did explain that she gave instructions direct to the mother and she added that if she guaranteed at least fifty clients she would come to the United States and demonstrate her theory."

"Ten per cent is your fee. If it is for more than three thousand dollars you will know—you will understand that—that she did not shut the door against me."

Graham deposited the next day, in the name of the church, a check for ten thousand dollars.

"She shall fill it out," he said softly. "Ten per cent is your fee. If it is for more than three thousand dollars you will know—you will understand that—that she did not shut the door against me."

Graham deposited the next day, in the name of the church, a check for ten thousand dollars.

TWO SURPRISES ON HONEYMOON

Couple Who Foiled Rice Throwers Greeted by Signs.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 9.—Old shoes suspended from the porch roof, rice scattered all over the porch and inner rooms of the house, bear signs of brilliant letters stretching from one side of the house to the other, chairs and tables overturned, kitchen utensils in the parlor, ready signs of trouble from every corner—this, in short, is the sight that greeted Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wacker when they returned from their honeymoon to their new furnished home at 2621 East Parkway.

Where the two young people went after being married by the Rev. Mr. Vitz is not known to their friends. Mrs. Wacker, Miss E. E. Palmer, the Standard's agent, was worried, and bombarded the head offices with queries of what had happened. Mr. Wacker was not taken into his company's confidence, and if Solle's information is correct, his superiors enjoyed many hearty laughs at his expense.

GYM BLOOMERS FOR STREET WEAR

Athletic Girl Makes hurried Trip Home After Thief's Call.

Des Moines, Iowa, Feb. 9.—Clad in the scanty attire of her bloomers, Miss Harriet Jones, a West Des Moines teacher, was obliged to make a run from the gymnasium to her home just because her clothes had been stolen. Her "gym" suit was all she had and she must get home. Thirteen lockers were forced open while the class was given an exercise. Among the articles stolen was a diamond pin valued at $30.

Miss Jones did not realize the serious predicament she was in at first, but was plucky enough to make the trip home in her bloomers.

Miss Rose Van Dyke of near Fort Des Moines had $25 taken from a pocket-book, but the thief had generously left her out fare. Other girls were not so fortunate.

It is the third time such robberies have occurred at West High this year.

Why Many Women Suffer From Constipation

The Natural Remedy.

The delicate and intricate character of the female organs make them most susceptible to irregularity, and for the same reason it is most important that each one should be kept in condition to perform its function in a normal manner. At all of the special periods when womanhood is performing the functions peculiar to her sex there is a decided tendency to slacken the bowels. Nature then requires a gentle assistant. Not powerful and expensive drugs that must be taken at frequent intervals and are so drastic as to damage the tender lining of the stomach and bowels and do more harm than good, but a pure and harmless laxative such as is in the famous Natural Mineral Water—HINNYALL JONES—one of those which will move the bowels gently but effectively in a natural manner. The dose is a small glass of water containing a few drops of the water, taken at the first sign of the morning (slightly warmed) and the result is a healthy and comfortable bowels and a clear and healthy skin.

OIL TRUST'S VICTIM SUES

For $50,000 Damages Because His Business Was Destroyed.

Says That Standard's Wrecker Will Testify for Him.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 9.—Maywood Maxon, for twenty-nine years an employee of the Standard Oil company, and one of its most trusted representatives, is back of the suit for $50,000 damages, which has been filed in the Sangamon circuit court by Fred H. Solle, formerly an independent oil dealer of Springfield. Solle has been a bankrupt for more than a year, but only recently learned the influences that worked to ruin him financially.

A few years ago Solle was the largest independent oil dealer in the city. He kept seven wagons busy all the time, until three other concerns entered into competition with him and his business gradually dwindled to nothing.

Within the past week Solle has been informed that the three concerns which entered the field and ruined him by cutting prices were agents of the Standard Oil company. This knowledge and promises of support from Maxon caused him to file the suit.

For many years Solle's business brought him big returns. In addition to his oil wagons he conducted a hardware store all was looked upon as one of the city's rising merchants. Business reverses forced him to the wall, and now he expects to show that the Standard Oil company conspired against him by sending here the Paragon Oil company, Banner Oil company and Ketcher Brothers to break up his business. He hopes, with Maxon's testimony, to connect these companies with the trust.

The Springfield public well remembers the three companies that entered the field here all about the same time. The Paragon delivered its oil from a yellow tank wagon that showed all the marks of prosperity, with the firm name in black. The Banner company's wagon was similar and painted dark red. The name "Banner Oil Co." was painted in a lighter shade along the side. Ketcher Brothers had a wagon with a black and white checkered pattern. The wagons were all affected with a sort of nervous prostration, and through ill luck, bad timing and through ill luck, they were all forced to make out the name.

The men in charge of Ketcher Brothers' wagons appeared poverty stricken and on this plea of trade was selected. It was represented that the Standard's competition was centered upon them and that they were barely getting along at all.

The companies made great inroads into the Standard's regular business here. Capt. W. E. Palmer, the Standard's agent, was worried, and bombarded the head offices with queries of what had happened. Mr. Wacker was not taken into his company's confidence, and if Solle's information is correct, his superiors enjoyed many hearty laughs at his expense.

Oil came to the three new concerns, but Palmer informed his head offices that he could not ascertain from which it came. He was encouraged to continue his investigations, and urged to be diligent.

While these things were going on Solle was struggling under a heavy load. Business had taken a sudden turn for the worse. He heard strange stories about himself. Prices were cut by his new competitors. Upon one pretext and another, his customers left him. Finally, with only one wagon left, and not enough business to keep it going, Solle gave up and went into the bankruptcy court. He gave up his hardware store, and took the one wagon left to deliver oil himself, ignorant of the methods that he is now convinced conspired against him.

Meanwhile Maxon was located at Decatur as a district agent for the Standard. The business in which he excelled was the murder of rival companies. To him was intrusted the work of devising means and laying traps to put independent dealers out of business, and if Solle's case is a fair example, Maxon was a valuable employee. Having had full charge of the campaign against Solle, Maxon knows the full details of the work against the man who was his victim.

To the public Maxon has represented that his troubles with the Standard, resulting in the loss of his job, was the outcome of a disagreement over a pension. There is another story, however, that Maxon kept for years in a private file letters written to him from the head offices, with positive instructions to destroy. Some time ago Maxon was granted a year's leave of absence to go to Europe. When he returned he was told his services were no longer needed. His private file was not there when Maxon took his belongings from the office.

Despite the loss of Maxon's letters, Solle's attorney claims to have documentary evidence in instructions sent to the man who worked against Solle. It is charged letters were circulated reflecting upon Solle's character and his family.

If points now indicated are brought out in the trial, it is expected to develop into one of the most important proceedings yet brought against the Oil trust.

WOMEN JEALOUS OF MEN'S DINNER

Many Fed at Church Function, But Not Dish Cracked.

Omaha, Feb. 9.—Fully 20 persons survived the supper at Trinity Methodist church. These chocs condition doubtful are the men of the congregation who served the "feed."

Not a woman was allowed to so much as enter the kitchen, let alone salt the soup.

And speaking of soup—the men neglected to brew the broth until after the coffee had been prepared and started the supper off like a Chinese novel—first hot, but through the sagacity of the head waiter, Rev. John Randolph Smith, and his able lieutenants, A. B. Jaquith and Maj. R. S. R. Wilcox, the coffee was recalled and the soup came steaming in after some delay.

Not a dish was cracked. To be sure, there was some crying over spilled milk, but that was merely incidental.

The few women who were not contaminated by the green-eyed demon, and of the men, were the "errand."

One enthusiast volunteered that if he hadn't known the head chef had been brought over from Paris (Ill.) especially for the occasion, he wouldn't have believed it.

When he was met a boiled potato which had found its way into his oyster stew.

The domestic man artfully employed a "Kaffir choir," which worked assiduously to detract scrutiny from the meal.

"Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil is the best remedy for that kind of fatal disease," said one of the men, who was the "errand."

RECEIVES BIDS ON GAS HOLDER

Water Board Not Yet Ready to Award the Contract.

Six bids were opened by the board of water and light commissioners yesterday for a new gas holder that is to be installed this coming season. In the advertisement sent out by the board, bids were asked on a two-lift and three-lift holder, the idea being to get a comparison of the cost of each size.

The lowest bid, that of the R. D. Wood Company of Philadelphia, was $33,500 for a two-lift holder. The board has not yet been made of the contract, the board taking the matter under advisement.

NEGRO CEMETERIES

Enter Into Contest for Possession of Negro's Body.

Hodgenville, Ky., Feb. 9.—There is much speculation just now as to where the body of "Uncle" Jerry Rogers, an old-time negro who died a few days ago, will finally be laid to rest. Jerry had trouble while he lived and it seemed his body is not to be permitted to rest in peace now that he is dead.

It was buried in the negro cemetery, which is the property of a negro lodge.

Before the burial the question arose as to whether Jerry had a right to be buried there, as he was not a member of the lodge, and had not contributed to the purchase of the ground for the cemetery, each one who had contributed $3 being entitled to have one grave therein.

However, Jerry's mother, Aunt Sallie Dye, decided to let Jerry be buried on her lot, contending that there was room for two graves, but the lodge decided she was entitled to but one grave.

After considerable parleying, the cover was finally given burial in the lodge cemetery, but since the negroes who are not members of the lodge have sought ground for an opposition cemetery and will open it in a few days and demand Jerry's body. It has been intimated that since the new cemetery has been bought and that section is already anxious for the body of "Uncle" Jerry that the others will refuse to give it up, and in that event a satisfactory possession may be started. Almost any old court record will show cases of suits for dead negroes, but none for a dead negro.

LAW TANGLE.

Opened Up Over a Dog's Board Bill in Cincinnati.

Cincinnati, Feb. 9.—The perplexing question as to whether or not a dog is "property" has come to the front since Squire Bloom a few days ago decided that a man was entitled to recover $33 for boarding and keeping a dog that strayed into his yard and chose to remain there until his master, some ten weeks later, discovered his whereabouts and reclaimed him. He succeeded in doing this by a decision of Justice George Tibbels, who held that the first owner of the dog was entitled to him.

Mr. Kautson, who got the judgment for $33 for boarding the dog, has been unable to realize anything on his judgment, the proprietor of the dog having no goods that could be levied on—except the dog.

It is on this point that the question is raised as to whether the dog can be seized in execution. The attorneys who hold that a dog is not property say the constable can only levy on "property," and the animal not coming within that legal category, is free from the clutches of the law.

Other argument submitted to the magistrate is that the dog is property if he is listed for taxation, and is not properly if unlisted.

Squire Bloom confesses to a sort of dizzy feeling owing to the subtle hair-splitting on this point, and he will not decide the matter for a few days.

VOTES FOR GRAND COUNCIL.

Alpha Council, Modern Samaritans, Decides in Favor of It.

Alpha council, No. 1, Modern Samaritans, declared itself to be in favor of the formation of a grand council for the state of Minnesota, at a special meeting which was held to consider the matter in Elks' hall last evening. The vote was unanimous.

If twenty lodges in the state of Minnesota vote favorably upon this question, the grand council will be organized at one day and the grand council formed.

IF LIP STAYS SWOLLEN,

Schicklet Cannot Play Music at Miss Roosevelt's Wedding.

Chicago, Feb. 9.—If Samuel Schicklet, flute player, succeeds in removing the swelling from his upper lip, the Hungarian band, of which he is leader, will be conceded behind the palms of the White House on the day Miss Alice Roosevelt will be married. Schicklet, who lives at 541 North Ashland avenue, falls it will be necessary to have a surgeon remove the swelling from his lip. Schicklet is well known among fashionable people of Chicago. Usually, when there is a wedding, he is Schicklet's band played at a reception here attended by Miss Alice Roosevelt. She was charmed with the music and told Schicklet that some day she hoped to have him play for her. Recently a request came from the president that Schicklet furnish the music for the wedding of his daughter. Schicklet, who is a native of Hungary, has been in the United States for some time. He is a very good flute player and has been in the United States for some time. He is a very good flute player and has been in the United States for some time.

GRIEVING KILLED HER.

Schoolgirl Who Eloped With Her Teacher Died in Convulsions.

Chicago, Mo., Feb. 9.—After months of suffering, Olga Knaus, the 16-year-old French school girl who eloped with her teacher, died in convulsions at her mother's home. She collapsed after testifying against Oakes at his trial two weeks ago, and since then has been constantly wandering away.

Oakes was superintendent of the public schools last year, and after a successful season was promoted to another school. He was married, had a daughter almost as old as Olga Knaus, and everything seemed rosy for him. One day, Oakes people were surprised to learn that he had eloped with the French school girl. Investigation traced them to Los Angeles. Public indignation arose, and Oakes was sentenced to prison for a year.

Oakes refused at first to come, but was induced afterward when she heard that he was to make up with his wife. She was the principal witness against him. He was convicted and sentenced to serve two years in the penitentiary.

Luckiest Man in Arkansas.
"I'm the luckiest man in Arkansas," writes H. L. Stanley of Bruno, "since the restoration of my wife's health after five years of continuous coughing and bleeding from the lungs, and I owe my good fortune to the use of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which I know from experience will cure consumption if taken in time. My wife improved with first bottle, and I received the greatest relief. Cured the worst cough and colds or money paid. At all druggists, 50c and 75c. Trial bottle free."

WEST END

TO RESIDE IN CHICAGO

Prof. A. E. Anderson Will Leave West End Soon.

No News From Rev. Ekblad—Union Services Closing.

The West end is soon to lose one of its leading musicians, and in fact, it may be said to be the loss of the leading musician of the city who is to leave. Prof. A. E. Anderson, for a long time choir leader and organist of the Swedish Mission church of the West end, has been made an offer by a Chicago congregation and has accepted. He will leave here to take his new charge on May 1, and if the local church can release him before that he will try to go to Chicago April 1, as that is the time when his contract with the Chicago church will begin.

The Chicago congregation to which he will go is the Lakeview Swedish Mission church, one of the largest of that creed in the Windy City. Mr. Anderson believes that it affords him a wider field for his work and better opportunities for study than Duluth and for that reason turned down the increased salary which the Swedish Mission church here offered him. He has lived here three years and has gained an excellent reputation in musical circles here. His private class is large and he has been musical instructor in the Bradbury school of music for a long time. His coming departure from the West end is much regretted.

NO NEWS YET.

Rev. Ekblad Does Not Notify Bethany Church of Intentions.

Some apprehension is felt as to the acceptance by Rev. A. Theodore Ekblad of a call to the Bethany Lutheran church of his pastorate. Mr. Ekblad was here about two weeks ago and returned to the college, for which he is a solicitor, to attend a meeting of the board of directors. He said at that time it depended upon conditions at the college whether he would or not accept the call to Duluth, for so far as his personal feelings were concerned he felt like coming. However, he said at that time that he would probably know within a week.

Since that time no word has been heard from him, although something is looked for daily. It is rather feared that he will decide not to come. He made a good impression while here.

HAS BIG RUSH.

Johnson & Moe's Clearing Off Sale is Great Success.

The clearing-off sale at the store of Johnson & Moe, which started yesterday morning, bids fair to be the most successful that the West end or any other part of the city has yet seen. When the doors of the store opened yesterday morning the rush began with a roar right away and from that time until the closing hour last evening the store was one seething mass of humanity.

To begin with, Mr. Moe engaged thirty extra clerks for the opening yesterday morning, but before noon had to engage ten more, and if the rush keeps up still another ten will be put on. A large hole was torn in the $80,000 stock put on sale and Mr. Moe says that the sale is the most successful thing he has ever attempted.

COMING TO CLOSE.

Union Services Will Finish With Saturday Night's Meeting.

The union services of the Scandinavian churches of the West end have continued all of this week and large audiences are attracted each evening. Wednesday night Rev. H. K. Madsen spoke at the First Swedish M. E. church at Twentieth avenue west and Third street. He spoke eloquently and effectively. Rev. O. F. Kling sang a solo and Rev. John A. Anderson contributed the closing remarks. That will be the only change on the surface, although the vice president is now William L. Berner in place of T. W. Walker. It is quite likely that a number of reports of interest will be made and some new things come up.

Commercial Club Meets.

The West end commercial club will meet this evening in regular session, and the new officers will take hold for the first time. Capt. D. E. Stevens, the new president, will preside. That will be about the only change on the surface, although the vice president is now William L. Berner in place of T. W. Walker. It is quite likely that a number of reports of interest will be made and some new things come up.

West End Shortfalls.

The Ladies' Aid society of St. John's English Lutheran church met at a birthday social on Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. George M. Jensen, 292 West Third street. John Lofold of 224 Twenty-seventh avenue died yesterday morning of pneumonia. He leaves a wife and three children. He was about 35 years of age. The funeral will take place Sunday afternoon from the Norwegian-Danish M. E. church, and interment will be in Park Hill cemetery.

S. S. Niven, a contractor, is stopping at the Esmond. He says he sold 1,400 tons of honey last year.

There will be a new super Saturday evening at 125 West Superior street, from 7 to 9 o'clock, by the ladies of Grace M. E. church.

Charles H. Thompson of Chicago is at the Esmond. He is a member of the construction work on the new buildings for the Duluth Brewing & Malting company at Twenty-eighth avenue west.

Two brakemen, J. H. Kemp and C. W. Ketchum, who have worked on the Northern Pacific for a long time, and boarded at the Esmond, are leaving the West end for Proctor, having transferred their affection and abilities to the Duluth, Missabe & Northern road.

Scott Powers, a conductor on the Illinois Central road, was at the Esmond this week visiting friends. He comes from Waterloo, Iowa.

A son has been born to Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Satterquist of 225 West Eighth street.

What the doctor orders is what you need. The substitute at the Lion Drug store.

The Gopher club will give a skating party this evening at the Lincoln park roller rink, and afterwards will go to the home of Lowellyn Fritchard, 202 West Second street, for refreshments.

A number of the wives of railroad engineers gave a delightful party last Wednesday night, and afterwards were entertained at the home of Mrs. Alfred Dahl, 315 Twenty-first avenue west.

Fred Lindbeck has returned to work at R. R. Forward & Co's store after an illness of six weeks with rheumatism.

Warm, furnished rooms, 299 Huron street west.

Rev. Father Gullett, rector of St. Joan de Baptist church, has just issued the financial statement of the congregation for the year of 1905. The statement shows that despite the immense expenditure recently made by improvement, the congregation is in excellent shape financially.

Mrs. M. E. Church are giving an oyster supper tomorrow evening at a vacant store building on West Superior street, near Eighteenth avenue west.

It's pure if it comes from the Lion Drug store.

PAID PREMIUM

On His Insurance Policy and Then Killed Himself.

Macon, Ga., Feb. 8.—Two hours after he had paid the premium on a life insurance policy, Cleo Taylor, a young man, was found dead by the roadside a few miles from Macon.

Taylor was a son of a town with a friend and seemed a bit despondent, remarking as he parted from his companion, "I have decided to quit everything."

A few moments later the friend heard a pistol shot and riding back he found the body of Taylor, his brains splattered on the ground.

Houghton—A series of earthquakes shocks were felt throughout the copper country Thursday, starting about midnight and continuing with marked frequency throughout the entire day, over forty distinct shocks being noted.

In Hancock, where the shocks were most distinct, the residents were put on edge and all drifts connecting it with shafts numbers 1 and 2 were blocked by falling dirt and rocks. One car with a load of human freight was blocked by boulders while being lowered in No. 2 shaft and the men were forced to leave the car and climb to the surface. Miners in both the other shafts refused to work and many quit their positions. Excitement throughout the district is intense and the people fear further shocks.

Sault Ste. Marie—The cold wave threatens to wipe out the supply of fish eggs destined for the Lake Superior region. Pipes supplying water to the local hatchery are frozen and 500,000 eggs and brook trout eggs were hurriedly shipped to the Paris hatchery in Southern Michigan Thursday to save them. It will be a week before the hatchery is ready to resume operations. Fish are to be planted in Lake Superior and the surrounding streams after the spring.

Menominee—A timber wolf was killed by Robert Mulholland last week on the farm of Fred Stephenson, three miles north of Menominee. Mr. Mulholland reports that there is a large pack of big wolves just north of Menominee and that he has seen them many times. He says he saw four big fellows on Monday night, and they were very tame. More lately he saw a pack of about twelve or fifteen wolves, more than the one above referred to, which was reddish grey in color and rather resembled a fox. A peculiar thing about the wolf was that its right fore paw was missing. It was a peculiar thing, probably in a trap. The wound was fully healed and the hair nearly recovered the stump.

Mr. Prieur, a Menominee man, is again confined. A fortnight ago he was the victim of the trouble in his hands from which he has been suffering for some years.

lost her fortune

Indianaapolis, Ind., Feb. 8.—Eighty-two years old, sick and penniless is the condition of Mrs. E. D. Smith, who lives at 611 East Pratt street. A few years ago she had over $100,000, which she lost in speculation. She is now being supported by charity.

The old woman formerly owned valuable business and residence property here besides a beautiful country home near Lillydale, N. Y. In the same neighborhood with the latter there was a park where the woman lived and she was very rich.

On one trip from here to Lillydale, Mrs. Smith met a young woman who told her that she had a message from the spirit world ordering her to adopt him as her son.

In spite of the protests of her friends she adopted him, and he was disposed of her fortune.

HAPPENINGS IN THE DAKOTAS

Minstrel Bowers Released After Four Months Imprisonment.

SOUTH DAKOTA.
Sioux Falls—After having been in custody of Sheriff Phillips here in this city for a period of nearly four months on a body execution secured by a Watertown, S. D., woman, Otis Bowers, the minstrel, has been released from custody. It is probable he will in the near future assume the management of the Bowers & Bowers minstrels, his old partner having died during the time he was in custody.

The enforced four months' idleness was due to an accident that occurred at Watertown while the minstrels were giving a performance in that city. A section of the seats in the tent in which the show was given collapsed, and a woman received severe injuries. She instituted an action against Bowers & Bowers in state circuit court for Codington county, and was awarded a judgment in the sum of $200.

The first opportunity to collect the judgment was Oct. 12, last, when Bowers appeared at Sioux Falls as a member of Beach & Bowers minstrels. At the conclusion of the performance he was arrested. Bowers alleged that he was not financially interested in the company, and, rather than pay the amount of the judgment, remained in custody of the sheriff for a period of nearly four months.

During this time the Watertown woman paid $1 a week to Sheriff Phillips for Bowers' board. Finally becoming convinced that she could not compel him to pay the amount of the judgment, and rather than continue paying his board, she came up from the jail, where she already had amounted to about $100, she ordered that he be discharged.

Yankton—The city council has taken an order whirling at gambling in acting on some petitions that asked for rights equal to those alleged to be given to the "gambling syndicate." The petitioners, who were asked to show there was any gambling going on, brought in enough proof to satisfy the council, although at the previous meeting Mayor Frank Farnlow, chief of Police William Hickey and three aldermen all declared that they knew of no gambling. The petitioners' proofs were considered conclusive, and gambling cases now may come up in the regular legal way, the city attorney having promised to take action whenever a sufficient case was presented to him.

Sisseton—Paul Lacine, a farmer living in the north part of this county, was thrown from his wagon while returning home from town. He laid by the roadside in an unconscious condition until picked up by a passer-by the following morning. His hands and feet were frozen stiff as Mr. Lacine. He has evidently been the victim of a runaway and had been thrown from his wagon, striking upon his head and face, which were terribly bruised and lacerated. He is still in an unconscious condition, and every effort is being made to save him. It is believed he cannot recover.

NORTH DAKOTA.
Bismarck—In an effort to extend for a few years the life of the Fargo land office it is reported here that a movement is on foot to segregate five tiers of townships from the Bismarck district, which would include about 20,000 acres of excellent farming land. This would throw the towns of Ashley, Wishick, Tappen, Crystal

PRELATE'S EARS BOXED BY PRINCE

Servia's Embryo King Makes Love to Fat Actresses.

Belgrade, Servia, Feb. 9.—Crown Prince George, a riotous, unruly lad of 18, bids fair to make things lively in the Balkans when he becomes king.

He and his father, King Peter, pretty nearly come to blows in the palace every day. At meals one never knows whether King or his apparent will sit through all the courses, or whether one of them, in a burst of ungovernable rage, will rush out of the apartment.

The prince shows absolutely no respect for the Servian Greek church. The secretary to the archbishop of Belgrade was sent to him the other day to counsel him to desist from going to the cathedral service so late, as he disturbed the other worshippers. The secretary got his ears boxed for his pains.

George spent two years in a military school at St. Petersburg. His Russian masters say he was rather bright, but inclined to untruthfulness and bad language. He has now been two years in Belgrade and his father has done his best for the "young hopeful."

King Peter got a French officer of irreproachable life to teach Prince George military tactics, and has done all else to instill into his youthful mind the fundamentals of chivalry, the rudiments of the art of being a gentleman.

All to no purpose. One French officer ventured to reproach the princeling for some youthful excess and was struck in the face. He challenged the prince to a fight and it was with the utmost difficulty that the harassed king could get the Frenchman out of Servia with a check for $4,000 as a salve for his wounded feelings.

The prince's love affairs largely engage public attention in Belgrade. He is most fascinated by variety actresses of a fat type, with fair hair. One of these is a Hungarian girl named Florance, who plays musical glasses. One night lately the prince and two boon companions serenaded her at her lodgings. Some policemen who sought to interfere, not recognizing the chief serenade, were commanded to move, revolvers being pointed at them.

PRESIDENT SORRY

Because He Must Miss Big Lion Shoot in Colorado.

Denver, Colo., Feb. 9.—Jake Borah, the noted Colorado guide and hunter, has sent forth a strenuous call of the wild, and all the mighty hunters of Colorado will join him in what promises to be the greatest lion, wolf and coyote hunt ever held in the state.

Humane Agent Harry B. Kerr has just returned from Eagle county, where he visited Borah in his lodge. Jake Borah said to Mr. Kerr: "The lions are very thick and there will be some horses and guides aplenty. If you are a sure shot you can get lots of mountain lions, bobcats, timber wolves and coyotes."

"They have multiplied so fast that they are killing off all our cattle, and wish that every sportsman in the state would come up from Feb. 7 to 10 and help me wipe them out. Over 100 dogs will be on hand to track the game and we will start early every morning, making headquarters at either Gypsum, Glenwood or Eagle."

Although President Roosevelt is busy with his fight with the United States senate, he took time to write a long letter of regret to Borah, saying that he is very sorry he will be unable to join in the hunt.

The territory covered will be that traversed by the president and his party on the occasion of his last hunt in Colorado.

AMENDMENT PRESENTED

To Statehood Bill Requiring Vote of People of Both Territories.

Patterson's Amendment for Eight-Hour Law is Defeated.

Washington, Feb. 9.—At the beginning of today's session of the senate Mr. Foraker presented an amendment to the statehood bill, directing the method of proceeding in Arizona and New Mexico on the question of admission. It directs that within thirty days after the approval of the statehood bill, the governors of the two territories shall respectively call elections for submitting the question of statehood to the voters of the two proposed states separately and that the union shall not be consummated unless a majority of the votes in each territory are cast in the affirmative.

The urgent deficiency appropriation bill was laid before the senate and read at length. When the reading of the bill had been concluded, Mr. Patterson moved to strike out the provision removing the time limitation from the requirements in the employment of alien laborers on the Panama canal. He spoke in support of the amendment, contending that the inevitable effect would be to entirely eliminate the possibility of employing American labor on the canal. He said that with the time limitation removed from one class of labor on the canal others to whom the limitation did apply would not be employed. He thought that with improved sanitary conditions in Panama a large number of negro citizens of this country could find profitable employment there if the eight-hour law was enforced.

He also thought that many American mechanics would find employment in the canal zone.

Mr. Hale said that it had been impossible to get negroes to go to Panama to work.

Senator Patterson's amendment eliminating the provision which abrogates the eight-hour law was defeated without division.

The senate passed the urgent deficiency bill and agreed to adjourn over until Monday. The senate at 3:38 went into executive session.

BOARD IS NOT AUTHORIZED

To Suggest to County Assessors How to Perform Their Duties.

St. Paul, Feb. 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Shall the tax laws of the state, which says property must be assessed at its full value, 100 cents on the dollar, be enforced or the interpretation which now prevails continue? The State County Auditors' association put the question squarely up to the state board of equalization today, following a declaration the day before by one of its members that the whole trouble was that as the laws were "enforced" it was a miserable exhibition. Early today the auditors got down to business and the first matter brought up was a request for a recommendation from the board of equalization for a standard of value for the fixing of assessments.

The auditors wanted something to work on and they wanted it official. Some of the auditors wanted to have the association reach an agreement among itself and to this end a motion was offered fixing 50 per cent as the basis.

This was rejected. Auditor Halden of St. Louis county leading in the argument against it. A committee appointed offered a resolution leaving the matter to the board of equalization. The action of the county auditors was conveyed to the board of equalization, then in session in an adjoining room. They at once went into executive session.

For two hours the board deliberated, the session even extending into the

WHAT CAME FIRST.

The eminent lecturer, Dr. L. Carter, self-made, and not wholly unconscious of the fact, was addressing the Somerville Y. M. C. A., says the Boston Herald.

"My dear young people," he began, "let me refer briefly to the humble auspices under which my start in life was made. Without a dollar in my pocket, and with no worldly possessions of consequence, my indomitable nature and an inborn determination to utilize to the fullest advantage my abilities constituted by entire assets. But, even with this modest beginning, what, do you suppose, was the thing I first sought—that which, at the very outset of my career, I strove most earnestly to attain?"

For one second did an awe-stricken silence reign over the audience, as the speaker paused to allow the significance of these impressive words to permeate the youthful understanding. Then, in a spontaneous outburst of juvenile enthusiasm, came the answer, as of one voice: "Milk!"

HOW IT ACTED.

The late George S. Evans was known in G. A. R. circles as a good storyteller, says the Boston Herald. The following is one he told:

In a town in Essex county lived an old toper who was always hanging around the bar of the hotel to snatch up any glass that remained on the bar with a stray drop in it.

One day the proprietor left a glass of very strong acid on the counter overnight, and when he looked for it the next morning found it had disappeared.

Later in the day he saw the old toper reclining on the piazza outside, and asked if he drank the contents of that glass. After a slight hesitation, the toper admitted that he did.

"Didn't you find it rather strong?" asked the landlord.

"Well, no," was the reply, "but I have thought it rather queer that every time I have blown my nose since it has burned a hole in my handkerchief."

TIMELY CAUTION.

Some fifty years ago Capt. Richard S. Marth was well known at the West end, and a familiar figure on School street in the vicinity of the City hall, says the Boston Herald. He had "run with the machine" and been captain of "Old Barnicot," and was later an engineer of the Boston fire department. He also carried on the painting business at 10 Chapman place.

It was his custom to be at his shop quite early two or three times a week, to see that his employees were all on time. If any one arrived late, the same dialogue always took place, the one morning "Ho!" White was the victim, and was accosted by the proprietor, who said: "Mr. White, you are thirteen minutes late this morning."

"Y-y-y-y-y, sir; but, you see, I-I was married last night." To which Capt. Dick replied:

"Very well, very well; but don't let it occur again."

SUPPLY GOOD.

The Hon. James N. Buffum of Lynn was the owner of much timber land he had never seen in Maine, says the Boston Herald. On one occasion, in looking up one of these tracts, he took the stage at Bethel, and while the driver was delivering the mail at the village postoffice at Andover Mr. Buffum inquired of the villagers standing around: "What is the business of this town?"

"Making blockheads," was the reply.

"Well," said Mr. Buffum, "business must be very dull. I see you have quite a good supply on hand."

Senator Forsaker was contradicting a certain statement, says the Los Angeles Times.

"Though this is a firm contradiction," he said, "I want it to be a pleasant and polite one. It is not necessary when men tell falsehoods, to call them liars and club them over the head. Their error can be pointed out in kinder and more graceful ways."

"For instance: 'In a small town in Indiana a group of drummers were assembled. They sat in the reading room of the country hotel, on the flimsy hotel paper they had finished writing to their firms with the lumpy ink and the rusted pens which the hotel management provided, and now, with newspaper reading and desultory talk, they waited away the tedious evening.'"

"A young drummer in a red tie took the cigarette from his mouth and said: 'Well, my day's sales here reached $5,000. Not bad for a small town, eh?'"

"An elderly drummer looked up from his newspaper and said quietly: 'Not bad at all. It is wonderful what one can sometimes do in these little places. On my last trip here my commissions came to just what you say your sales did.'"

"The young man reddened. 'This isn't a lying competition,' he said gruffly. 'Oh, excuse me,' said the other. 'I thought it was.'"

This story is told of Judge Hoar of Concord, who was attending an Easter service in the historic church of that town, says the Boston Herald. The church was profusely decorated with lilies, and conspicuous among the beautiful white flowers was one large rose.

A lady sitting next the judge remarked upon the peculiar selection of that one flower, and the judge said, quietly: "To me it seems fitting for the Easter service, for there was but one rose at the resurrection."

O'DEA WILL BE CAPTAIN GUARDSMEN WILL SHOOT

Artie Signs Contract and Will Proceed to Get Players.

Nothing Given Out Yet Regarding Future Plans of League.

Arthur O'Dea, the smiling and good-natured captain of the Duluth White Sox of 1905, will again act as captain and playing manager of the team in 1906.

A. W. Kuehnow will take L. A. Van Praagh's place, as business manager of the team.

"Artie" is in the city at the present time, and has signed his contract with the Duluth club for next season. He will have complete charge of the players, and will at once begin the work of getting together next season's team.

"Artie" has always been popular with the Duluth fans. He knows baseball from A to Z, is a heavy hitter, a clean fielder, and a scrappy, aggressive but always good-natured player. He was well liked as a manager last year, and the action of the Duluth club in engaging him again this season, will make a hit with the fans.

O'Dea had offers from several other teams, but the Duluth club had first claim on his services.

The Members of Local Battalion to Contest for Honors.

Will Hold an Indoor Tournament at the Armory.

Members of the local battalion of the Third regiment, Minnesota National Guard, are to have an indoor marksmanship contest at the Armory next Tuesday evening.

The marksmen tried the range at the battalion drill Tuesday evening and Maj. Resche announced that the trials were so satisfactory that a bona fide contest would be held next week, when the battalion drill is to come off.

The contest is open to any member of the battalion, but realizing the prowess of some of the other sharpshooters in the battalion, it is probable that the shooters of less ability and the raw recruits will not try to wrest the prizes from the hands of the champions.

In order to make the contest interesting, it is proposed to charge a small entrance fee and the winner is to take all the money collected. The shooting is done at bull's eyes and light ammunition is to be used.

At the wild target practice, which was held this week to determine whether an indoor tournament would be practical, the high scores were made by Lieut. Whittaker and Maj. Resche.

Maj. Resche is conducting rigid drill to these days to the end of making a good showing when the inspection officer comes up from St. Paul to look over the companies. This will probably be the last of March or in April.

OUTSIDE RINKS ARE DEFEATED

Winnipeg Curlers Are Successful in Annual Blue Ribbon Event.

Winnipeg, Feb. 9.—The Winnipeg rinks were successful in the annual blue ribbon match, played yesterday afternoon, in the bonspiel now in progress here.

The match is one in which the Winnipeg rinks meet all comers, and the seventeen rinks from the Canadian metropolises were matched against seventeen outside rinks, winning by the score of 202 to 172. The Smith rink of Duluth, which was one of the outside rinks, lost to the Thistles by the score of 13 to 6. Thompson of Bowmont lost to Kelly of the Thistles by the score of 13 to 6. The crack Dunbar rink of St. Paul lost to a rink skipped by W. A. Carson of the Thistles, who formerly played third for Dunbar, by the score of 11 to 7. These were all of the American rinks entered in the match.

Flavelle of Lindsay and Rennie of Toronto were also among the defeated skips.

This afternoon the international event will be played, when the four American rinks will meet four Canadian rinks. Smith of Duluth will meet Lemon of the Granite. Myron will play Boyd of Indian Head; Dunbar of St. Paul will play Rennie of Toronto; and Thompson of Bowmont will meet Hannister of Careyberry.

In yesterday's games, Smith lost to Alex Douglas of the Thistles, 13 to 6. Myron lost to Sparling of Portage La Prairie. Myron was also put out of the Empire trophy event by Badgley of Emerson.

Last evening the visitors were entertained at the annual Caledonian banquet. During the evening J. C. Myron of Duluth sang a number of Scotch songs which were greatly appreciated.

This story is denied by others, who claim that Maynard is from one of the small towns in the southern part of the state.

LA FOLLETTE HAS ANTI-PASS BILL

Would Forbid Federal Officers From Accepting Railroad Courtesies.

Washington, Feb. 9.—Senator La Follette of Wisconsin yesterday introduced a bill in the senate prohibiting federal officials from asking for or accepting railroad or other passes and prohibiting railroads from granting them. It imposes penalties for violations of the law.

The bill forbids all persons and corporations, giving free passes or tickets to any political convention, to any candidate for an office under the constitution or laws of the United States or to any holder of such an office. The bill forbids passes, tickets or privileges being issued to any other person for "traveling" accommodation or transportation of any person or property or the transmission of any message or communication.

The punishment for violations of the bill is imprisonment at hard labor, not more than five years nor less than one year or by fine not exceeding $5,000 nor less than $500.

Agents and officers of companies within the purview of the bill are not to be privileged from testifying in judicial proceedings, and no person so testifying is to be liable to punishment for any offense concerning which he was required to testify.

"Free pass" as used in the bill, is defined, "any form of ticket or mileage entitling the holder to travel on any line of the line or lines of any railway issued to the holder as a gift in consideration of any service rendered or to be performed by such holder or any other person, except where such ticket or mileage is used by such holder in the performance of his duties as an employee of a railway company."

Railway mail service men while in the performance of their duty are to be exempt from the provisions of the bill.

TWENTY-EIGHT MEN KILLED

By Explosion of Gas in a West Virginia Mine.

Charleston, W. Va., Feb. 9.—At least twenty-eight men are supposed to have met death in a terrible mine explosion in the Parallel mine of the Stewart Coal company at Hopeville. Thirty-nine men were employed in the mine and only eleven have escaped alive. At midnight six bodies had been recovered near the mouth of the mine, and it is certain that all the others in the mine are dead.

The explosion is said to have been caused by the ignition of gas in the western portion of the mine, which is badly wrecked. The men rescued were employed in the eastern portion and not exposed to the full force of the explosion. It is not expected that the bodies of the others will be reached until some time Friday.

The explosion occurred at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon and was caused by a pocket of gas which was struck in a fault of the mine. It is thought the miners were killed outright by the explosion. The system of fans was completely wrecked and all air was shut off, leaving the men who had not been killed by the explosion to smother to death. The mine is a shaft 20 feet deep, and the unfortunate miners had little chance of escape.

Most of the miners caught in the mine are Hungarians or negroes who had little experience in mining. They were not expecting the pocket of gas, which is nearly always discovered in mine faults in the Kanawha region.

SON-IN-LAW MAY HAVE TROUBLE

Range Woman Visits Courthouse to Look Up His Record.

If a certain young man residing in one of the range towns is unable to produce a decree of divorce obtained from his first wife before marrying her daughter, a few days ago, there is an angry mother-in-law on her way home to make some trouble that may result in a grand jury action. The story surrounding the case came to light this morning when a determined looking woman visited the office of clerk of district court and asked if there was any record of the marriage and divorce of a young man that she called by name. A search of the marriage license records showed that the party in question had been married in 1903 to a young lady whose name the woman seemed to be familiar with.

No record of any subsequent divorce proceedings were found.

Another entry in the license book showed that the woman's daughter was recently married to the same man. The mother-in-law appeared to be much aroused over her discoveries, and she requested certified copies of the records which she said she wished to show her daughter, to substantiate the remarks she would make when at home again. The woman claimed that the young man she is after came to her home to board in 1904, and that he managed to win her daughter's consent to a marriage, although, as the mother claims, the girl was under the legal age required to get a license without her parent's consent. It was claimed further by the mother that several years were added to the girl's age when the application was made for a license. Action was started by the parents. It is said, to have the son-in-law prosecuted for perjury, but the mother claims they were unsuccessful, and the case was dropped.

Hearing rumors that her son-in-law has another wife living, the woman is now doing a little detective work on her own account, and promises to make things interesting if her suspicions turn out to be true.

Cured in Ten Days After Suffering For Four Years!

Here is another remarkable cure effected by Cooper's New Discovery and Quick Relief, the new discoveries in medicine, that are attracting such great attention.

THE COOPER MEDICINE CO.

Gentlemen: I have been laid up with Rheumatism for over four years, during all this time I was unable to work and suffered untold agonies from the excruciating pain.

I used all the Rheumatism remedies I could hear of and was treated by several physicians without relief, until finally the doctors advised me to try a change of climate.

I heard of many people who were cured by Cooper's Medicines, and purchased several bottles of the New Discovery and Quick Relief.

I was amazed at the results. In ten days after I began their use, the pain and swelling had disappeared and I was able to work and walk without suffering.

I am thankful that a medicine has been discovered that will cure the dreaded Rheumatism. Signed: C. JONES, Cedarburg, Wis.

WE HAVE A NEW DISCOVERY IN MEDICINE

That will neutralize the acids which cause Rheumatism and expel them from the system. A medicine that fills the veins with pure blood and cures disease.

PURE BLOOD AND RHEUMATISM ARE NEVER FOUND IN THE SAME SYSTEM.

Cooper's New Discovery costs $1.00 per bottle, 3 for $2.50, 6 for $5.00. Cooper's Quick Relief, the assistant remedy, costs 50 cents. Buy only from the dealer whose name appears below, or where we have no dealer you can secure the medicines you wish by sending the price direct to the Cooper Medicine Company, Dayton, Ohio, and we will forward the medicine to you, charges prepaid.

BROTHERS IN LAWSUIT

Happy Abalon, Greek Merchant, Has Claim Against Brother.

Seeks Repayment of Loaned Money and Stock of Goods.

When Greek meets Greek, then comes a lawsuit.
Happy Abalon, a Greek merchant, is suing his brother William, in the municipal court for the recovery of $100 borrowed money, and the payment for certain goods valued at $65, claimed to have been advanced him.

The two brothers have been in this country for about eleven years. When they first faced the hardships of life in a foreign land, they shared each other's troubles, but when a moderate competence came as the result of years of labor, they became estranged. Happy claims that his brother William alienated his wife's affection from him, and was instrumental in bringing about the divorce which was secured. Business disagreements, also came, and now the brothers are fighting each other through the law court.

According to the claim of Happy, he and a younger brother were in business in Montreal, when William wrote him and asked him to telegraph $10, which he hadly needed, as he had not with some reverses in business, and was about to get married. The money was promptly sent, according to Happy's story, and later, on his return to Duluth, he "staked" William a stock of Oriental goods valued at $65.

He claims that William has never repaid him either the borrowed money or paid for the goods, and he further claims that when he telegraphed $10, he needed a settlement of the account his brother abused him and threatened him with violence.

The case is being tried before a jury in Judge Windsor's court room. Albert Haldein is representing Happy Abalon, the plaintiff, and William is represented by Alfred W. Jones.

BUSY DAY IN WOLF PELTS

County Auditor Receives Twelve Skins From the Range.

This was about the busiest day that County Auditor Halden has ever had in the wolf bounty business. Alfred Kito of Tower, dealer in furs, visited the auditor's office this morning with twelve pelts of full grown wolves killed in the towns of Bretung and Embarras, this county. A total bounty of $10 was paid on ten of the pelts and the other two were withheld for correction on some of the papers.

Nine of the wolves were killed in the town of Bretung by Joseph Bright, James Blackbird and Joe Bignose, all Indians who caught the animals by means of traps. The other wolf was killed by Erikid Takala, in the town of Embarras.

Mr. Kito said that the wolves seem to be more plentiful than ever before in the towns and unorganized territory to the north and west of Tower. Of the ten pelts accepted by the auditor six were males and four were females.

Sunday's Band Concert.

Miss Flossie Farn will be the soloist at the concert to be given Sunday evening at the Lyceum by the Third

RANGE MAN ASKS DIVORCE.
Married for 28 Years and Deserted 10 Years Ago.

Married for twenty-eight years, and alleging desertion since ten years ago, Michael Schutte has brought suit in district court for a decree of divorce from Jennifer Schutte, who, he claims, deserted him in 1886, and whose whereabouts he alleges he does not know.

According to the complaint, Schutte is 50 and his wife 45 years of age. They were married at Cobb, Iowa county, Wis., in June, 1878, and have four children, whose ages range from 18 to 27 years.

Schutte claims that in September, 1894, his wife went back to her old home on account of the sickness and death of her father. He alleges that she received $1,300 as her share of her father's estate, and that two years later she deserted him and went to Colorado, where he last heard she was residing, some years ago. N. B. Arnold is attorney for Schutte.

JEWISH CLUB

Formed for Purpose of Educating the Race in English.

A club has been organized in Duluth for the purpose of affording education to the Jewish people of Duluth and Superior, and the headquarters are located at 28 West Superior street, upstairs. It has been organized about two months and already its membership has reached about fifty.

A night school under the direction of Mr. Rabinow will be opened every Monday, Wednesday and Thursday nights from 7:00 to 9:30 to permit the study of English. A free lecture, debate or reading takes place each Sunday evening. Soon the club will have a library and reading room, which will be open every evening.

CONTRACTS ARE LET.

Fourteen Contracts to Provide Equipment for Atikokan Ore Company.
Concrete foundations for the Atikokan Ore company's new blast furnace at Port Arthur, Ont., have been completed and contracts for the steel structural work and machinery have been let. Duluth men are interested in this concern.

The work was divided into fourteen contracts. The Canada Foundry company of Toronto secured $20,000 worth of it; the Canada Bridge company $100,000 and the Caldonia Iron works of Montreal, $20,000. The remainder of the contracts went to United States firms, for machinery which could not be secured in Canada. If the contractors finish their work on time, it is expected that the company will have the furnaces going next August.

INJURY AFFECTS MIND.

Chisholm Woman Who Attempted Suicide is Examined for Insanity.

Deputy Sheriff Owen Gately returned from Chisholm this morning having in charge Mrs. Edward Meeker of that place, against whom information of insanity has been lodged. The woman was to have had her examination in probate court this afternoon. Her husband also came down to attend the hearing.

According to the reports from Chisholm, Mrs. Meeker was injured in the head some years ago in such a manner as to require trepanning of the skull. It is believed that the spells of insanity are a result of the old injury. Recently she attempted suicide with carbolic acid. Mrs. Meeker is about 40 years of age and has one or two children.

TO SETTLE THE RIGHT OF TUGS

Of Foreign Countries to Tow American Vessels in Home Waters.

Washington, Feb. 9.—A friendly suit to settle a doubtful point of law regarding the towing of American vessels in home waters by a foreign tug will shortly be filed in Michigan by the United States attorney for the eastern district of that state. The action will be taken as the result of a request to the department of justice by the department of commerce and labor, the case in point being the Canadian tug Florence, whose master was charged at Port Huron with operating in American waters without a license, thereby subjecting himself to a fine.

The law on this subject is specific in its provisions that no foreign tug shall tow American vessels in home waters except when a part of the trip is made in foreign waters. In this instance the master of the Florence alleges that in carrying his tow from a point on Lake Erie in the United States to a point on Lake Huron in the United States, he, for a part of the time was in foreign waters, when he ran close to Bois Blanc island. The department of commerce and labor, however, maintains that, according to its interpretation of the law, the exception in the case of a foreign tug is only made where the tow is from a foreign port to the United States or vice versa. This contention raised a doubt in the minds of the officials here and the case, therefore, is to be submitted for judicial decision.

THOSE WHO HAVE PASSED BEYOND

Washington, Feb. 9.—Gen. John Eaton, a distinguished Civil war veteran and noted educator, died here today, aged 77 years. He graduated from Dartmouth college in 1854, and later from Andover Theological seminary. He entered the war as a captain of the Twenty-ninth Ohio Volunteer infantry, and had charge of freedmen in the Mississippi valley, and subsequently attained the rank of brigadier general of volunteers. At one time he was editor of the Memphis Post. He also was superintendent of schools for Tennessee, and in 1870 became United States commissioner of education, which position he held for sixteen years, and afterward became president of Marietta college, Ohio, and of Sheldon, Jackson college, Salt Lake City. He established the educational system of Porto Rico, under the military occupancy of the United States, and became superintendent of public instruction there. Gen. Eaton was a native of New Hampshire. He leaves a widow and three children.

El Paso, Tex., Feb. 9.—O. C. Ellison, one of the founders of the National Irrigation congress, California commissioner to the Chicago World's fair, died yesterday at Guaymas, Sonora, Mexico. He was the husband of Edith M. Neill Bowyer, the novelist, and in boyhood lived on an adjoining estate to Eben in Norway.

"Fortune gives too much to many—but enough to none." The fickle goddess is partial to those who never quit courting her—who watch for a glimpse of her face even among the Herald's ads.

Let us show you some of our Sealship Oysters, the kind that come in Patent Cartons—ice and oysters separate—all the flavor kept in. The kind of oysters you have always wished you could get. No chemical preservative is ever used with Sealship Oysters and they are guaranteed absolutely pure, clean and fresh. They are entirely different from the "dipped" watered oysters shipped in slimy, unclean tubs. Sealship Oysters are full measure solid meats and just as cheap as the "watered" tub oysters at a lower price. If you want to pay a high price for water, buy the tub oysters; if you don't want to pay for water, but do desire to get full value for your money, let us send you some of our delicious Sealship Oysters. You don't know how good oysters can be until you have tried them.

A QUEER CLEW.

French Police Trace Crime From Bit of Gun Wadding.

One recent murder mystery reminded me of a case that made an immense sensation in France three years ago. Waterloo, says the New Orleans Times-Democrat. In the year 1818, a M. Martin, receiver of taxes at Dillay, was murdered on the highway and at midnight—shot through the heart—while returning to his home. The motive for the crime was obviously robbery, as M. Martin's purse, his watch and his ring were carried off by the assassin. Though the murder was committed on the public highway and in broad daylight, no one witnessed the crime, heard the shot or noticed in the neighborhood any suspicious stranger.

After the most exhaustive investigation only a slight, single and singular clue was discovered by the police. Part of the paper wadding with which the charge of the gun had been rammed down was found in the wound, a kind of palimpsest stained on the surface with blood and beneath these stains some writing was discerned of a curious technical character. Under the date of 1803 words and phrases which were used only in glass manufacture in that which at last rehabilitated a servant girl in Delft, after she had served out a severe sentence for theft of goods from her master's house. Her master himself was so convinced of her innocence that he interceded successfully for the shortening of her sentence, and took her again into his service when she came out of jail. Shortly after she had re-entered his service, as she was passing through the butcher's market in Delft, a man tapped her on her shoulder and whispered into her ear. "Pretty well before and not amiss behind!" Hurrying home she told her master she had found the

POLITICAL POT BOILING

Contest for Lieutenant Governor May Be Decided Warmly.

General Disposition to Stamp Out the Nationality Talk.

St. Paul, Feb. 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—For the first time in Minnesota it looks as though the contest for lieutenant governor would be stronger than that for governor. While there is not a single avowed Republican candidate for governor, there are at least two candidates who have declared themselves in no uncertain terms for the second place on the ticket. The situation is extremely interesting, and is regarded by many of the politicians as an anomaly in state politics.

There is no doubt that there will be a lively fight for the second place on the ticket, an office which has in the past been meted out more as a consolation prize to a candidate who was unfortunate enough not to land where he originally aimed. The importance of the position, however, is gradually impressing itself not only upon the party workers, but upon the general mass of voters.

While on the surface the office may appear to be quite insignificant, in the face of a number of lucrative and long term offices, much more alluring, it is one of the most important offices in the state, and the man who holds it can influence legislation more directly than can any state official, from the governor down.

Two strong candidates, Senator Hawkins and C. M. Sprague, are in the field. It is now rumored that the corporations are anxious to secure control

"JACK, THE STABBER,"

Caught by Police of St. Louis, After Stabbing Many Women.

Confesses He is the Man Wanted, But Offers No Explanation.

St. Louis, Feb. 10.—John Brady, 22 years old, a waiter out of employment, was arrested today on suspicion of being the young man known as "Jack the stabber," who stabbed a number of women on the streets during the past three weeks. After being questioned by the police, Brady confessed that he had done the stabbing and was the person for whom the police have been searching.

Brady was arrested early today in a resort where he had, on a previous visit, boasted that he was "Jack the stabber."

When he called early today the police were already on the look-out for him. He was taken into custody. At first he denied all knowledge of "Jack the stabber," but upon being held "Jack the stabber" and released him on the street one night, and positively identified Brady. It is stated that he confessed.

What his motive was in stabbing women indiscriminately has not been told by him.

His parents live in the city. He has three brothers and three sisters.

PRISONER IN PITTSBURGH JAIL HAS THE SMALLPOX.

Pittsburgh, Feb. 10.—It became known today that a convict in the Western penitentiary, who has been imprisoned for a year was recently attacked with small pox. The patient has been isolated in the infirmary and every precaution is being taken by the authorities to prevent a spread of the disease among the 500 inmates of the prison. All the prisoners have been vaccinated and the sanitary condition of the prison is considered almost perfect. The case was reported to the bureau of health.

SEVENTY COUNTS IN GOLL INDICTMENT.

Milwaukee, Feb. 10.—Henry G. Goll, ex-assistant cashier of the First National bank, pleaded not guilty late yesterday afternoon before Judge Quarles to an indictment containing seventy counts, which were returned by the federal grand jury. Goll's attorneys waived the reading of the indictment, which was a long and complicated document, and instead requested that the case be set for trial within a few weeks.

GREATEST BATTLESHIP LAUNCHED IN ENGLAND

Button Pressed by King Edward With Simple Ceremonies.

Floating Monster Will Cost Over $7,500,000 When Completed.

Is Result of British Observation of Russo-Japanese War.

Portsmouth, Eng., Feb. 10.—The monster battleship Dreadnaught, which when finished will have cost $7,500,000, was launched here today by King Edward.

The ceremony was the most simple possible, the king having vetoed all decorations and pageantry on account of the death of his father-in-law, King Christian. There was a moment of suspense after the king touched the electric button removing the last block, as the huge ship hesitated and appeared reluctant to take the water. But, ultimately, she slid down the ways in safety.

Among the occupants of the general stand were the American naval attaché, Lieut-Commander John H. Gibbons, and the other attachés of the ministry officials and a few privileged persons.

The launching of the Dreadnaught, the largest and most powerful battleship of the world's navies, marks the first stage in the construction of the new class of the greatest achievement in naval construction. On Oct. 2nd, 1905, the Dreadnaught class, the promise was made that within six months the Dreadnaught would be launched.

THE SALARY OF CONSUL

So Small in Manchuria That Able Man Resigns Post.

Has Heretofore Maintained Position on Private Income.

Washington, Feb. 10.—"Opposition in congress to an improved consular service, with permanent tenure of office," has caused the loss of the consulship of one of its most efficient and experienced officers by the resignation, announced with regret by the department of state today, of James W. Davidson, consul to Antung, Manchuria, who, after a service of nine years, retired because of his inability longer to draw on his private income to maintain the consulate. In his letter of resignation, Mr. Davidson says:

"The salary of my post as consul to Antung is insufficient, even with the increase which the new consular bill, now pending in congress, provides, to maintain any considerable part of the consular service with the dignity and efficiency, in view of the necessity of competing with the consulates of other powers, which, owing to the importance of this great and growing field of commercial and political activity, have large sums expended upon them by their respective governments."

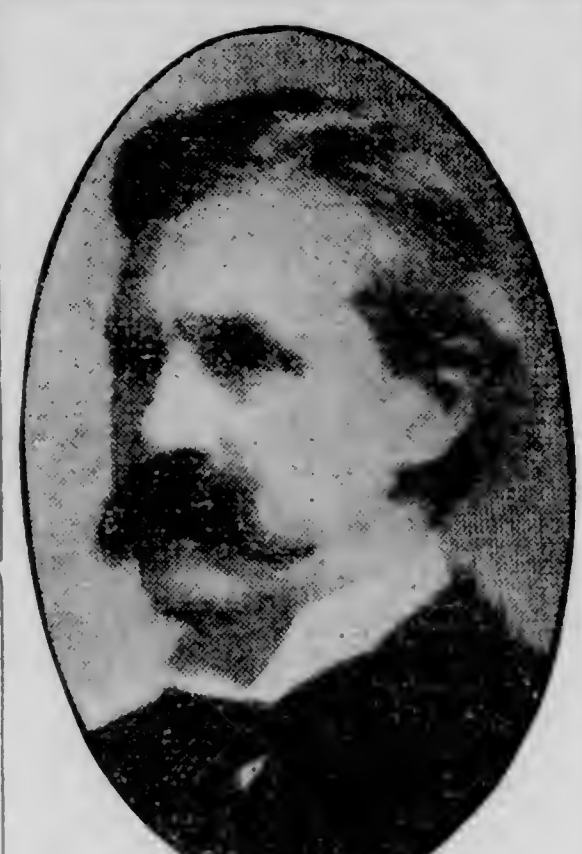

Mr. Davidson adds that the salary at each of the consulates he has served has been too small to conduct such a satisfactory work, the several offices he has held, and had he not possessed some private income, obtained from heavy work, it would have been impossible for him to have continued in the service this long. He concludes:

"My relations with the department of state have been so pleasant, and I have found consular work so interesting, that I take this step with regret. I have postponed this action for some time, feeling that congress would soon recognize the necessity of a reorganization of the service with salaries commensurate to a degree to the importance of the position and the work required."

Had it been possible to retain Mr. Davidson by transfer to a more lucrative post the department would have done so, but the offers he has had are so far in excess of what he could receive with consular service, that the department has been forced to accept his resignation. Mr. Davidson entered the service as a consular agent at Tamsien in 1896, and has served successively as consular agent at Shanghai, Nankin and Antung.

NEW BRITISH ATTACHE.
London, Feb. 10.—Maj. Count Glychen, military attaché of Great Britain at Berlin and extra envoy to King Edward has been appointed military attaché at Washington. Count Glychen is connected with the British royal family.

FIFTEEN BELOW AT ST. PAUL.
St. Paul, Feb. 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—It was 15 degrees below zero the official weather bureau reported yesterday. This is within one degree of the record for the winter.

GOVERNOR A. B. CUMMINS

RAILROAD WILL MAKE NO PROTEST

To Two-Cent Law Without Giving It a Fair Trial.

Pittsburg, Feb. 10.—J. J. Brooks, general counsel for the Pennsylvania lines, said today that the company had no intention of contesting the two cent law passed by the Ohio legislature.

"The law is valid," he said, "and the only thing we can do is to operate under it the best we can. We mean to give the two-cent rate a fair trial. We do not wish to take off trains, reduce the speed of trains, or do anything else that will make the service poorer."

"However, if we find that we cannot maintain service as good as at present and make a fair revenue from our passenger traffic, we will prepare data and statistics, which we will present to the legislature at its next session and will ask for the repeal or modification of the two-cent law. It is probable that Ohio will have a railroad commission by that time and the matter ought to be referred to that body. We shall not object to the railroad commission by that time and the matter ought to be referred to that body. We shall not object to the railroad commission by that time and the matter ought to be referred to that body."

MINER KILLED IN SHAFT.
Butte, Mont., Feb. 10.—Stephen McCarthy was killed yesterday by being struck on the head by a falling timber in the shaft of the Rarus mine. He was in the midst of a group of miners descending in the bucket, when a crosshead, which had stuck in the shaft, fell, striking him on the head and crushing his skull. He was 23 years of age and had only recently been married.

ADMIRAL WOUNDED

Desperate Attempt Made by Woman to Assassinate Choukin.

She Fires Four Times and is Then Killed by Orderly.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 10.—The admiral has received a report from the surgeon in charge of Vice Admiral Choukin, who was shot by a woman in his office in Sebastopol yesterday, to the effect that his wounds are not dangerous. Rear Admiral Grogovich has assumed command of the Black sea fleet, in succession to Choukin.

According to the morning papers, and subsequent dispatches from Sebastopol confirming the press accounts, the attending surgeons are confident that Choukin will recover. The most severe wound is in his breast, from which the bullet has not been extracted. The other wounds are in the right shoulder and both legs. His assailant, who was shot and killed by an orderly, who rushed to the admiral's assistance, is believed, like the murderer of Lieut. Gen. Sakharoff, the former war minister, and the assassin of Gen. Shuvaloff, prefect of police of Moscow, to have been an emissary of the St. Petersburg group of terrorists. The woman has not been identified, but it is known that she arrived at Sebastopol Feb. 7, and registered at a hotel under the name of Krupitskai. She was well dressed, was quiet in her manner, and attracted no attention.

At 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, the woman appeared at the official residence of Admiral Choukin and sent in her card, saying she was a daughter of a rear admiral who was an old acquaintance of Choukin at St. Petersburg and asked an interview. Upon entering the admiral's office she drew a rapid fire pistol and fired four shots at Choukin with deliberate aim, each bullet reaching the mark. She then turned to flee but was killed by the orderly.

The news of the attempt on Choukin's life created great excitement among the sailors at Sebastopol, a large proportion of whom are sailors and continually on the verge of mutiny. The revolutionists at St. Petersburg attempted to organize a demonstration but were unsuccessful.

EXPLOSION KILLS LABORER.
Kenora, Ont., Feb. 10.—A fourth explosion with fatal results occurred in the Canadian Pacific double-track construction work at Peterson's camp, near Ostrander, Ont., Thursday. Samuel Leck was blown thirty feet in the air as a result of a premature explosion in the rockworks.

KILLED IN SANDPIT.
Winnipeg, Man., Feb. 10.—S. N. Henderson, of Birds Hill, near Winnipeg, was instantly killed while working in his own sandpit Thursday night. He was eleven feet below the surface when the top caved in, crushing his skull. Three others in the pit with him escaped injury.

FRANCE AND GERMANY CANNOT AGREE ON THE CONTROL OF MOROCCO

KING ALFONSO.

A dispatch from Madrid says the youthful king of Spain has undergone an operation for the removal of a cyst which had formed in his shoulder. The operation is not at all serious.

COOK ENDS LIFE AT TENSTRIKE

George Wilson, Who Had Been Drinking Heavily, Shoots Himself.

Bemidji, Minn., Feb. 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—George Wilson, cook in Grace Martin's resort at Tenstrike, shot himself in the head and died instantly at 5 o'clock this morning. Wilson had been drinking heavily and the shooting was the result of despondency.

SEA TOO HEAVY

For the Nordland to Take on Passengers at Queenstown.

Queenstown, Feb. 10.—The Red Star line steamer Nordland, which left Liverpool, Feb. 8, for Philadelphia, arrived off this port today but, owing to the stormy weather prevailing, proceeded without embarking her passengers. The latter had a rough experience. They went out to the vicinity of Roche's Point on a tender and there awaited the arrival of the ship and, though a heavy sea was running, but after being badly tossed about they were compelled to put back to Queenstown.

WAGON KILLS FARMER.

Baraboo, Wis., Feb. 10.—John Amer of Platte, this county, was killed by the upsetting of his wagon. His wife was slightly injured.

A MYSTERY IN KILLING

Unknown Italian Shot as He Starts to Leave a Train.

Assailants Said to be Robbers Who Were Escaping.

Exeter, N. H., Feb. 10.—Two unknown men, who boarded a Boston & Maine express train at Dover, shot and mortally wounded an unknown Italian as he was starting to leave the train at Rockingham Junction today. The conductor of the train had attempted to arrest the men, having been notified by the Dover police they had robbed the Luddy & Currier shoe factory at Dover and that they were on the train. At the same moment the Italian started to leave the car and one of the alleged robbers fired five revolver shots at him, all of which took effect. The Italian died shortly afterwards. In the confusion which followed the shooting the two suspects jumped from the car and disappeared in the woods. When the train reached here, word was sent to the police of this town, and the cities of Dover and Portsmouth about fifteen miles away, and passes started from each place to search the country.

The Dover police report that the safe of the Luddy & Currier factory was blown open, but that the robbers secured less than $15. Dover officers who heard the explosion saw the two men running in the direction of the depot and jump aboard a train as it was pulling out of the station. The Dover officers telegraphed to Rockingham Junction to have the men arrested there. It was while this arrest was being attempted that the shooting occurred and the suspects escaped.

"ASIA FOR ASIATICS"

Chinese Cry Spreading Like Wildfire Through Provinces.

The Sentiment Against Foreigners is Growing Among Chinks.

San Francisco, Feb. 10.—"Asia for Asiatics." This, says William V. Carmichael, a Shanghai merchant, just arrived here, is the cry that has been taken up in China and has spread like wildfire from province to province, kindling everywhere the smoldering hatred of the Mongolian against all foreigners. The spirit of revolt is rife in the land, young China is rising, and in his opinion trouble is bound to come.

The growing sentiment against the foreign element in China, according to Carmichael, will result in open hostilities with armed force to suppress the first signs of an outbreak. He says that the only way to gain the respect of the Chinese is to inspire them with a wholesome fear of foreigners. He adds that the few regiments stationed at Manila will be entirely inadequate to cope with the trouble in case it comes.

"It is impossible," he says, "to deal with the Chinese with diplomacy. The only thing to do is to seize their territory, as Germany did in 1897, and thus bring them to their senses."

TROOPS START TO QUELL THE NATIVE UPRISING.

Pietermaritzburg, Natal, Feb. 10.—A punitive expedition of 200 carabineers with artillery left today for the scene of the troubles in the Richmond district caused by the natives refusing to pay the poll tax. Another detachment of 220 men will start Sunday. The ring-leaders of the turbulent faction have disappeared in the bush. The chief of the tribe who is now here describes the malcontents as being the "Troublesome, christianized section of the tribe." They are said to be converts to the Ethiopian church whose banner is inscribed with the words "Africa for the Africans." The government does not anticipate protracted military operations.

Durban, Natal, Feb. 10.—Ninety mounted police have started from Durban for the center of the disturbance. The local militia has been warned to be in readiness for active service.

THOUSANDS OF FLORAL TRIBUTES FOR DEAD KING.

Copenhagen, Feb. 10.—Preparations for the funeral of King Christian are proceeding at the Sloskerke at Roskilde with feverish haste. It will be necessary to work night and day to complete all the details.

The sympathy of Danes in America is shown by the large number of magnificent floral tributes which have arrived from that country. The Danes of New York sent an enormous wreath up to the present time 1,562 floral wreaths have been received.

American Minister O'Brien yesterday received instructions from the state department at Washington to represent President Roosevelt at the funeral. A wreath of orchids has been placed upon the king's coffin by Minister O'Brien.

HAS LITTLE EFFECT ON THE FORESTRY BUREAU.

FIRE DRILL SAVES CHILDREN.
Baraboo, Wis., Feb. 10.—By the kindness and systematic drill, 38 children were safely conducted out of a burning school building shortly before noon yesterday. This building which might have been a serious peril. About one hundred made use of the fire escape. The fire originated from a defective flue, quickly spreading throughout the building, which is a total loss, estimated at $40,000. The insurance is $30,000.

Portsmouth, Eng., Feb. 10.—The monster battleship Dreadnaught, which when finished will have cost $7,500,000, was launched here today by King Edward. The ceremony was the most simple possible, the king having vetoed all decorations and pageantry on account of the death of his father-in-law, King Christian. There was a moment of suspense after the king touched the electric button removing the last block, as the huge ship heeled and appeared reluctant to take the water. But, ultimately, she glided down the ways in safety. Among the occupants of the royal stand were the American naval attaché, Lieutenant Commander John H. Glenn, and other officers of the admiralty. The largest and most powerful battleship of the world's navies, marks the first stage in the construction of the first stage of the Dreadnaught class. The Dreadnaught was launched on Oct. 2nd, 1905, only a few days over four months ago, work was made then that she would be launched within six months. The admiralty has more than made good their word.

THE SALARY OF CONSUL

So Small in Manchuria That Able Man Resigns Post.

Has Heretofore Maintained Position on Private Income.

Washington, Feb. 10.—"Opposition in congress to an improved consular service, with permanent tenure of office," has caused the loss to the consular service of one of its most efficient and experienced officers by the resignation, announced with regret by the department of state today, of James W. Davidson, consul to Antung, Manchuria, who, after a service of nine years, retired because of his inability longer to draw on his private income to maintain the consulate. In his letter of resignation, Mr. Davidson says: "The salary of my post as consul to Antung is insufficient, even with the increase which the new consular bill, now pending in congress, provides, to maintain any consulate in the Orient, with becoming dignity and efficiency, in view of the necessity of competing with the consulates of other powers, which, owing to the importance of this great and growing field of commercial and political activity, have largely expended upon them by their respective governments."

Mr. Davidson adds that the salary at each of the consulates he has served has been too small to conduct, in a satisfactory way, the several offices he has held, and had he not possessed some private income, obtained from literary work, it would have been impossible for him to have continued in the service this long. He concludes: "My relations with the department of state have been so pleasant, and I have found consular work so interesting, that I take this step with regret. I have postponed this action for some time, feeling that congress would soon recognize the necessity of a reorganization of the service with salaries commensurate to a degree to the importance of the position and the work required."

Had it been possible to retain Mr. Davidson by transfer to a more lucrative post the department would have done so, but the offers he has had are so far in excess of what he could receive with consular service, that the department has been forced to accept his resignation. Mr. Davidson entered the service as a consular agent in 1886, and has served successively as consular agent at Shanghai, Nankin and Antung.

RAILROAD WILL MAKE NO PROTEST To Two-Cent Law Without Giving It a Fair Trial.

Pittsburgh, Feb. 10.—J. J. Brooks, general counsel for the Pennsylvania lines, said today that the company had no intention of contesting the two-cent rate law passed by the Ohio legislature. "The law is valid," he said, "and the only thing we can do is to operate under the best we can. We mean to give the two-cent rate a fair trial. We do not wish to take off trains, reduce the speed of trains, or do anything else that will make the service poorer. "However, if we find that we cannot maintain service as good as at present and make a fair revenue from our passenger traffic, we will prepare data and statistics, which we will present to the legislature at its next session and will ask for the repeal or modification of the law. It is probable that Ohio will have a railroad commission by that time and the matter ought to be referred to the body. We shall make no protest against the law, if we can make a fair revenue under it."

MILNER KILLED IN SHAFT.
Butte, Mont., Feb. 10.—Stephen McCarty was killed yesterday by being struck on the head by a falling timber in the shaft of the Rarus mine. He was in the midst of a group of miners descending in the bucket, when a crosshead, which had stuck in the shaft, fell, striking him on the head and crushing his skull. He was 28 years of age and had only recently been married.

KILLED IN SANDPIT.
Winthrop, Man., Feb. 10.—S. N. Henderson of Birds Hill, near Winnipeg, was instantly killed while working in his own sandpit Thursday night. He was eleven feet below the surface when the top caved in, crushing his skull. Three others in the pit with him escaped injury.

ADMIRAL WOUNDED

Desperate Attempt Made by Woman to Assassinate Choukin.

She Fires Four Times and is Then Killed by Orderly.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 10.—The admiralty has received a report from the surgeon in charge of Vice Admiral Choukin, who was shot by a woman in his office in Sebastopol yesterday, to the effect that his wounds are not dangerous. Rear Admiral Grogovitch has assumed command of the Black sea fleet, in succession to Choukin.

According to the morning papers, and subsequent dispatches from Sebastopol confirming the press accounts, the attending surgeons are confident that Choukin will recover. The most severe wound is in his breast, from which the bullet has not been extracted. The other wounds are in the right shoulder and both legs. His assailant, who was shot and killed by an orderly, who rushed to the admiral's assistance, is believed, like the murderer of Lieut. Gen. Sakharov, the former war minister, and the assassin of Gen. Shuvalov, prefect of police of Moscow, to have been an emissary of the St. Petersburg group of terrorists. The woman has not been identified, but it is known that she arrived at Sebastopol, Feb. 7, and registered at a hotel under the name of Krupitskai. She was well dressed, was quiet in her manner, and attracted no attention. At 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, the woman appeared at the official residence of Admiral Choukin and sent in her card, requesting an interview. Upon entering the admiral's office she drew a rapid fire pistol and fired four shots at Choukin with deliberate aim, each bullet reaching the mark. She then turned to flee but was killed by the orderly. Choukin exhibited remarkable nerve and continued to issue orders even while being carried to bed and during the examination by the surgeons. Later he received personally friends who came to sympathize with him.

The news of the attempt on Choukin's life created great excitement among the army and navy, a large proportion of whom are sullen and continually on the verge of mutiny. The revolutionists, who had attempted to organize a demonstration but were unsuccessful.

EXPLOSION KILLS LABORER.
Kenora, Ont., Feb. 10.—A fourth explosion with fatal results occurred on the Canadian Pacific double-track construction work at Peterson's camp, near Ogishkemuncie, Thursday. Samuel Lef, a Swede, was blown thirty feet in the air as a result of a premature explosion in the rockworks.

COOK ENDS LIFE AT TENSTRIKE

George Wilson, Who Had Been Drinking Heavily, Shoots Himself.

Benidj, Minn., Feb. 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—George Wilson, cook in Grace Martin's resort at Tenstrike, shot himself in the head and died instantly at 5 o'clock this morning. Wilson had been drinking heavily and the shooting was the result of despondency.

SEA TOO HEAVY

For the Nordlund to Take on Passengers at Queenstown.

Queenstown, Feb. 10.—The Red Star line steamer Nordlund, which left Liverpool, Feb. 8, for Philadelphia, arrived off this port today but, owing to the stormy weather prevailing, proceeded without embarking her passengers. The latter had a rough experience. They went out to the vicinity of Roche's Point on a tender and there awaited the arrival of the Nordlund, though a heavy sea was running. But after being badly tossed about they were compelled to put back to Queenstown.

The Negotiations at Algeciras Have Reached a Decisive Turn.

The Propositions of the Two Countries Are Clearly Disclosed.

It is Probable the Conference Will Adjourn Without Result.

Berlin, Feb. 10.—The negotiations at Algeciras have reached a decisive turn and the dissolution of the Moroccan conference without an agreement on the principal subjects of discussion appears to be the probable result. The proposition of France and Germany have now been clearly disclosed. Each country, supported by several other powers holds tenaciously to its own principle of settlement, namely, France for special recognition in Morocco because of her geographical and historical relation to Morocco and Germany for a strict application of the doctrine of equal treatment of all the countries in the future of Morocco. Both the Paris and Berlin governments save that a controlling influence could be exercised in Morocco either through the command of the semi-independent police or by holding the Moroccan purse. France has indicated that she might give up the police administration provided she were allowed a paramount position in the state bank organization which will represent Morocco's foreign debts, largely held in France, and which will control the state's future borrowings. Her Von Radowicz and Count Von Tattenbach, the German delegates to the conference, said Germany could not consent to France having control of the bank as this would simply be another way of turning over the country to France. Then M. Revolt and Regnault, the French envoys, two days ago dropped the bank question and raised that of the police, upon which Germany also insisted upon the equal participation in some form of the powers giving a modified acceptance. There the discussion rests. In the meantime press campaigns have been begun in both France and Germany in support of the respective positions.

THE TRICK OF A VENTRILOQUIST

How He Won the Hand of a Rich Banker's Daughter.

Paris, Feb. 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Chaufeur Anatole Rieque was in love with Helene Duroi, a well-to-do banker's daughter. As the father objected strenuously to their marriage, the young fellow, who is somewhat of a ventriloquist, took refuge to a trick to gain his point. Old Duroi is a very pious man, and while his wife was alive was also a very pious man. When his wife died he called upon his proposed father-in-law and once more formally asked for Helene's hand. The banker, who was expected, the ventriloquist made his second voice ascend to the ceiling of the room and then, imitating the late Madame Duroi's mannerisms of speech, said sternly: "Give our daughter to this brave man. Heaven's blessings will be on the marriage—St. Peter has just so informed me. Offer no further objection for until they are married, I won't rest quietly in my grave."

The banker was duly impressed and said "bless you my children," at the same time handing over a good sized check. While all Paris is laughing at the joke, the newspapers have dug up other ventriloquist's foibles. Figaro asserts that the bible mentions some and that in the middle ages numerous ventriloquists were burned at the stake on the supposition that their art proved their connection with the devil. Another paper recalls the famous English ventriloquist, Buxthorn, when he fell among robbers, saved his life by crying in his second voice: "We are coming. Death to the robbers." The robbers thought a whole regiment of gendarmes was approaching and ran away. The French ventriloquist Conte was about to be burned by frightened peasants in a bake oven when he drove them to flight by shouting in a voice, seemingly coming out of the oven, that his torturers must run for their lives, lest they be eaten by locusts. Conte had previously made the dead speak in their graves.

COLD WEATHER INTENSIFIES.
Chicago, Feb. 10.—The local weather bureau reported today that the cold wave in the Northwest has intensified again. The temperature ranges from 16 to 30 degrees below zero in portions of Minnesota and the Dakotas, and zero temperatures prevail southeastward over Wisconsin and Iowa.

MORGAN RETIRES.
Albert Lea, Minn., Feb. 10.—State Senator Henry A. Morgan has published a card in which he says he will not be a candidate for re-election. Speculation as to whom his successor will be is general. Albert Lea in the past has been considered the naming of the senator and the rural districts supplied the two representatives. Representative Opdahl, however, is a candidate for the senatorship, and he is not a resident of the city.

A MYSTERY IN KILLING

Unknown Italian Shot as He Starts to Leave a Train.

Assailants Said to be Robbers Who Were Escaping.

Exeter, N. H., Feb. 10.—Two unknown men, who boarded a Boston & Maine express train at Dover, shot and mortally wounded an unknown Italian as he was starting to leave the train at Rockingham Junction today. The conductor of the train had attempted to arrest the men, having been notified by the Dover police they had robbed the Luddy & Currier shoe factory at Dover and that they were on the train. At the same moment the Italian started to leave the car and one of the alleged robbers fired a revolver shot at him, all of which took effect. The Italian died shortly afterwards. In the confusion which followed the shooting the two suspects jumped from the car and disappeared in the woods. When the train reached Exeter, word was sent to the police of this town, and the cities of Dover and Portsmouth about fifteen miles away, and police started from each place to search the country. The Dover police report that the safe of the Luddy & Currier shoe factory was blown open, but that the robbers secured less than $15. Dover officers who heard the explosion saw the two men running in the direction of the depot and jump aboard a train as it was pulling out of the station. The Dover officers telegraphed to Rockingham Junction to have the men arrested there. It was while this arrest was being attempted that the shooting occurred and the suspects escaped.

"ASIA FOR ASIATICS"

Chinese Cry Spreading Like Wildfire Through Provinces.

The Sentiment Against Foreigners is Growing Among Chinks.

San Francisco, Feb. 10.—"Asia for Asiatics." This, says William V. Carmichael, a Shanghai merchant, just arrived here, is the cry that has been taken up in China and has spread like wildfire from province to province, kindling everywhere the smoldering hatred of the Mongolian against the foreigners. The spirit of revolt is rife in the land, young China is rising, and in his opinion trouble is bound to come.

The growing sentiment against the foreign element in China, according to Carmichael, will result in open hostilities with armed force to suppress the first signs of an outbreak. He says that the only way to gain the respect of the Chinese is to inspire them with a wholesome fear of foreigners. He adds that the few regiments stationed at Manila will be entirely inadequate to cope with the trouble in case it comes.

"It is impossible," he says, "to deal with the Chinese with diplomacy. The only thing to do is to seize their territory, as Germany did in 1890, and thus bring them to their senses."

TROOPS START TO QUELL THE NATIVE UPRISING.

Pietermaritzburg, Natal, Feb. 10.—A punitive expedition of 400 soldiers with artillery left today for the scene of the troubles in the Richmond district caused by the natives refusing to pay the poll tax. Another detachment of 200 men will start Sunday. The ring-leaders of the turbulent faction have disappeared in the bush. The chief of the tribe who is now here describes the malcontents as being the "Troublesome, christianized section of the tribe." They are said to be converts to the Ethiopian church whose banner is inscribed with the words "Africa for the Africans." The government does not anticipate protracted field operations.

Durban, Natal, Feb. 10.—Ninety mounted police have started from Durban for the center of the native disturbance. The local militia has been warned to be in readiness for active service.

THOUSANDS OF FLORAL TRIBUTES FOR DEAD KING.

Copenhagen, Feb. 10.—Preparations for the funeral of King Christian are proceeding at the Slotskerke at Aalborg with feverish haste. At will be necessary to work night and day to complete all details. The sympathy of Danes in America is shown in the large number of floral tributes which have arrived from that country. The Danes of New York sent an enormous wreath. Up to the present time 1,542 floral wreaths have been received. American Minister O'Brien yesterday received instructions from the state department at Washington to represent President Roosevelt at the funeral. A wreath of orchids has been placed upon the king's coffin by Minister O'Brien.

PENNSYLVANIA DENIES CHARGES
Made by Governor of West Virginia Concerning the Road.

Pittsburgh, Feb. 10.—James McGraw, first vice president of the Pennsylvania railroad company operating the lines of the Pennsylvania system west of Pittsburgh, made a statement today to the Associated Press denying the charges contained in the letter of Governor Dawson of West Virginia, to Senator Tillman, which was read in the United States senate Monday. Mr. McGraw said: "The Pennsylvania road is not and never has been an owner or operator of any line of railroad in West Virginia in which it is interested to support the development of that state to protect its own coal interests. Certainly there has been no attempt on the part of the Pennsylvania in regard to the Red Rock case or any other similar case."

HENRY NOLTE RETURNS.

Equalization Board Accomplished Nothing Aside From Perfecting Organization.

"About the only advantage that was derived from the special meeting of the state board of equalization in St. Paul this week was that an organization was formed and the board will be already to begin work when it convenes next September," said Henry Nolte, who is a member today. Mr. Nolte just returned from the session.

"What did we do? Well, not much of anything but elect officers and talk. We talked, talked, talked and when we got through we realized that as a matter of fact we could not know where we were at all from the taxes were levied so we stopped."

Mr. Nolte is a member of the real estate committee of the board.

THE VALUE OF CHARCOAL.

Few People Know How Useful it is in Preserving Health and Beauty.

Nearly everybody knows that charcoal is the safest and most efficient disinfectant and purifier in nature, but few realize its value when taken into the human system for the same cleansing purpose.

Charcoal is a remedy that the more you take of it the better; it is not a drug at all, but simply absorbs the gases and impurities in the stomach and intestines and carries them out of the system.

Charcoal sweetens the breath after eating onions and other odorous vegetables. Charcoal eventually clears and improves the complexion, it whitens the teeth and further acts as a natural and eminently safe cathartic.

It absorbs the injurious gases which collect in the stomach and bowels; it disinfects the mouth and throat from the poison of catarrh.

All druggists sell charcoal in one form or another, but probably the best charcoal and the most for the money is in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges; they are composed of the finest powdered willow charcoal, and other choice antiseptics in tablet form or rather in the form of large, pleasant tasting lozenges, the charcoal being mixed with honey.

The daily use of these lozenges will soon tell in a much improved condition of the general health, better complexion, sweeter breath and purer blood, and the beauty of it is that no possible harm can result from their continued use, but on the contrary, great benefit.

A Buffalo physician in speaking of the benefits of charcoal says: "I advise Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges to all patients suffering from gas in stomach and bowels, and to clear the complexion and purify the breath, mouth and throat; I also believe the liver is greatly benefited by the daily use of them; they cost but twenty-five cents a box at drug stores, and although in some sense a patent preparation, yet I believe I get more and better charcoal in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges than in any of the ordinary charcoal tablets."

BEGIN WORK IN SPRING

Plans for New Electric Road Favorably Received by Capitalists.

Bonds Will be Taken Providing Engineer's Report is Verified.

Ties for the new electric road connecting the range towns may be gotten out this winter, and construction work begun as soon as the snow leaves the ground in the spring.

F. B. Myers of Duluth, president of Mesaba Range Traction company, and Thomas F. McGilvray, the consulting engineer of the new company, returned last evening from Minneapolis, where they went to negotiate with prospective purchasers of the bonds. The visit proved to be of a very satisfactory nature, and the capitalists expressed their willingness to go into the scheme, provided a favorable report was returned by an expert engineer whom they will send to look over the ground. The engineer will submit his report, and if it is in accordance with the report of Mr. McGilvray, engineer for the company, the money will be forthcoming on the bonds to the amount of $800,000, which, it is estimated, will be required to construct the road.

Meanwhile the company is going ahead and securing franchises from the different range towns through which the road will pass, and it is hoped to have all the preliminaries completed ready to begin work as soon as the bonds have been placed.

The new road will be forty miles in length, running from Hibbing to Hibbing, and passing through the towns of McKinley, Elba, Sparta, Eveleth, Virginia, Mountain Iron, Lucknow, Duluth, Chisholm. Branches will also be built from Hibbing to the Mahoning location, and from Hibbing to Aurora.

The total population adjacent to the line of the new road is about 50,000. It is planned to put four large gasoline cars, of the type now in use on the Union Pacific road, in service. The cars would make the trip in two hours, giving a half-hour service. This service could be added to at any time the traffic required it.

"At the present time," said Mr. Myers, "this morning," the passenger service between the towns is very poor. It often takes several hours to make a trip from one town to the other, and a man living in one town frequently has to spend the better part of two days in making a trip and returning, whereas, with direct line and good service, the entire trip could be made and his business transacted in an afternoon.

The engineer employed by the prospective bond buyers will accompany Mr. Myers over the proposed line of the road during the coming week.

"This man is being taken care of by enemies who are going to take his life," said the captain.

"Is that so?" asked the court.

"Well, don't you think it would be a good idea to protect you against them?" asked the court. "How would it be if we looked you up where they can't get at you?"

The prisoner thought that would be a good scheme, and the judge gave him a sentence of ten days. At the end of that time it is expected that the "enemies" will have disappeared, and Joseph will be in shape to go to work again.

IS INJURED

Narrow Escape From Death—Crushed Under Load of Logs.

Leg and Arm Broken in Several Places and Otherwise Hurt.

Phil Marion of Wadena street lies in the Duluth hospital with a multiplicity of breaks in his bones, and his condition very serious. The accident occurred last evening while he was loading a sleigh with logs at the lumber mill at West Duluth. While trying to hook a chain to secure the logs, they loosened and fell on him, jamming him into the snow.

His escape from instant death is regarded as almost miraculous. As it was, his left thigh is broken in two or three places, and his right arm is broken in two places. Besides that, he is injured internally.

Marion is married and has four children. The accident caught the man at a time when his finances were at a low ebb, and great sympathy is felt for him and his family, and some considerable assistance is being given them.

"Dis honorably discharged."

That was the portion of Delegate C. M.
Brandt's motion to dismiss the political committee of the Trades and Labor Assembly which the other delegates to that body did not choose to swallow and that clause was the cause of a very wordy and almost bitter session last evening.

The motion was finally turned down.
The entire affair was an aftermath of the political campaign, and as some one suggested, there were probably those present who were not pleased with the way the election turned out.

At any rate, when Delegate Brandt arose and made a motion to the effect that the political committee be dis-honorably discharged with thanks, his remark had somewhat the effect of a real live bomb hurled into the middle of a St. Petersburg crowd by some disgruntled neophyte.

At the outset, too, it looked as if Delegate Brandt had supported, for Delegate Henry Deroche, of the painters' union as is also Mr. Brandt, lost no time in making the motion made by his fellow painter.

Then began the long oratorical war over the motion, which took up the remainder of the session, and threatened to result in a more peppy executive session.

Several delegates declared that they wanted to know why the political committee should be dishonorably discharged and others pressed a willingness for the facts in the case.
To these, Mr. Brandt replied that the committee had been elected in its duty and had supported men for office who had not signed the pledge to stand by union labor when the members of the assembly asked of their friends among the candidates.

He declared that at a time when help was needed for Carl Skoglund, Republican candidate for alderman in the Sixth ward, he had signed the pledge, and that Mr. Skoglund, who was also a member of the committee, to call a meeting for that ward, and that Mr. Skoglund refused on the grounds that there were no funds for such a gathering, and furthermore, Charles Mark had signed the agreement as well as Skoglund, and was, therefore, quite as much entitled to the support of the union men as the Republican candidate.

Here Mr. Brandt touched off his fireworks by stating that Charles Mark, in a conversation with him after the polls had closed on election day, had declared that he had not signed the union labor platform, nor any other during the entire campaign. He declared further, that there was no excuse for Mr. Skoglund's refusal to hold the Sixth ward meeting on the ground because he had offered to stand good for all the expenses incurred.

Delegate McDonald, who had offered the report of the political committee, informed Mr. Brandt that Charles Mark had signed the platform, for his signature was there.

"If he did not sign his name to this document it is a forgery," said Mr.
McDonald.

Mr. Brandt intimated that it must be a forgery, in view of the statement he had had from Mr. Mark's own mouth.
Delegate Martin Olmen then announced that he had seen Mr. Mark turn the signed document, with Mr.
Mark's signature affixed, over to the keeper of the records of the political committee.

But this did not silence Mr. Brandt, nor suggest to him the withdrawal of the motion. Several members suggested that it would be well to go into the matter deeply at a private meeting, and Delegate Martin Olmen suggested that an executive session was the thing.

Mr. Brandt opposed this both and said, declaring that he would not favor the exclusion of the reporters, and would like to see long, unbiased accounts of the entire affair printed in full. Mr. Olmen's motion was lost.

Delegate Walsh, from the Tugmen's union, said that the entire affair was the result of sorcery over the result of the recent elections. Mr. Olmen declared that Gordon O'Neill, organizer for the American Federation of Labor, was also present when Charles Mark signed the platform, and although he was not a full fledged delegate to the assembly, suggested that he be given a chance to speak.

Mr. O'Neill corroborated Mr. Olmen's statements, and delivered a quite a speech upon the evils of bringing such unsubstantiated charges as those made by Mr. Brandt into sessions of the assembly. He declared that such sights were ruinous to the cause of organized labor.

Inasmuch as Mr. Shartell's name was involved rather prominently in the remarks of Delegate Brandt, it was proposed that someone else take the chair and have a chance to talk. Accordingly, Delegate Baker took up the gavel but had a merry time making himself heard with it, so lively did the discussion become.

Delegate J. H. Freshney, who had been stirring uneasily all the while, arose then and said that, although he was a member of the Tugmen's political committee, he did not think Mr.
Brandt altogether in the wrong. He said that organized labor should have supported Tom Trevelion for mayor, because he signed the union labor platform and Mayor Cullum merely wrote a letter saying he would do the best he could and referred to his past record.
He reminded his brethren that it was

AN INVESTMENT NOT A SPECULATION.

This stock has increased in value 50% since January 1. It is now selling for 55 cents per share cash, or 60 cents on installments of 10% down and 10% a month for nine months. It will jump 25% at an early date, and continue to increase. Estimated value of this stock in two years, from four to eight dollars a share.

Every day for the past week readers of the Duluth Herald have been writing me letters and coming to my office in answer to my advertisement in last Saturday's issue of this paper, which told all about the great enterprise of the Hoosac Tunnel & Mining Co. of Idaho Springs, Colo. The burden of their hearts was to the effect that at some time in their lives they had purchased mining stock that proved worthless. They believed what I told them as to the importance and value of the enterprise of the Hoosac Tunnel & Mining Co., because they could not help themselves. I told them the truth and gave them the proof.

A wise man changes his mind but a fool never. The man who says "all men are liars," and who does not change his opinion is a fool, and the readers of this paper are not all fools by any means. I know what I am talking about and I am judging from the many that I have met personally, and from the nature of the correspondence that has reached me, these people are all honest, hard-working citizens anxious to be factors in worthy enterprises that contribute a legitimate profit to the investor and a legitimate service to the community in which they operate.

I said last Sunday, "In FAIRNESS to yourself and those who depend upon you read the following," and I ask you to do the same to-day, and if you are not satisfied after carefully reading what follows, will you not do yourself the credit, and those who depend upon you, the justice and extend to me the courtesy of investigating the merits of the proposition before you decline to accept AND I WILL PAY $1,000.00 AND EXPENSES TO ANYONE WHO CAN PROVE THAT THE FOLLOWING STATEMENTS ARE NOT STRICTLY IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE FACTS.

This Company is wholly responsible and is engaged in a legitimate and definite enterprise, and must not be confused with the many wildcat mining speculations in which investors are offered stock. The Hoosac Tunnel & Mining Company refers by special permission to Mr. Geo. Armstrong, Cashier Capital National Bank, Denver, Colo.; The First National Bank, Idaho Springs, Colo.; Mr. C. S. Birkins, President Merchants & Miners' National Bank, Idaho Springs, Colo.; Mr. John T. Mallalieu, Secretary Chamber of Commerce, Idaho Springs, Colo.; Mr. Geo. W. Dutton, Mining Editor Siftings-News, Idaho Springs, Colo.

Investors who care enough for their money to wish to preserve it and to make it earn large dividends can readily distinguish a wildcat scheme from the Hoosac Tunnel & Mining Company.

PIERCE UNDERWOOD.

I Rather Reap the Dividends from a Successful Enterprise than Reap the Regrets for Lost Opportunities

The day will come when you will seriously regret your failure to buy this stock now. Better buy. He who doubts the truth of every statement and sneers at every proof never becomes wealthy or famous for shrewd judgment.

BETTER-TAN-A-SALARY

The earnings of this company should not only pay YOU enormous dividends all the natural days of your life, but your children and grandchildren can reap the same benefits.

Devoted to Mining as a Business.

The Hoosac Tunnel and Mining Company, a Colorado corporation capitalized for $1,500,000, stock fully paid up and non-assessable, is an enterprise devoted exclusively to MINING AS A BUSINESS. It is offered by men of the highest reputation and personal integrity.

The properties and privileges of the Company are calculated to produce such revenues as will make the stockholders independent for life.

Idaho Springs, Colorado.

Idaho Springs, Colorado, is one of the largest and is one of the oldest mining camps in the State. It is 38 miles west of Denver on the Colorado & Northern Railroad, gold, silver, lead and zinc are found in quantities and some copper. The value of the ore produced here runs into the millions annually, and competent mining engineers say that these mines have but just begun to deliver their enormous tonnage of precious ores.

EVERY THING HUNDRED PRODUCING MINES in the district and twice as many new ones to be opened up, most of which require cheap transportation means to get the ores to the railroad or mills, and this means transportation tunnels.

What Is a Transportation Tunnel?

In the Idaho Springs Mining District, covering practically all Clear Creek country, as I have told you, there are over 300 miles of richly developed ore, and there are probably three times as many that are not operated, some of them small, if they are not operated, and some of them are located in places that are inaccessible places upon the mountain tops and sides, usually where the veins crop out above the ground. When the mine owner or company operating has followed the vein down into the ground a sufficient distance, hoisting machinery is necessary to draw up the ore. Such machinery is operated by steam and requires coal. The coal has to be hauled up from the railroad, anywhere from half a mile to five or six miles distant, and the cost of hauling it up from the railroad to the mine is the cost of the tunnel. The enormous cost of getting the ore up out of the shafts and to the railroad means that only high-grade ore can be utilized, that is, ore that will run enough gold to the ton to pay all this burdensome expense and still leave some profit. If these expenses could not be reduced, the business of mining would make a greater profit in the high-grade ore and would also be able to market practically all of its low-grade ore.

It is a geological fact that the Idaho Springs district, that the ore veins grow thicker and richer the deeper under the surface they go. In some places they have been tapped 1,000 and 2,500 feet below the surface and found to be from two to six times as thick as on the surface and from two to ten times as rich in quality. Now, imagine a tunnel run through such a district, relieving the ore of the expense of the haulage, going into the tunnel and blasting the ore from overhead and dumping it into the cars, and letting it run down to the railroad at a cost of less than a cent a ton to the mine owner of $100 a ton, against a cost of several dollars a ton by the former method of hauling. The result would be a saving of $90 a ton. Five hundred tons a day is a fair average of what one mine can produce when once the tunnel is run under its vein under the surface. Such a tunnel would produce a fair average of 5,000 tons a day; 50 would produce 10,000 tons a day, at an average cost of $100 a ton, and would mean a enormous earning capacity for the tunnel, while the cost of operating is comparatively slight.

Such a tunnel also drains the water from the mines, for which a reasonable charge is made, also from our powerhouse power is furnished for the various mines, also electric lights for the mines, all of which means a profit to us.

Rich Properties and Perfect Title.

The property and privileges of the Hoosac Tunnel and Mining Company consist of five Patented Claims, 32 acres of Placer Ground, a Tunnel Site, Water Rights and the rights pertaining to a Transportation Tunnel. The title to these properties and privileges consists of United States Patents (the most perfect title obtainable for a mine), covering the Mining Claims and Placer Grounds, and the title to the Transportation Tunnel privileges is secured under the laws of the State of Colorado.

How the Company Will Make Money.

FIRST OF ALL THE TUNNEL (which is already bored over 600 feet), will be run through eight active mines, which have to date produced about $1,000,000.00 by a rapid rate of working and selling the ore at 100 cents a ton. Ten such mines can send enough ore through our tunnel to earn for us annually profits of between one and two millions of dollars, after deducting all operating expenses. This tunnel will be a big producer for more than a natural lifetime.

THE GREAT HOOSAC MINES are the FIRST to be cut by our tunnel, which is now bored to within 200 feet of this mammoth body of ore, and WE OWN THESE MINES, which contain enough ore, estimated by engineers, to run from 1,000,000 to 4,000,000 tons, and which assays $3.50 to $40.00 a ton. The cost of mining ore is so slight that profits of many millions will accrue to the stockholders of this Company.

some time ore a union painter had been called upon to accomplish a job for the city and that a non-union painter had been but recently appointed a street commissioner.

President Shartell, who had relinquished the chair in favor of Mr. Baker, felt that this was his cue and he jumped to his feet. For Mr. Freshney's information, he stated that the street commissioner was appointed by the board of public works, not by the mayor, and that since his election, the mayor's secretary is a union man. He also stated that Mr. Brandt's request for a Sixth ward meeting was turned down because he was a partisan and wanted to prostitute the cause of the Trades and Labor assembly by boosting Skoglund for office when Charles Mark was quite as much entitled to the support of the assembly as the other fellow.

"Then either Mr. Mark or I is a liar," said Mr. Brandt.

The hour got late. Many wanted to talk. Delegate Walsh proposed that the committee be honorably dismissed with a vote of thanks. This excited the sentiment of the majority of those present was shown by the fact that it was carried by a vote of 18 to 2.

Mr. Brandt said that he was willing to make a motion to the effect that Mr. Mark had lied and this was greeted with laughter.

The campaign letter against President Shartell of the assembly which caused some talk were referred to last evening but not discussed.

The assembly decided to visit some of the clothing stores with the hope of curtailing the sales of goods made by the Rochester sweat shop concerns.

The strike of the bootmakers ended this week and all of the men are back at work on both sides of the bay. The demands of the men were recognized by the bosses and the union won out in every particular with the exception of a slight concession which they made in the matter of overtime. They conceded that in case of overtime in shop work, time and a half would be accepted, but you overwork in a shoe work, double time would have to be paid. The scale for a 3-hour day was raised from 33 1/3 cents an hour to 36 cents an hour. The matter of overtime is considered important, for while in shop work it is comparatively easy, it is claimed that in repair work the men have a hard time of it.

The Carpenters' union gave a very enjoyable entertainment and dance at the Rowley block on West First street last Tuesday evening. The affair was exceedingly enjoyable. Rev. John W. Powell of the Lester Park M. E. church addressed the gathering, discussing the labor question from the viewpoint of the clergyman. He made a very favorable impression. Clarence B. Miller of Duluth, Phil Carlin and C. E. Celliery of Minneapolis were the other speakers.

Each was well received. Dancing followed. About 350 people were present. The affair was in charge of a committee consisting of George McNabb, W. H. Appleby and W. K. Fowler.

The Hoosac Tunnel and Mining Company has for its President and Active Manager, and one of the principal owners of the enterprise, Mr. E. D. Quigley, who for 25 years has been one of the foremost operators of the Idaho Springs district. Mr. Quigley is a man of exceptional ability, strength of character and genuine worth. He is highly respected by all the bankers of Idaho Springs and several of the principal banks of Denver, by the newspaper publishers, by the Chamber of Commerce and by all who recognize and appreciate real worth and real manhood. Mr. Quigley is pledged to the Company to carry this enterprise without digression or interruption, to the greatest possible success and in the speediest possible manner with all regard to safety, economy and general business prudence. Mr. Quigley is not a speculative man, but a practical one. He is a practical and competent man of honor, fitted by disposition, education, experience and success to be the organizer, manager and the respected chief of this enterprise. He well deserves this compliment, as recently expressed in an editorial in the Idaho Springs Siftings-News.

Mr. Quigley, to whom the credit is due for having successfully carried out the proposition, is one of our oldest and most conscientious and experienced operators. He has a thorough knowledge of the value of the operation and the value of the property. His operations thereon are such that he can buy and sell the property at a profit of 50%.

He is energetic, experienced, and of unquestioned integrity. He is a man of high character and his care will be concentrated to the operation and the development of the properties under his management.

This taken in connection with the merit of the proposition, makes it a guarantee of a successful issue.

Why You Are Asked to Join.

The Hoosac Tunnel and Mining Company has enough money to accomplish its purpose, but the directors and stockholders will not permit the Company to run in debt and have the same management in your own charge.

Big capitalists who would put up the money, but they would want to own the business themselves, and then the present owners and you, if you were a stockholder, would not have the profits that the business will surely earn. So you are asked to come in with hundreds of other investors, and share the profits. A few of the vast opportunities that were offered the small investor (the general public), precisely the same as this proposition is being offered, are as follows:

"Colon Consolidated" was quoted at 10 cents a share and in a year was selling for $100.00 a share. The man who bought a greater number of shares made in proportion.

The "Consolidated Virginia" rose from 11 cents per share to $65 within a single year.

$20 in "Isabella" in 1903 is now worth $1,240.00, and, in addition, you would have received $350.00 in dividends.

$100 invested in "Gold Coin" stock in 1904 is now worth $2,000.00, and in addition you would have received $1,000 in dividends.

The man or woman who has a preconceived notion that investments in a Mining enterprise can not be profitable to the small investor had best investigate the facts before becoming too firmly wedded to such a theory. A few of the vast opportunities that were offered the small investor (the general public), precisely the same as this proposition is being offered, are as follows:

"Colon Consolidated" was quoted at 10 cents a share and in a year was selling for $100.00 a share. The man who bought a greater number of shares made in proportion.

The "Consolidated Virginia" rose from 11 cents per share to $65 within a single year.

Manhattan Mining Co. Shares a Good Buy!

We urged the purchase of Manhattan Mining Company shares at 10 cents less than 30 days ago. They are now selling on the San Francisco Stock and Exchange Board and on the Goldfield Stock Exchange at 15. We predict 30 for them within 60 days, and par, or $1 per share, within half a year. We urge your orders to purchase this stock "at the market," giving us a limit if you so desire, and we will execute the same for one-half of one per cent commission. If you are not known to us it will be necessary to wire ten per cent deposit on the purchase, and the stock will be sent to you attached to draft for the balance.

Owens a Producing Gold Mine in the Heart of Manhattan.

Manhattan Mining Company is beyond all question one of the safest investments and surest profit makers in all Manhattan. The company owns the famous Annie Laurie and Snowdrift claims, on which a vein of high-grade ore, four and a half feet wide, has been opened up for a distance of 1,000 feet. The mine is already a shipper of high-grade ore to the Salt Lake smelters. The company is offered by bank officials and mining experts of Goldfield, and honest, capable, successful management is assured.

Some of the shrewdest investors and traders on the ground—men who have made fortunes in Goldfield and Tonopah—have taken on blocks of Manhattan Mining Company stock, and few of these will let go of their holdings until the stock advances to $1 per share.

We call this the opportunity of a lifetime, and we know of no better means of getting them into Manhattan Mining Company at present prices. We expect the stock to double in value in 30 days and urge immediate buying orders. Don't hesitate to use the wires. It pays.

Manhattan a New Virginia City

Already the sensational early showings of Goldfield, which have made millions for investors, are being eclipsed by Manhattan. Manhattan lies about 60 miles north of Tonopah, in Nevada, and about 120 miles southeast of Virginia City. Ore averaging $450 to the ton is being shipped daily to the smelters from Manhattan, and an enormous production of high-grade ore is assured.

The fortunes that were made from the Comstock lode of Virginia City in the early and late '70s are bound to be duplicated in sensational Manhattan. Consolidated Virginia, the first company these men connected themselves with at Virginia City, sold at first at a few cents per share. Later it sold at several hundred dollars per share. In Tonopah, five years ago, Tonopah Mining Co. shares sold at $1. They are now selling at $20. Red Top, Florence, Junco, Combination, Sandstorm and others of Goldfield sold for a few cents per share less than eighteen months ago. They are now bringing from $1.40 to $5.00 per share.

The purchase of Manhattan Mining Company shares now is an open sesame to fortune making, and if you do not delay your orders until the shares have doubled in value you will be able to congratulate yourself on having gotten in on the "cellar floor" of a fortune maker.

Wire Your Orders for Shares

Don't wait! Hours count! Every new strike reported at Manhattan adds to the firmness of the market, and as shafts are now being sunk on nearly 300 pieces of mineralized ground in Manhattan and work is feverishly being prosecuted in the shafts of the Manhattan Mining Company, every day's showings adds to the value of the security. Telegraph your orders. We will do the rest.

Innovations in Bridge

British Plan to Abolish Dummy in No Trump Makes—Would Deprive Game of Its Zest, Say New York Players.

New York, Feb. 10.—The proposition going the rounds of the English papers that the game of bridge be modified by abolishing the exposed or dummy hand in no trump declarations has been under discussion recently in all the clubs in this city in which bridge is the favorite game. The proposal is the most important of the kind, being the chief variation of the game of bridge, which is played by two players, each with a hand of thirteen cards, and the play of the cards.

English critics of the game contend that the exposure of the dealer's partner's hand in no trump makes the game too much of a matter of chance. While other of the opposing parties, they contend must place the cards in the other's hand by the fall of the cards as the play progresses, the dealer can, by a judicious choice of his cards, decide upon his course of play with such a great deal of certainty that the play is almost a foregone conclusion. The English proposal meets opposition in this country.

"Adoption of the suggestion," said a well-known New York expert of the game, "would take away the chief charm of bridge. The dummy is one of the most distinctive features of the game, and according to present rules there is no unfairness in the play of the cards."

"Every dealer has the chance to play a no trump make with the dummy in turn, and thus the element of fair play is properly maintained. Should a rule to compel no trump makes to be played without a dummy be adopted, the game, in my opinion, would lose much of its zest."

"The fact is that the average bridge player is over thirty, and making this, the most desirable of all the five card games, would take away the chief charm of bridge. The dummy is one of the most distinctive features of the game, and according to present rules there is no unfairness in the play of the cards."

RAILROADS

CONTRACT AWARDED

Construction of Duluth, Rainy Lake & Winnipeg Extension.

Work of Laying Rails on the Alborn Branch is Started.

The Minnesota Land & Construction company has been awarded the contract for the construction of the 100 mile extension of the Duluth, Rainy Lake & Winnipeg road, from Ashawa to Beaudette, on the border, where connections will be made with the Canadian Northern.

This company, which is controlled by the O'Brien-Cook syndicate, will, it is expected, sublet the work. It will be required to complete the road by Jan. 1, 1907. There will be several bridges along the line, the longest of which will be across the Big Fork river. It will measure 800 feet from end to end.

The directors of the Cook-O'Brien company have been holding their annual meetings in Duluth this week. The business was largely of a routine character. William M. Cook was re-elected president of the company, and W. H. Cook was re-elected president of the Duluth, Rainy Lake & Winnipeg Railway company.

WANTS RUBBER BANDS.

South Shore Gets Another Letter From Insistent Biwabik Man.

Another letter has been received by Mart Adson, general passenger agent of the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic road, from the Biwabik man, who recently ordered enough maps, pictures and other articles to fill a room, with the understanding that the road officials would be accommodating enough to go out and buy things to fill the order. The letter reads:

"I wish you would send me all the things I ordered last time. If you send me everything I ordered I will pay my ticket next summer. I have got to go to Europe. I had gone to the woods to work because you did not send my maps. If you send me the things I ordered I will pay my ticket. Yours truly, W. M. Cook."

LAYING THE STEEL.

Work on Alborn Branch of the Missabe & Northern Road.

Actual work of laying the rails on the Alborn branch of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern has been started. The steel is now being laid west of Bengali station, and west from Alborn. It is now in progress, the last thing being done being the laying of the rails to Bovey, and thirty miles from Alborn to Bengali, making the extension fifty-two miles in length. The grading has been completed, and work on the bridges is well along.

DIRECTORS CHOSEN.

Elections Held by Six of the Rock Island Company.

New York, Feb. 10.—Directors of six companies in the Rock Island railroad system at meetings yesterday elected officers to fill the vacancies caused by the resignation of W. B. Leeds. Officers held by the late Marshall Field were also filled.

In positions formerly held by Mr. Leeds in the Rock Island company, Robert Mather was elected a member of the finance committee, James Campbell was elected a director and also a member of the executive committee in place of Mr. Leeds. F. L. Hine was elected a member of the executive committee in place of Mr. Leeds.

At the St. Louis and Francisco companies, the directors elected Mr. George T. Boggs a director and F. L. Hine a member of the executive committee, both succeeding Mr. Leeds.

At the Kansas City, Fort Scott & Memphis Railway company's meeting, George T. Boggs was chosen a director and C. W. Hillard, a member of the executive committee in place of Mr. Leeds.

Directors of the Evansville & Terre Haute Railroad company elected C. W. Hillard a director in place of Mr. Leeds.

NEW MEXICAN LINE.

Harriman Expected to Build One Through Western Coast States.

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 10.—The Express says James Randolph, known as the personal agent of E. H. Harriman of the Southern Pacific, has quietly secured concessions from the Mexican government, to construct a line through the Western coast of Mexico. The movement was carried on secretly and by the provisions of the contract entered into, practically all competition has been shut off in Western Mexico.

Nearly 100 miles of the new line has been graded by the Southern Pacific in the construction of about 700 miles of road through the richest portions of the states of Sonora, Sinaloa and Jasco, and the territory of Tepic, to connect with the Cananea, Ido Yagu and Pacific in the north, and the Mexican Central in the South. The S. P. is to receive a bonus not to exceed $15-000,000 at the rate of $12,000 per kilometer or about $19,200 a mile. The sum of $200,000 paid for the concession for the papers are signed by A. A. Naufrag, representing the Southern Pacific and Leandro Fernandez, secretary of state in the department of communications and public works of the Mexican government.

DOYLE INDICTED FOR RUNNING BUCKET SHOP.

Cleveland, Feb. 10.—A secret indictment was returned by the grand jury today against John L. Doyle, manager for Fahy & Co. stock brokers on the Chicago board of trade. This is one of the first indictments ever returned in this county in the charge of running bucket shops. Fahy & Co. recently suspended business.

ARE TRYING TO REFORM GAME

Rules Committee on Football Hold Meeting in New York.

New York, Feb. 10.—The number of downs in which ten yards must be gained on the football gridiron and a proposition on behalf of the colleges composing the Southern Intercollegiate West for a reconsideration of rules governing formations were the points discussed at a meeting of the rules committee recently appointed to reform the game of football. The proposition of the colleges was that the rules now contemplated will greatly weaken the attack of football eleven resulting, when teams are evenly matched, in a large number of games.

Those in attendance at the conference were: Dr. H. L. Williams, Minnesota; W. R. Reid, Jr., Harvard; L. A. Babitt, Haverford, Pa.; L. Daily, West Point; Paul Dashiell, Annapolis; Walter Camp, Yale; L. C. Dennis, Cornell; M. H. Curtiss, representing the Southern Intercollegiate West; Dr. A. A. Sturge, Chicago; Prof. J. T. Lees, Nebraska; and Prof. J. B. Fine, Princeton.

At the St. Louis and Francisco companies, the directors elected Mr. George T. Boggs a director and F. L. Hine a member of the executive committee, both succeeding Mr. Leeds.

ARCHDUKE WHO PAID

For Lying Praise in Vienna Town Topics Found Out.

Vienna, Feb. 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Archduke Frederick, one of the richest of Austrian princes, is very fond of praise and bribed the Col. Mann of the Vienna town topics to praise him indiscriminately. But the other day our local town topics overstepped their bounds and as a consequence the archduke gained some newspaper notoriety he did not crave for.

Namely, our Austrian arbiter of morals published a fulminating story to the effect that his imperial highness, before retiring from the mining business, had given each of his workmen a full year's salary, besides establishing a sick fund of a quarter of a million.

The official paper published the praise and pointed out that such employers as Archduke Frederick were the real pillars of the state and of society. A number of clergymen also seized the opportunity to praise his imperial highness and to call down heaven's blessing upon the benefactor. But now come 400 of his imperial highness's 500 employees and assert over their signatures that the story is untrue, and that not a single workman received a single penny from the archduke. The yarn about the sick fund, too, was made out of whole cloth.

The archduke spent a little "drink money" with his chief industrial and commercial officials, while he sold his mines. The extent of this charity may be judged from the donation he made to the head of the hospital department. This secured concessions from the Mexican government, to construct a line through the Western coast of Mexico.

The movement was carried on secretly and by the provisions of the contract entered into, practically all competition has been shut off in Western Mexico.

Count Leo Tolstoy Rapidly Aging

Famous Russian Still Strong Enough to Make Felt His Emphatic Views on Peasant Ownership of Soil They Till.

New York, Feb. 10.—A letter to the Sun from Tula, Russia, says: I have had a talk with Tolstoy regarding his views on the return of the land to the peasants is the only possible cure for Russia's misery.

He would support any form of nationalization which would give the peasants the land which they are now cultivating. With improved methods of agriculture there is plenty of land to maintain an immensely increased population. As it is, less than a third of the cultivated land is in the hands of the peasants, and less than a quarter of the cultivated land is used at all. The czar should at once return the land to the peasants and they, with their long experience, would do very well without a further state assistance, as they have successfully proved in their Siberian colonies.

When I suggested that there was also a question of the land which the peasants are now cultivating, he put it rather aside. "Towns are the places where the land is now cultivated," he said, "and the rottenness spreads. The mistake of the liberal politicians in the towns is that they are always talking about the land which the peasants are now cultivating, and what have they done? They have done nothing. The land is now cultivated by the peasants, and the rottenness spreads. Dealers Think Next Few Weeks Will Develop Much Interest in Duluth Property—Large Number of Building Projects Are Under Way and Loan Agents Report Good Business.

That brighter prospects are in store for the local real estate market continues to be the prevailing sentiment among the dealers. A number of good-sized deals have been brought to the closing point during the week, and quite a number of sales are still pending. Reports from the various real estate offices show quite a healthy condition of trade, and the exchange of titles is expected to be more lively from now on during the month. The loan business is said to be exceptionally heavy for this period of the year, and several of the agents have placed a considerable amount of money within the last few days. The building movement attracts attention as much as ever, with the announcement this week of several other important improvements that are going to be made in Duluth this year.

The most important real estate transaction of the week, probably, was the closing of the deal whereby the members of the Northland Country club purchased eighty acres of land, comprising two blocks, on both sides of Superior street, at Thirty-eighth avenue east. The land surrounding the club house is now the property of the organization, and it is understood that the club will encourage more sports from now on, among which golf will be the most prominent. The land is said to have been bought for about $40,000, and this, with the club house, represents an outlay of about $70,000 for the club. The organization has a membership of about 300.

Stryker, Manley & Buck report the sale of 100 acres in section 31-52-12, for a Pennsylvania client, to local parties, for $1,200; a lot on the hill to F. Norrmann, for $200; one-half of lot 300, block 13, Duluth proper, Second division, to local parties, for $750, and a 25-foot lot on Superior street, near Fifth avenue east, for H. H. Phelps, for $4,250. The last named lot has a two-story building on it. The firm reports a large loan business thus far this month.

Clark S. Fulton has sold J. Oreckovsky for $3,250 part of lots 14 and 16 East Second street, Duluth proper, First division. The two lots are located at the southwest corner of Second street and First avenue east. The Second street frontage being occupied by a three-story brick store and boarding house structure.

A deed transferring the Superior street property, occupied by the Floan & Leveros store, from E. M. Gordon to the First National bank, was filed this week. The purchase price was $62,000, or on the basis of $1,200 per front foot for the lot. The sale was made to the bank some time ago.

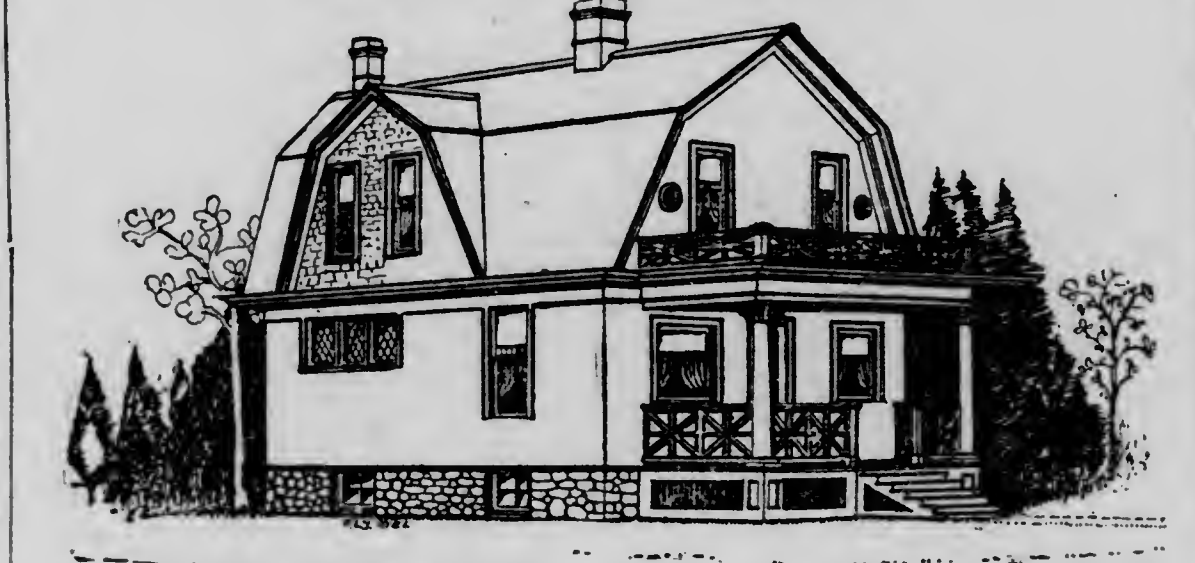

Lundmark & Franson, after purchasing lot 11, block 41, Portland, from G.

W. Peters and others, for $1,100, have transferred title of the north 71 feet of the property to the Massachusetts Real Estate company, for $900. The property is now occupied by the grocery store belonging to Lundmark & Franson, at the corner of Tenth avenue east and Second street.

Some idea of the increase in value of Superior street business property during the last twenty years, can be gained in the short news item which appeared in the Herald's "Twenty Years Ago Today" column, Feb. 7 last. This item

The Board of Trade building was then on the southwest corner of Superior street and Third avenue west, where it burned down in subsequent years, and was rebuilt on First street. The site which the Duluth National bank then offered $400 a front foot for, is now occupied by the First National bank, and is valued at $1,500 a front foot. The 50 foot lot immediately east was recently bought by the bank for $1,200 per front foot. It is of interest to note that the Lonsdale building site, which the Board of Trade paid $200 a front

FIVE HOUSES OF THIS DESIGN TO BE BUILT BY LAKESIDE LAND COMPANY AT LAKESIDE.

This cut is one of the five houses that the Lakeside Land company is to build at Lakeside this year for clients. The house is a two-story affair, designed by F. L. Young & Co., and it is now being erected on Superior street, near Forty-first avenue east. It is to be ready for occupancy by May 1. It is to be a frame house of six rooms, with hardwood floors throughout and hardwood finish in the first story. The basement occupies the full space under the building and will have a concrete floor. It will also contain the laundry tubs and the heating plant. The living room will be 12x20 feet with fireplace, mantel, etc. The dining room will be 10x12 feet and each of the good-sized bedrooms will have ample closet room. The house will be piped for gas, wired for electricity, and will have modern plumbing throughout.

stated the "highest offer ever made for a Duluth business property was refused a day or two ago. It was $400 a front foot for the corner of Superior street, opposite the Board of Trade building—a site wanted by the Duluth National bank. The board paid $200 a foot less than a year ago for the ground the new building is located on."

All this happened in February, 1886.

foot for in 1886, is now valued at $1,500 a foot.

Truly Superior street values have advanced some in twenty years.

The contract for the addition to E. A. Patrick & Company's wholesale building on Fifth avenue south, was awarded this week to MacLeod & Smith, who are to have the building ready by the summer months. The addition will be 75 by 125 feet and a duplicate of the present building occupied by the dry goods concern. The plans for the addition are being made by Architect W. A. Hunt, who made the plans for the other structure a few years ago. The addition will be an important improvement and will double the floor space of the dry goods company. The additional space has been greatly needed, outside quarters having been rented for two years past.

Linden & Danielson and Ramstedt & Todd were awarded the contract, this week for the improvement and additions to be made by the Duluth-Brewing & Maltting company to its West end plant. The additions, which contemplate two stories to the wash house, a racking room and electric light and bell. The improvements are to be complete for the installation of a large quantity of new machinery by May 1, next. The plans for the 50-foot addition to the McKay hotel in about two weeks.

Architect J. J. Wangenstein will have plans out next week for the new 100 by 125 foot factory building to be erected by the Marshall-Weiss building. The factory will be four stories high. Mr. Wangenstein will have the plans out for the 50-foot addition to the McKay hotel in about two weeks.

Architect A. Terryberry will have the plans for the new school building at West Duluth ready for the contractors the first of the coming week. He is now preparing plans for a new concrete block church costing $25,000, to be erected at Redwood Falls, Minn., for the First Christian church congregation. Mr. Terryberry is taking bids for a four flat brick building to be erected at Seventeenth avenue west and First street, for F. B. Thomas.

Architect C. E. Nyström is receiving bids for a two flat building to be erected in the East end for T. Strand.

The F. S. Kelly Furniture company will begin this week some extensive improvements to the seven-story building that the concern now occupies adjoining the American Exchange building. Third avenue west and Superior street. Besides a large improvement to the front of the store the whole interior is to be remodelled and redecorated, from the first to the top floor. The improvement work will cover some little time but it is expected that when completed the building will be a model of elegance and convenience.

J. B. Dunphy has purchased of D. J. Cole the southeast corner of Twenty-third avenue west and Superior street, for $12,500. The lot has a frontage of fifty feet on Superior street, occupied by a two story business block and runs back to Michigan street, fronting where there is another business property.

The plans of Architect W. T. Bray, for a city hall building at Eveleth, Minn., have been approved by the city council and bids will be called for at once. The building will cost about $20,000.

It is reported that William Pattison of Superior is contemplating a four story building on the property adjoining the New Jersey building.

W. A. Hunt, architect, has plans under way for two new business blocks which it is proposed to erect the present year. One will be located on Michigan street between Third and Fourth avenues west and the other on Superior street between First and Second avenues west.

German & Lignell, architects, have been selected to prepare the plans for the new Y. M. C. A. building to be erected this year at the southwest corner of Third avenue west and Second street.

Transfers for the week were as follows: Simon Pollack, et ux, to H. R. Stenlund, lot 1, block 38, $300.

I. Morcy, et mar, to Swan Swan-gren, 1/2 lot 4, East Sixth street, $65.

Mike Puskar, et ux, to C. H. Brown, lot 5, block 12, Hibbing, $275.

D. J. Cole to J. B. Dunphy, lot 28, block 28, D. P., Second division, $12,500.

Davis, Jr., sek sek, section 1, and sek sek, section 13, $1,200.

Suburban Cottage of Special Design for $2400.

CLYDE S. ADAMS-ARCHITECT

The above house has been designed with the idea of getting away from the usual style of suburban house and giving instead something new and unique, which can be built at a moderate price. The facade is most pleasing and attractive being designed for either suburban or seashore location.

The interior of this house permits the arrangement of rooms in such a manner that there is practically no wasted space, every particle being put to the best use to secure a commodious home. On the first floor are hall, living room, dining room, kitchen and pantry, all finished in hardwood.

This house can be produced at a very low figure owing to the fact that it is not cut up, all lines being plain and square, but the strong features have all been retained. The following is a complete list showing the cost of construction:

MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE SALE—
Default having been made in the payment of the sum of Three Hundred Thirty-eight Dollars, and pursuant to the terms of the mortgage, the same is due and is due at the date of this notice upon a certain mortgage, duly executed and delivered by Ole Hansen and Bertha Hansen (who signed her name Bertha Hansen), his wife, to the Duluth Trust Co., of Duluth, Minnesota, bearing date the 15th day of January, 1906, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the County of St. Louis, and State of Minnesota, on the 17th day of January, 1906, at 4 o'clock p. m., and no action or proceeding having been instituted, at law or otherwise, to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, Notice is hereby given, that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in and conveyed by said mortgage, viz:

Lot number one, in Block number ten (10) in Walbank's addition to Duluth, according to the recorded plat of said lot in the office of the Register of Deeds of St. Louis County, Minnesota, said premises being situated in the County of St. Louis, and State of Minnesota, at the front door of said house, in the City of Duluth, in said County and State on the Twentieth day of March, 1906, at 10 o'clock a. m., to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt of three hundred thirty-eight dollars and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale as provided by law.

Shenango Furnace Company Takes the Traders Mine---Heavier Production by Corrigan, McKinney & Co. Expected.

[illegible]

The mine at Humboldt, Marquette county, and operated by the American Mining Co., is the largest in the state. It is owned and the workings freed of the mine. The mine was operated by Capt. F. Platto, who had charge of the mine for many years. The mining, for the same company, will be the superintendent. The hoisting plant, compressor and pump are all new. The operations last year, will be transferred to the American at once. The machinery is in good condition. The machinery in position, and every week more will be required to pump out the mine. The mine is to be opened in navigation. It is nearly twenty years since the American started to work. The mine is a member list of any of the mine build, engine house, shops, or barn, or structure, but the mine is a very presbytery by people in the neighborhood for use as fuel. New buildings are being built, and the assistance. The few dwellings at the location are depleted, but a stable of repair.

The mine was last operated by a company of Wisconsin men, but it is owned by other parties under the name of the American Mining Co. The property was $15,000. The trouble with the American, is with most of the other mines in the state, the machinery has been built on the old rough of fair grade, and is lacking in quantity. The veins are narrow, and the machinery is in use a decade and a half ago. The operating expenses were large. The water could not be satisfactorily pumped out. It was in part because the water could not be satisfactorily pumped out. The mine was extensively explored, and while the lenses

Ned L. Shaffer has brought suit in the U. S. district court at Denver against the Portland Gold Mining company for $500,000 and for enforcement of his apex rights to veins in the F. C. C. ledge claim in Battle Mountain, Idaho. Shaffer, who was born in England in November, 1897, he has been owner, a locator and patentee of this fraction of the Portland property in the north-west part of the Portland property since 1901, and that he has developed the same and has been successful in securing ores in large quantities. In 1901 these ores were sold to the Portland Gold Mining company for $250,000. Portland company is said to have contracted $250,000 worth of ore. The second cause of action is in that the Portland company has failed to pay $250,000 more has been extracted. As a result, Portland stock has dropped 40 per cent. Shaffer is asking for a judgment quarterly dividend of $240,000 disbursed Jan. 15.

Indicator Gold Mining company has indicated from its properties $939,124.84 in 1905. The net profits were $124,840.00. The dividends disbursed totaling $145,000.

The Blanche mine on Bull Mountain, Idaho, has yielded large quantities of silver after two years' idleness.

Bonanza ore has been encountered in the Bonanza mine. The veins were followed twenty feet between the sixth and seventh levels, when an eight-inch streak of silver-bearing ore, worth thousands a ton values.

It has been decided by the Copper Queen management to start at once on the work of erecting two more blast furnaces, of equal size to the three now added to the plant last year, which has a capacity each of 400 tons.

Navigation of Lakes

Dessmer, Mich., Feb. 10.—(Special to the Enquirer.)—Of much importance to the producers and vendors of the Great Lakes is the unusually early opening of navigation in the spring. No one doubts that the movement of tonnage from the Lake Superior region this year will be greater than was that of 1916, when the record-breaking aggregate of approximately 1,000,000 tons was available for the coming period of navigation. The vessel tonnage is considerably more than that amount, and it is desirable that as much of it as possible, relieving the pressure at the ports, be shipped before the season opens or making of less moment a stormy fall that would hamper the shipping docks. Estimates of the tonnage to be consigned to the Great Lakes more conservative figures are 1,000,000 tons, and there is little doubt that this volume will be at least as important as that of 1916. Early start, and for that reason the unusually mild winter has been as well as a factor in the interest. At the present time there is no doubt that the season is customary, and while much will depend upon the weather of the spring, it is believed that the first of April will see navigation opened. The season of 1916 was the same as last year, on the basis of the tonnage shipped from the head of Lake Superior.

ficent strike had been made on the Cactus property. The body of ore found was on the 300-foot level in a crosscut that has been extended for a distance of sixty-five feet. At the point broken into there is a new ledge, different and distinct from any ever encountered in the Cactus, and if it makes up as it should from present indications the Cactus will have a new mine of great importance. A very high percentage of copper has been obtained from this new ore.

made last year is sufficient to accommodate these two additional furnaces and they are to be hurried to completion as fast as possible. The five original furnaces built at the Queen smelter are all to be remodeled and enlarged as much as the building will permit. They will not be quite as large as the new ones recently erected, but they will be nearly so.

The Calumet & Arizona people are also pushing the work of erecting an placed at that figure, the greater amount of ore to be shipped practically being offset by the increased vessel tonnage that will be available. It is of interest to note in this connection that during the past two or three decades there has scarcely been a single year that the average cargo loaded at the shipping docks has not shown an increase. In 1885 the average of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern docks was 850 tons. Last season it was 6,100 tons, and this year, with more big ships

CALIFORNIA

San Francisco, Feb. 10.—The Gurgense heirs have bought the Dempsey copper mining properties near Sausalito, Yuba county, and are planning to build a large tunnel on the line of the California Midland railroad, which will be built from Grass Valley to the mouth of the Gurgense river. The deal will reach $250,000. The copper deposits have been found very rich in copper.

Another Eel river, in Humboldt county, is a copper mine the main tunnel of which is 400 feet long, with a side or drift tunnel 100 feet long, and a drift. All the tunnel work is through solid ore, and tests for 600 feet have found the same ledge.

It is estimated that there is around is said to contain $500,000 worth of ore. It is estimated that there is $3,000,000 of ore in the mine.

The largest body of proven copper ore in Shasta is in the Hornet claim, belonging to the Iron Range Co. There is about here 6,000 tons are in sight. The Balakala has blocked out about one-half that amount, but the ore is far richer than the Hornet.

There is also silver, than the Hornet ore.

Berlin, Feb. 10.—(Special to the Enquirer.)—The present apportionment of the franchise after the census of 1890, shows that two-thirds of the grown Prussians possess no property to speak of, and that their incomes are small. The majority of the government that, to give an universal franchise, "would mean the ruin of the government, to national ruin and scamps."

progressed so far as at present, and it is understood that Eastern men have agreed to furnish the money necessary for a thorough exploration of the shaft which has been planned to open are traversed by a lode which was cut in five diamond drill holes, on the Torch Lake property, several years ago.

Unwittingly of the shaft on the Knowledge lode at the Torch Lake property in Ontonagon county is progressing rapidly. This shaft is 70 feet deep, and as soon as the shaft reaches bed rock work will be started. Work at the Adventure mine, the new No. 4 shaft offers the greatest promise yet seen in the district, as the lode in the Knowledge lode improve rapidly in an easterly direction. R. C. Pryor of Houghton is president of the Superior Copper company, which is outlining the plan of diamond drilling and other exploratory work which will be prosecuted. Mr. Pryor also is president of the Torch Lake property. The Lake owns 729 acres of mineral land, and there are several properties owned by him. The property which will be investigated by means of the diamond drill. Prominent among these formations is the Knowledge, which is situated near the Knowledge.

Drifting is under way north and south on the 100-foot level at the Erie-Ontonagon boundary. The drift is being removed from the range district, and for the present work will be confined to the extension of these drifts.

The Knowledge is a fine-looking amygdaloid. The company has $500,000 shares outstanding, upon which $500, Goldfield, Nev., Feb. 10.—With the spreading of the news that a wonderful strike had been made in Maryland, the same mistake "promoters" who incorporate a new company to mine for gold and silver and sell stock to the gullible. This should not be allowed to militate against the booming legitimate companies, but undoubtedly tend to make the investor wary if he has once been bitten.

The rush continues to the new camp. Already it has a weekly newspaper, the Manhattan Times, and a daily one, the Goldfield Star, for $48, and many copies sold at twenty-five cents apiece. An electric light plant, telephone company, have been organized and many other steps have been taken to introduce the adjuncts of civilization. The new buildings are going up rapidly. The miners' union has adopted a scale of $4.50 and $10 a day. The carpenters' union has adopted a $20 a day, but the rate was fixed at $3 a day before Feb. 1.

The excitement over Goldfield stocks still continues, although the boom was followed by a slump. Mrs. Mary Flynn, a woman who was in the crowd, followed by fainting in a crowd on learning that $300 invested a year ago had grown to $6,000.

From the bottom of the 200-foot level of the Kendall, the company is catching the ore. It is estimated that this is the way it looks now, for values for the first time have begun to appear in the drift.

It is not yet showing, and the next few days' development may prove sensational. Meantime, on the whole, it is just that it is a strike, and they are putting a shipping grade

When work was suspended. There is one good working shaft that will be ample for some time to come, although it is expected that the new shaft will be completed by the middle of the month. The main line of the Chicago & Northwestern road within 400 feet of the point where the new shaft is to be located.

The Empire, formerly known as the Standard, located near Senator Alger's Volunteer mine, at the active properties in the Cascade district, to the south of the Neegaunee field of the Marquette district, is now being worked. The mine was started last year, and if the Chicago & Northwestern road had built the desired spur line it would have been installed and some shipments made. However, everything was left until the spring of 1901, when the work which is now being done preparatory to mining operations. Machinery is now going in. Carpenters and masons are working hard to finish this completed the work of enlarging the shaft so that it will accommodate two skipways, and the shaft will be ready to start work. The shaft is now down about sixty feet, and is in ore for practically the entire distance. The over- and a considerable amount of light and a considerable area of it was stripped last season. It is intended to operate the mine on a milling system. The crushing, hard hematite and boulders being shipped will be treated by a crushing plant, to be installed as soon as the spur track will permit of getting in that portion of the machinery equipment. The entire property is being developed by John T. McLean, well-known Iron Mountain mining man, who, during the past few months, has made important discoveries at the Saginaw mine, now developed on a 100-acre range. Here, A. G. Jones, will be superintendent, with Capt. Oliver Symons of Iron Mountain in charge of the mining operations. This development work now starting at the Saginaw mine is similar to the operations tonnage of the Cleveland-Chris Iron company, an independent concern with large and varied interests, including extensive mineral holdings on the Marquette, Gogebic and Mesaba ranges. With four big bulk carriers now building, the company will have eighteen ships in commission this year, and these will be taken over by a holding corporation, known as the Grand Island and Transportation company. The fleet has formerly been sailed under the names of both the Cleveland-Cliffs company itself and the Presque Isle Transportation company, the latter taking its title from the location of the Cleveland-Cliffs ore dock at Marquette.

The new port of hauling will be Grand Island, Lake Superior, now famous as the Cleveland-Cliffs company's big game preserve. Grand Island, since the passage of a special act of the Michigan legislature, is now an incorporated township, the Cleveland-Cliffs company owning all the 13,000 acres include within the boundaries of the island except a tract of high forest land. The island has a high school, a post office, officers, a public school and voting precincts, although there are only about a dozen electors. For the most part game keepers. The island has a population of about 2,605, one of the smallest compared with 1,233,000 in 1904, and this season it will produce heavier than ever. Full forces are being employed at the older mines this winter, prepared to make a big haul. The copper is being made into the Crasby on Western Mesaba, and the Masan and Austin, on the Marquette, will be new shippers, although a small tonnage was forwarded from the Austin last year. There is a prospect also that one or two producers will be brought in this year on the Gogebic, where the company is conducting much exploratory and development work. At Negaunee, Marquette range, and in the district to the west, the company also has the Cleveland-Cliffs company is conducting much diamond drill work.

Monday evening a lecture will be given at Stenway hall by Edward Pearson Pressey on "Agriculture and the Arts and Crafts." Mr. Pressey is one of the most popular lecturers that have been heard in Duluth and much interest is being shown in his first appearance in the West. The patrons of the affair are Messrs. and Mesdames J. L. Washburn, Ward Ames, W. A. McGonagle, A. H. Comstock, O. H. Simons, A. M. Cushman, R. M. Seymour, H. C. Marshall, R. N. Marble, Harry White, J. W. Fowler, Jr., Page Morris, G. H. Hartley, H. S. Ely, F. H. Barnard, Mrs. Julia M. Barnes and Bishop McGonagle.

The Eighth District Federation meeting will be held Tuesday at the club room of the library. This meeting of the Eighth district club women is the first in several years and was arranged for through the present vice-president of the district, Mrs. B. L. Hollister of Aitkin. It is hoped that much interest will be taken in the meeting by the local club women. The number of out-of-town women who will be in attendance is not yet known. Mrs. Hollister will preside at both the morning and afternoon sessions. The program is as follows:

Address of welcome, Mrs. H. S. Ely.
Response, Mrs. B. L. Hollister of Aitkin.
The Value of the Women's Clubs to the Smaller Towns, Mrs. W. C. Cobb of Cloquet.
The Benefit of Federation to the City Club, Mrs. H. C. Marshall and Mrs. L. Washburn.
Afternoon.
"Why I Am a Club Woman," Mrs. F. H. Barnard, Duluth, to be followed by open discussion.

How Clubs Can Work for Libraries, Miss Clara F. Baldwin of St. Paul.
Following the program a reception will be tendered the visiting club women. The affair will be held at the library, where the meetings will be held. Receiving will be Mrs. Mary Sathum, Mrs. J. L. Washburn, Mrs. B. L. Hollister, Mrs. H. S. Ely, Mrs. H. C. Marshall, Mrs. A. H. Crampton, Mrs. C. Marshall, R. N. Tschakowsky—"Toll Me Why," Tschakowsky.

"Lonely Heart," Miss Frances Woodbridge.

NEW THOUGHT FOR THE FEDERATION

The club women of the city, and especially those interested in federation work, are looking forward eagerly to the lecture Monday evening by Rev. Edward Pearson Pressey of Montague, Mass., who will speak at Stenway hall on "Agriculture and the Arts and Crafts." Mr. Pressey is an interesting lecturer to those who have but an hourly interest in him, and to those who consider thoughtfully the possibilities of his plan of carrying settlement work into the country to meet the social and industrial needs of the decaying or stagnant country towns, his coming to Duluth is regarded as much more than simply an hour or two of pleasure.

Mrs. Robert Morris Seymour has met Mr. Pressey during the summers she has studied in the East and is most enthusiastic over the message he has to bring, and Mrs. J. L. Washburn, president of the Minnesota Federation of Women's Clubs, feels that Mr. Pressey may carry into Minnesota the germ of the idea which will eventually terminate in the arts and crafts movement being carried to the remotest country districts of Minnesota.

The colony in which Mr. Pressey works is at Montague, Mass., as it is called the New Clairvaux and one object of the people is to make country towns, and country towns, his coming to Duluth is regarded as much more than simply an hour or two of pleasure.

PADDY SEES PRESIDENT

Contractor McDonnell of Duluth Introduced at the White House.

Brings Bede Silk Hat With Money Won on Duluth Election.

Washington, Feb. 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Representative Bede is wearing a new silk hat said to have been purchased by P. McDonnell of Duluth, who trimmed up the sports of Duluth to the tune of some thousands of dollars on the recent local election.

However, this morning Mr. Bede took Mr. McDonnell to call upon the president and afterward to the treasury building to see Secretary Shaw. McDonnell is in Washington in connection with a contract he has secured to do something like half a million dollars' worth of work on an irrigation project in Idaho, in the vicinity of Boise, the capital of that state.

Representative Bede leaves Washington tonight for Grand Rapids, Mich., to be the guest of the Lincoln Republican club, and address them at their banquet which will be given Monday night. Others who will address the Grand Rapids district.

Representative Bede has still another dinner engagement at Peoria, Ill., a town famous for its production of the fluid which cheers. This banquet will be given in honor of Washington's birthday, on the night of the 22nd.

Representative Bede is expected to be the guest of the Lincoln Republican club at Peoria, on this occasion, including Congressman.

Wins the Suit.

Duluth Grain Firm Defeats Farmer Who Repudiated Flax Trade.

At this moment, when "farmers' exchange" is making a campaign against the Duluth board of trade and grain men generally, a decision in a case in which a Duluth grain firm is involved with a North Dakota farmer of considerable interest. The farmer ordered some flax seed from the Duluth board of trade, and then repudiated the suit brought by the board of trade.

"Judge Plak of the district court decides the suit of the Ames-Brooks company against Charles Nelson, in favor of the plaintiff. The case was tried in Ramsey county, Judge Plak presiding. The farmer, Nelson, is a resident of the town of Grand Forks, Minn. It is important from the fact that the defendant brought the case, claiming a claim on the grounds that the transaction was gambling. The Ames-Brooks company, which is a Duluth business, and Nelson is a Ramsey county farmer, who had written his last will and testament in the city of Duluth and several years ago wired the firm to sell for him 3,000 bushels of flax seed for $1.25 per bushel. His orders were complied with and the flax seed was shipped. The flax, the prices of which were soaring skyward. The commission firm was required to pay the farmer the amount of $3,750. Nelson contended that the transaction was gambling and hence could not collect the flax seed. The court decided in favor of the commission firm, the opinion in that court being written by Judge Plak, who was sitting for one of the supreme court judges when the case was submitted."

SPEAK WELL OF JOHNSON

Duluth Friends of Murdered Man Are Shocked at News.

Are Unable to Tell Anything About Past Life, However.

Although Thomas Johnson, news of whose death at Denver has reached here, had hosts of friends in Duluth, none of them is able to tell much about his life except that part of it which was spent in Duluth. The inquiry among those who knew him best failed to reveal any definite or authentic information regarding his parents or his home.

Ever since Johnson's tragic death in Denver, telegrams have been received in Duluth from the Colorado friends, who are having difficulty in locating the dead man's relatives. It is said that a man was probably as close to Johnson as anyone during his stay in Duluth, and that he was in possession of some information concerning his parents is Peter Berg, formerly of Duluth, but now in Portland, Ore.

Three months a year ago, he roomed with G. G. Hawley at 117 West Second street. Mr. Hawley is employed in the Northern Pacific freight depot and Johnson was well acquainted with many young men working there.

All of them declare that Johnson was a very likable fellow, and not at all the sort of person likely to pick a quarrel with anyone. He received high wages as a dredge engineer and was quite saving. During the summer months he usually earned about $12 a month and he was a member of the Brotherhood of Engineers.

POOR ON $2,500 A YEAR BYE.W.TOWNSEND

By Edward W. Townsend.

To be poor on $2,500 a year is not an unknown condition in New York. Poverty is as relative as many other conditions, but I had studied so diligently at one extreme of the social scale as almost to lose sight of the other as a subject of sociological interest.

Some few years ago my studies made me familiar with conditions under which it is accepted as a matter of course that a family is well-to-do in the world if after paying for the smallest quantity of the poorest food upon which life can be sustained and meeting a monthly rent bill of $2,500 more is earned to furnish the luxury of sufficient coal comfortably to warm one room of a two-room tenement. In the civil district courts of Manhattan—where I learned, by the way, that there have been more evictions in New York in a single month than in all Ireland in a year—I was made evident that starvation is seldom a direct cause of death among the poor of New York, though insufficient and improper nourishment is a contributing cause in a percentage of cases so large that I would not here print my own estimate lest the Podsmas arise as one man and call me a false witness because the fact would be too disagreeable.

And, to be sure, why write about disagreeable subjects? It has been already indicated that the present purpose is to chat about persons with $2,500 a year who are considered poor, and that Mr. Podsmas really is more whimsical than distressing. Let me first tell a short family history, changing names of persons and places of course, for otherwise the real persons might be recognized, and that would never do. A few years ago there died in New York a man of the name of Porter. His wife was his widow, their son and another son by a former wife. This eldest son inherited from his mother—the first Mrs. Porter—something like $2,500 a year, and received from his father's estate $5,000, as also does the widow's son. But that's all the second son has, or will have until the death of his mother, to whom the estate pays something like $2,500 a year, which goes to the sons at her death.

That the income of the younger son—a mere lad of 25—be $2,500, everyone knows who knows him well, for he inherits his stark poverty from a man who affects to be a miser, but whose income is not surprising. His father inherited the Porter fortune carefully, invested, and was never in business, and his grandfather merely wound up a business to which he fell heir. So, with no inherited or natural aptitude for business, the young man does as his half brother does—manages as well as he can on his meagre share of wealth, and plausibly tries to look shrewd when he wishes his mother good health.

To come to the poor fellow on twenty-five thousand a year, he is a man of 40 or 45, married to a woman who brought him nothing but an excellent family connection. They have two daughters over whose ages it is futile to ponder; one has been out three years, the other was formally introduced to her destined social set within the season recently ended. In a club to which we both belong I sometimes meet the younger son, and, speaking of this social debut of his niece, and referring to his brother, he sighs: "Poor Phil! With two daughters to dress I'm hanged if I can make out what he'll do. Until now it has been necessary merely to keep the kids in school and eating clothes. Now—party gowns, street gowns, carriage gowns, house gowns. Where? The poor fellow will never be able to do it. He'd better be in my boots; a confessed pauper, but with nobody sharing my hideous condition."

"Do you mean to say," I asked, "that your brother Phil finds any difficulty in paying his living expenses with twenty-five thousand to do it?"

The most elegant thing about my friends' reply was the look of surprise which accompanied it; he was so much more surprised that I should question a man's poverty than I should question a fact that Phil is on the verge of beggary. The worst thing about his case is, if it actually comes to begging, who the deuce can he go to? My mother will do nothing her fine gray locks mightily if they presumed to so much as call for a 5 o'clock tea, excepting in return for such a call.

"Phil's a nice chap. If he'd been left without a penny he'd have written a book on imperialism, or the Missouri Compromise, or a lark like that, but he can't do it now. Why? Because he's working night and day with Mrs. Phil to make showing enough in their world to keep in it until the girls are married."

"What's his situation? He has a place up in Westchester county, nice, quiet set about him, no hunting or polo nor any other expensive tricks. You understand the kind of set I mean—the kind they go to pick out an ambassador for an expensive post. Quiet, old-fashioned people but for him, because she considers herself poor, and besides is cross because father gave him five thousand a year after his own mother had left him twenty. Mrs. Phil's people haven't a cent, so what he'll do if the bills and the check book don't ensure at the end of the year I really can't see. With me it's different; I can always go to mother's when I'm stone broke, and at least have my apartment, meals and a valet. Phil can't do that. The old lady keeps his family down to week end invitations, and would shake their country entertaining costs, in spite of her quiverings. Phil's wife has to have proper little affairs, lawn fests and that sort of thing, with orchestra from town, to bring the boys from the neighborhood houses to meet her girls. They must give one or two dinners a month up there or be paraded off the dinner lists of the very families they look to for husbands for the girls.

"Phil, of course, can't go in for automobiles, so he's obliged to keep a few horses to get about the country and to their country entertaining costs, in spite of her quiverings. Phil's wife has to have proper little affairs, lawn fests and that sort of thing, with orchestra from town, to bring the boys from the neighborhood houses to meet her girls. They must give one or two dinners a month up there or be paraded off the dinner lists of the very families they look to for husbands for the girls."

"Then they must go to afternoon concert, to dances, to dinners, to the opera, but of the bill of particulars in those regards it is too painful to specify. Must be done just right, though, or not at all."

Phil's city home is below Fourteenth street, off the avenue. We were both born there, and mother and father have since. She rents it to Phil for $2,500 a year, and feels that her salvation is assured because she renewed the lease to him for five years recently at that figure, although her agent says it could be rented for a thousand more in a year or so, owing to a movement back to the neighborhood of a lot of families who went up town years ago. They have six servants in the house, but no stable men, so their carriage use comes under outside expense.

"Their town set is more liberal than the country set and does not demand terrapin for terrapin, canvassack for canvassack. You understand me? They know that Phil is a poor man and do not demand that his social debts be paid in kind. Phil and his women go to houses where there is a musician, say with a couple of opera stars singing at a thousand a week, and it is looked upon as all right in his case because of his poverty that the musical scale is repaid by a dinner, or a cotillion by a little dance for young people."

"But all this must be done without any appearance of poverty, mind you. Phil must keep up his clubs and he seen there; Mrs. Phil and the girls must never be seen on foot when it is proper to ride, the girls must subscribe to all the funny little clubs and societies for reaching, and they must toe out and that sort of thing. It all costs."

"It's an awful strain on poor Phil. I hope he'll get a rest. He said to me the other day, 'Tom, I envy you. You could start for California or Florida tomorrow and not feel like a desert in the face of the world. I'd like to go and I must keep the fight up until we're worn—or are knocked out. I saw mother the other day—she's looking quite well. I wonder he envies me, for I have no front to make. I'm known as one who must be allowed the privileges of poverty. I am allowed to enjoy a weekend at a country house by sending my hostess a proper note of thanks and a batch of violets. I make no pretence; but Phil has to the golf club, for the girls must show up there to keep the boys in mind of them. Well, you begin to see what their country life is like—not at all of the brass band or smart set sort, rather English in a way. It's really the simple life, with only four servants in the house and two in the stables and grounds—which, you see, is cutting it pretty close. In fact, Mrs. Phil is a model wife for a poor man, because she keeps the expenses in the country down to a minimum. She has a month while they are there and a hundred a month while they are away. That includes everything—her dressing and the girls', clubs, entertainments, household expenses and all. There're in the country about six months a year. What's the result? They have about eighteen thousand for a six months' campaign in the city. Poor wretches! What will they do with the kids out in society?"

"I like Mrs. Phil. She's a first-rate fellow, though, of course, we'll have liked her to have a little money. But she and I are clumsy, and sometimes when Phil's in the blue, she sends for me to talk over her shopping. I've a bit of a reputation, you know, for good taste and some knowledge in such matters, and Mrs. Phil likes to have a masculine judgment on how the kids should look. Alan alive! did you ever consider what a motif must buy for two girls who must look attractive? It's awful."

"Now, Phil's girls are as good-looking as any girls, as well-bred, well-behaved, and as well-educated. Does that count in the matter of attractiveness? Not a little bit! I was with Mrs. Phil at her home the other day when the packages came in from the morning shopping. She'd been outfitting the girls and herself in the way of the latest fashions. I was startled, and I told her so, but I couldn't suggest a single economy she hadn't thought of. A girl's shoes must look as if they just came from the last, and there must be at least two pairs of each kind, so that one pair may be 'resting' on trees while the other pair is being worn; her tailored skirts must include the severely simple, for walking; the more elaborate, for carriage wear; there must be waists to complete all these articles in colors and materials to match or harmonize with each skirt, the humble, the ornate, the simple, the elaborate—lost things go, and as for accessories—stockings, lace collars, veils, gloves, hats, ornaments and little brooches—the way such things cost and require constant renewal for the sake of effect for business is enough to make a bachelor blush his condition. All that I saw that afternoon had nothing to do with evening opera or formal house wear, you understand; nor with silk petticoats to go under all the skirts, tailored or draped; but they were essential. Neither have I listed all the more expensive day apparel—furs, hats, wraps and the like—for I'm only reciting one line of shopping we talked about that day. And it's not all done for the season when it's done once. Nor must Mrs. Phil ever look dowdy, for a man will not take to a girl whose mother is dowdy. There's something involved in that proposition which is beyond me. It's true, though."

"The Statist, after dealing with the crux of the situation, namely, the people of Morocco, upholds France's right to demand that she should be given power to maintain order, and to maintain a police force. The paper does not believe, from present indications, that Germany will yield the point, that country preferring to humiliate France with the result of trying up for an indefinite period the immense sums of money now held inactive in France. 'The small powers,' says the article, 'are afraid to meddle between Germany and France, and England cannot do anything that would seem contrary either to the spirit or the letter of the Anglo-French agreement. Russia has too much to do at home, and Austro-Hungary is too much distracted. There remains, then, only the United States. If the United States is willing to undertake the policing of Morocco, every body will hail with joy her readiness to assume an unpleasant responsibility for the sake of preserving the peace of the world. Nobody would attempt to dictate to the United States, yet everybody knows that the United States is impartial, and by undertaking the policing of Morocco, she would not entangle herself in treaties, would not incur any danger, and would not impose upon herself any gratuitous expense. In return, she would sweep away the danger of war between two great European nations—locking a war which broke out, would in all probability spread, and ultimately become worldwide. We trust that for the sake of maintaining the peace of the United States will, in this case, willingly depart from its settled policy.'"

FISTIC DOPE FROM FRISCO

The Fighting Trust Has Not Arranged a February Match.

Jimmie Britt Offered Match With Hanlon, But Declined.

San Francisco, Feb. 10.—Can it be that the pugilists at large are fighting shy of San Francisco's new boxing trust? "Perish the thought," said Edmund M. Grane, who is now both a promoter and a referee, but the fact remains that while we are drawing the words the tag end of the first week in February no match had yet been arranged for the shortest month in the year.

Worse than that. Some of the members of the matchmaking band are acting as though the scarcity of attractions concerns them but little. Morris Levy is in Los Angeles, where, according to the best information, he is trying to gain a foothold as a handler of ring events, and Jimmy Coffroth is taking things easy for a few days at Byron Hot Springs.

The one thing about Coffroth's fitting is that he packed his suit case and boarded the train the day it was definitely announced that Jimmy Britt had declined to box Eddie Hanlon. As this was the match the trust had in view for February, and as Coffroth made no suggestion about a substitute card before he went away, his actions have naturally excited comment.

One of the rumors in circulation is that all is not well in the fight trust, that the new guild is a house divided against itself, and that it cannot stand. It is whispered that Coffroth is not satisfied. According to report he feels that there are too many shareholders in the Associated Athletic club statement, has no intention of locating permanently at Los Angeles. He simply wants to have a finger in the pugilistic pie down South and will return here to watch his interests when he has arranged matters to his liking. Meanwhile, with both Levy and Coffroth absent, the ship is drifting.

Jimmy Britt did not declare himself in regard to the preferred match with Eddie Hanlon until a few days ago. Then he gave several reasons for refusing. To begin with, the affair didn't promise well from a financial standpoint, according to Britt. Again, he felt sure there was a rest coming to him after his whirl around the foot-light belt and he wouldn't box in February anyhow. Thirdly, if not lastly, he had about made up his mind to participate in only one or two matches before retiring and he intended that they should be on a par with his September afternoon go with Battling Nelson in magnitude.

Eddie Hanlon was stung to the quick at being turned down. As a rule he takes matters philosophically, but this time he injected considerable warmth into his remarks.

"I know all about it," said Eddie. "If they had offered him a go with 'Young Corbett' or Willie Fitzgerald he might have postponed his much needed rest. He says there isn't enough money in sight. Well, I'll box him whenever take all and he can count on a side bet of any amount up to $10,000.

All of which, while it may have an irritating effect upon one James Edward, will not avail Hanlon to any extent. Britt is a hard man to switch once he has made up his mind and if, by any chance, he should be snatched into fighting in February, it is safe to wager that Hanlon will not be his opponent.

The suspicion exists that Jimmy does not take kindly to the fight trust, or at any rate to the feature of it which fixed fifty per cent as the maximum percentage for glove contests. The old order of things when clubs were doing business against each other suited Jimmy best.

Some people think his reluctance in signing just now is part of a scheme he has formulated for knocking the "fifty" per cent rule galley west. This, though it is only a surmise, Britt's actions in the future will make clear whether he purposes becoming Jimmy's trade break.

Billy Roche, who had Jim Coffroth's power of attorney in the matchmaking line, doesn't know which way to turn to secure something to take the place of the Nelson-Britt go, and truth to tell, the February date seems to be going a-begging so far as better class pugilists are concerned.

I might modify this to a certain extent. Jack (Twin) Sullivan would not mind a go here and so would Mike (Twin) Sullivan. So would Joe Gans, but there is no one to pair off with any of these.

Jack (Twin) has been at Los Angeles ostensibly trying to lure Tommy Ryan into a February fight, but Ryan wrote a day or two ago that his brother had offered Ryan a bonus or gift of $500 to sign and that Ryan had 50 per cent rate of the fight trust is the stumbling block to Tommy's coming. Though it is risky work assigning motives where Mr. Ryan is concerned.

The fight fans who gathered at Colma last week enjoyed a brief season of sport. The bright particular stars of the occasion were Joe Thomas and Kid Krantz, the former a San Franciscoan and the latter a Seattle novice. Thomas had George Herberts, a hard hitting welter, for an opponent, and hammered him to a standstill. It is believed that Thomas will not be overmatched if signed up with Honey Melody.

Kid Krantz is a catapultic artist such as Sharkey was before much battering tamed the ex-sailor's stubborn pride. We had heard a lot about the high-stepped methods of the Seattle waif, and in order to make his trying complete they matched him with Jim Hayward, a negro 140-pounder with a cannonball head and ribs of flint. Hayward was as puffy in the Seattle cyclone's hands. With a left rip such as little George Dixon used to employ and a right wallop that was reminiscent of Sharkey's, he came to assist. Krantz was on top of the colored fellow before the clang of the brazen gong had ceased. Hayward was knocked down three times in the first round, and between times he covered much ground. As a football friend said, he covered 500 yards in three downs. He was knocked out completely in the fourth round. It is believed Krantz has a future.

THEY MUST GO TO THE OPERA

AT THE LYCEUM

Carleton Opera Company in "When Johnny Comes Marching Home" on Monday—"Piff, Paff, Pout" on Friday and Saturday.

The fascinating spectacular military comic opera, "When Johnny Comes Marching Home," by Stanislaus Stange and Julian Edwards, authors of "Dolly Varden" and other highly successful comic operas will be presented at the Lyceum, Monday evening.

The story of the opera has to do with the period and the music is suggestive of the familiar songs of that time, most of which have lived to the present time. An exceptionally attractive feature in the dressing of the opera, is the enormous crinoline hoop-skirts worn by the young ladies. There is a military atmosphere permeating the opera from beginning to end, which finds expression in the stormy, music and scenic environments.

W. T. Carleton has selected a cast of exceptional excellence to interpret "When Johnny Comes Marching Home" with W. T. Carleton in the title role, Young Carleton is an ideal "Johnny."

The story, music and scenic environment are all strongly suggestive of the military life in 1864 and '65. The humor of the story finds expression in the ludicrous situations and witty dialogue without once descending to heavy play, or in any way referring, in the least degree, to arouse party or sectional feeling.

Mr. Edwards, the composer has deftly interwoven strains of the war songs and negro melodies, popular at that time, into his score, so that the military and patriotic atmosphere is preserved to a remarkable degree.

"PIFF, PAFF, POUT."

Musical Comedy Success to Arrive Friday Evening.

B. C. Whitney's successful musical comedy, "Piff, Paff, Pout," which comes to the Lyceum Friday evening for an engagement of two nights and a matinee, concerns one August Melon, who cannot inherit $200,000 left him by his deceased wife should he marry before his four daughters have found husbands. As the gay widower cruises along the sands of Atlantic City looking for a wife, he meets the dashing widow Montague, whom he considers his affinity. Immediately they commence laying plans to marry the four Melon girls. This situation leads to a number of very amusing and laughable ones.

If genuine novelty of plot, ingenuity of treatment, and an endless chain of jingling song successes and catchy music, together with an acting, singing and dancing company of almost a score of the best known favorites in staidland count for anything in the make-up of a successful production no wonder "Piff, Paff, Pout" has been so successful.

Book, lyrics and music, Stango, Jerome and Schwartz are responsible for, and the songs in "Piff, Paff, Pout" are just as popular as their famous "When Mr. Shakespeare Comes to Town," "Mr. Dooley," "I'm Tired," and "Bedelia."

These young authors have quite equalled, if not surpassed, their previous efforts with the new successes in "Piff, Paff, Pout." "I'm the Ghost"

"The Fifth Avenue Girls" Will Present Burlesque and Specialties Next Week.

The Campbell-Drew Amusement company's Detroit damsels, the Avenue Girls, will frolic and frolic at the Metropolitan all next week, commencing their engagement Monday evening and remaining until Saturday night.

Tuesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday will be the matinee days, and handsome souvenirs will be presented to all ladies attending either the afternoon or evening performance on Thursday. This is the day upon which no smoking is permitted within the "Met." The Avenue Girls have been receiving very favorable press notices wherever they have been going, and they will probably find favor with the patrons of the Metropolitan. The Campbell-Drew company is the concern which brought the Tiger Lillies and

First-class Vaudeville Will be the Bill During the Coming Week.

Vaudeville lovers will probably be more than pleased with the attractions booked at the Bijou next week, as some headliners of the profession are booked to appear. Herbert, the frog man, will present his clever novelty contraption act, with scenic and electrical effects. The scenery portrays the everglades of Florida.

Bert White, comedian and entertainer, will introduce a number of new comedy song hits and dialect stories. Florilla Sanford, said to come from the Keith circuit, will introduce several musical numbers, including triple tongue cornet solos. Miss San-

Alex Carr to Duluth, and as they gave great satisfaction, it is reasonable to suppose that the Avenue Girls are of some worth. They will be assayed Monday evening.

The principal comedian of the company is George P. Murphy, who is said to have a German dialect that makes Lew Finkle and Joe Wickers notice the like of some small boys trying to do a sidewalk conversation in an attic room. Others in the company are the three Gregory Brothers, expert hoop rollers; Jack Vincent, the merry comedian; Jack Curtis, the well-known contralto; Jules Bennett, "the Bogie Man"; Olga Orloff and Grace De Mar, both of whom are extravaganza stars of some note.

The Avenue Girls present an elaborately staged musical comedy called "The Goddess of the Moon."

GOSSIP OF THE RIALTO

Nat Goodwin to Produce "The Gilded Fool" in London—Arnold Daly and Virginia Harned Sign With the Independent Managers.

New York, Feb. 10.—It is about time for a renewed outburst on the other side of the water over the "outing" of the British playwright by his American fellow. With no less than five plays by American authors going on in London, practically all at the same time, there will be some fearful assertions that the native drama is "moribund," and as usual complete disagreement among learned doctors as to what is really the matter with the patient.

The announcement that both "Shore Acres" and "The Gilded Fool" are to be done there forthwith has proved unusually welcome. It seems, however, that both these tried American plays are to be Anglified to some extent before being given here. Cyril Maude has secured the rights in "Shore Acres" and arranged with Edouard Phillips to transfer the scene to England, and Nat Goodwin means to submit the Henry Guy Carleton play to similar treatment before producing it at the Shaftesbury. This theater is open to Goodwin owing to the complete failure of C. M. S. McNeil's ambitious "Jury of Fate," which was shelved this week after a brief career. Goodwin says that if his old American play should happen to please London, he would be inclined to make a lengthy stay in the Shafesbury, and to produce there several other items from his American repertoire. And everybody will wish him well, for as the actor once remarked at public dinners, "England is a success in three 'tomatoes' in England—the metropolis having frowned on 'When a Man Wears a Twenty-One' and likewise given the cold shoulder to 'The Cowboy and the Lady' and 'An American Citizen.' Of the other American plays that are going on shortly, perhaps the most interest is being taken in Paul Kester's "Dorothy of the Hall," written for Fred Terry and Julia Neilson, who made so big a success of his "Sweet Nell of Old Drury," this piece of Kester's has been ready for production for some time, but the Terry's have done so well with "Scarlet Pimpernel" that they only recently decided on a change of bill. "Dorothy of the Hall" will be seen at the New theater some time during the coming month. Meanwhile "The Lion and the Moon" is to be put on at Frohman's Duke of York's theater as soon as the Duke of "Peter Pan" comes to an end.

While at Wyndham's will be seen Michael Morton's new comedy, which he calls "The Little Stranger." When the Shuberts announced that they had acquired E. H. Shubert and Julia Marlowe as co-stars for next season they also hinted that later two other important persons would be added to their growing list of stars. Arnold Daly is one, and there is a very well defined rumor to the effect that Virginia Harned is the other. In signing with the independent managers Miss Harned is following the example of her husband, E. H. Shubert, and the arrangement will no doubt be advantageous to both. Mr. Daly will play a season early in April at the Shubert's Garrick theater, Chicago. A large part of Mr. Daly's time at the Garrick will be devoted to his regular repertoire, but he will offer several new plays, most of which are not by George Bernard Shaw. Three of these pieces are in one act each, and Mr. Daly finds reason for special hopefulness concerning them. The first is a dramatization by Louis K. Parker of W. J. Wainwright's well-known story, "The Money Paw." The second is a short tragedy written by Gladys Underhill and entitled "The Lemonade Boy." The third is the version of Poe's "The System of Dr. Goudon." In two of these works Mr. Daly will be seen as an old man and in Miss Harned tragedy as a lad of 16. Mr. Daly will also play "The Little Stranger" and "Lights Out," which was a failure when acted here under the name of "Rags," but a success in London at the Waldorf.

Six members of one theatrical family are now playing in leading Broadway attractions. They are Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Williams (Katherine Florence), respectively leading man and leading woman of the "Before and After" company at the Manhattan theater; Mrs. Sallie Williams (Ragel), a sister of Mr. Williams, who has an important part in "Man and Superman," at the Hudson; Violet Rand, a sister of Mrs. Williams, at the Lyric; Miss Maude Adams in "Peter Pan," at the Empire; Henry V. Donnelly, his cousin, who makes merry in "The Yacht Club" at the Broadway, and Dorothy Donnelly, a sister of Mr. Donnelly, who is one of the principals in "The Little Gray Lady," at the Garrick.

Channing Pollock's "The Little Gray Lady," now at the Garrick theater, in a brief and businesslike way. His approval, formed after witnessing the performance of the play last week, took the direction of signing a contract, by the terms of which he will produce the next play from the pen of the author of "The Little Gray Lady." The work Mr. Pollock now has on hand will soon be on the way. His comedy, founded upon "In the Bishop's Carriage," will be presented in New York by Lasker & Co. March and in the spring the dramatization of "The Secret Orchid" will be produced by the Shuberts. This will leave him free to begin for Mr. Belasco an original play that will be staged next autumn.

Nella Bergen has been engaged for the support of Joe Cawthorne in Sousa's new opera, "Free Lance," which is to be given its first performance some time in March. Miss Bergen is a favorite of the march king, having appeared in several of his operatic productions.

College men soon will be as plentiful on the stage as they are in the ranks of the professional baseball player. In one of the College Widow companies which is now on the road no less than five young gentlemen who can show shapeliness are on the payroll. Three of them, by the way, are graduates of Harvard and Princeton. They were football players. If one had the time, it would be interesting to trace the connection between college football and the stage.

Beerholm Tree, the noted English actor-manager, has introduced a novelty in his London theater, by the use of the gramophone Mr. Tree now supplies his sound effect. In "Richard III" he had the entire company rattle swords and chains before the lastment of the king, and the disks. The advantage of this method is that he always gets precisely the same effect. The gramophone people have taken up this idea and have secured records of climes, of the sea and of the sky to be used in theatrical productions. They have progressed so far that in case of labor troubles with leading actors, they furnish complete selections of the music desired. Doubtless hereafter the actor will like kicking himself because this idea was not presented before his controversy with his chorus at the Metropolitan Opera house.

Rudolph Aaronson, who has just returned from Europe, proposes to build a replica of the New York Casino at Algiers. He says an increasing large number of Americans and Europeans are spending their winters at the Moroccan city, and is confident that he can make the venture pay. Incidentally, he might be able to relieve the Sultan of Morocco and the European power of a great deal of anxiety by giving Raisuli a lucrative job in the chorus.

The death of Paul Dresser, who succumbed to an attack of heart disease in New York city last Tuesday, removed a great part of his ability as a composer. He played the opposite John to J. C. Street in "The Two Orphans" for many seasons. In recent years he has devoted all his time to writing songs. One of his earliest successes was "On the Banks of the Wabash," which made his name and fortune. Dresser was well known in Cincinnati, and quite an admirer of the late Harry Weldon, whose office in the Shubert was his favorite haunt during his stay in that city. It was in these offices that the famous composer and song writer used to try his material on the public during his early days as a song writer. He would sketch out his words and hum them to the tune he had in mind, and the public would then be invited to sing along with him. In the list of songs that Dresser wrote are some of the genuine popular hits of their time, including "My Gal Sam" and "Mister Volunteer," a song that enjoyed a wonderful run immediately following the close of the Spanish-American war.

Dresser weighed in the neighborhood of 200 pounds, but despite his size, was unusually active. He was connected with different times with the music publishing and the home of the Shuberts in New York. Howley & Dresser, later organizing the Paul Dresser Music Publishing company in New York, which he was conducting at the time of his death. He passed away at the home of his sisters in New York, one of whom, Louise Dresser, is well known to the public. Dresser had introduced a number of his brother's songs.

Grace Cameron, the well-known prima donna, who often has been in the city for the past season, returns this week from a long tour to South Africa. She will play a few dates in this country and then return to England, where she is booked for a year in the principal halls of London and the provinces.

Miss Ida Conquest took the place of Miss Fay Davis in the company playing "Man and Superman" at the New York. Miss Conquest will continue with the organization for the remainder of the season, as the road tour is soon to be opened. Miss Davis will rest for a time awaiting the selection of another part for her in Gotham. She created the role of Elsie in "Robert" and the company that brought the successful show place out early in the season, and which has remained at the Hudson for over six months.

Henry W. Savage sailed for a short trip to Europe. While abroad Mr. Savage will look after the affairs of the view of engaging several American actors who were collected in the city during his last visit. The popular impresario has in mind three big productions for next season in which he will employ an unusually large force of actors. He looks forward to the next season for his English grand opera and he will also bring on late this spring the DeKoven, Stange and Ranau comic opera, "The Student King," of which much is expected.

The auction sale of the private library of the late A. M. Palmer has raised a good sum to be added to the estate left by that powerful manager. Two books recently sold, which brought high prices, were copies of "The Memoirs and Life of David Garrick," 1810, and "McCullough," written by the late John McCullough by William Winter, which sold for $20. The sale attracted widespread attention among the bibliophiles of New York and netted exceptionally good prices throughout the list.

Edward Sass has organized an American company that has asked for Liverpool enroute to South Africa, where it will present a series of American musical comedies. The opening will be in Johannesburg in "The Prince of Pilsen." After its run "King Dodo" and "The Chaparral" will follow, providing the venture promises as successful as the first. The company are a number of stage favorites who have appeared at various times in the different musical comedies included in the repertoire.

Sullie Fisher, who is remembered for his singing in Frank Daniels' company in "Sergeant Brum" has temporarily retired from the cast on account of some trouble. Annabelle Whitford has been singing "Dearie" since Sullie's retirement.

George M. Cohan has written a song in his new piece, "George Washington, Jr.," which by general opinion is looked upon as his best. He has just turned out. It is meant as a successor to "The Unken Doodle Boy," and is called "The Grand Old Rag." The song is built upon the theme of "Auld Lang Syne" and is so stirring that the audiences invariably stand up and cheer when it is sung in the big musical melodrama Cohan has just brought out.

Mabel Rowland, who has been playing in the Lyceum since after several years with the DeWolf Hopper company, is booked for London, where she will put on an American singing act which will include imitations of comedians, well known to the public. Among the people Miss Rowland will mimic are Katie Barry, DeWolf Hopper and Williams and Walker. She will also introduce a new song over there by the name of "The Pig and the Porcupine."

burlesque managers in the East are getting up a benefit for Miss Gilson which it is thought will tide her over her present sad plight. Miss Gilson was stricken in Portland, Or., while playing with one of the burlesque shows on the Western tour. She was confined to a hospital for several weeks, but was eventually removed to her home in New York through the assistance of several friends. If present plans carry through her benefit will be one of the big events of the early spring.

Peter F. Dalley, in the musical comedy "The Press Agent," put that piece out of commission last Saturday night after a rather disastrous tour on the road. Dalley, who is in the Shubert ranks, will be held in check until a more suitable vehicle can be secured for him.

After a managerial misunderstanding that has existed for some time, Ezra Sullie Fisher, who is remembered for his singing in Frank Daniels' company in "Sergeant Brum," has temporarily retired from the cast on account of some trouble. JOYOUSNESS IS LACKING Graduation of Naval Class Shadowed by Recent Dismissals.

Secretary of Navy Bonaparte Presents Diplomas to 101 Members.

Annapolis, Feb. 12.—The career of the class of 1906 at the naval academy was brought to its close officially in the new armory this morning when Secretary of the Navy Charles Bonaparte delivered to 101 members of the class their coveted diplomas in the presence of fully 2,500 persons. In the large crowd were present families and friends of the graduates from all over the country, and, while not marked with the joyousness of similar occasions in the past, the scene was an impressive one.

The speech of the secretary did not refer in any way to the present condi-

At the conclusion of his remarks the secretary received the diploma of Midshipman Allan Chantry from Lieut. Commander Chagradur, then the young man piled his capskins on the table in front of him. The other "star" members who headed the class then received theirs in order in which they stood. The diplomas of other graduates were then distributed. The young men who stepped forward and received his reward and a handslap from the secretary there was a round of applause.

The handsome sword given each year by the class of 1876 to the midshipman holding the best record in the department of practical and theoretical ordnance and gunnery was presented to the man who earned it this year. He was Midshipman W. A. Glassford of Seattle, Wash., who re-with a will. This was replied to by the graduates who gave three cheers for those "we leave behind us." Commander T. G. Dewey of the department of ordinance of gunnery, who commanded the brigade, then called for three cheers for the secretary of the navy. The official party then left the armory and went at once to the home of Superintendent Sands, where a luncheon was served. Secretary Bonaparte returned to Baltimore in the afternoon.

After the graduation exercises the ancient custom of "Throwing the first class out of quarters" was enacted and all of the men who for the past year have been the officers of the brigade were good naturedly tossed out of Banercroft hall. After that the class favorites were given yells and ridden about the yards on the shoulders of their comrades.

The dance tonight will close the exercises and tomorrow the graduates will leave for their respective homes to which they have been sent on "waiting orders" before being assigned to duty in the service.
